GIBSON OVERPOWERS DETROIT TO WIN SERIES OPENER 4-0

BOB GIBSON overpowered the Detroit Tigers with a record breaking 17 strikeout performance Wednesday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-0 victory in the opening game of the World Series. Gibson was given a deafening ovation from the crowd of 54,692 the largest ever in Busch Stadium in St. Louis, when he struck out the side in the ninth inning. That snapped the mark of 15 set by Sandy Kofax in the opening game of the 1963 series against the Yankees. Gibson posted a five-hit shutout and the losing pitcher was Denny McLain who couldn't find the plate, and was lifted for a pinch hitter after working for just five innings. The jittery Tigers committed three errors and the Cards stole three bases in four attempts. The Cards named righthander Nelson Briles to pitch Thursday against southpaw Mickey Lolich for Detroit.

LBJ WITHDRAWS FORTAS' NOMINATION 'WITH REGRET'

PRESIDENT JOHNSON withdrew Wednesday his nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and termed the Senate's refusal to confirm the appointment "historically and constitutionally tragic." Fortas' request was written shortly after the Senate on Tuesday refused to end a filibuster by opponents of the nomination. Mr. Johnson complied "with deep regret" and said his old friend and confidant was "the best qualified man for this high position."

CURTIS LEMAY SEEN AS WALLACE RUNNING MATE

RETIRED AIR FORCE Gen. Curtis Lemay arrived Wednesday in Pittsburgh apparently to accept a position as running mate for presidential candidate George C. Wallace. Wallace said he will announce his candidate at a 10 a.m. news conference Thursday. Lemay left the airport with a Wallace aide, Stan Sikes.

SENATE REAFFIRMS VOTE TO DEPLOY DEFENSIVE MISSILES

THE SENATE met in rare secret session for two hours Wednesday and reaffirmed its decision to deploy defensive missiles designed to down any rockets fired from Communist China. By a vote of 45-25, the Senate rejected a proposal to delay employment of the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system for one year. Newsmen and outsiders were barred.

GIRL KILLED, 45 FELLE BY LIGHTNING BOLT

AMY WEAVER, 16, was killed and 45 other girls at Kent State University High School in Kent, Ohio, were felled Wednesday by a single bolt of lightning while they were playing field hockey.

STRIKING EASTERN COAST LONGSHOREMEN STAY OUT

STRIKING EAST and Gulf Coast longshoremen, protected by a contract technicality, Wednesday delayed their court-ordered return to work for another day. Thomas W. Gleason, president of the 75,000 member International Longshoremen's Association said local leaders could not get their men back to work until Thursday.

FIVE BABIES GIVEN 50-50 CHANCE OF SURVIVAL

A HOUSEWIFE who wanted children so badly she took fertility drugs gave birth Wednesday to sextuplets in Birmingham, England. One of the babies died of shock and doctors gave the other five only a 50-50 chance of survival. Mrs. Sheila Ann Thorns gave birth on her 30th birthday by Caesarian section. They were delivered two months prematurely by a 28-man team of specialists. The father is a draftsman.

U.S. LOSES THREE COPTERS, FOUR OTHER AIRCRAFT

U. S. MILITARY SPOKESMAN in Saigon said Wednesday that communist gunners shot down three U.S. military helicopters, marked with the Red Cross, as they flew wounded GIs from battlefields to hospitals. Also lost were three other American aircraft, one a jet fighter spotting targets inside North Vietnam for the battleship New Jersey. And a KC135 Stratotanker crashed while taking off from U-Tapao Base in Thailand, killing three of its crew of four.

HANOI BLASTS HUMPHREY'S VIETNAM POLICY STAND

NORTH VIETNAM said Wednesday at the Paris peace talks that Hubert Humphrey's threat to resume bombing if Hanoi took military advantage of an antiwar pause meant his position was tougher even than that of President Johnson. U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman angrily rejected Hanoi's charge that Washington planned to use South Vietnam as a base for invading the Communist North.

RUSK CALLS ON SOVIETS TO QUIT CZECHOSLOVAKIA

U.S. SECRETARY of State Dean Rusk Wednesday called on the Soviet Union to remove its troops from Czechoslovakia, and he said the United States would stop bombing North Vietnam when it was confident "this would lead to peace." Rusk, making his first and possibly last policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly, discussed all aspects of the U.S. foreign policy but dwelled longest on the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

COURT FINDS GIRL GUILTY OF DESTROYING DRAFT RECORDS

A FEDERAL JURY in Boston deliberated 20 minutes Wednesday and convicted Suzanne Williams, 19, of Leveerett, of destroying draft records by throwing black paint on them. Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr. set Oct. 14 for sentencing her and a co-defendant, Francis T. Femia, 20, of Williamson, W. Va., who earlier pleaded guilty.

NEGRO BOYS AT BOSTON LATIN ABIDE BY MAJORITY

NEGRO STUDENTS at Boston Latin School bowed to the wishes of the majority of the student body Wednesday and declined to wear African garb to class. Students had voted 1,003 to 970 against changing the dress code, which includes ties and coats. Latin students also voted against formation of an all-black student union. The racial disturbances last week were precipitated by the dress issue.

TWO MEN PERISH IN BOSTON APARTMENT HOUSE FIRE

TWO MEN DIED Wednesday when fire of undetermined origin swept a four-story brick building on West Canton street in Boston's South End. They were identified as Albert J. Stokowski, 62, and John Gordon, 40.

NEW HAVEN RR REPORTS BIG DEFICIT FOR AUGUST

TRUSTEES OF THE bankrupt New Haven Railroad reported Wednesday a deficit of $1,859,733 for August. The total deficit for the eight months of 1968 is $15,554,353.

LOBSTER PRICE DROPS; FISHERMEN STAY ASHORE

MORE THAN 75 per cent of Maine's estimated 3,800 lobstermen stayed ashore Wednesday in a reaction to the decline of lobster prices to 50 cents a pound. It was the second attempt in three weeks to drive up the price of lobsters by not fishing. Last year at this time they were getting between 70 and 90 cents a pound.

WHITE SAYS EAST BOSTON TRUCKS USE ALTERNATE ROUTE

MAYOR KEVIN H. WHITE visited East Boston Wednesday to assure residents the city would do everything possible to prohibit heavy truck traffic from Maverick street. He told a crowd of 250 that the oil and fill trucks may reach Logan Airport by alternate access routes through Mass. Port Authority property.

Skyward Bound AIC Cheerleader

If the Yellowjackets of American International College at Springfield give their opposition trouble through the air this season, it may be due in part to pretty Nancy-Jo Levenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Levenson, 32 Verdale road, Newton Highlands. Earth-defying Nancy-Jo will make her home ground debut as cheerleader when AIC hosts Amherst, Oct. 5. She's added many feet to her altitudes since she thrilled Newton South High football fans in her pre-college days.

Plan New Theatre For Newton Centre

Two major factions joined forces in bringing to Newton a complex comprised of the first movie theatre to be built in the Newton area in 30 years and the well known Academy of Physical and Social Development.

Robert Waldman and David E. Dick, prominent Newton realtors and theatre owners, anticipate a Christmas premiere for the Academy Cinema to be located on Beacon street in the heart of Newton Centre. The Academy Cinema will feature selections from the film capitals of the world.

William Black, one of America's foremost theatre architects, has designed this cinema to insure its patrons not only the most modern projection through the use of 16, 35 and 70 mm. equipment, but also to offer the ultimate in luxury and comfort through the medium of scientifically controlled air conditioning.

Excise Tax Drive Nets City $20,000

The continued drive to collect delinquent excise taxes in Newton has recovered more than $20,000 for the city treasurer, Tax Collector Theodore L. Scaffidi reported this week.

Scaffidi has gone into Small Claims Court to press charges against delinquents who have owed the money to the city for periods ranging between 1964 and 1967.

Five of the motorists owed more than $1000 and one was more than $1200. In all, Scaffidi has brought more than 1200 delinquent Newton taxpayers to court in his 16 months as City Treasurer and Tax Collector.

He said many of the motorists won't pay their taxes until the Registry of TAX—(See Page 5)

Coming Week Proclaimed "Fire Prevention Week"

In commemoration of the great Chicago fire, the week of Oct. 6 through 12 has been proclaimed Fire Prevention Week in Newton by official proclamation of Mayor Monte G. Basbas.

The Chicago fire occurred Oct. 8, 1871, and caused $196,000,000 damage with 250 persons killed. The cause was popularly believed to be "Mrs. O'Leary's cow" kicking over a lantern in the barn.

An open membership breakfast meeting for the Newton Chamber of Commerce at the Sidney Hill Country Club on the anniversary date, Oct. 8, will highlight the week's observance. Lt. Joseph Fitzsimmons, head of the Newton Fire Prevention Bureau, will be the Last Chance For Voter Registration

The deadline for those planning to enroll as voters in order to cast ballots in the coming Presidential election is 10 p.m. this coming Saturday night (Oct. 5).

Newton's voting lists will be closed at that time, it was emphasized today by Alan W. Licarie, executive secretary of the city's election department.

However, arrangements have been made by Licarie on instructions of Mayor Monte G. Basbas to make it as convenient as possible for those who intend to register as voters this week.

Enrollment of voters will be held at the election offices in City Hall from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. today (Thursday) and from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight.

Registration also will be conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight at the High School Drill Shed on Elm road in Newtonville, the branch library at 375 Auburn street, Auburndale, and the Angier School at 1697 Beacon street, Waban.

The election offices at City Hall will be open for registration from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) and from noon until 10 p.m. on Saturday.

Experts Ponder Possibility Of House Picking President

Political pundits and analysts are pondering the intriguing possibility that Hubert H. Humphrey might be defeated in the November election but might be chosen President next January by the national House of Representatives.

That is not likely, but it is, of course, within the realm of political possibility.

If the polls are accurate and if an election were held today, Richard M. Nixon would capture well over the 270 electoral votes necessary to win election.

Humphrey must make substantial gains and former Alabama Governor George Wallace must hold his strength, at least in the southern states he is expected to carry, in order to throw the Presidential election into Congress.

Blast Crowded Classes At Lincoln-Eliot School

A protest about crowded conditions at the Lincoln-Eliot School was made to the School Committee Monday night by parents attending the school.

The parents complained that work has not yet even been started on the construction of a proposed two-classroom addition to the school which the School Board had promised would be completed now.

At the same time they submitted a master plan calling for long-range additions to the school, including six classrooms, a health room, an all-purpose room, an activity room, resource rooms for math, science and special studies, and rooms for special help and consultation.

In an unusual action the parents projected what they anticipate will be the pupil population at the Lincoln-Eliot during the 1970-71 school year.

They based their estimates on the figures they accumulated during a census of 62 per cent of the homes in the district in which they tabulated the number of children under the age of five.

The parents figure that two years from now the Lincoln-Eliot School will have 82 children in kindergarten (two rooms needed), 67 in the first grade (three classrooms needed), 70 in the second grade (three rooms), 83 in the third grade (four rooms); 63 in the fourth grade (three rooms), 46 in the fifth grade (two rooms) and 53 in the sixth grade (two rooms).

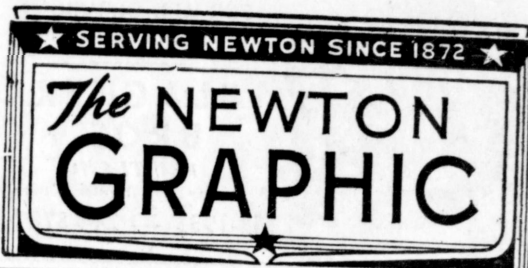

This amounts to a projected need for two kindergarten rooms and 17 classrooms at the start of the 1970-71 school year. The school now has two kindergarten rooms but only 11 classrooms.

Thomas Jones, spokesman for the Lincoln-Eliot parents, told the School Committee that the gymnasium at the school was converted into two classrooms this fall to provide necessary teaching space.

Every inch — every square foot — every possible place a child can be taught — is in use," Jones declared.

He added that children now must be bused to the Hawthorne School for physical examinations.

N-W Hospital Ups Rates by $5 A Day

The trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital have announced a $5 daily increase for all accommodations, to meet rising costs which have resulted in a $900,000 budget jump. This will bring the daily cost of a hospital bed to between $58 and $69 per day.

The new rate became effective Tuesday, (Oct. 1) the start of the hospital's fiscal year. The new rate becomes effective Oct. 8 for patients in the hospital Oct. 1.

Several escalating factors contributed to the increase, particularly those concerned with payroll jumps and a rise in supply costs.

Percentage-wise the increase is less than that of the hospital's "careful" budget. President Richard H. Lovell of the trustees said the rate hike "is below those now being put into effect by many area hospitals."

that a similar delay in construction had been encountered at the Angier School last year.

Jones introduced a supplement to a report, "Inadequacies and Future Needs of the Lincoln-Eliot School," prepared last May.

According to the supplement, the present plant has the following deficiencies: classrooms, auditorium, health room, playroom, science room, principal's office, counselling rooms, art room, music room and gymnasium.

Charging that Newton constructs "school buildings by crisis," Jones called for a major plan of school priorities throughout the city.

Acting Superintendent of Schools James Laurits reported that his office is now making a study of school needs on a citywide basis.

School Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith pointed out that Newton has a record for more new school building than any community in New England.

He assured the Lincoln-Eliot parents that when pertinent parts of Dr. Laurits' report are completed, tentatively expected late in the calendar year, they would be called back to review their case with the School Board.

Complimenting the Lincoln-Eliot group on their restrained method of protest, Beckwith said, "The tolerant way you have presented your complaints has made an impact on us."

Jones observed that Lincoln-Eliot is moving toward a new concept of school-community relations. The report on school deficiencies says: "The School belongs to the people, not just those who have children in school but to the whole community."

Lincoln-Eliot, located on Pearl street in the area between Nonantum and Newton Corner, serves the ### Hospital-

The newly authorized budget provides for personnel and supply expenditures of $7.8 million for the coming year.

"If all factors remain constant, we foresee the budget will be adequate over the year ahead," said Director William S. Brines.

He cautioned, however, that "if threatened unionization among Greater Boston hospital workers were to artificially inflate wages, the budget and rate structure would require rapid adjustment upward."

The director of the hospital which is an affiliate of Tufts University Medical School, declared the hospital seeks to recover no more from its patients than the cost of keeping the institution staffed, stocked and functioning, while providing its patients the best in medical care.

In the payroll area, Mr. Brines noted, the starting salaries for Greater Boston nurses advanced to $7,000 annually, beginning Oct. 1. In addition, the hospital faced customary merit increases and other wage increases necessary to retain professional and non-community in several ways, Jones said.

The school offers classes in the New Math, reading help for public and parochial students, parent typing pools to relieve teachers, an evening music theory class for parents and children, and evening hours at the school library.

But, according to the Lincoln-Eliot report, "Our school is being used but is open to our community only on a limited basis because of lack of space. We are anxious to have facilities for a community center built into our school."

professional workers and to keep them abreast of living costs.

He emphasized that payroll represents over 70 percent of the hospital's annual operating expenses.

"A hospital is labor intensive, essentially a matter of people serving people. A large staff is required to cover days, evenings, nights and the weekends. Payroll adjustments hits us with a compounded impact, since they must be levelled over four shifts of workers," he explained.

In the area of supplies, the director cited higher manufacturing and vendor costs passed along to the hospital. Further, the hospital is buying new kinds and often more expensive supplies developed for improved patient care.

Rate adjustments also will be put into effect in the operating room and emergency rooms. Beginning Oct. 1 a two-bed room at the teaching hospital will range per day between $60 and $62. A two-bed accommodation is the type used by patients most frequently. The daily rate of a one-bed room will range between $66 and $69. A four-bed room per day will range from $58 to $60.

Mr. Brines noted a big change in hospital care financing.

Presently, more than 90 percent of the hospital's patients are having their bills paid fully or in part by the large purchasers of hospital care, such as Blue Cross or the more recent Federally supported payment programs, Medicare and Medicaid.

The bloc purchasers base their payments upon the average daily cost to the hospital of providing a day of care.

"On the other, we strive exceedingly hard to keep rates and costs in control as evidenced by the current tight

Gross Irresponsibility

Newspapers, both daily and weekly, television and radio stations, from the biggest to the smallest, have a great responsibility to present the facts and the truth to the public when reporting the news.

Unsubstantiated rumor, of course, should never be offered as established fact.

Channel 2 last week was guilty of gross disregard for its responsibility in an incident which could have had tragic consequences.

For some time now WGBH-TV has presented a weekly show entitled "Say Brother," devoted to activities of the Boston Negro community. This has provided for viewers an insight into the thinking of some members of the Black Community. For the most part this has been a worthwhile endeavor.

But last week Channel 2 allowed young black militants appearing on the "Say Brother" program to spread malicious, baseless, dangerous rumors that a young girl had died as a result of a beating by police. The black militants ranted that Boston would suffer a "blood bath" in reprisal.

At the time the program was on the air, Mayor Kevin H. White was meeting at Boston City Hall with leaders of the Black Community in an effort to ease tensions which had escalated into violence in the streets—the violence stemming from a school boycott over dress regulations.

It was irresponsible on the part of Channel 2 to permit emotional youngsters to air inflammatory charges.

What was even worse, however, was that the television station did not immediately check to ascertain the truthfulness of the allegation. Its failure to do so caused some viewers to conclude that the report was accurate.

It was almost 24 hours later before Channel 2 issued an apology expressing "regret" that it permitted a broadcast of the rumor "without immediate confirmation or denial."

Boston was fortunate, indeed, that the irresponsibility of Channel 2 did not touch off rioting which might have resulted in death, destruction and injury.

It cannot afford anything approaching a repetition of that incident.

Time Is Running Out

Are you enrolled as a voter? Are you eligible to cast a ballot in the highly important Nov. 5 Presidential election?

If the answer is "NO" to either of those questions, time is running out on you.

The voting lists for the coming election will be closed on Saturday night.

If you don't register by then, it will be too late.

For the most part those who are not enrolled as voters are young people who have just turned 21 or are very close to that age. (You can register if you will be 21 on Nov. 6.)

Then there are young women who have married since the last election and have not registered under their married name and persons who have moved to a new community.

Some will not register as voters because they feel they just do not have the time to do so.

This is one of the most important expenditures of time you could make.

- Political Highlights -

Top supporters of Humphrey admit that he is well behind Nixon at the present time, but they insist he is beginning to pick up. This may be so although there is not much evidence of it in Massachusetts where he should be strong.

Wallace probably will lose support as election day nears and more people recognize that he has no chance of achieving election and that a ballot cast for him is a ballot wasted.

Some seasoned political observers are convinced that Wallace is thinking in terms of 1972, not 1968. We hope that events between now and 1972 are not going to be such as to give Wallace a real chance of gaining the Presidency four years from now.

But let's assume that the vote in the Nov. 5 election is divided in such a manner that none of the candidates gets a majority (270) of the electoral votes and the election is thrown into Congress.

In such an event, incidentally, the President is picked by the House and the Vice President by the Senate.

So conceivably we could have a President of one party and a Vice President of the other.

Richard M. Nixon could not be elected by the present House unless he managed to get some Democratic support.

TOUGH KNOT TO CUT

Humphrey quite possibly could win election by the present House although it might depend on how many Southern Congressmen stood by George Wallace.

The election of a President and Vice President under such circumstances would be by the next Congress, not the present one, and its political makeup will not be known until after the coming election.

Each state casts one vote for a President when the choice is made by the House. Thus, Vermont has the same voting power as New York State.

The Congressmen presumably would vote on straight party lines in states outside the Old Confederacy.

In the present Congress the Democrats outnumber the Republicans in 29 states. The Republican Congressmen are in the majority in 18 states. In the other three states—Illinois, Oregon and Montana—the two parties are evenly divided in their congressional strength. Some of those Democratic states, of course, are in the south.

If a strong Republican tide is running, as most political experts believe, the GOP could make substantial gains in the November election.

The Democrats now have a one-man edge in five states and a two-man edge in eight other states, including Massachusetts.

A shift of one Democratic seat in each of those 13 states would give the Republicans a two-vote edge in picking a President.

It is an interesting possibility to discuss, but it is not likely to materialize. At the present time it does not shape up as that close a contest.

Agnew Will Be Speaker At

Nixon Fund-Raising Dinner

Maryland's Governor Spiro Agnew, who has become something of a drawing card since his selection as the Republican nominee for Vice President, is coming to Boston to speak at a $100-per-plate fund raising dinner for Richard M. Nixon at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel on the night of Oct. 22.

Gerhard D. Bleicken, chairman of the dinner, has arranged for a united showing of Bay State GOP leaders at the dinner.

Among those in attendance and seated at the head table will be Governor Volpe, Senator Brooke, Attorney General Richardson, Lieutenant Governor Sargent and Republican State Committee Chairman Spaulding.

Brooke and Spaulding publicly supported Governor Nelson Rockefeller prior to the Republican national convention but are now on the Nixon bandwagon.

Bleicken, who was Nixon's New England coordinator before the convention, is the senior executive vice president of the John Hancock Insurance Company. He served in the navy with Nixon during World War II and is a close personal friend of the Republican standard-bearer.

Political Stage Not Set

For A Truman-Type Upset

Democratic supporters of Hubert Humphrey are hoping that he can win election on the same kind of spectacular upset that Harry S. Truman staged 20 years ago as he toppled Thomas Dewey.

Maybe he can, although the same political ingredients don't seem to be there to make possible an underdog victory for Humphrey such as Truman won.

This writer was able to view portions of the 1948 Presidential campaign from two closeup points of vantage.

In the early autumn, as the leaves were turning and the woodlands flashed a fiery red, we rode through New England and the eastern United States on the campaign train of Earl Warren, then Governor of California and the Republican nominee for Vice President.

And just before the election, as the campaign was reaching a crashing crescendo, we traveled for several days with Harry Truman on his train as he stumped desperately for the political life he was to save in sensational fashion.

In retrospect that was a strange election battle. Political experts believed a strong Republican tide was running which would sweep Dewey into office.

It turned out that the GOP tide had peaked in 1946, when a Republican Congress had been elected, and was in the process of receding in 1948.

The political pundits and the pollsters reported that Dewey couldn't lose and Truman couldn't win.

Dewey was over-confident. He waged strictly a don't-kick-over-the-applecart campaign. Truman fought on doggedly against seemingly hopeless odds.

Of all the Presidential candidates this writer has covered back through the years, Truman had the closest touch with the rank and file of the people. They identified with him. He was one of them.

Dewey was like a man behind a mask. He smiled, but it was a sort of fixed, frozen smile. When he spoke, many of the listeners weren't quite sure whether it was the man or the mask speaking.

Of all the bland candidates for public office who ever came down the political pike, Earl Warren was the blandest.

Newsman on his campaign train were convinced that Warren had to clear anything he said with Dewey, that he usually couldn't contact Dewey and consequently rarely said anything.

The only thing which stands out about Alben Barkley as we go back down memory's lane to that '48 campaign was that he would drink two bourbons and branch water and then deliver a polished 30-minute speech without a note.

Truman almost always delivered a prepared speech.

Several developments in that campaign caused us to forecast that Truman might be winning, not losing.

There were the crowds he waited for him at whistle stops in the hinterlands at 6 o'clock in the morning to hail him and urge him on.

These were people who had driven for miles in the darkness before the sun's first rays had lightened the eastern sky, and they obviously did so because they felt strongly about Truman and his campaign.

We watched and wondered. The pollsters who said Truman couldn't win didn't get up that early.

There was the day we left Boston, went down through Rhode Island, Connecticut and into New York City where Truman was acclaimed by enormous crowds.

His listeners went wild that night as Truman told them he had a little shadow who followed him everywhere he went. He was referring to the fact that Dewey's schedule had him follow closely on Truman's heels.

Campaign methods and techniques have changed in the years which have elapsed since that hectic and historic 1948 election fight.

You could stand then at the rear of a train and watch the reaction of crowds to the speeches of Presidential candidates. You can't peer into living rooms today to see whether the occupants are even watching the Presidential contenders on their television sets.

But from where we sit there does not seem to be much similarity between the 1948 and 1968 Presidential campaigns.

Meadowbrook Dispute

Editor,

Newton Graphic:

This is written in answer to last week's published letter of a good friend and neighbor who criticized the Graphic for printing OTHER letters of criticism—that is, criticism of Meadowbrook in particular.

The fact is that the very crux of Meadowbrook's problem had been an unwillingness to consider more than one set of "infallible" opinions. This situation may now be changing.

The reference to "CL" graduates who are National Merit Scholars again strikes at the core of the problem. The relatively few National Merit students are academically aggressive and would flourish under "CL" (particularly) under Newton's structured classes and, probably, even under the repressions of the archaic Boston school system.

However, the good Newton schools were meant to serve ALL children and at every level of intellectual development and motivation.

As for "interference" why are the same parents who are welcomed as supporters of school budgets and labeled by the administration as part of a "fine home-school relationship" suddenly cast in the roles of the "misguided" when

Asks Aid For Biafra

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

This year as in many past years we have received notice about the school Halloween parties. Newton's concern for its children and the wonderful coordinated effort of community planning is heartwarming.

However, I am continually haunted by the television report of the starving Biafran children slowly eating their first food in many days flown in a relief plane. I cannot help but contrast this and the vision of the well-fed Newton child throwing away his half-eaten ice cream after the Halloween party, dropping her cookie on the floor where it is eventually swept up and losing their favors on the way home.

Several thousand dollars are expended for these parties. Could not in this year of such stark tragedy for the helpless Biafran children the city of Newton depart from tradition and contribute the money used for the parties to UNICEF for Biafran relief?

Wouldn't the example of human concern for others benefit our children more than the goodies?

Constructive Criticism

Editor,

The Graphic:
I should like to comment on Mr. Richard Myerson's letter to the Editor of September 26. He expresses "... concern about the frequent criticism of the Newton Public School System and Newton's school committee ..."

I should think that Mr. Myerson would entertain the notion that the very fact that there is "... frequent criticism ..." is reason enough to ponder about whether our "... basically superior school system ..." needs some improvements in several areas. Improvements and changes such as are advocated by those who want in-school lunch and uniform day or the option of the traditional versus the continuous learning program will in no way destroy the Newton School System's superiority. The argument that Newton has a good school system and hence should not be subject to modification is not valid. It implies that all changes originating from sources other than those of the school administration can only be destructive.

When over 3000 parents join together in a common group designed to obtain in-school lunch and uniform day, I cannot see how their desires can be classed as petty. When 6,000 out of 9,000 students participate in the first year in the partial in-school lunch program, I cannot see how that can be classed as petty. When 700 parents fill the Meadowbrook auditorium on a midsummer evening to ask for options, I cannot see how that can be classed as petty. When taxpayers voice their concern with our escalating tax rate in which the lion's share is allocated to the school system, I cannot see how that can be classed as petty.

It is difficult to understand the argument that we will lose our top-grade teachers by instituting parent-originated changes. We will continue to experience a 30 per cent or higher turnover rate of teachers whether or not we institute changes. It is instituted by the school administration that we had better not voice any opposition to its programs or its decisions, or we stand a good chance of losing our top-grade teachers.

If the teachers are so immature, I suggest they are not top grade and are welcome to join the 30 per cent who leave every year for reasons which have nothing to do with parent-originated changes. Only horrified amazement can be expressed by Mr. Myerson's suggestion that the Graphic restrict or otherwise discriminate in its printing of opinions in the Letter to the Editor section. Peter Schrag, in his book entitled "Voices in the Classroom" says, "Education is Newton's central topic of conversation, its basic industry, and its most compelling reason for existence."

Let us be thankful that Newtonites maintain education as their "central topic of conversation." In this way, its "basic industry" will continue to be one of America's best. Lawrence E. Geller

Favors Leash Law

Editor,

Newton Graphic
Having been a resident and taxpayer in the City of Newton for many years, I think the time has come when we must have a leash law, and I urge the Newton residents to call and write to the Newton Aldermen and to press for such a leash law.

Dogs in my neighborhood have become very numerous, and because they are allowed to roam at will, have become so destructive that our gardens and lawns have been ruined in many instances. The owners of the dogs are apparently unaware or indifferent to the damage caused by the dogs, digging up lawns, turning over cans, digging holes in gardens and destroying the plants. It is also now becoming dangerous

Hits School "Meddling"

Editor,

The Graphic:
I am disturbed by some of the current meddling of non-educators in the running of our school systems. School systems afford many opportunities for self-aggrandizement through the exercise of civic leadership. Schools are close to our family life and our pocketbooks, and offer a rich source of issues, real and contrived. In Newton, where my own children attend school, the results of "reforms" I have observed to date is a hodge-podge of changes of questionable value, especially to the school children. Certainly the Meadowbrook experience should raise doubts about the value of the concept of progressive, undisciplined education. And I, for one, have reservations about the benefits of the Elementary School Lunch Program—other than for certain parents and certain organizers.

Now we find that the United Parents for a Single Session in Newton have started their fall semester in earnest. I wonder, do these people really understand the effects of such programs on the children? Or on community institution long accustomed to a standard predictable schedule? I feel that the change of pace presented by the lunch hour at home on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and by the open Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, is valuable to the children.

Teachers, moreover, have free meetings for make-up work, meetings, etc. And what about the YMCA, West Newton Community Center, All-Newton Music School and other like institutions, whose schedules have come to depend on long periods of time, unconstrained by school dismissal times relative to supper times? The single-session, uniform schedule would provide these centers much less flexibility in the scheduling of lessons. The same holds true for private teachers.

The so-called "majority" of parents who desire a single session claim that it would provide a more stable schedule. I always considered my schedule stable as I went through Newton schools. I made full use of my Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, too. Perhaps the reformers should look at their own "reforms" as a source of the present confusion and instability. The school lunch experiment has given my third grader a different schedule every year. Last year, when her sister attended double-session kindergarten, on a different schedule it seemed as if someone was coming or going all day long. This year, the Tuesday and Thursday schedule, from 8:15 to 12:45, seems just too long. And the one-hour break is too short of some on the fringe of the school district, who would prefer not to participate in the "optional" lunch program.

I recommend that we return to the old schedule and leave well enough alone, at least until an alternative is found which is demonstrably better for all affected, including the children. Let's leave education to the educators and provide more stability in the school system. The areas which require more attention are fiscal control and the home. If the reformers can't find enough issues involving school-system economy, let them stay home and tend their own families and leave mine alone. Above all, let's not mistake motion for progress.

to walk on any of the streets in Newton, without a cane, as a protection against single as well as packs of dogs.

A leash law is a necessity in Newton, and should become effective without delay. I urge the Mayor and the Aldermen to act immediately, to pass such a law and put it into effect at once.

In attendance to pay homage to Mrs. DeStefano who, in her career, supervised 2 1/2 million crossings without an accident.

Mrs. DeStefano, before her marriage, was Miss Theresa Caroso of Newtonville. With her at the reception were her husband, Guy, sons Joseph and Guy, Jr. and Mrs. Barbara DeStefano, daughter-in-law. Another daughter, Mary Ellen, lives in Pennsylvania. Mrs. DeStefano was presented a floral bouquet by Mrs. Virginia King, president of the association.

Highlights of the evening were two presentations: a string of pearls by Mrs. Angelina Henes — Police Women's Association and a bracelet by Mrs. Valerie Boynton, Police Women's Social Group.

Mayor Monie Basbas stated: "That he was proud to be present at Mrs. DeStefano's retirement reception. She was one of the original supervisors, first in the nation, which was originated in Newton, Mass., by Chief Philip Purcell. He was proud of the work she has done and the work of all the girls. The Mayor wished her a happy retirement."

Chief William F. Quinn spoke of Mrs. DeStefano's excellence as a traffic woman and carried a message from Chief Philip Purcell (Retired) who was out of town. He also read a telegram extending best wishes from Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin. Present were Captain

Charles E. Walker (Retired), Thomas L. McEaney, former Safety Officer, Safety Officer Gilbert Champagne, Sergeant Thomas Dargan, Officer John Coffey, and Lieutenant Albert Yanco and Captain Richard Donaghe of the Newton Police Department; Mrs. Lillian Shumski, president of the Massachusetts Police Women's Association, both of Norwood.

Mrs. Jessie Jensen led the group in an especially written prayer. Refreshments were served by Newton Police Women. Mrs. Valerie Boynton, chairman of the committee, made all arrangements. Safety Officer Charles Feeley was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Brown, wife of a Norwood physician and mother of seven children whose ages are 3, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12, chose the Great Books of the Western World series for an excellent reason. The Browns already own both of the Britannica sets.

In Needham, Mrs. Lueders expressed a preference for the Britannica Junior set and she, too, had an excellent reason. She has five children aged 2 months, 2, 4, 6 and 8 years old. Her husband is an engineer.

Mrs. John J. Walsh in Newton Highlands, chose the Great Books of the Western World series. The wife of a machinist, her three children are pretty well grown. They're 15, 20 and 24.

The winner in Dedham, James E. Mahoney, didn't indicate any preference on the coupon he submitted, except to say that he already owns a set of Encyclopedia Britannica. That leaves him with a choice of the Britannica Junior or the Great Books series.

The publishers of the valuable volumes have been notified of the results of the drawing and the names of the winners have been forwarded to them. Soon, representatives of Encyclopedia Britannica will be calling at the homes of the four winners to present them with their gifts.

Nun Insists On Right To Offer Mass

By GLORIA WOLFORD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sister Clara Marie Henning, who believes the Roman Catholic Church cannot call itself "mother" and still be "entirely male," has written Pope Paul VI asking for the right to celebrate mass.

Sister Clara, or Miss Henning as she is called by those who refuse to recognize her nun's vows, is the only woman canon lawyer in the United States. She also wears mini skirts.

"Nuns are supposed to serve, to help," Sister Clara said. "How can you serve anyone when you are not available after 8 o'clock at night?"

"It's time to abandon those monstrosities habits and pick up our skirts." Nuns should not be denied the right to celebrate mass, to participate more fully in church life simply because they are women, she said.

"I appeal to your holiness to consider the justice of fulfilling my desire to become Christ's priest should my qualifications prove sufficient in your heart and possibly after an investigation through a committee appointed by you," Sister Clara wrote to the Pope Aug. 3.

So far, she has received no answer.

Sister Clara holds a bachelor of canon law degree from the School of Canon Law at Catholic University, Washington, D.C., and this fall returns to enter the doctorate program. Nearly all of her classmates are priests.

Sister Clara took private nun's vows in May, 1967. She believes they give her the right to live along instead of in convent. The 27-year-old lawyer has since proved to be something of a controversial figure.

When the Roman Catholic press described her as a "new style Catholic nun experimenting in new forms of religious life," the New York Archdiocese took exception.

Msgr. Joseph T. V. Snee, associate vicar for Religious, issued a statement claiming Sister Clara "has received no official approbation whatever by the Archdiocese of New York for her bizarre experiments."

"I've never met the man," Sister Clara said. Later she received a letter from Msgr. Thomas Moriarty, from whom she said she believed she had permission for her way of life.

The letter said: "I am not altogether sure that I approved of your telling others that you are in private vows and of your using the title, sister. If I did I would be inclined now to think it would be better not to do either of these things."

Sister Clara said, "I think the publicity frightened them. They have, however, let me alone since then."

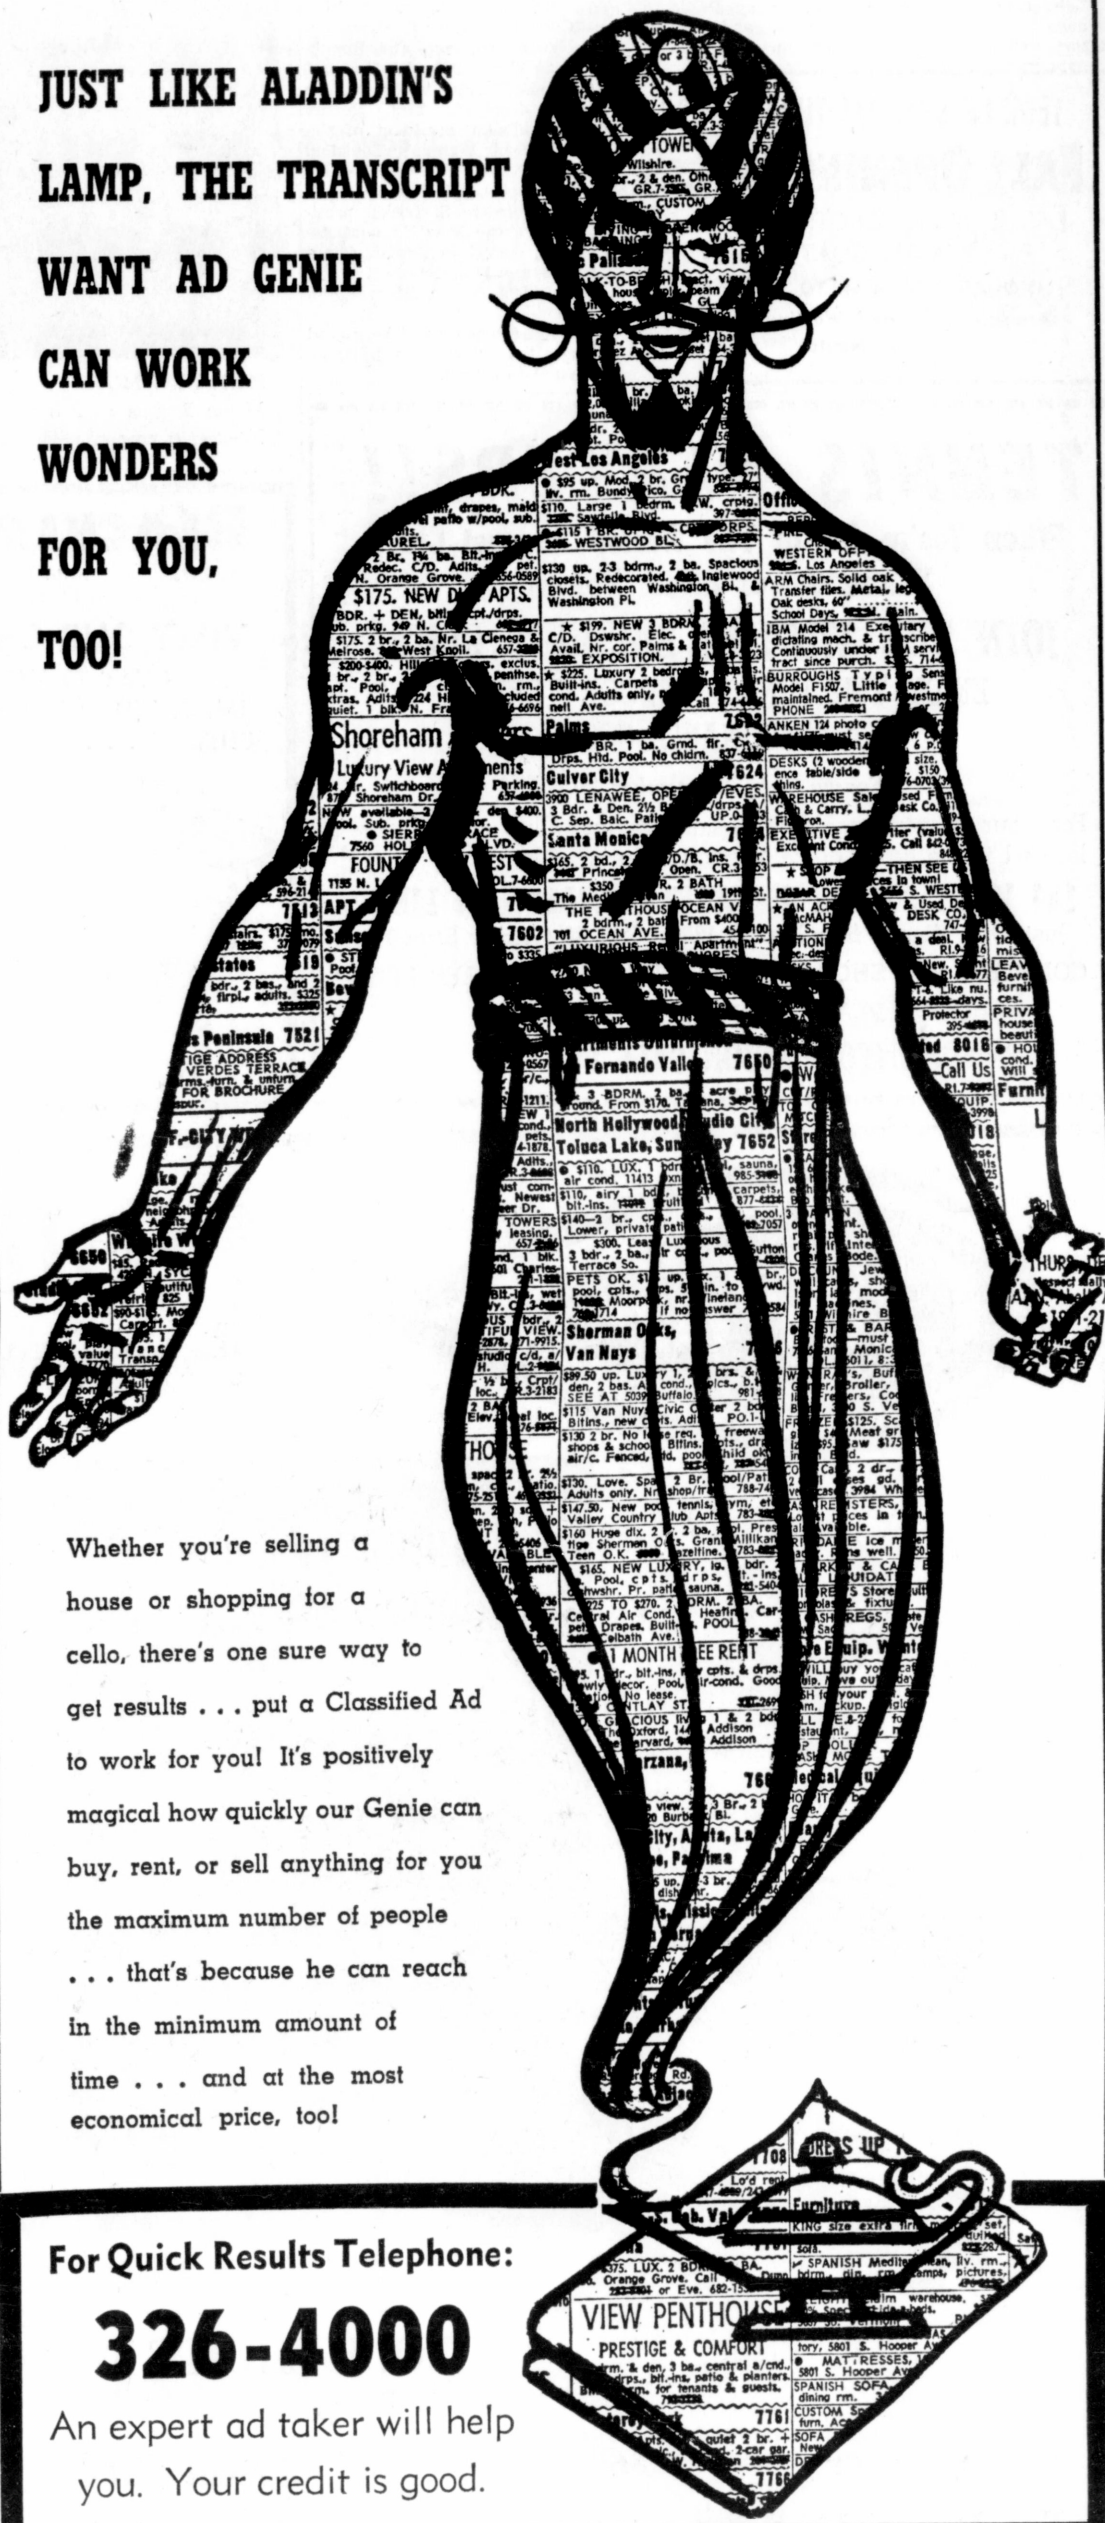

If granted her wish to be ordained, she said she would not seek a parish but intends to practice canon law in a church tribunal. She hopes to enter a nun's order and exercise the right to say mass in a convent, but not one that locks nuns in at 8 p.m.

Asked if she really expected a Pope who re-affirmed the church's ban on birth control to make such a radical departure from tradition and allow her to enter a seminary, she replied: "Anything is possible with God."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lemonade can be made with more flavor-strength from fewer lemons by using the peel as well as the juice. Grate peel and blend with sugar to absorb and intensify the flavor before adding juice and water to taste. For greatest flavor extraction boil peel in sugar syrup. To make a pitcher of 6 to 8 lemonade servings, use peel of 2 lemons with 1 cup each of sugar and water; boil 7 minutes; cool. Stir in 1 cup of lemon juice and 4 cups of water. Serve on ice cubes.

First Federal Loan Of $1644 For Remodeling

The first federal loan to rehabilitate a home has been granted under the federally assisted Newton Upper Falls Improvement Program, Mayor Monte G. Basbas announced yesterday.

Bruce Train, the city coordinator for the Upper Falls Improvement Program, said the award of $1644 is the first to Newton and will be used to rehabilitate one of the homes under the Code Enforcement Program.

Train said that grants up to $3000 and federal loans up to $14,000 may be made under such a federally funded program.

The three-year improvement program has been in operation since April of this year, when the first housing inspections were undertaken. Since that time, 1200 homes in the Upper Falls area have been surveyed.

The Gourmet Adventures of

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

Rumor has it that it takes a genius to make a soufflé. This is positively not true. Anyone can succeed in making a beautiful, puffy, delectable soufflé every time — anyone, that is, who faithfully follows a few basic rules. Actually, that most ephemeral ingredient — is at the heart of a soufflé's success . . . and depends for its very being on the way the eggs are handled. The most important part of soufflé making is the beating of the egg whites. They should have as much air as possible incorporated into them, which is easiest with a balloon whip. You must also have a well-regulated oven. Now you're ready to become a soufflé chef!

Now you're ready for our fabulous new "Gourmet Catering Service", the truly unique way of entertaining. THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton, 332-4400, will serve all occasions in your office, plant, or home. Call us.

Ex-Sen. Saltonstall Speaker At Tribute To Mrs. Cutler

Former U.S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall will be one of the most distinguished guests assembled at the head table Nov. 18, at Monticello Restaurant, Framingham, in a tribute to retiring State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham.

The testimonial dinner is being sponsored by the Needham Civil Rights Committee, the Needham Civil Rights Foundation, Inc., the Needham Community Council, and the Needham Board of Selectmen as well as other organizations.

Ex-Senator Saltonstall was serving the Commonwealth as Governor when Mrs. Cutler began her long years of service at the State House.

Theme of the testimonial will be "I Remember Leslie," and gathered for the dinner will be those with whom she has been associated closely over the years from both sides of the political fence. Also attending will be those whom she faithfully served during her extensive career.

Dinner Chairman Harold Putnam announced good seats are still available for the big November date. They may be obtained from Ticket Chairman Robert A. Pihlcrantz, 81 Charles street, Needham, 02192. Tickets are $7 each and checks should be made payable to "Senator Cutler Dinner." They should be mailed with a self-addressed envelope to Mr. Pihlcrantz.

Crime Curbs To Be Subject At Women's Club

Two authorities on crime prevention, both Newton residents, will speak at an open meeting of the Auburndale Women's Club next Wednesday (Oct. 9). They are Executive Director Sheldon Krantz of the Committee on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Criminal Justice in Massachusetts and Officer Charles E. Feeley of the Newton Police Department.

The Committee on Law Enforcement which Krantz heads is one of the first state agencies formed on the recommendation of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice (National Crime Commission). Before coming to Massachusetts, Krantz was a staff attorney with the National Crime Commission. He is also an instructor of law at Boston University Law School.

Krantz has worked in the field of law enforcement since he was graduated cum laude from the University of Nebraska Law School in 1962. He is editor-in-chief of the Nebraska Law Review. From 1962 to 1965, he served as a trial and appellate attorney for the Organized Crime and Racketeering section of the U.S. Department of Justice. Krantz lives at 20 Ripley terrace with his wife and three children.

Officer Feeley of the Newton Police Force was educated in the Newton public schools and attended Albright College in Reading, Pennsylvania. He served in the U.S. Air Force Intelligence Section.

Feeley has been associated with youth activities since 1935 and has been Newton's Safety Officer for the past 18 years, lecturing on safety and youth problems at all grade levels.

He has served as Assistant Director of the New England Police Community Relations Institute at Boston College and Newton College of the Sacred Heart. He has been a staff member of the National Police-Community Relations Institute in Point Pleasant, New Jersey, and a lecturer in numerous colleges and police academies.

Law Student Plans Appeal From Draft Board Ruling

A 25-year-old Newton man, a second year student at Boston College law school, will appeal the refusal of Local Draft Board No. 117, Newtonville, to classify him as a selective conscientious objector.

Victor Aronow, of 303 Franklin st., Newton, said he would fight the refusal all the way to the Presidential Appeal Board, if necessary.

If Aronow appeals, his case will be heard by the Selective Service Appeal Board in Boston and if he is continued 1-A he will then take the matter to the courts, he said.

The Newton man has been 1-A since August of 1967, when he was ordered for induction. He then requested deferment on "moral and religious opposition to the war in Vietnam, but not to all wars." He said he would defend the country if it were invaded "but the war in Vietnam is a very different thing."

Aronow admits his "chances are slim." Originally he had student deferment but turned that in on the grounds of his religious beliefs.

He says he has the support of his family, which includes three brothers and two sisters, children of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Aronow.

The Newton Draft Counseling Center has promised Aronow support but it has before it the case of David Stoppelman, 22, of West Newton, who is on bail after refusing induction on the grounds he never received a notice to report for induction.

Wins Praise for Alumni Fund Aid

Lewis B. Songer of 82 Allen avenue, Waban, has received thanks and congratulations for his successful work as head class agent for the Holy Cross College class of 1955, in the college's 1967-68 Annual Giving Fund Drive.

The commendations given by George B. Moran, chairman of the drive, followed the successful completion of the project. A record amount of $537,092 was contributed by Holy Cross Alumni, parents and friends.

New Post To J. J. Michelson

Ensign Levine Given Vietnam Service Ribbon

Midshipman Ensign Arthur Joel Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah M. Levine of 25 Wiswall road, Newton, on Monday was awarded the Vietnam Service Ribbon of the Maritime Administration.

The award was presented at a formal review at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N.Y. by the Acting Maritime Administrator, J.W. Gulick.

Midshipman Levine is a 1st Classman at the United States Merchant Marine Academy. The Academy, one of the five federal academies, is the only one that sends its Midshipmen into war zones while still training at school. This "Training Under Fire" puts added weight behind the Academy's motto, "Acta Non Verba" (deeds not words).

The Academy is located on the northern shore of Long Island, New York, overlooking Long Island Sound at Kings Point. Its four year course of studies includes such courses as History, English, Law, Calculus, Physics, Marine Engineering, Navigation and Naval Architecture. Three years are spent at the Academy, while the Sophomore Year is spent at sea aboard U.S. Merchant Vessels. Midshipman Levine sailed to Vietnam aboard the S.S. President Hayes, carrying supplies vital to the U.S. Forces.

In its 25 years of service to the nation, the Academy has sent its Midshipmen into three wars: World War II, Korea, and Vietnam. Many Midshipmen received combat decorations while still in training, and seven were awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, the highest award to a man in the Merchant Marine.

Midshipman Levine will graduate from the Academy in June, 1969. He will receive a Bachelor of Science Degree, a license as either Third Officer or Third Assistant Engineer in the Merchant Marine, and a Commission as

Newton Couple On Concert Tour

Newton Centre couple Alfred and Heidi Kanwischer have recently returned from a Continental tour as duopians. They have received standing ovations and rave reviews throughout Holland, Austria and Germany. They gave their Jordon Hall and London debuts in 1967.

Dr. Kanwischer, who is on the piano faculty at Boston University, joined Dr. Bela Nagy to give a piano seminar at the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood and the couple ended the seminar with a two-piano concert there. Heidi Kanwischer teaches privately in Newton Centre and their young daughter, Sylvia, attends second grade at the Mason-Rice School.

Ensign, U.S. Naval Reserve. Midshipman Levine is a graduate of Newton South High School in June, 1964.

Appoint Lipof To Conservation Commission

Michael Lipof of 110 Oxford rd., Newton Centre, was appointed this week by Mayor Monte G. Basbas to the Newton Conservation Commission.

Lipof, who is married and has four children, is manager of the Allen Realty Company and the Century Building trust as well as a member of the Board of Directors of the Mt. Vernon Cooperative Bank of Boston and the Longwood Credit Union of Brookline.

He is a licensed real estate broker specializing in commercial and industrial properties and mortgage placement and acts as a real estate appraiser for mortgagees and independent investors.

Lipof is a member of the Temple Ohabei Shalom Brotherhood. He belongs to the Ward 6 Newton Republican Committee and was its Finance Chairman for 1967-68. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Republican Club and of the Newton PTA Council Safety Committee and Chairman for Building Safety.

Auburndale Woman's Club to Hold Club Day Meeting Next Wednesday

The Auburndale Woman's Club executive board members held a meeting recently at the clubhouse to discuss plans for the forthcoming season. Mrs. James I. Glaser, president, conducted the session.

The first club day meeting of the new season will be held next Wednesday, Oct. 9th. The program is entitled "Crime Prevention — One of today's major problems", an informative presentation of the new needs and responsibilities of law enforcement, locally and statewide.

The speakers will be Sheldon Krantz, executive director, Governor's Commission of Law Enforcement, and Officer Charles E. Feeley of the Newton Police Department, Safety Officer for the Newton Schools for the past 18 years. This meeting is open to the public.

Day Chairman is Mrs. Harold Silverstein, the invocation will be given by Mrs. Orazio E. Vaccaro, and Day hostess will be Mrs. John M. Curtis. There will be a musical interlude during the coffee hour.

The art corner will feature an exhibit of paintings and crewel embroidery.

On Friday of next week (Oct. 11) a lecture of "World Affairs" by Geoffrey Godsell of the Christian Science Monitor will be held at the Unitarian Church in West Newton at 10 a.m. Tickets are priced at $1.25. Club members are invited to a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Bradley, 188 Islington road, after the lecture. Call Miss Lucy Turner, chairman of International Affairs Committee, for reservations and transportation.

On Saturday, Nov. 2 the scholarship committee under the direction of chairman Mrs. Carl L. Recco will present "Showcase Americana Day" at the clubhouse from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be a display and sale of antique glass, china, jewelry, hand crafts, and Christmas gifts. A lunch and snack bar will be provided. Admission is 50c.

Proceeds will go to the scholarship fund.

Jewish Congress Donor Luncheon Tuesday, Nov. 12

Arrangements have been made for the Annual Donor Luncheon of the Metropolitan Region, American Jewish Congress, Women's Division, which will take place at the Sidney Hill Country Club, Newton, Tuesday noon, Nov. 12, 1968.

The program will include a promenade of shops and musical entertainment, featuring music of the countries of the World Jewish Congress.

Mrs. George Kramer, of Newtonville, is president of the Metropolitan Region, and Mrs. Ely Benson, of Newton, and Mrs. Harold Chaban, of Chestnut Hill, are co-chairmen.

College Advisor In Newton Oct. 7

Miss Renny Hayden, admissions counselor for Green Mountain College at Poulney, Vt., will visit Newton, high schools, next Monday (Oct. 7) to confer with school guidance counselors and students interested in Green Mountain's curricula. The school conducts two-year college courses for women.

High school girls interested are advised to contact the guidance counselors at their schools.

Apartment Complex Due For Debate

The Board of Aldermen is expected to take up for reconsideration at its next meeting, Oct. 7, the request of the Maurice Corp. for 18 garden-type apartments and a rental office at 383 Langley rd., Newton Centre.

The last time it was brought up, discussion was halted by a charter objection offered by Ald. Matthew Jefferson.

It came after Ald. Joseph M. McDonnell had made a new motion that the proposed apartment complex include three two bedroom apartments which would be reserved for the Newton Housing Authority's low-income housing program.

He said this would be in accordance with the deed restriction voted by the Aldermen on the agreement for sale of the old Bowen School site.

Maurice H. Silverman, 85 Mary Ell rd., Waban, president of the Maurice Corp. has a conditional sale, awaiting approval of the board for the apartment complex before purchasing the site, and he has given a 60-day extension from the original 30 days. Under the proposal he will tear down the old Bowen School.

The Lane Use Committee approved the Maurice Corp. petition, 5 to 2, following its hearing. It was discussed at length by the full board which led to McDonnell's motion and Jefferson's subsequent charter objection.

Pass Civil Service Exams For Engineer

Service Center Changes Times Of Art Classes

Several changes in the scheduling of children's art classes have been announced by the Newton Community Service Center. The shifts were made to accommodate public demands. The revised schedule follows.

KINDERGARTEN ART will meet Tuesday mornings from 9:30 - 10:30 a.m., and from 10:30-11:30 a.m. in addition to the Tuesday afternoon hour of 2:00-3:00. Parents are urged to consider the morning sections of the classes, as the afternoon hour is already filled.

MOTHERS AND TOTS will meet on Monday mornings from 10:15-11:15 a.m. in addition to the 1:30-2:30 p.m. scheduling. Parents are urged to consider the morning section of this class, as the afternoon hour registration is full.

GRADES 4-6 Will have an additional section meeting on Wednesdays from 3:30-4:45 p.m. This class was added to accommodate children from the Newton community who attend Hebrew schools on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. (The regular section of this class meets on Thursdays from 3:15 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.) If registration is not full, children from the lower grades may also be accepted.

JR. HIGH SCHOOL will meet on Mondays from 3:30-4:45 p.m. The later hour was rescheduled to meet the demands of Meadowbrook students interested in the program.

The Center also wishes to call attention to its regular scheduling of Creative Art for:

SPECIAL EDUCATION Meeting on Wednesdays from 3:15-4:15 p.m. This class is taught by a registered occupational therapist who adapts the program to the special needs of handicapped youngsters.

GRADES 2-3 Meeting on Tuesdays from 3:00-4:15 p.m. and on Thursdays from 2:00-3:15 p.m. Creative art classes have been found to be extremely popular and successful with this age group, and therefore two sections are being offered.

A group of thirteen sessions have been planned for the fall session, beginning next week (Oct. 7) by Instructors Jackie Melissas, Maida Abrams, Shirley Paulkis and Director of Creative Arts Linda Janower. The proposed projects include water play using "Matchbox" equipment from the Children's Museum, two and three dimensional wire and liquid plastic structures, papier-mache, and others.

Parents interested in registering their children may call at the Newton Community Services Center, 429 Cherry Street. Information and registration blanks can also be obtained by phoning 244-2260.

Corny Story

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Much paper you use is corny. To help the fibers in paper adhere to one another better, thus improving the quality of the paper, the fibers are treated with starch. And most of that starch, notes the Corn Refiners Association, Inc., is derived from American corn. So corn is a part of nearly every magazine or book you read. No matter how avant-garde the story.

New Program At Lutheran Church

A very active program of religious education has been initiated at the Lutheran Church of the Newtons on Wednesday nights at 7 p.m. Five separate courses are offered and taught by men with theology training.

Adults are studying First Corinthians under the direction of the Rev. Don Hommen. Pastor Hommen is a doctoral candidate at Boston University School of Theology in the Danielson Pastoral Counseling Department.

The teenagers are being taught by the Rev. William Scar, Coordinator of Campus Ministry in New England.

The eighth grade confirmation class is being taught by Pastor Griesse while the 7th grade studies under the direction of the Rev. Don Manthel, also a candidate in the doctoral program of Boston University School of Theology.

The 5th and 6th graders are being taught by seminarian David Bass of Andover-Newton Theological School.

This entire program is offered at no cost to anyone who will come. The Lutheran Church of the Newtons is located at the junction of Centre and Cypress streets in Newton Centre.

World War I led many nations to give the vote to women. Russia did so in 1917. Canada, Germany, Luxembourg and Poland followed in 1918, says World Book Encyclopedia, and India, Austria, Czechoslovakia and the Netherlands did so in 1919.

Twenty-seven states in the U.S. have passed school eye-safety laws, requiring that all students, teachers and visitors in schools and colleges wear appropriate eye protection in labs and workshops.

Noted Artist June Fedel To Have One-Woman Show

An art career that began professionally in Needham in 1961 makes a full circle when artist June Fedel opens her one-woman show at the Charles River Art Center in Needham on Sunday, October 6.

A resident of Alexandria, Va., Mrs. Fedel sold her first painting through the Needham Art Association seven years ago, when she and her family were staying with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fedel, of Needham. June's exhibit at the Charles River Art Center will continue through October 31, and will be open to the public daily, except Monday, from 1 to 4 p.m.

June, who describes herself as a "rebel with a yankee twang", actually began her art studies in her native city of Worcester, at the Worcester Art Museum. She has continued to study at the Washington Cooperative Workshop Center of the Arts, the Studio Gallery of Alexandria, and the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. June currently teaches at the Hodges Gallery in Alexandria, where her work has appeared in one-woman and juried group shows. She has also had exhibits at the Old Town Gallery in Alexandria, and the famed Art League of Northern Virginia, where her first one-woman show was so successful that she was invited back.

June's work is varied and includes acrylic paintings, drawings in acrylic, collages, prints, and assemblages. Her palette is subdued, her landscapes, figures and still-lives softly muted, with a Renoir-like quality.

Area residents are cordially invited to the opening on October 6, and to view this most appealing show, as always, at no charge.

New Art Classes Are Offered At Services Center

Three art courses for adults — Abstract Art, Experiments in New Media and Creative Decorating for the Home — are being offered this fall at the Newton Community Services Center. Registrations are now being accepted.

The classes begin next Monday, Oct. 7 and extend for a period of 13 weeks. Babysitting is available for children of participants.

The Abstract Art class will meet on Wednesday afternoons from 1 p.m. to 2:40 p.m. Carol Lipsitt, graphic artist and teacher will direct students in graphics, painting from a model, painting from a still life and working with collage. She will use works of contemporary artists to explain how abstractions are made, and to explain cubism, expressionism and other forms of nonobjective art. The principles will be carried over into students' work.

The Experiments in New Media Group will meet on Wednesday mornings from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. The class will be conducted by guest artists and demonstrators in six fields. They include Roger Vogtman in mobiles; Carol Lipsitt in nonobjective painting, printmaking and assemblage; Libby Van Buskirk in sandcasting, and Alice Marcoux in weaving without a loom.

The Creative Decorating for the Home class, a new offering at the center, will meet on Thursday mornings from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. It is designed for homemakers who wish to learn how to make unusual home accessories and gifts. Syrrille Rosman and Ann Dinsmore will present projects including paper and Flemish flower arrangements, antiqued furniture, mountings for photos and mirrors, and ornaments.

Registration information can be obtained by calling the Newton Community Services Center at 244-2260.

Deborah Myers Becomes Mrs. Lloyd C. Robinson

Miss Deborah Ruth Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Myers of Chestnut Hill and Ensign Lloyd Cooper Robinson, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Robinson of Kings Point, N.Y., exchanged vows recently in the Oval Room at the Sheraton Plaza in Boston.

Rabbi Jacob A. Lantz of Wellesley officiated at the pretty 8:30 o'clock evening double ring nuptials. A reception followed the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's slim trapeze gown was fashioned of white silk organza designed with pearl embroidered Alencon lace on her modified portrait neckline as well as her hemline.

An original French imported crystal regency crown was fastened with a silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis accented with grape ivy.

Miss Patricia Barr of Hull was honor maid. She wore a "yellow" lace gown with a matching petal cap caught to her veil. She carried yellow Fuji mums with white flowers.

Miss Panaggio Is Bride Of G. E. Stone

Now making their home in Newton are Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Stone (Dana Marie Panaggio), whose marriage was solemnized recently at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church in Newton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Joseph Panaggio of 191 Elliot street, Newton. Mrs. Helen Stone of 65 Bernard street, Newton, is the groom's mother.

The Rev. Stanley Miaskiewicz officiated at the three o'clock afternoon ceremony at which the bride and groom exchanged rings. A reception followed at the Hibernian Hall in Watertown.

Escorted by her father the bride wore a silk organza gown appliqued with lace and bodiced with jeweled material.

An illusion veil fell from her becoming headpiece and she carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies with stephanotis.

Miss Paula Proia of Newton, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Davis, Miss Beverly Campisi, Miss Denise Campisi and Miss Nancy Stone, all of Newton.

Miss Sally Panaggio of Newton was her sister's junior bridesmaid, while young Brenda Forte of Newton was her aunt's flower girl. The best man was Joseph Stone of Newton, brother of the groom. Ushers were Roy Wright, Stephen Ciccarello and Pat Panaggio, all of Newton, as well as Stephen Gaykan of Watertown and Richard Long of Needham.

bows and veils, included Miss Susan Kesner and Miss Diane Kuger, both of Hull. They carried crescent bouquets of the same flowers.

Peter Leibowitz of Manhattan, N.Y., served as best man. The ushers were Edward Edelman, Miles Teltan, Lewis Hartstein, Stuart Hayim, Paul Hirschhorn, Kenneth Lloyds, Dennis Schwebel and Michael Soroch.

Mrs. Meyers, the bride's mother chose a pale yellow silk gown with a wrist orchid corsage. Mrs. Robinson, mother of the groom wore yellow silk with an orange colored wrist orchid corsage.

After a trip to Spain and England, Ensign and Mrs. Robinson plan to live in Charleston, South Carolina.

Mrs. Robinson attended the University of Bridgeport. The groom was graduated from the Wharton School of Accounting and Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

Now a commissioned officer, he recently returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam. He is stationed aboard the U.S.S. Manley. (photo by Alan Lee)

The Art of Home Decor

By MEL STERN

Women's intuition has been responsible for many phenomenal things over the years. Among these is interior decorating. Young girls should practice making their own rooms charming and personable, as preparation for their own home someday. Decorating is more than instinct... it is acquired through observation and experience. Seek an overall sense of harmony. Pick furniture which is the right size for the room's dimensions. Be sure lamps and accessories are proportioned. Coordinate forms so they are related in size and shape. Avoid monotony. Choose colors and patterns which are easy to live with. Seek advice and have fun.

Your intuition, whether female or male, will guide you to FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard St., Brookline, 566-8635, for high quality, high style furniture. Consult our complete decorating service for all your decorating questions. Daily 9:50-30, Wednesday 'til 9:30.

HELPFUL HINT: You can paper over paint if the surface is clean, but you cannot successfully paper over old wallpaper.

Miss Claire Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Thompson of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Norman Rubin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rubin of 61 Sharpe road, Newton, were married recently at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Chapel in Cambridge.

The four o'clock double ring service was performed by Rabbi Larry Joel Halpern. A reception followed at the Hotel Somerset in Boston.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a white linen empire gown appliqued with daisies and designed with a chapel length train.

Her short bouffant illusion veil was fastened to a becoming headpiece. She carried a cascade of daisies.

The maid of honor was Miss Harriet Frances Rubin of Riverside, N.Y., sister of the groom, while Mrs. Rosamond Vavie of Boston was matron of honor.

Ronald Mallis of Boston served as best man. The ushers were William James Thompson Jr. of Bayside, N.Y., Juan Miguel Meyer of Caracas, Venezuela and David C. Walden of Allston.

Bermuda was the honeymoon destination of Mr. Rubin and his bride, who are now living in Rpincton, N.J.

A graduate of Wellesley College, the bride is associated with the Houghton Mifflin Company.

Mr. Rubin is a graduate of M.I.T., where his fraternity was Alpha Epsilon Pi. Having received his master's degree from Boston University, Goldstein were the ushers.

Tom Rezzuti A Standout In South's Sad Opener

By Lewis Freedman

Quarterback Tom Rezzuti must have felt much like George Plimpton of "Paper Lion" fame — more than a little bewildered — as he viewed much of the Newton-South-Fitchburg football game from the unenviable position of flat on his back in the green grass of Dickinson Stadium.

Rezzuti was the only cog in the machine that seemed to be working. The versatile back completed two passes, one good for a two-point conversion, sped around end to pick up rushing yardage, punted, kicked-off, made innumerable tackles on defense, and engineered the Lions' only touchdown drive.

Rezzuti had virtually no offensive help, but for an 8-yard run and subsequent 2-yard burst for a TD by Nick Parnell, and a nice catch by John Lopez. Rezzuti should have been on TV. He even would have a choice of shows — The Fugitive, Run For Your Life, or the New York Giants vs. Anybody. (He does quite a fair imitation of Fran Tarkenton on the football field. Tom would no sooner fade back to pass, when a truckload of enemy red shirts would be on his back.)

South couldn't do a thing right. The defense was porous and shabby, allowing too many end sweeps and up-the-middle runs. The Lions were guilty of a multitude of errors, ranging from missed blocks to missed tackles, to penalties, to fumbles.

It looks as though the long-fabled Newton South football machine is becoming obsolete. Admitted, one day doth not a season make, but the 1968 edition of South's football Lions will need a little help from the man upstairs (and I don't mean Mr. Stegeman in the press box) to enjoy a winning season.

NOWHERE FAST — South's senior Quarterback Tom Rezzuti starts charging during the Fitchburg-South game but he's brought down quickly by two defensemen who hit him front and rear. South lost the opener, 27-8. Nick Parnell scored South's only touchdown, and two conversion points. South was plagued by fumbles and yard losses. Their next home game will be Oct. 12 against Wakefield. — Photo by Roger Belson

Newton High Harriers Swamp South Team 17-50

It wasn't quite a race. The powerful (first in the league, third in Class A, 9th in the state, in 1967) Harriers of Newton High, rolled over their arch-rivals, Newton South, in a near shut-out of 17-50, despite the fact that the meet was on the South home 2.6 mile Mt. Ida course.

Junior Doug Tomb, a superstar of the magnitude of his two brothers before him, continued family tradition by sprinting (?) to a 14:06 clocking.

Two more wearers of the orange and black steamed over the finish line before top Lion finisher, sophomore Tom LaPlante, came through in an excellent 14:57. However, the Tigers also copped 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th, to take some of the luster off LaPlante's performance.

In the tenth position was sophomore Larry Junda in 15:36, by far his best timing of the season. Only one second behind Junda was another sophomore, Dick Dickinson, also running his top time of the year. The other two Lion placers, Lew Freedman and Dave Glaser ran very disappointing times, 16:02 and 16:07, in the 12th and 13th spots, respectively.

The Lions are now 0-2 on the season, but have faced the two strongest squads in the league. If the upperclassmen can return to their early season form and the sophomores can continue their rapid rate of progress, the roar of the South Lion will still be heard in the Suburban League, this fall.

The JV meet was equally as devastating. The Tigers romped home, 15-43, sweeping the first five places. Junior Tom Best won the race in a near amazing 14:57. The top South JV finisher was sophomore Bruce Kaye in sixth, at 16:36. The Lions also copped 7th, 8th, 9th, and 13th.

Newton High Harriers Top Newton South

The Newton High Harriers scored their second consecutive victory of the year as they beat cross town rival Newton South 17-45 Wednesday (Sept. 25) at Newton South. The JV's also won easily as they took the first five places.

Doug Tomb won his second race for the varsity and was followed closely by Mike O'Brien and John Bowles. Fourth went to South but fifth and sixth were Mike Blake and Jay Sidman to round out the Tigers' scoring.

The race was a neasy one for the Black and Orange as they pulled away early on the 2.6 mile Mt. Ida course. The junior varsity race was won by Tom Best. Ed Coan, Roddy Tempest, Steve Caggiano, and Frank Murphy finished out the NHS scoring. This was the second straight time the JV's had whitewashed their opposition.

Newton's next meet will be with Brockton, last year's New England champion.

YMCA Sponsors Yearly Car Wash

The Junior Leaders' Club of the Newton YMCA is sponsoring its annual Car Wash, to be held this Saturday (Oct. 5), from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the "Y," 276 Church Street, Newton. The cost of a car wash will be 99 cents. The money raised will help finance the training and equipping of the Leaders.

These boys volunteer their time, helping the regular staff with the multitude of classes which take place at the "Y." Through such work the boys receive valuable leadership experience and personal enrichment.

The club is responsible for raising its own funds for its uniforms and for financing worthy members' enrollment at the Leaders' camp in Silver Bay, New York. They assert that public support will give the boys a big boost.

South Soccer Eleven Ties Watertown HS

Rich Kumon's second period goal gave the Newton South soccer eleven a 1-1 tie in double overtime, last Tuesday, against Watertown High. Kumon's goal came on a short shot after a centering pass from Co-Captain Paul Taylor.

South led most of the way, exhibiting a stalwart defense paced by Frank Hurvitz, Rodney Brown, and sophomore goaltender Fred Klashman. However, midway through the fourth period, Watertown wing Cesar Hernandez booted a long shot through the uprights to knot the contest.

Neither team could muster much strength in the overtimes with both equally tired.

Powerful Lincoln-Sudbury pinned a 3-1 defeat on the Lions to drop the squad mark to 0-2-1. South, however, was the first team to score on the hosts, this fall. Roger Seletsky was the man who did it. He banged home his score in the third period on a neat pass from senior Paul DeRogatis.

Hadassah Meets Next Wednesday

An open meeting of the Oak Hill Hadassah will be held at the Charter House Motel, Route 9, Chestnut Hill on Wednesday (Oct. 9) at 1 p.m.

Rep. Theodore Mann, Republican, and Rep. Irving Fishman, Democrat, will discuss political issues of the day.

The meeting is devoted to membership and Hadassah medical organization.

Chairmen are Mrs. Benjamin Cohen and Mrs. Maurice Reef. Co-chairmen are Mrs. George Saltzman and Mrs. Morris Seltzer. Program Chairman is Mrs. Jack Rosemark.

Mumps Control Program For Jr. High Students

The Newton Health Department announces the institution of the Mumps Control Program this year which will concentrate on the immunization of students in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades.

The junior high group was selected for the initial phase of the program because the incidence of complications from mumps is highest in adolescents and adults. Parents of this age group are urged to notify their children before Oct. 14th as to whether they have ever had mumps or mumps vaccine. The Public Health Nurse will then be able to determine how much vaccine will be needed in order to carry out this program.

Consent slips will be sent to the parents of all children before any mumps vaccine is administered.

Unreality To Be Sermon Subject At First Church

"Unreality" is the subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science churches this week. The Golden Text, from the Gospel of John, is "Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment."

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "Human thoughts have their degrees of comparison. Some thoughts are better than others. A belief in Truth is better than a belief in error, but no mortal testimony is founded on the divine rock. Mortal testimony can be shaken. Until belief becomes faith, and faith becomes spiritual understanding, human thought has little relation to the actual or divine."

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist in Newtonville begin at 10:45 a.m. All are welcome.

Temple Emanuel Dinner-Dance Sat.

The Brotherhood of Temple Emanuel of Newton will hold their Annual Fall Dinner Dance and Installation of officers on Saturday (Oct. 5) at the Community Hall starting at 6:30 p.m.

Class of '43 At NHS Holds Reunion Oct. 12

Members of the Newton High School Class of 1943 will hold a 25th reunion at the Holiday Inn in Waltham on Saturday — a week from tomorrow.

Any members of that class who have not yet been contacted are requested to call Margery Snow Buswell at 444-0235, Josephine A. Carchia at 332-2183, or to write P.O. Box 34, Needham Heights, Mass. 02194.

Luncheon By Women's Union

The opening meeting of the Women's Union of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center will be held on October 7 at 1 p.m.

The Martha Circle will be in charge of hospitality. Luncheon will be served by Miriam Circle.

After a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. John B. Richmond, Mrs. Proctor Houghton will speak. Her subject will be: "A Community Leader - Why?" Sitter service will be available.

Highlands Church To Hold Fun Fair

The Newton Highlands Congregational Church of Newton Highlands, Massachusetts, will hold its annual Fun Fair on Saturday, Oct. 19, 1968 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Church.

There will be exciting handknit and hand made goods, "white elephant" goods, jewelry, delicious food stuffs and books on sale. For the children there will be games, cotton candy, pop corn, drinks, balloons and surprises.

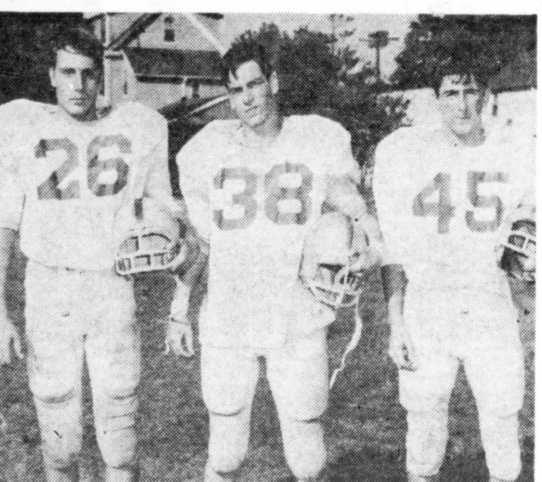

Roast beef dinner will be served from 6:00 to 7:15 p.m. Tickets for the dinner may be purchased at the Church office up through Wednesday, October 16.

Following the dinner there will be an old fashioned auction in the Church's Parish Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Bullen, Jr. of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Alan Chesbro of Newton Highlands and Mr. James Q. McDonald of Wellesley are Chairmen for the event.

W. Newt. Women To Meet Oct. 16

The West Newton Woman's Club will hold a pot luck luncheon on Wednesday, Oct. 16, at the Second Church Parish House, Newton. The 12:30 p.m. open meeting will be chaired by Mrs. James P. O'Donoghue.

Crowds Attend Art Preview At Library

Newton people, eager to get down to the business of borrowing original art works, streamed into the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre Street, Newton Corner, on Wednesday night of last week (Sept. 25) for the preview of the new Circulating Art Collection.

Fifteen gallons of punch, thirty dozen cookies, and the printed list of artists and their works ran out long before the evening was over and the Library closed at 9:00 p.m.

Regular library users and first-timers mingled in the crush on the Reference floor and in the petite gallery, vying for vantage points from which to get the best view of the more than 60 oils, collages, photographs, silk screens, string paintings, linoleum cuts, monotypes, pastels and woodcuts lent to the Newton Library by local professional artists.

One piece of bronze sculpture, "Carizza," was on view, a special loan to the Library just for the Preview Week by Arlington presswoman Elaine Petrone.

Four quickie sales were summated on the busy second floor, and area artists who attended the Preview, including the Novacks of Novack Gallery in Newton, were generally happy with the collection and the crowd. Comments from the pleased viewers included consensus that the collection was of excellent quality.

Library Trustees Mr. John Palen with Mrs. Palen, and Mrs. George Brewer, were among the honored guests at the opening. Other prominent library people out to see the new Newton collection were Ed Montana, Editor of the Boston Public Library News-letter, and Nicholas Minadakis, Chelsea City Librarian.

Actual borrowing of paintings began Monday (Sept. 30) at 9 a.m. after a four-day preview, and eager patrons were ready with library cards in hand.

Holders of the Newton Library Card may borrow an original art work by selecting the picture and signing for it at the Reference Desk on the Second Floor of the Main Library.

Pictures may be kept one month and renewed once for a second month. In inclement weather, borrowers should bring adequate covering to protect the pictures. Everyone who lives or works in Newton is eligible for a library card. Borrowing of pictures from the Circulating Collection is limited to adults.

Named "Topper"

Life insurance executive Robert F. Broderick of 102 Cedar St., Newton Centre, has won Mutual of New York's annual "Topper" award for the sixth consecutive year. Broderick is manager of the company's Boston-Broderick agency which has surpassed established standards of sales excellence.

Bloodmobile At Sacred Heart Next Tuesday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Center from 1 p.m. until 6:45 p.m. next Tuesday (Oct. 8).

An appeal to Newton Center residents to take advantage of the opportunity to make blood donations was sounded yesterday by spokesmen for the Newton chapter of the Red Cross.

Churches, schools and other organizations are being urged to donate. When members of such groups contribute, they cover their fellow members if 10 per cent of the membership participate.

Every day, some one somewhere is in need of blood for an unexpected emergency. Oftentimes families and friends are then called upon at the last minute to contribute blood for a loved one. "Doesn't it make sense to be prepared? Red Cross is on hand day or night to cover blood needs. If the blood bank is full, then Red Cross can work with the hospitals and the doctors to process the blood immediately," Red Cross officials ask.

"Doesn't it make sense to give regularly? The pint of blood donated, assures a family's needs for an entire year."

Doesn't it make sense to have this measure of security? they query.

One hundred and thirty-three people came to donate blood to protect their families, on September 25th at Second Church in West Newton.

Red Cross volunteers who assisted on that day were:

Call 527-6000 for an appointment to donate blood on October 8th.

Garden Club Of Newtonville Holds Luncheon

A gala luncheon marking the 40th anniversary of its membership in the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts was held by the Newtonville Garden Club last Thursday, September 26, at 12:30 o'clock at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Invited to attend this initial meeting of the season were the honorary members of the Newtonville Garden Club, as well as representatives of the Federation and the Newton Council of Garden Clubs.

Community Club Starts Season With Gala Tea

The Newton Community Club began its activities of the autumn season on Sunday (Sept. 29) with an Anniversary Tea at the home of Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell at 293 Franklin St.

The Newton Community Club Evening Division members assisted its Parent Club for the gala occasion.

Charter members of the Club who attended the tea included:

Miss Adelaide Ball, Miss Margaret Ball, Mrs. James Bosdan, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. Harry Fitts, Mrs. Joe Gerrity, Dr. Marietta Putnam Reid, and Mrs. Carlton Shaw.

In the receiving line were the President, Mrs. Eugene G. Faucher; First Vice-President, Miss Agnes Bogstad; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Charles E. Smith; the hostess, Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell; and Chairman of Evening Divisions, Mrs. Gerald Dufresne. Pours were:

Miss Adelaide Ball, Mrs. John VanBael, Miss Mabel Chase, and Mrs. Howard Wood, Past President; Mrs. John Sloboda, Mrs. Russell Palmer, Mrs. Ralph Gazetti, Mrs. Robert Cobb, Mrs. Albert Leorne, and Miss Bea Spaulding, members of the Evening Division. Hostesses were: Miss Eleanor Johnson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Donald Baker, Mrs. Clinton Brown, Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mrs. Leonard Abbot, and Mrs. George Wyman, Directors. Mrs. Edward Stone was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Catherine Gilman of decorations, and Mrs. Florence Avery Moore the guest book.

The first meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held next Thursday (Oct. 10) at Fellowship Hall, Eliot Church, beginning with a social hour at 1:15 p.m.

Eugene Faucher, President, will preside at the business meeting at 2 p.m. A guest at the meeting will be Mrs. Marshall Cass, Chairman of the Community Service, Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Cass will speak to the members on the work of her committee. Mr. Russell Curry, Director of the Curry School of Dancing, founded in 1920, will tell the audience how to enjoy dancing whether they are watching or participating. Mr. Curry is a noted lecturer, dancing master, and wit.

On Oct. 17 the Club will hold its annual Scholarship Bridge at Fellowship Hall, Eliot Church, beginning with dessert at 1 p.m. Mrs. Howard Wood is general chairman and reservations should be made with Miss Mabel Chase, 244-7127.

There will be many special and attractive articles for sale at the Opportunity Table which is under the direction of Mrs. Carlton Shaw, Mrs. Howard Wood, and Mrs. Donnell Parker.

The purposes of the Newton Community Club are Vision and Community Service. The Club has three members serving on committees of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Eugene G. Faucher, President, Newton Community Club, is also Managing Editor of the State magazine, "Federation Topics" and a member of the MSFWC.

A complete list of officers and committee chairmen of the Newton Community Club follows:

President: Mrs. Eugene G. Faucher; First Vice-President: Miss Agnes Bogstad - also Chairman, Ways and Means; Second Vice-President: Mrs. Charles E. Smith; Recording Secretary: Mrs. Cecil Stockdale; Corresponding Secretary: Miss Eleanor Johnson; Treasurer: Mrs. Henry MacPhee.

dery mildew. Is this a serious problem? No. Just about all lilacs and phlox get the mildew, or white powdery coating over the leaves, due to a fungus which grows over the outside. The mildew is unsightly but has no permanent effect on the growth of the plants. If you want to check it, use a mildew killer such as sulfur dust, or Karathane (Mildex), applied earlier in the season. Meanwhile, don't worry too much about its harmful effects on your plants.

Borers are a worst pest of lilacs. Look for holes in trunks, with sawdust coming out. Fill holes with a borer paste and seal off with putty or bubble gum to trap the gas inside. Badly infected

MILDEW ON LILACS: When nights are cool and damp, lilacs and phlox leave turn almost white with powdery mildew. Borer paste can be burned after you cut them off close to the ground. Next spring, keep the trunks sprayed or dusted with dieldrin or chlordane.

HIBISCUS IS HARDY: Not enough home gardeners grow the shrubby hibiscus plant. Some plants grow five feet tall, and produce blossoms up to 5 inches across. They start blooming in mid-summer and last until frost. Flowers are produced on stems of current year's growth. That means you can cut the old stems back in fall or in early spring, to encourage new growth to come on. It's important to cut the canes back since they will winterkill anyway.

About the only care they need is water in dry weather. If the soil is too dry buds may not form.

GREEN TOMATOES ARE GOOD: If you happen to have a lot of green tomatoes, try making some unusual items such as catsup, pie or relish. Here's a good recipe for making green tomato pie. Take medium sized tomatoes, pare and cut out stems. Have your biscuit dough. Slice tomatoes very thin, filling pan somewhat heaping. Then grate over it a nutmeg, put in a half cup of butter and a medium

Parents-To-Be To Learn About Babies-To-Be

Tonight at 7 o'clock parents-to-be will start learning all about babies-to-be.

What makes babies gurgle happily? What makes baby cry? How does one handle those early-morning feedings? Should the doctor be called or is that precious bundle of pink just going through a natural phase of fitting himself to this crazy world of adults when he acts up a bit?

The answers to these and a booklet of other questions will be answered starting tonight at a five-week series of free classes for expectant mothers and fathers in the Usen Auditorium of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

That's right. The course lasts five weeks and that's a short time to learn all about these most precious of all mankind's gifts — the newborn babe. Isn't it?

In charge of the series will be Mrs. Genevieve Fitzpatrick, R.N., B.S. Her staff will include expert N.W. Hospital physicians and maternity department personnel. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is well known in her profession not alone as a gifted baby expert but as an author on the subject of babies, as well.

The series will treat of such subjects as the pre-natal care of the mother and infant-to-be; the process of birth and the baby's development in the first year of his life. Bathing and diapering demonstrations, instructions about infant feeding, and films and discussions about infant and maternal care are all included.

Mothers and mothers-to-be may enroll for the course, even though they do not anticipate the use of Newton-Wellesley Hospital for the delivery. Refreshments and door prizes are furnished each class and those who attend will get diplomas.

Occidental C. Speaker At NSH

Robert L. Bovinette, Dean of Admissions at Occidental College in Los Angeles will meet with students and counselors at Newton South High tomorrow (Oct. 4) concerning the college's programs.

Bovinette will provide admission information to prospective students and to school counselors about the distinctive role of private education in general and about Occidental in particular.

Burr PTA Meets In Auditorium Next Thursday

"The Three R's, Plus" is topic of a panel discussion which will highlight the first general meeting of the Burr School P.T.A. to be held on Thursday (Oct. 10) at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. New parents, and others interested in a tour of the school are invited to arrive at 7:30.

A brief business meeting will be followed by the panel discussion to be moderated by P.T.A. President Kenneth Hagerstrom. Refreshments will be served by the Hospitality committee, Mrs. Herman Hunter, chairman.

Panelists for the discussion, which will focus on the aims and programs of the city's newest elementary school, are Dr. William E. Stone, Director of the Newton Mental Health Center; Dr. Clarence Truesdell, Burr School Principal and teachers Kenneth Roberts, Roger Brown, Linda Harding, Paul Roberts and Ruth Bruce. Audience participation in the discussions will be invited.

Local Girls To Nursing Fair

Eleven young ladies from the Newtons attended a unique Nursing Fair last week (Sept. 24-25) in Boston sponsored by the Careers in Nursing Project of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston (UCS).

The project was to familiarize the participants with nursing career possibilities, education programs, distribute literature and suggest other sources of nursing career information on all four types of nursing education programs — practical nurse, associate degree, diploma and college.

Attending from this area were Constance Grant and Elaine D'Agostino both of Newtonville; Betsy Fessenden of West Newton; Barbara Bellinsky and Judy MacMillan of Newton Centre; Maryellen McGrange, Linda De Costa, Rhonda Short, Jeanne Greene, Deborah Bronini and Katherine Norton, all of Newton.

Newton Peace Center Seeks Biafran Aid

Responding to an urgent appeal of the U.S. Committee for UNICEF, the Newton Community Peace Center is seeking contributions for Nigerian emergency funds to supply shipping for food and medical supplies destined for starving Biafran children in Nigeria.

It costs $26 to ship a ton of food and medical supplies to the beleaguered country and to date, only $40.36 has been donated to the Peace Center. Further contributions may be sent to the Newton Community Peace Center, 474 Centre st., Newton, and the check made out to the U.S. Committee for UNICEF should be marked for Nigerian Relief.

With the coming of UN/UNICEF week in October, the local UNICEF Committee of the Peace Center is opening the way for the children of Newton to join over 3.5 million other American boys and girls in celebrating National UNICEF Day on October 31st. With the cooperation of the Newton Schools, children in the Elementary grades will be bringing to their homes during United Nations Week, the ORANGE UNICEF BOXES for contributions from earnings or savings and family help, as "treats" — money to support the work of the Nobel Prize-Winning United Nations Children's Fund.

"UNICEF is assisting over 500 long-range programs in over 100 countries," Mrs. Jack Bloom, chairman of the UNICEF Committee of the Newton Community Peace, said. "This is done with an annual budget equivalent to what is spent on world armament in two hours of one day. Coins given by the children of Newton will save other children's lives. The children's pennies, nickles, and dimes in the small Orange Boxes will be returned to the School UNICEF MOTHER at the Junior High and High School Students are also working for UNICEF in Newton under the direction of the Mrs. Nancy Bernholtz, UNICEF education chairman. They will be assisting in the weeks ahead with publicizing the work of Unicef, holding assemblies in their schools, and devising special projects of their own to raise money for this great humanitarian world-wide Organization.

"Nine hundred million children in the developing countries, that is 3 out of every 4, lack medical attention, proper and enough nutritious food and an adequate education," Mrs. Bernholtz said. "We urge all our citizens to participate in this campaign on Halloween and know that as a result of our work many more children will be given the opportunity to grow up healthy and with the skills necessary to lead useful and productive lives." Last year Newton School children contributed $1774. for UNICEF. Let's double the amount in 1968," urged chairman, Mrs. Bloom.

Chinese Expert Will Speak At Convocation

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, authority on China and Director of the Chinese Service Bureau of Boston, will speak on "China, Yesterday and Today" at the Newton Junior High School Auditorium on Walnut Street in Newtonville.

Born and educated in China, Dr. Hsieh also studied at Cambridge University in England. He has been an authority on the Far East for more than thirty-five years, having served the governments of China in many parts of the world and in many capacities for most of his life.

Among Dr. Hsieh's publications are books on Oriental philosophies and Chinese stories for children. He is also a lecturer of national repute, bringing to his audiences the rich heritage he received from his father, who was a Confucian scholar, and his mother, who was a Buddhist, and from the best of education on two continents.

This event is free of charge and open to the public.

Vietnam War Producing More Amputees Than Korea-W.W. II

PHILADELPHIA — Ewing W. Mays, the man who spends his life proving to amputees that losing a limb isn't the end of the world, says he has found that the Vietnam conflict is turning out a record number of amputees.

Mays, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who lost both legs in World War II, and toured Korea during the war there, said, "We are fighting a different kind of a war. The Viet Cong seem to use more booby traps, land mines and grenades."

"On a day to day basis, our military hospitals are receiving more GI's with permanent handicaps than ever before." Mays, who tours hospitals the year around, begins his fall hospital circuit at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. He will later re-tour Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, and hospitals in New York.

This hospital is the major clearing center for the Navy and Marine Corps. When he arrived here last week Mays found over 200 arm and leg amputees under care and more arriving every day.

A visit by Mays is much sought after by military hospitals. In many cases his is the one example that brings boys out of their cloud of despair and re-inspires them. He walks briskly into a ward, dances with the nurses, kids with the patients, and often picks a GI amputee up from his wheelchair or bed and carries him around the room to show how little his handicap gets in his way. He whips off

Election Recapitulation At City Hall Saturday

The Newton Election Commissioners will hold a special meeting Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at City Hall to recapitulate the voting in the state primary election.

Alan W. Licarie, executive secretary of the Commissioners, estimated it cost the city about $1 per ballot for the primary in which there were 14,297 votes cast, about 30 per cent of the total registered voters.

Licarie said the Commissioners were more than pleased with the early returns. The first precincts came in from the computer at Boston College as early as 9:30 p.m. and over-all results were finished at 12:10 a.m.

Licarie doesn't expect the election ballot of Nov. 5 to be as complicated and possibly easier to count. He said there will be eight pages in the election ballot as compared to four in the primary, but there won't be write-ins or stickers in the election.

The first page on the Nov. 5 ballot will be devoted to President and Vice-President, the second page to Congressional District, Governor's Council and State Senate. Third page will include State Representatives, County Commissioners and Sheriff; while the fourth page will be comprised of the referendum, there being some half-dozen questions for voters consideration.

Licarie said it takes just about as much time to count 48,000 ballots as it would for 14,000. It's the procedure that takes time, he said.

Newton has about 48,000 registered voters with registrations running heavy and will continue to be heavy until the final date of Oct. 5. Licarie reports that Newton has run in excess of 90 per cent of its registered voters in most elections since 1940 and added, "there is always a good turnout for the Presidential election."

He said absentee ballots and there may be as many as 1,800 may offer some delay in the Nov. 5 counting. These won't be officially counted until one hour (or 9 P.M.) after the regular polls close.

In explaining absentee ballots he said applicants must seek them by noon of Nov. 4. They must be filed by the 9 P.M. deadline on Nov. 5, but three days before the commissioners will start processing the returned absentee ballots to check if they are properly signed, if the voter is duly registered and if the ballot is notarized.

Licarie said absentee ballot requests will come from servicemen, patients, students and vacationists.

A Country of Contrasts . . .

N. E. Press Manager Returns From Trip To West Germany

By GEORGE A. SPEERS

(George A. Speers, General Manager of the New England Press Association of which this paper is a member, and Chairman of the Department of Journalism at Northeastern University, recently returned from a month's study tour of Germany and Belgium. He visited more than 20 cities and towns to talk with newspaper editors, publishers, professors, students and German officials about matters concerning the press. He was the first American Journalist to have a meeting with an editor of an East German Communist newspaper. A series of special articles will be published.)

In many respects modern Germany of the late 1960's is a country of many and varying contrasts. The deep roots of tradition, going back more than 1,000 years are there. But so are the mini skirts swishing through the modern hustle and bustle of twentieth century cities.

Germany of today exhibits many signs of stability. Yet change is in the air, everywhere.

It doesn't take long for the visitor to sense that the German people are industrious and hard working. Everywhere people are diligently working. Construction is a commonplace sight. There seems to be plenty of work for all and nobody seems to want to avoid it. As a matter of fact one finds that shortages of help exist throughout the country. Workers from Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, and even as far away as Turkey are found filling many of the lesser skilled jobs.

Very little war damage is seen now, except in East Berlin. Despite the fact that many of the cities were 70 percent or more destroyed, they have now been restored or rebuilt.

Great efforts have been made in many instances to restore and refurbish buildings, cathedrals, and shrines of historical value. The skillful restoration work is amazing to the layman, and I suspect even to the expert as well.

Take the great Cathedral of Aachen, for instance. It was severely damaged during World War II. Today when one examines it, even closely, it is difficult to tell where the restoration work begins and the original work leaves off. Yet much of the restoration work required many skills in masonry, painting, architecture, and construction that are all but gone forever now.

How was this work done? A combination of two key factors were necessary: a very careful study of records and documents giving the details of construction and specific in-

Archie Smiles Is Freshman At Air Force Acad.

Archie C. Smiles, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie C. Smiles of 77 Margaret Road, Newton Highlands, is one of more 1,200 freshman cadets who have entered the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado as freshmen.

He recently completed the academy's stringent basic training program for acceptance into the cadet wing. The two-month program includes field training at a simulated frontline combat base near the academy, strenuous physical conditioning and survival instruction.

Smiles has entered a four-year course of study, leading to a Bachelor of Science degree in one of nearly 30 fields covered by the curriculum. He will also receive a commission in the Air Force as a second lieutenant.

He is a 1968 graduate of Newton South High School, where he received his letters in baseball and soccer.

Jackson Chapter DAR Meets Mon.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their first meeting at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls on Monday (Oct. 7) at 1:30 p.m.

Mr. William D. Geer, Principal of the Newton South High School, will speak on the topic "Education - For College Only?"

Mrs. Walter B. Amesbury of Waltham and Mrs. F. Roscoe Webber, rd. of Wellesley Hills are hostesses for the dessert tea.

for the signs, one could easily imagine being in American cities.

Even new subways are being built in some of the larger cities.

But yet with all of this construction going on, the cities are clean. The streets are clean. In large cities, in medium size cities, and in smaller towns this seems to prevail, on main streets and on back streets.

I came to this, and other conclusions, based upon my visits to more than 20 cities and towns. I visited the six largest cities in the country. I traveled hundreds of miles by automobile, and several hundred miles by train. I walked the streets, front and back, in every city and town I visited. I walked through some vineyards along the Rhine River and hiked up some of the smaller mountains along the way. I also rode on subway trains and enjoyed an excursion boat trip on a section of the Rhine. I deliberately left the main streets frequently to get a "feeling" of the country and the people.

Naturally, I went by air in some instances. But only in a minimum number of instances, such as in and out of Berlin. Flying, of course, is faster, but does not afford one the opportunity to see very much.

In addition to traveling, on foot and otherwise, I did a great deal of talking (with scores of people I lost count). And sitting. And drinking beer and wine in many beerstube (beer halls) and winestube (wine halls). I lost count of these, too, but there must have been dozens. I was in nearly a dozen in Frankfurt alone in three days.

So, after all of my travels and discussions and interviews with editors and publishers, journalists, university professors, governmental officials, students, and just ordinary people, I have left Germany with the impression that it is a country of contrasts - some very old and much that is new.

My impression is that there is a great striving to look ahead - to the future. There is a sense of direction and unity of purpose. There is a great willingness to build for the future, but with safeguards to avoid past mistakes.

Yet, the cultural ties of centuries past are still evident. And these are important to the people. They are willing to sacrifice and work to preserve them.

So there is a certain "reaching" in both directions. There is a "reaching" to the future for the new and, yet, at the same time, the rich cultural traditions of centuries past are important to the German people and they are doing everything possible to preserve them.

Next Week: - West Berlin

SPEAKER - Rev. George W. Peck, Dean of Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Center, will be one of the featured speakers at the two-day 166th annual conference of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention in Brookline. Headquarters for the sessions will be the Harvard United Church of Christ.

Fall Workshops for Temple Shalom Garden Club members will start October 22.

School Committee Delays Action On Two Projects

Action on two projects - one involving stipends in practice teaching, the other an expanded program in community recreation - was delayed Monday evening by the Newton School Committee.

Brandeis University, which has no formal school of education, has proposed that the Newton School Department join the University in offering a $25 stipend to the master teacher with whom a practice teacher works. Five students from Brandeis are expected to be working in the Newton schools later this year.

According to Acting Supt. of Schools James Laurits, educators are plagued by the question: "Who should pay for practice teaching - the State or the colleges?"

Members of the Newton School Committee were almost unanimous in replying "Not us." As Committee Chairman Vincent Stanton put it, "The proposal lacks equity in terms of all other colleges and universities."

Committeemen Alvin Mandell and Harold Berman both declared that the Brandeis plan would establish a bad precedent. The matter was referred to the Personnel Policy Committee.

Block Pilot Program
Expansion of a pilot program in community recreation was temporarily checked by the School Committee. Sponsored by the school Physical Education Department and the city Recreation Department, the program was started in 1968 in three schools - Burr, Carr, and Hyde.

According to Acting Supt. of Physical Education Warren L.

Baptists To Salute 25-Year Service

The Rev. Edmund H. Linn of Newton Center will be among five clergymen to be honored for 25 years of church service when the Massachusetts Baptist Convention holds its 166th convention in Brookline, Oct. 11-12.

Headquarters for the convention meetings will be the Harvard United Church of Christ while some gatherings will meet at The First Baptist Church, Coolidge Corner, and St. Mark's Methodist Church, 90 Park street.

Art Center In D.C. Will Fulfill Dream Of Priest

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UPI) - A $3 million Center for Communication Arts being built on the campus of The Catholic University of America here represents the fulfillment of a dream of one man.

The university's famous drama department was founded in 1937 by the Rev. Gilbert V. Hartke. Under his direction, talented young people blossomed into first-rate performers directors, writers. Among them were John McGivern, Jean Kerr, Alan Schneider, Ed McMahon to name a few.

For many years, students worked under their mentor in a rather shaky old building. Father Hartke dreamt of having a new theater, and eight years ago a move was started to raise funds to build him one - but it faltered on the way.

Last year, however, a group of former students and long-time admirers picked up the ball and this time decided upon a much more ambitious project, the building of a center for communication arts that would have not one, but two theaters, and the latest in electronic equipment for producing dramas, television tapes and motion pictures.

Some money was raised through private subscription and governmental agencies, but when the drive threatened to bog down again earlier this year, Ed McMahon of "Tonight" show fame and other CU alumni set the wheels in motion for a star-spangled benefit show to be held at New York's Capitol Theatre on Sept. 16.

Star-Headed
Bob Hope heads the entertainment committee, and the roster of stars who will appear or are lending their support, reads like a who's who of show business. They include Johnny Carson, Jack Benny, George Jessel, Jerry Lewis, Arthur Godfrey, Alan King, Benny Goodman and Sidney Poitier.

Some of the best known names outside the theatre are sponsoring the event, too. Among them are the President's daughter, Lynda Johnson Robb, Sen. "Mike" Mansfield, Isaac Stern, Bennett Cerf, Archbishop Terence J. Cooke, New York's Mayor John Lindsay, and San Francisco's Mayor Joseph Alioto, who is a Catholic University graduate.

Why are these Americans of various religious persuasions joining hands to raise funds for the center? Ed McMahon says there are two reasons. First, that CU students and faculty come from all parts of the country and represent many races and creeds. Second, the major purpose to which the center will be dedicated, the use of the mass communications media for improving relations between peoples of various racial and religious backgrounds, has met with widespread appeal.

"At a time when every headline makes clear the need," McMahon says, "the creative and performing arts must help to improve communication between black and white, Arab and Jew, Catholic and Protestant, so that understanding and friendship replaces bitterness and strife. The university's new center will help in that great work."

The Capitol Theatre event is expected to raise $100,000 and as more Americans become aware of the purpose of the center, the university hopes that contributions will start rolling in.

Before long, Father Hartke may have his dream fulfilled. Glaucoma is the second leading cause of blindness in the nation today. At this moment, an estimated 1,702,000 Americans 35 years of age and older are threatened with blindness from glaucoma, which for the most part can be controlled and sight saved if discovered and treated in its early stages.

Emerson PTA

The first meeting of the Emerson School PTA's executive board will be held next Tuesday (Oct. 8) at 8:30 p.m. in the school building. PTA programs and plans for the coming school year are expected to be announced after the meeting.

The PTA reports that its Welcome Tea for new parents and faculty, held on Sept. 19, was well attended.

Lee Loumos Says:

The weather has held out so beautifully that it is difficult to realize that summer has ended almost two weeks ago! Were it not for World Series time, I probably still wouldn't be aware of it. And with the Red Sox out of contention the excitement of the Series has greatly diminished. However, I look forward to this contest in another way. I can now root for the Cardinals honestly as my second favorite team - for team it is; well-balanced in every department and unusually excellent in their base-stealing proclivities. For I would much rather see action and daring on the base paths than sit and wait for the occasional long ball. And, as usual, we are ready to give you our fast delivery on any of our color TV sets.

Young Newton Honor Student Aids AZA Community Projects

Leon is 15 years old and last year received a medal from Huntington School for having the highest scholastic average in the freshman class and another citation for highest mark in French One. Now beginning his sophomore year, he is a member of the staff of "The Huntington Record", the school newspaper.

With tremendous enthusiasm, he is deep in the project to distribute 250 large Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries Collection Bags throughout the Newton area.

The project is sponsored by the Newton A-Z-A. The letters stand for Aleph Zadik Aleph and the organization is a branch of B'nai B'rith, a boys division with 25,000 members in the U.S. The organization stresses four points, Community Service Projects, Jewish Heritage, Athletics and Culture.

Members of the Newton A-Z-A will distribute the Goodwill Bags in an effort to boost the collection of usable clothing and repairable household articles for Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries which conducts a unique program providing jobs, job-training and rehabilitation for the handicapped and disadvantaged.

As soon as the Good will project is completed, Leon Fishlyn will devote his talents to a drive for canned foods for needy people, a campaign for the United Fund, and a Get-Out-The-Vote campaign. He has just completed a door-to-door solicitation for the Cancer Fund.

Officers of the Newton group helping Leon Fishlyn are Gary Kayman of Morrel street, President; John Goran of Bellview Avenue, Vice-President; and Kenneth Miller, Chestnut street, Secretary. Also assisting is Mark Slotnick of Willow road, Wellesley. All the other boys reside in Newton. The campaign will spread into Mark's area in Wellesley, as well.

The materials to be donated to Goodwill Industries may be placed in any Goodwill Collection Box. There are many in Newton and a surrounding communities. Nine Boxes listed in a special circular by the Newton A-Z-A group are as follows:

Newton Center: First National, 22 Langley road; Newton Center Market, 1241 Center street.

Newton Highlands: A & P, 916 Walnut street, Purity Supreme, 978 Boylston street, I.G.A. Foodliner, 1197 Walnut street.

West Newton: Barron's Department Store, West Newton Square; Sinclair Service Station, 367 California street.

Newtonville: First National, 647 Washington street; Star Market, Austin street.

Radcliffe Grads Plan Program

Radcliffe alumnae from Newton have planned a day-long program, Education Today, How Relevant? as the ninth annual Back to Radcliffe Day on October 5th. A morning panel of educators will discuss some of the critical issues facing secondary schools today.

Mrs. Robert E. Levi, of Newton Centre, has helped to plan the event, which is co-sponsored by the Radcliffe College Alumnae Association and four Radcliffe Clubs.

Honors For Miss Feinberg

Miss Jeri M. Feinberg of West Newton, was cited with honorable mention for her 1967-68 scholastic achievements at the annual Skidmore College fall convocation.

The convocation, at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, was the first all-student gathering of the academic year. Dr. Joseph C. Palamounian, president of the college, was the principal speaker.

Miss Feinberg is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Feinberg of 24 Lockwood road, West Newton.

RETREAD Nat'l Convention To Be In Mass. In 70

State Commander of "RETREADS" John E. Bouchard of Newton has announced that bids are open to New England cities who desire to have the National Convention in 1970 of this honor society of veterans of both World War I and II.

Commander Bouchard attended the recent National Convention in Miami Beach, Fla., where he was a participant and active in obtaining the 1970 convention site for Massachusetts.

Interested RETREADS should contact Commander Bouchard at his business address, 56 Elmwood st., Newton, at once and he will also provide membership information to all eligible Veterans who served in both World Wars.

main speaker. His topic will be "Fire Prevention Is Everybody's Business."

The week will be observed in the Garden City through the joint efforts of the Fire Department, under Chief Fred Perkins, and coordination through the Newton C of C of various civic, educational, business and professional firms and agencies.

Chamber President Kevin F. Hughes said that "the cooperation of Chamber members with the organization's effort to assist the Fire Department in its year-round program is an important way of reminding everyone that fire prevention is everyone's job."

Service clubs have been asked to schedule fire safety talks during this time and the committee is coordinating publicity, speaking engagements and distribution of materials for the campaign, working in conjunction with the Newton Fire Department, the public and parochial schools, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, industrial plants, stores and other business firms.

Members of the committee include Stafford Davis, of the Chamber, Chief Perkins, Lt. Fitzsimmons, Police Chief William Quinn, William Mackey, Warren Huston, David Kronigard, E. O. Fimlad, Kermit Greene, Henry Bikofsky, Dr. Robert Kirschbaum, Dr. Edward Sawyer, Sumner Rodman, Sidney Small and Jeff Kelly.

Chief Perkins reminds all citizens of Newton that every week is Fire Prevention Week but he stressed special emphasis on the following conditions that could cause fire:

"Parents, if you're going out tonight will your children be completely cared for? National Fire Prevention Association records show that almost one third of all children who die in fires each year have been left alone."

Don't leave your children alone and helpless tonight or ever.

Clothing can burn and cause death or disfigurement. With children especially watch out for frilly, loose fitting garments and sheer fuzzy fabrics. All too often they catch fire easily and burn in a flash. Train everyone in the family to be doubly careful when near open flames, heaters, stoves and fireplaces.

"Don't wait for fire to strike before you check your home for fire hazards."

"Are your attic, basement, closets and garages free of rubbish? Are furnaces and stoves in good 'working order and placed well away from combustible walls and ceilings? Are frayed electric cords and defective appliances repaired promptly? Are flammable liquids safely stored?"

"If you need help in checking your home for these fire hazards Chief Perkins requests you to call the Newton Fire Department Fire Prevention Bureau and they will have an Inspector help you inspect your home for fire safety."

"The theme for this year's Fire Prevention Week is 'Fire Hurts' don't you be hurt by fire, have your home checked for safety and instruct your children in the proper way to get out of the homes in case

Dr. Laurits To Address PTA Council Tonight

Dr. James Laurits, Superintendent of the Newton Schools, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of the Newton PTA Council to be held this evening, (Thursday), at 88 Chestnut St. Dr. Laurits' topic will be "The Next Five Years in the Newton Schools."

Herbert Ragal, president of the Council, announced that all members of all committees of the PTA Council are invited guests to all Council meetings, and he urged their participation.

Mr. Ragal also announced additional committee appointments: Safety Committee: Mrs. Herbert Schilder, Henry Shore; PTA Handbook: Herbert Callahan, Principal of Pierce School; by-Laws: Bernard Kaplan, chairman, Nomi Henes, Mrs. Charles Jacobs; Public Relations: Mrs. Gerald Rogovin, Mrs. Jerold Wise, co-chairmen.

Support League For Revision Of Referendum

The Newton School Committee voted Monday night to support the League of Women Voters' drive to put a charter revision referendum on the ballot next year.

The League is spearheading the movement to review Newton's charter, which is one of the oldest in the Commonwealth. A Charter Commission, if voted into being, would review all provisions of the present charter with a view toward making changes to update it.

Joining the League in a new organization, Citizens for Charter Review, are the Newton Council of PTA's, the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Democratic City Committee, and the Newton Republican Club.

of fire by having home fire drills.

"As has been the custom in previous years, all of the fire stations in Newton will have open house every day from 10:30 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. and Chief Perkins hopes that you will all take this opportunity to visit the stations to look over the equipment and meet the men of Newton who have dedicated their lives to protect your life and property from the ravages of fire."

"Smoking in bed is a sure way to come to an early end."

Police Have No New Leads In Disappearance Of Mom

After more than two weeks since the strange disappearance of Mrs. Susan Cairn, mother of two children, police reported today they have no leads to follow.

The 21-year-old girl vanished about 11:30 p.m., Sept. 16. Police are still assuming she was the victim of foul play. Scuff marks on the kitchen floor pointed to a possible struggle.

Neighbors reported hearing a commotion in the house. Her bed was not slept in that night and her keys and purse were found by her mother, Mrs. Elma Fortier, 77 Russell ave., Watertown, the next morning. Mrs. Fortier had gone to babysit for her daughter and found the two children unattended. The children, a daughter, 4-1/2, and a son, 1-1/2, have since been placed in state custody.

The woman's divorced husband, Emilio Cairn, who lives at 6 Rose Hill way, Waltham, is co-operating with police in the search for her.

Capt. John N. McMullen and teams of detectives have been working around the clock on the case since the woman's strange disappearance.

Police Chief William F. Quinn urges that anyone who has any clues on Mrs. Cairn to call police and the information and its source will be kept confidential.

Stanford U. Expert Blasts World Famine Fear, Legal Birth Control

By PAUL R. JESCHKE STANFORD, CALIF. (UPI) — In an age when "population explosion" and "worldwide famine" are frequently talked about as if they were already here, one man carries on a quiet dissent.

"Sometimes I feel like writing a book entitled, 'This Underpopulated World of Ours,'" said Dr. Karl Brandt in an interview at his Stanford University office.

Brandt, a former presidential adviser and now senior research fellow at the Hoover Institution, is extremely unhappy about "prophecies of gloom" who predict a worldwide crisis brought on by too many babies and too little food to feed them.

As he sees it, many nations need more people, not less, to cultivate food products and build a sound agricultural economy prior to industrialization.

BIRTH CONTROL A vigorous opponent of government birth control programs and a firm believer that "every country that makes the effort can produce all the food it needs," Brandt blames inexact statistics and "false projections" for widely held beliefs that population must be limited.

Economists and experts who study population trends "do not hesitate to predict how many people will be living not only in scores of backward countries, but in all continents by the year 2000," Brandt said. "What they fail to take into consideration is the fact that current statistics are not very reliable and as a result, their estimates are only wild guesses. Today, for example, nobody can prove whether there are in Red China more than 460 or less than 790 million people."

The statisticians also cannot evaluate the self-interest of families, Brandt said. Where people in backward areas once had large families to insure the survival of at least one heir, they are now beginning to limit the number of children as modern medicine and disease control methods become available.

CITES MEXICO Even India and South America with their millions "can't accurately be lumped together and ordered to end their population growth with the rallying cry of 'overpopulation,'" Brandt argued.

Mexico, he said, currently shows one of the fastest population growth rates in the world, "but it is also the beneficiary of the fastest growing economy in the world."

India, most often cited by birth control advocates, "actually produced a surplus of grain last year in the face of two serious droughts," Brandt said. "While some starvation and malnutrition undoubtedly occurs in the Indian cities, this is not the result of food shortage as such, but rather one of faulty government policies that limit proper distribution."

"Many Latin American and African countries have enormous unused land resources for food, feed and fibers," Brandt said, "and their development will require more farm people. It makes no sense to generalize and say that population growth must be stopped."

GOVERNMENT CONTROLS A former director of the food research institute at Stanford, Brandt believes the best stimulant to agriculture throughout the world is an end to "restrictive government controls" and creation of a free agricultural market based on the classical system of supply and demand.

"Leave the farmer alone and he will produce enough of everything because it is in his economic self interest to do so," Brandt said. He criticizes some governments in emerging nations for "putting too much emphasis on prestige items like steel mills and arbitrarily depressing the price of farm goods to pay for them."

FAMINE ALARM Although he is a Roman Catholic, Brandt is not entirely opposed to birth control.

"I'm of the opinion that it is the duty of people to act as responsible procreators and parents," Brandt said. "If they want to limit their families, they should do so. But if people have no interest, you can put a whole drug store in the bedroom and it won't do a bit of good."

He strenuously opposes "using famine alarm to justify support of government action toward birth control" which he believes can "only weaken the initiative to promote recognition of the importance of responsible parenthood."

Poet Accepts Olympic Bid

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Poet Robert Graves, a handy man with his fists before he won fame with the pen, is writing a poem — in Spanish — to represent Great Britain at the "International Poets Encounter" during the Olympic games here Oct. 12-27.

The Mexican organizing committee said Graves had been invited because of his "outstanding poetic work, through which he has transmitted a fruitful message for humanity."

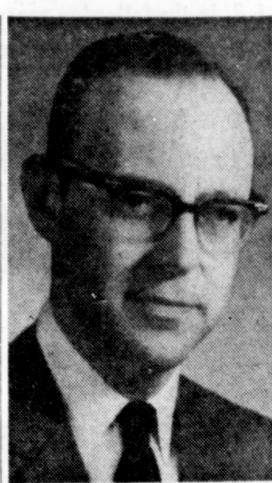

Graves, who lives on the island of Majorca, replied that he would accept, and would bring with him a new work written in Spanish for the occasion.

POETRY IN ORDER "I don't fancy writing to order, but there is something to say about the Olympics," wrote Graves. He won a medal for a poem dedicated to the Olympics in 1924.

The committee noted that Graves, now 73, was a distinguished amateur boxer in his youth. He won both the middle weight and welterweight British Collegiate Boxing Championships — fighting both matches on the same day — as a student. He also once fought British welterweight Champ Johnnie Besham.

Dr. Foster Speaks At Symposium

Dr. Henry L. Foster of Newton Centre, president of the Charles River Breeding Laboratories, recently attended the Inter-American Symposium on Health Aspects of the International Movement of Animals in San Antonio, Texas. Dr. Foster was a speaker at the Symposium and discussed "Health Problems Related to the Importation-Exportation of Rodents for Research."

ELIOT K. COHEN
Eliot K. Cohen Aids UF Drive

Alderman Eliot K. Cohen is assisting his uncle, I. J. Goldstein, as co-chairman of the Massachusetts Bay State United Fund campaign in Newton Center, it was announced this week.

An attorney, Cohen is active in civic affairs in Newton. He is a member of several Aldermanic Committees.

Cohen is a member of the American Bar Association, the Boston Bar Association, and the Massachusetts Bar Association. He is on the Greater Boston Real Estate Board and is Chairman, Standard Forms Committee and Lecturer of Law, Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

He received a citation from the Boston Finance Commission for the City of Boston for "Saving the City of Boston hundreds of thousands of dollars" in 1965. He received the Governor John A. Volpe Commendation for contribution in "Establishing quality and availability of higher education in the Bay State" in 1966. Governor Endicott Peabody commended him for "Contribution towards constitutional reform" in 1964.

When in the Air Force Alderman Cohen was awarded one unit citation and two personal citations.

Mr. Cohen graduated from the University of Massachusetts and then received his LL.B. and LL.M. from Boston University.

He and his wife Elaine live at 52 Voss Terrace. They have two children — Sandra, five, and James, three.

School Classes Start Sunday At Eliot Church

Sunday morning Church School classes will be resumed at Eliot Church this coming Sunday (Oct. 6) at 9:30 a.m. The staff will include the following teaching teams: the Rev. and Mrs. David Rose — Junior High Department; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nahabedian — 5th and 6th grades; Mrs. Walter Lob and Mr. Robert Peck — 3rd and 4th grades; Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Smith and Miss Mary Rose — 1st and 2nd grades; Mrs. Loofti Gayzagian, Jr. and Miss Kathryn Humphrey — Kindergarten; Mrs. William Jordan and Miss Laurie Dayton — Nursery; and Miss Carol Seegitz and Miss Sheila Kuhn — babies and creepers.

The Junior Choir has started its regular Saturday morning rehearsals at 9:30 a.m. Third graders through Junior High pupils are invited to participate. If enough young people of junior high age are interested, a separate group for them will be formed. The choir is under the leadership of Mr. Robert Spiewak, bass soloist in the Eliot Church Choir who is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Two adult study groups have been formed. An eight week Old Testament Study Course entitled "Introduction to Old Testament Literature" is meeting each Wednesday morning at 9:30 a.m. in the church parlor. The course is being taught by Mr. Robert Rogers, a doctoral candidate in Old Testament Studies at Boston University School of Theology.

An informal Discussion Group for adults will meet Sunday mornings beginning this Sunday (Oct. 6) at 9:30 a.m. during the church school hour. Coffee will be served. All are welcome to come!

Parents Night At Newton High Thurs., Oct. 17

Dr. Thomas S. Hayden, President of the Newton High P.T.A. will open a meeting of welcome to parents new to Newton High School in the Auditorium of Building III. The meeting will be called to order at 7:45 p.m. and will hear an address by Richard W. Mechem, Principal of Newton High.

Parents will meet with House Masters, Counselors and Home Room teachers in the various House Assembly rooms beginning at 8:30 and at 9 refreshments will be served in the House Common rooms under the direction of social chairman Mrs. William Eger.

All parents are invited to become members of the Newton High School Parent Teacher Association. All parents new to the school are urged to come and familiarize themselves with the High School and the House plan.

says:

Man's strongest instinct is that of self-preservation?

Nonsense! He hasn't enough sense to come in out of the smog.

Otherwise, we old crooks over 30 would be uniting — in another ancient theory that in union there is strength — to preserve our hair and hide from the young political activists who plan, in one way or another, to liquidate us and all our works. At best, they plot to run us right off the reservation; or worst, who knows?

Until recently I didn't trust anyone under 40. Then the ante started going up. First, 50. Then, 60. Next, 70. Now, 80. Soon, 90.

The student and youth activists have made their program as plain as Hitler in "Mein Kampf." (Please; I don't equate them with Hitler or Nazism. It is simply that they have made their program as clear as Adolf did his.)

And we elderly citizens have paid no more attention to the hippie, Yippie and activist plans than statesmen and people around the world paid to Hitler's blueprint in the '30s. According to the Danny (the Red) Bendit-Cohn, who now appears to be the spokesman for the New Left, student and youth division, the plan or purpose is to destroy — lock, stock and executive brief case — society as presently constituted and presided over by us withered and outmoded ancients.

There are now no plans for rebuilding society nearer the New Left's desire. Destroy, destroy first. Then, and only then, begin to plan for something better. As an old crock I say that's a hell of a way to run a railroad.

But there the plans of the new student left stand.

It is obvious, if the doctrine of self-preservation is sound, that we ancient mariners should unite. We have everything to lose, including our hormones, vitamin B injections and contact lenses.

I propose to form a group of aged activists who will take as many leaves as necessary from the Students for a Democratic Society and other militant groups. What we must do is picket political meetings, for example, and raise unshirted Cain.

As a matter of fact, I have not been idle. I have been in the basement for the past week painting banners and working on suitable slogans.

"LEAGALIZE GERITOL," "SHUFFLE BOARDS IN EVERY community," "Free Winters in Florida, Arizona, California or Any Southern Climate of Your Choice, Including Nassau."

What we ancients must have is a program to attract everyone who is looking forward to Social Security and Medicare. Other banners I have so far painted read: "KNITINS, NOT SIT-INS," "FREE GOLD AND BRIDGE EVERY STREET CORNER," "MOTORIZED WHEEL CHAIRS," "ABOLISH ARTHRITIS," "BAN THE BUMS," "TRADING STAMPS WITH TAXES," "NO BABY-SITTING WITH GRANDCHILDREN," and "MAKE DENTURES, NOT WAR."

Let us march on political rallies and heckle the candidates — any candidate. Let the world know that the old Adam and Eve are alive and kicking in the United States, and not about to be plowed under without putting up a fight. Don't knuckle under to them without putting up the dukes. Take karate lessons. Sign up for judo. Learn the exact position of the jugular. Prepare for action.

There is one beguiling quality that these young activists have that I shall never have again. That is youth. But there is also one priceless asset that my generation has that only time can give to youthful dissidents. That is experience.

The advantage is to my generation. In the long run youth will fade. But experience not only lasts forever but increases — as youth diminishes — with time. It is just possible, of course, that the young activists plan to toss out the baby, experience, with the bath water. But it is possible that as youth goes and experience comes, only the bath water will be expendable.

But in the meantime we ancients cannot take chances. Let us not oblige the young by voluntarily rolling over and playing dead. Enroll in the Order of Ancient Activists, Dad, and help legalize Geritol. (Copyright, 1868, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Memorial PTA Plans Set For Fall Season

Louis S. Sebok, President of the Memorial School PTA, outlined exciting plans for the current season at a recent PTA executive board meeting.

The first general PTA meeting and Book Fair is set for Thursday, Nov. 7.

Fall projects of the PTA include the annual Pumpkin Sale to be held at the Oak Hill Park Shopping Centre on Sat. (Oct. 19) and Sun. (Oct. 20) under the chairmanship of Eugene F. Black.

Alfred Applebaum, Vice-President of the PTA outlined plans for the school Halloween Party.

Arnold Lezberg, head of the ways and means committee, announced that a Theatre Party will be held at Brandeis University in December.

Dancing and Creative Crafts classes in the after-school hours have been arranged by the Creative Arts Committee, composed of Debby Beresford, Eunice Perry and Sue Ulin.

Newtonites Speak To Baptist Group

Lecture Series Open Tuesday At College of the Sacred Heart

A leading authority on comparative education will speak on "The Role of the United States in International Understanding" to open this year's David Reeves Lecture Series at Newton College of the Sacred Heart next Tuesday (Oct. 8).

Dr. George Z. F. Bereday, professor of comparative education at Columbia University, author, and international affairs analyst, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in Chapel Hall on the Centre St. campus, Newton. The public is invited free.

Subsequent David Reeves Lectures this academic year will be given by Attorney F. Lee Bailey on Nov. 19; U.S. Health, Education, and Welfare Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen, on Feb. 12; and "Saturday Review" poetry editor John Ciardi Mar. 26.

As U.S. Government cultural emissary, Carnegie Fellow, Ford Foundation program director and consultant, and exchange professor, Dr. Bereday has traveled and lectured on five continents. During the past year, he has spent much of his leisure time working toward the establishment of an international institute for parentless children. Dr. Bereday joined the Columbia faculty in 1955, became a full professor in 1959, an associate of the University's Russian Institute in 1963, a member of the school of International Affairs faculty in 1966, and director of the Center for Education in Industrial Nations last year.

Born in Poland, Dr. Bereday received his Bachelor and Masters of Arts degrees from Oxford University, his Bachelor of Science degree in sociology from the University of London, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree in comparative education from Harvard University.

Art Exhibit At City Hall Draws Crowds

Several hundred artists and art lovers attended the recent Newton Art Association 1968 Art Exhibit on the grounds of Newton City Hall.

The distinguished Jury of Judges included Otis Philbrick and his wife Margaret Philbrick, Al Hurwitz, coordinator and Art Supervisor of Newton School System, and John Loren Head, Dean of Students, at the New England School of Art in Boston.

The James King Bonnar Award went to Martha O'Brien. Third prize was awarded to Stephen York; second went to Lester M. Peterson and first prize to Peter Turchon.

First meeting of Newton Art Association 1968-1969 season will be held at Beethoven School Hall tonight (Thursday, Oct. 3). Joseph L. Santoro will give a watercolor demonstration. Several other famous artists will display their methods during the coming season.

Art Classes And Exhibit Are Set By Aub. W. Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club through art committee chairman Mrs. Charles B. Cossaboom has announced painting lessons to be held under the direction of John Head at the clubhouse in Monday evenings beginning Oct. 21. A daytime painting workshop will be held at the clubhouse every Wednesday except club meeting days beginning Oct. 16.

The 22nd Annual Art and Craft Exhibit by local artists will be presented by the art committee on Nov. 5 and 6. Entries will be accepted on Sunday (Nov. 3) from 5 to 7 p.m. Tea will be served from 2 to 3:30 p.m. on the afternoon of the exhibit.

Contributions may be made to the "Pennies for Art" Fund which is used for art scholarships and awards.

"State of Hawaii" Topic At DAR Chapter Meeting

Carrying out the DAR three-fold aim of promoting an interest in matters historical, education, and patriotic, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Walen will present a program on the State of Hawaii at the October 7 meeting of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter. A one o'clock dessert and social hour will precede the meeting, which will be held in their home.

The business session will include a report of the Massachusetts Society, DAR, Fall State Meeting. This meeting, held October 1 and 2 in Swampscott, will have as featured speaker the newly-elected President General of the National Society, DAR, Mr. Erwin Freese Seimes.

Naming their program "Our Fiftieth State," Mr. and Mrs. Walen will show slides they took while in Hawaii, as well as numerous ornaments, pieces of clothing and artifacts from this very Oriental group of islands. They will give a comprehensive picture of the history, background, and customs of the land and people.

Mr. Walen, principal of Needham High School, was invited to the University of Hawaii to lecture during a two-week Summer Institute for teachers sponsored by the State Department of Education. One week was spent on the campus of the island of Hawaii, the other on that of the island of Oahu, two hundred air miles away.

Mrs. Walen, who is regent of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, will preside at the business meeting. Mrs. Douglas L. Eckhardt is in charge of refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Harrison Meserve.

Bermuda Honeymoon Follows Gorney-Kursman Wedding

The marriage of Miss Barbara Ellen Kursman to Howard Neil Gorney took place recently at Temple Emanuel in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kursman of Worcester and Dr. and Mrs. Harold S. Gorney of 12 Dew road, Chestnut Hill, are the couple's parents.

Rabbi Joseph Klein, officiated at the four o'clock afternoon service. A reception followed the nuptials.

Given away by her father, the bride had two honor attendants. They were Mrs. Neil Braverman of Newton, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Barry Kursman of Bayside N.Y., sister-in-law of the bride.

Neil Braverman of Newton, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Ushering were Michael Steinberg of Natick, Gerald Kaplan of Sharon, Barry Kursman of New York and Gerard Sack of Waltham.

Bermuda was the

Auburndale Club Open H-Dance On Sat., Sept. 21

The traditional Open House Dinner Dance by the Auburndale Club was held on Saturday (Sept. 21) at the Clubhouse on Melrose st., Auburndale, with 112 members and guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Nickerson chaired the event which marked the Club's 51st year.

A reception was held followed by dancing until midnight. Officers for the coming year include, president, Peter Felopulos of West Newton; vice-president, Gordon Littlehale of Weston; secretary, Joan Coleman of Weston and treasurer, Albert Horton of Auburndale.

In welcoming the guests, Mr. Felopulos stated that the club was off to a fine start for its second half century. He stated "Membership is on the rise; social activities — which have been exceptionally well attended — promise even greater participation; our wonderful dramatic productions should be as brilliant as ever; the club facilities are in excellent shape for the season and our committees are enthusiastic. However, in great part our future depends upon our membership growth, and it is essential that we seek new members to contribute to our club and to insure its continuation.

Anyone interested in joining should get in touch with Gordon Littlehale, Chairman of the Membership Committee."

JOSEPH OPPENHEIM

Jos. Oppenheim Named Vice Pres. Raytheon Co.

Joseph Oppenheim, of 294 Greenwood Street, Newton Centre, has been elected a vice president of Raytheon Company. Mr. Oppenheim is corporate director of International Affairs and is president of Raytheon Overseas Ltd.

He has directed Raytheon's international staff since 1962. He joined the company in 1942 as a radar development engineer and was later assigned to the small engineering laboratory from which subsequently has grown Raytheon's extensive air defense missile capability.

During his years with Raytheon, Mr. Oppenheim has held a series of increasingly responsible positions with the company's Missile Systems Division and with the corporate staff.

He graduated from Harvard College in 1934 and did graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Oppenheim is married to the former Florence Kaufman of Springfield, Mass. The Oppenheims have six children: Barbara, 21; Peter, 20; Janey, 18; Kathy, 16; James, 14; and Elizabeth, 11.

Rum'age Sale By Church Women

The Women's Association of Central Congregational Church, Walnut St., Newtonville, have arranged a Rum'age Sale for Friday (Oct. 25) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

There will be men, women and children's clothing, household articles, white elephants and many other items available for sale.

Clinical Nursery Is Topic At Chapter Meeting Tonight

The Newton Chapter of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children will hold its opening meeting of the 1968-69 season tonight, (Thursday, Oct. 3) 8 o'clock at the Newton Mental Health Center, 398 Walnut street, Newtonville.

The program will focus on the community clinical nursery for retarded children of Newton, Wellesley and Weston. Speakers will be Mrs. Virginia Odell, the nursery school teacher, and Mrs. Dianthe Richards, chief social worker of the Newton Mental Health Center, the agency through which admissions are processed.

The nursery is being established in cooperation with the Massachusetts

Department of Mental Health, and is one of a number of such facilities being planned, or already in operation, throughout the state. The opening of the nursery this fall, in the Peabody School of Newton, will provide the opportunity for a maximum of twelve children at least three years of age, to meet together, and under the guidance of an experienced teacher to acquire new skills and experiences at each child's individual level.

Mrs. Harvey Chansky, chairman of the Newton Chapter, invites all interested persons to attend. Refreshments will be served, and there will be an opportunity for informal discussion after the meeting.

Board Denies Cable TV Permits

Four petitions seeking cable television permits in Newton were denied by the Board of Aldermen last week.

Denial of the petitions was made on recommendation of the Finance Franchises and Licenses Committees. They recommended that the denials be made without prejudice. The petitions were removed from the docket.

Prime reason for the denials is that a special state commission is making a study of cablevision in the Commonwealth.

The petitions were submitted by the Massachusetts Tele-radio Broadcasting Co., National Cablevision Inc., Lincoln Co., Inc., and Newton Cablevision Co.

Retired Folks Aiding United Fund Campaign

Burton Scott Price of 43 Kelvedon road, Waban, Newton Community Chairman in the Massachusetts Bay United Fund recently addressed the Retired Men's Club at the Second Church in Newton, Newton Highlands.

Mr. Price said he was pleased that the Special Gifts (100 and over gifts) drive under the direction of Mrs. Champe A. Fisher and Mrs. Robert Freeto, was progressing as scheduled. He also mentioned that due to the appeal of former Governor Foster Furcolo and Kirk Boott, Jr., co-chairmen of the Professional Division, several professional persons had already sent in their gifts to the Massachusetts Bay United Fund.

Sacred Heart Interracial Council Holds First Fall Meeting Sunday

The Newton Sacred Heart Interracial Council will hold its first meeting of the fall at 8 p.m. this coming Sunday night (Oct. 6) in the Bishop MacKenzie Center at 1321 Centre st., Newton Centre. A panel discussion: "What Newton Can Do" will feature Robert McKay, Executive Director of the Citizen's Housing and Planning Association; Alderman Matthew Jefferson, Mrs. James Houghteling, Jr., Co-chairman of Buyers and Sellers, a sub-committee of the Newton Fair Housing and Equal Rights and Planning Director James A. Miller.

The focus of the discussion will be upon the problems faced by a person of low or moderate income, whether of a minority group or not, in seeking housing in Newton. Gordon A. Martin, President, will report to the Council on the Council's summer activities and plans for the coming year.

A reception will follow. The public is invited.

"New Look KKK" Growing Imperial Wizard Claims

By LAWRENCE C. FALK
TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Business is booming for Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton and the United Klans of America.

Operating from an office in the basement of his lakeside home near Tuscaloosa, the 38-year-old Shelton has two secretaries, several assistants and what he modestly describes as a "comfortable twin-engine airplane" which he uses to get around the country.

"We actively operate in 38 states and as soon as we can get to Alaska and Hawaii we're going there," the Klan chieftain boasts.

BLASTS MEDIA

Shelton said the KKK does not advocate "our people go around and get involved against law and order" and if its members are charged with doing so the Klan investigates the case on its own and defends members who have been "wrongly accused."

He contends people have an incorrect impression of the Klan because the "news media still go back to 1935 and 1924 and 1919 to compare us." "We started in 1961. The way they do it is like saying your father was a horse thief, so you are a horse thief."

Shelton, soft-spoken with light brown hair, stands convicted of contempt of Congress for refusing to turn over Klan records to the House Un-American Activities Committee HUAC, but he isn't especially upset about it.

PLANS APPEAL

He plans to appeal the conviction shortly to the U.S.

Fire Causes $10,000 Loss In Newton

More than $10,000 damage was caused by a one-alarm fire last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron P. Lepie, at 18 Travis dr., Newton. No one was home at the time.

The blaze burned through the first floor and caused heavy damage throughout the house. The fire was brought under control in a half-hour. Probable cause was listed as a faulty electrical timer.

This Week's Best Buys

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture.

The best quality McIntosh apples in several years are coming into the market in such heavy volume as to deserve the rating of "very best buy" and a long list of produce best buys released this week from the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Native cauliflower from the fertile fields of the Pioneer Valley in western Massachusetts, a Fall newcomer, is plentiful and reasonably priced, adding zest to the bright produce picture confronting Bay State shoppers.

Delicious broccoli from Cape Cod, green, shell and wax beans, beets and broccoli are all plentiful and low-priced. So are green, Chinese and red cabbage, carrots, chichory, collards, native sweet corn, eggplant, escarole, kale, leeks, Boston and romaine lettuce.

A good supply of parsnips is on hand at money-saving prices, and peppers, potatoes, radishes, scallions, spinach, Swiss chard, tomatoes and six different varieties of squash, including blue Hubbard making a promising debut, are all abundant and economically priced.

Extra large eggs are priced so nearly the same as laage and mediums as to rate the "best egg buy" listing for the week. Whole fresh cranberries from the Cape are also plentiful and economical. And a good showing of Indian corn is on hand for colorful Fall Decorating.

Cauliflower Almond Style makes a tasty way to celebrate the arrival of this tasty native delicacy. After taking off outer leaves of 1 small cauliflower, wash and then cook in salted boiling water for 10 minutes or until it gets tender. Then in 3 tblsp. butter, cook 1/4 cup sliced almonds until browned lightly. Serve cauliflower topped with butter and nuts. Serves 4.

Today's Agri-Fact: While other trees find it difficult to get a foothold in sandy soil, gray birch thrives on it. Young trees are easily transplanted. It is also called the white Birch, poplar birch, poverty birch and oldfield birch.

One in every 20 preschool-age children in the United States is affected by amblyopia (lazy eye blindness) and other vision problems which can usually be corrected if discovered and treated before school age.

Wellington-Ivest Collection On View At Museum Of Arts

Pop, Op and Color Field art make up only a small part of the wide-ranging "Wellington-Ivest Collection" on view at the Museum of Fine Arts through October 27. Included are 171 paintings, prints, drawings, sculptures and constructions that document the art movements of the past decade.

The collection, being formed for display in the Boston offices of the Wellington Management Company and its subsidiaries, is an example of a corporate approach to art collecting and of business's growing interest in the arts.

The collection represents the multiple images of Pop Art with Andy Warhol's lucite blocks printed with portraits of pop culture heroes, Wayne Thiebaud's oil paintings of two identical slot machines and Sante Graziani's triple portrait of a "Girl from Delft" painted after a Vermeer masterpiece. Commercialism, a favorite theme of Pop artists, provides imagery for Richard Estes' view through the window of a bustling supermarket called "Food City" and Edward Rauscha's large silk screen of a streamlined gas station.

'72 Olympics Fight Now On

MEXICO CITY (UPI) —

There's nothing like getting your bid in early for the Olympic Games.

Mexico fought a knockdown battle with Detroit for this year's games, and Munich already is working on its role as host to the games in 1972.

The Czechoslovakians recently revealed they are thinking of going after the 1976 games. But the gold medal for thinking ahead goes to Columbus, Ohio.

The City Council there wrote International Olympic Committee Chairman Avery Brundage this year to put in Columbus' bid for the games of 1992.

Brundage congratulated Columbus for presenting "the first application for these games."

Infant Hearing Tests Head Off Ear Troubles

By DUSTON HARVEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A nurse walked quietly to the side of the newborn infant's bed, held an electronic noise maker above the baby's head, then sounded its telephone-like bell. The child, just minutes old, responded by blinking his eyes and moving his arms.

He thus passed a hearing test given routinely to all newborn infants at several hospitals in San Francisco and other large cities.

But about four of every 1,000 youngsters — tested in the first minutes or hours of life — failed to hear the bell ring. It's for their benefit the tests are made.

IMPORTANT TEST

The routine checks have replaced the former sporadic examinations given only to babies suspected of probable hearing defects because of complications during pregnancy or other problems.

The goal is to avert the physical and psychological problems that can result if poor hearing goes undetected for several years.

"A child could be deaf and perfectly healthy and his deafness go undetected until he goes into the first grade," said Dr. Rayford C. Riell, director of the San Francisco Hearing and Speech Center. "If he's hard of hearing, it's more difficult to detect."

QUICK DETECTION

He said children of six come to the center deaf. Most of them probably were unable to hear at birth and routine screening would have determined the condition. Dr. Redell said the family and child could have adjusted to the problem during that time.

Other infants suffering from lesser afflictions can be treated at once, restoring the child's hearing as quickly as possible.

Dr. Redell said routine testing in the past three years at local hospitals had turned up several cases of newborn babies with easily corrected hearing problems which could have caused permanent damage.

Juvenile Book Reviews

By Dorothy Ingram

One of the most delightful characters in the children's literary world is author Michael Bond's Paddington, a bear from deepest, darkest Peru. What started out with a book entitled "A Bear Called Paddington" turned into several books which include "More About Paddington," "Paddington Helps Out," and the newest, "Paddington At Large." Paddington, who is a well-meaning bear, has never ceased to amuse the Brown family of England since they first found him in Paddington Station and took him home to live with them. This latest book continues to show Paddington's talent for getting into trouble when a riot breaks out in a bargain basement, a Christmas play, taking leave of his own, a neighbor's lawnmower disappears into the branches of a tree, and a spotless kitchen turns into chaos with steam and spilled syrup. This is a grand book for family reading as well as for the 6-10 year olds who might enjoy reading it to themselves. Peggy Fortnum is the illustrator.

Now that October has arrived, many children are turning thoughts toward Halloween and witches and pumpkins. A most appropriate story for this time of year is "The Witch Next Door," by Norman Bridwell. This is a marvelous witch who, despite her hooked nose and stringy hair, has a most friendly face. She lives in a black house and has the most "unusual" pet that she takes for walks... (her dragon has a leash, as well as a ribbon tied to its tail!) With her bat bath (in contrast to the usual bird bath) and the silly way she sleeps hanging upside down on her chandelier, she never ceases to provide her neighbors with entertainment and just a little awe... but she's far from spooky... she's really grand! This is another pre-school-early reader book that is perfect for the 3-7 set.

105 Deadly Snakes Have Bitten Him

By MATTHEW T. KENNY

MIAMI (UPI) — At 57, William E. Haast might almost be said to be living on borrowed time. In his life as a snake-handler he has been bitten by 105 of the world's most deadly reptiles, including twice by King Cobras.

"He's been almost literally dead 13 times," says his wife, Clarita, who works with him at the Miami Serpenterium which functions as a combination tourist attraction and scientific center.

As director of the serpenterium, Haast handles an average of 100 poisonous snakes daily among the 1,200 snakes on hand from all over the globe.

He is the only one at the 20-year-old serpenterium who handles the serpents to extract their venom. Collected in large flasks, the venom is "flash frozen" and dried, converted into powder.

Apart from its use in the manufacture of anti-venom, the venom is sold to universities, medical centers and drug firms — as well as to the federal government — for research into mysteries of the powerful enzymes which the toxins contain.

Biochemists are looking increasingly to snake venom for clues to some of man's most devastating ills such as cancer, according to Haast. "And this," he says, "is the most exciting aspect of our work."

Although he faces death daily, Haast accepts this as part of the job. "If I ever die as a result of snake venom, remember that I shall die doing the work I want to do," he has told his wife. Mrs. Haast also has learned to live with the danger of her husband's profession.

Haast, who was born and grew up in Paterson, N.J., has been bitten by all kinds of lethal vipers.

In the 42 years since Haast experienced his first poisonous snake bite in 1926, through his most recent bite from a Diamond Back rattler last May 28, he appears to have developed a unique "immunity" to snake venom. It is this ever increasing "immunity" — as his blood continues to be mixed with new poison from every bite — that has enabled him to survive, he explains, even though at times it has been touch-and-go.

Despite his many close calls with death Haast said he is in good physical shape "with the blood pressure and heart rate of a 20-year-old." He does not smoke or drink.

The serpenterium is frequently called when there is a snakebite emergency, whether local or far away, and Haast has been involved in many "mercy missions" to try to save lives, occasionally with anti-venom made from his own blood or through a direct, whole blood transfusion.

Haast says one distinguishing characteristic about his snake handling is that he does not "milk" them — that is, force them to eject venom through gland pressure or electric shock. The snakes are permitted to bite "voluntarily" into a latex covering, over the mouth of a glass flask.

This is one reason why he has been bitten so often, according to Mrs. Haast.

"People ask, why does Mr. Haast get bitten so much, and they think he's careless," she said. "But they don't understand that it's because he's trying to be as gentle as possible to the snakes."

Chief Purcell Honored At Testimonial Dinner

Persons from all walks of life jammed McHugh Forum on the Boston College campus last Thursday night to pay honor and tribute to retired Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell.

While Chief Purcell was unable to remain for the entire program, due to the extreme heat and his recent illness, he "expressed his appreciation and was absolutely thrilled" at the affair, Chief William F. Quinn said.

The appreciation was expressed through Chief Quinn, his successor, who accepted the many gifts honoring Chief Purcell for completion of a 40-year police career, 20 as chief.

Principal speaker at the gala dinner was Quinn Tamm, executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

He told the gathering of 1000 persons that "since 1960 our crime rate has risen 71 per cent, while our population has increased 10 per cent. During this same period, the arrests of juveniles for serious complaints has increased 59 per cent."

Many police chiefs from Massachusetts and parts of New England as well as officers from many departments, court and law enforcement officers, turned out for the occasion. The chief's daughter, Miss Alice Purcell sat at the head table and at the conclusion "thanked all for all the help."

Tamm told the gathering, "each year more than 52,000 Americans are killed in highway accidents due largely to violations of traffic laws. Compounding these traditional problems of the police has been the plague of civil disorders that have become almost commonplace in our cities."

In his introductory remarks, Tamm, a noted authority for police reforms, said, "I am pleased to join in paying tribute to one of the most distinguished police administrators I have known in my 30 years in law enforcement."

Continuing he said, "today, the policeman is the unenviable man in the middle of problems. It is he the public often blames unfairly for conditions. It is he whom the public looks for relief. It is apparently not generally understood by the public that law enforcement is not strictly a police responsibility."

"The police comprise only one facet of the total criminal justice function, they do not make the laws, they do not adjudicate guilt or innocence, they do not operate the correctional system. It is not a police responsibility to initiate social changes, nor is it a police responsibility to thwart them."

Speaking of the policeman's role in the community, Tamm related, "if community tensions can be eased, he is most often the one who takes the lead in attaining such relief and I know of no profession that calls for such a wide variety of capabilities."

The speaker started the gathering with the remarks, "Last year, we as a nation spent $18 billion for research and less than 2 per cent for law enforcement." In further relating duties of the police officer Tamm said, "I believe this emphasizes the requirement for police to be not only well-grounded in practical police work, but also with the intellectual scope required to deal with all aspects of social problems."

"More and more we're getting this type of leadership from police executives such as Phil Purcell who comprise the membership of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. We are getting comprehensive support from enlightened citizens such as yourselves."

"We in law enforcement believe that the paramount concerns of the citizens of our nation are crime and civil disorders. They are frightened by the first and revolted by the second. Consequently crime must be curbed and riots must be prevented."

"It is the police officer who daily must face the deadly assaults of the criminal and psychological and physical abuse of the malcontent and the degenerate. It is he who must place service to the community above self, above family, and above financial gain."

"Why are we so fortunate as to have men like Phil Purcell dedicate their lives to such service? I can assure you it isn't because of financial gains. The answer, then, must be in their belief that it is their duty to provide the protection that permits the rest of us to live in dignity with the assurance that justice is the right of every citizen."

The recognition you are paying your honored guest is well-deserved and I am sure most gratifying to him. I am sure that equally gratifying to him is the knowledge that he did not stand alone in fulfilling the trust reposed in him, that by his side were you and the other law-abiding citizens of Newton who accepted civil responsibilities."

In his concluding remarks, Tamm added, "the only accolade I can add is that of one professional policeman to another."

"Chief Purcell, law enforcement and the police profession are better because you were a part of them."

Head table guests included the Rev. W. Seavey Joyce, president of Boston College; Hector J. Pelletier, retired Cohasset chief; Boston Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin; Public Safety Commissioner Leo L. Laughlin; Mayor Monte G. Basbas.

Also, Atty. Gen. Elliott L. Richardson, Sheriff Howard W. Fitzpatrick, Mother Gabrielle Husson, R.S.C.J., president of Newton College of Sacred Heart; the Rev. Mother Mary Quinlan, R.S.C.J., Newton College of Sacred Heart; Judges L. Yesley and W. Lloyd

Allen of Newton District Court.

Also, Chief Quinn, Thomas J. Maguire, police chief of Woburn; Gerald E. Spratt, president of Massachusetts Safety League; Francis McGrannahan, police chief of Manchester, N.H.; A. Raymond Tye, president of Newton Crime Prevention; W. Joseph Shea, police chief of Natick; Joseph Derro, police chief of Winchester and president-elect of Massachusetts Chiefs of Police; Frank E. McElroy, executive director of National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc.; Victor A. Nicolazzo, general co-chairman with Chief Quinn; Safety Officer Charles E. Feeley, who was toastmaster and Thomas J. Murphy, managing editor of The News-Tribune.

Other guests present included Acting Supt. of Schools Dr. James D. Lauritis, Supt. William Taylor of Boston Police, Aldermanic President Wendell R. Bauckman and nearly all of the aldermen and retired Newton Police Capt. Charles E. Walker.

Also presented for bows were the following political candidates:

Rep. Paul F. Malloy, H. James Shea Jr., Wigmore A. Pierson, Nelson Silks Jr.; former Cong. Laurence Curtis; while Rep. Theodore Mann, unable to attend on account of illness, sent a message.

Mayor Basbas said of Chief Purcell, "in my association of 17 years he was a gentleman to deal with, a cop's cop, a man's man and I have the highest regard for law enforcement officers. We wish him well in his retirement."

Pelletier, secretary-treasurer of Massachusetts Chiefs of Police, paid tribute to Purcell, calling him "a great citizen, a great man and a great police chief."

Chief Quinn summarized Purcell's 40-year career in police work, his early background, an his rise to presidency of the IACP in 1965 and said "hall to the chief." On hand to enjoy the testimonial were the chiefs two daughters, the aforementioned Miss Alice Purcell, Mrs. Donald Elder, with her husband; his son, John, with his wife; the chief's two sisters; a sister-in-law and five nieces and a nephew.

Atty.-Gen. Richardson said "it's a tough job to be a policeman and we pay tribute and honor to a man whom we look up to with respect for law and order."

Chief Purcell was given many presentations from Spratt, McElroy, Nicolazzo, a painting donated by Michael K. O'Neil; Robert Julien, executive director of Newton Red Cross Chapter and Feeley, acting for the committee. The Massachusetts House of Representatives sent a citation.

Flowers were donated by Philip Anastasia of The Flower Bouquet, Newton Centre; and music was furnished by Pulsifer School of Music, Newton Centre.

All committee members were presented by Nicolazzo and asked to take a bow.

Mayor Proclaims League Of Women Voters Day In Newton

Mayor Monte B. Basbas proclaimed Friday, (tomorrow) as League of Women Voters Day in Newton as a tribute to the efforts of the League to insure active participation in government by all citizens.

The League of Women Voters seeks to keep the public informed of issues of concern to them, to generate a sincere interest in our governmental process, and to urge all citizens to exercise their VOTE POWER with thoughtfulness.

Governor John A. Volpe has proclaimed the week ending Oct. 5 as Voter Registration Week in Massachusetts. Oct. 5 is the last day to register, and all voters are urged to register by that day. Additional information may be secured by calling the Election Commission at the Newton City Hall or the LMV office at 332-0590.

League of Women Voters of Newton Day will coincide with the kickoff for the Finance Drive to be conducted by the League so that it will be able to continue its many services to the community.

Mrs. David Chernov, chairman of the finance committee said "A booth will be set up in the city on LWV Day to make information on voters service available to the citizens of Newton. The League presents non-partisan information on all candidates and issues to the voters of Newton, and we hope they will use this information. We also hope that the members of the community will come to our support so that we will be enabled to continue our services to them. Contributions to the Finance Drive may be sent directly to the League of Women Voters of Newton, 72 Columbus St., Newton Highlands, Mass. 02161."

WHEREAS: Active voter interest and participation in our government and its workings are essential if this City, State, and Nation are to maintain a secure and stable society capable of meeting the challenges of the future, and WHEREAS: For many years, the League of Women Voters of Newton has endeavored to cultivate and renew in our City women active participation in government which will ensure the future of the generations to come, and

WHEREAS: The League of Women Voters seeks to keep the public informed of issues of concern to them; to urge all citizens to exercise the vote with thoughtfulness; and to generate a sincere interest in our governmental process, which will in turn reflect the integrity of an informed, concerned voting public, and

WHEREAS: It is altogether appropriate that we in Newton heartily commend the League of Women Voters for its active efforts on behalf of this City and its citizenry;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Monte G. Basbas, Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby proclaim the day of October 5, 1968, as LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS DAY and urge all citizens of the City to take cognizance of this event, and to appropriately participate in its observance.

Given at the Executive Chamber in Newton, this 24th day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and ninety-third.

Monte G. Basbas

DISCUSS PROCLAMATION — Mayor Monte G. Basbas discusses proclamation for League of Women Voters of Newton Day with Mrs. Robert Rediker, left, vice president of the League, and Mrs. Lawrence Rubin, president, LWV of Newton Day is to be observed on October 4, and will coincide with the Finance Drive to enable the League to continue its community services.

Newton League Will Hold NHS 10-Year 3-Day Discussion Series Class Reunion On Oct. 26

The League of Women Voters of Newton will hold its series of discussion units on "China" on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week (Oct. 9, 10 and 11).

"The issue of Red China has been an item of American foreign policy for more than ten years, the League declares. "For the past three years this subject has been an item of study by League members, and they will now have an opportunity at these unit meetings to reach consensus on the following questions:

"1) What should be the objectives of U.S. policy toward the People's Republic of China? 2) Does your League support changes in specific policies? If so, in what direction? 3) Should the United States take the initiative in relaxing tensions?"

All League members and their friends are invited to attend any of the unit meetings. The times and places of the meetings are as follows:

Wed., Oct. 9 (9:30 a.m.-11:15 a.m.) at the Newtonville Library, 345 Walnut st. (Please use Highland Ave. entrance). Chairman, Mrs. Robert Capelless.

(Bring a sandwich — coffee will be provided.)

Wed., Oct. 9 (8:00-9:45 p.m.) at the home of Mrs. Theodore L. Hansen, Jr., 106 Randlett Park, W. Newton. Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Quinlan. Leader: Mrs. Franklin Peterson.

Thurs., Oct. 10 (9:30-11:45 a.m.) at the Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus st., Newton Highlands. Chairman: Mrs. Herbert Spatz. Leader: Mrs. Julius Feldman.

Thursday, Oct. 10 (8:00-9:45 p.m.) at the home of Mrs. Melvin Clayton, 265 Upland ave., Newton Highlands. Leader: Mrs. Maynard Slessinger.

Fri., Oct. 11 (9:30-11:45 a.m.) at the Auburndale Congregational Church, 64 Hancock st., Auburndale. Chairman, Mrs. Antranig Der Marderosian. Leader: Mrs. Edward Morrison; co-leader, Mrs. David Dweley. (A baby sitter will be in attendance.)

Mrs. Joseph Appelbaum is chairman of the resource committee on foreign policy. The other members of the committee are Mrs. Samuel Waldstein, vice-chairman,

The ten-year reunion of the Newton High School Class of 1958 will be held on Saturday (Oct. 26) at the Sheraton Motor Inn (formerly the Lexington Motor Inn) off Route 128 in Lexington.

Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 8 p.m. followed by a roast sliced tenderloin of beef dinner, then dancing. Cost is $8 per person, which includes the dinner, reunion yearbook and a memorable favor.

Those planning the reunion point out that this is a chance for each member of the class to renew old friendships and have an enjoyable evening at the same time. No tickets will be sold at the door, so if they are desired, contact Mrs. Mary (Olivieri) Norton at 24 McGue Street, West Newton.

Mrs. Walter Charpentier, Mrs. Lynda Christian, Mrs. Luis Fernandez, Mrs. Stephen Goldfinger, Mrs. Milton Goodman, Mrs. Stanley Richmond, and Mrs. Kay Stein.

Any additional information about the unit meetings may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Charles Ryan, chairman of Discussion Units, at 527-4408.

Group To Discuss Halloween Plans

Plans for hundreds of Halloween parties throughout the city for an estimated 18,000 school children will be discussed at a meeting in the Burr School, Auburndale, at 7:45 p.m. next Monday.

A meeting of the executive committee, chaired by Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester for the 14th year, will kick-off Newton's celebration — the 28th annual Halloween observance.

Those serving on the executive committee with Dr. Sylvester include Mayor Monte G. Basbas, Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney, Robert B. Nickerson, Acting Superintendent of Schools Dr. James Lauritis, Recreation Commission Chairman Mrs. Worthing L. West and Recreation Commission members T. Frank Copp, Joseph Selden and Howard Whitmore, III.

Other members of the Recreation staff serving on the committee which coordinates the planning and execution of the celebration are Mrs. Robert G. Toher, Program Chairman and Supervisors James E. Murphy, William J. Barry and Robert E. Doherty.

The School Committee will be represented by Mrs. Norma Mintz.

School Department personnel on the committee include Henry Atkins, Assistant to the Superintendent and the following school Principals:

Parochial school Principals are Sister Theresa Proulx, St. John, The Evangelist School and Sister Agnes Joseph, St. Bernards School.

Tobert McLaughlin of 69 Waldorf rd., Newton Upper Falls is an honorary member of the executive committee.

The Newton PTA Council will be represented on the committee by its President, Bernard I. Kaplan.

Also serving on the committee are Chief Frederick A. Perkins and Lieutenant Joseph T. Fitzsimmons of the Fire Department, Police Chief William F. Quinn, Gilbert Champagne, Red Cross First Aid; Alex R. Miller, Executive Secretary, Newton YMCA and Charles L. Stenemetz, publicity.

Open House Will Be Held Sunday At College of the Sacred Heart

Located on Centre st., only seven miles from downtown Boston, Newton College is one mile from the Massachusetts Turnpike Extension Exit 17 in Newton Corner, and from the M.T.A. Riverside Line station in Newton Centre.

Open for inspection will be the College's new Kennedy Library and Roger Lowell Putnam Art Center, as well as the administration and classroom building, the faculty-student center, and the six residence halls that currently complete the campus. Still under construction are Newton's $1,500,000 science pavilion and a seventh residence hall.

On hand at the main administration building will be a number of commuting students who will talk about the College's unique scholarship program for non-residents.

This non-competitive program provides any and all the financial aid needed to enable any girl who meets the entrance requirements to attend Newton as a day student. Not all of the College's commuting students receive scholarship help, but those who are recipients under this plan have been awarded a total of more than $60,000 in financial assistance for the 1968-69 academic year.

This remarkable scholarship plan — according to Sister Florence Ashe, R.S.C.J., Newton's director of admissions — gives to the good student, who has acceptable College Board test scores but is not at the top of her class, the opportunity for a first class education.

And a first class education is exactly what Newton offers. Now beginning its 23rd academic year of training young women "to think clearly, to judge kindly, and to face life with intelligence and purpose, Newton has earned and maintained a highly competitive position among the country's finest liberal arts colleges for women.

Believing that a smaller college provides greater opportunity for the students to participate actively in their own education, Newton limits the number of undergraduates to about 800 full-time students.

The present student body represent public, parochial, and private schools in more than half the states of the Union and several foreign countries. More important, Newton and the worldwide Sacred Heart tradition that their Newton education makes them part of.

The ratio of students to faculty — nine to one — provides for the personal influence which is characteristic of the Sacred Heart education. Some 96 faculty members — one-eighth of them Religious of the Sacred Heart — teach, in addition to numerous elective courses, the required courses in theology, philosophy, and the Study of Western Culture. The latter, an intensive two-year course involving a large number of faculty members and guest lecturers, prepares the freshmen and sophomores for concentration in one of 20 major fields of study leading to the bachelor of arts degree.

Sister Gabrielle Husson, R.S.C.J., president of the college since 1956, said recently that Newton provides "a truly liberal education, at a time when it is of the greatest importance that youth be trained to think clearly and to have their judgments tempered by an understanding of our past and a profoundly human and Christian orientation towards the future."

In line with such an orientation, the trustees of Newton College of the Sacred Heart have established the Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholarship, in order "to offer each year the opportunity of a college education to one or more qualified black students."

3 Elected To High Posts In B'nai B'rith

B'nai B'rith this week announced the election of three Newton men to high posts in the Jewish service organization.

Massachusetts Superior Court Judge David A. Rose of Newton Centre, Herbert Skalsky of Waban and Irving B. Matross of Newton Centre were elected to three-year terms on international policy-making bodies at B'nai B'rith's triennial convention here.

Judge Rose of 60 Nathan road will serve on the B'nai B'rith International Council, which coordinates activities for the 500,000-member group's affiliates in 45 countries.

Mr. Skalsky, a certified public accountant residing at 8 Silver Birch road, was elected a national commissioner of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The League, founded in 1913 to combat anti-Semitism, has since grown into one of the nation's leading anti-discrimination, civil rights and human relations agencies.

Mr. Matross, a manufacturer who lives at 155 Truman road, will serve on B'nai B'rith's adult Jewish education commission, which directs the organization's international adult study program on Judaism and Jewish culture, history and religion.

Judge Rose is a past president of B'nai B'rith's New England-New York district and former national vice-chairman of the Anti-Defamation League.

Mr. Skalsky and Mr. Matross have both served as members of the district board of governors and as presidents of B'nai B'rith's Greater Boston Council.

Country Players Will Hold Program Meeting Next Week

The Players started rehearsals last week for their initial production of the season, Agatha Christie's most successful Broadway mystery, "Ten Little Indians." Productions dates are slated for Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 8 and 9, at Meadowbrook Jr. High School. Blocks of tickets are available at reduced rates to sponsors and theatre parties.

Former director of the Priscilla Beach Theatre, Plymouth, for six seasons, Miss Weeks' has also served as executive assistant to drama critic Samuel Hirsch with the Boston Herald Traveler Repertory of Classical Drama.

With a Bachelor of Arts degree from Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y. and a Master of Fine Arts degree from Boston University, Miss Weeks' experience runs the gamut of director, actress, instructor and playwright. She authored three plays, "I Wish You Love," "The Lovemaker" and "A Celebration Of Life," all of which were produced.

Among the plays she has directed during her two years with the Hub Theatre Centre are "A Phoenix Too Frequent," "Hedda Gabler," "Love Rides the Rails," "Spoon River Anthology," "Blithe Spirit," "Oh Dad, Poor Dad," "House of Bernarda Alba" and "Pelican" (original).

She has taught acting and dramatics at Boston University, Priscilla Beach Theatre, Hub Theatre Centre, Pied Piper Workshop and the Luenberg School, Boston.

ROSANN M. WEEKS

include Opal in "Everybody Loves Opal," Amanda in "Glass Menagerie," Jo in "Taste of Honey," Lorelei Lee in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," Martha in "Children's Hour" and Doris in "Owl and the Pussycat."

With the Priscilla Beach Theatre she directed "Virginia Woolf," "Picnic," "Rose Tattoo," "Twin Beds," "Night of the Iguana," "Marat Sade," "Teahouse of the August Moon," "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," "Baby Want a Kiss," "Roomful of Roses," "Dark of the Moon," "Tom Jones," "Pillow Talk," "Bad Seed," "You Can't Take It With You," "Miracle Worker," "Marriage Go Round," "Song of Bernadette," "Shot in the Dark" and "Tunnel of Love."

Resident of the Newton community are invited to attend the program meeting. For information concerning theatre party sponsorship or membership, write P.O. Box 9, Newton Centre, 02159, or phone 869-3993.

Airman Palmer On AF Duty In Vietnam

Airman First Class Dwight E. Palmer, son of Mrs. David G. Palmer of 254 Wistall Road, is on duty at Phan Rang Air Base, Vietnam.

Palmer, an air craft mechanic, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Otis Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

A graduate of Newton South High School, Palmer also attended Newton Junior College.

Auburndale Oil Farm Opposed

A number of Auburndale residents have submitted an application to the members of the Board of Aldermen opposing an application by the Auburndale Lumber Co., for the right to store 240,000 gallons of fuel oil and 10,000 gallons of gasoline at 11 Bennett st.

They claim that the "use of the land for the operation of an oil tank farm would be injurious, obnoxious and offensive to the neighborhood by reason of noise, odor, gas and other similar objectionable features and dangerous to the neighborhood on account of fire and particularly because of the traffic which would be generated."

SERIES FINALS SEEKS GIBSON VS LOLICH

ALL THE MARBLES are on the line for Thursday's climactic World Series game between the National St. Louis Cardinals and the American Detroit Tigers. It will be the formidable Bob Gibson—the only pitcher to win the seventh game of two different world series—against Mickey Lolich in the deciding contest in St. Louis. Like the Boston Red Sox last year, the Tigers roared back to knot the series at 3-all. You could hardly call it a ball game on Wednesday, it was more like a football score as Detroit clobbered the Red Birds 13-1 to even the series. There were so many highlights, but it was Jim Nrothrup's grand slam homer that geared a record-tying 10-run explosion in the third inning. It was a nice win for Denny McLain.

BRIEF RACIAL FLAREUP IN WASHINGTON

ALL LEAVES and days off were cancelled for Washington police on Wednesday after calm was restored in a brief flare-up of violence set off by the shooting of a Negro by a white policeman. The outbreak of window smashing came after a traffic motorcycle officer stopped a Negro for jaywalking. Minor fires were set and windows broken.

SENATE PASSES COMPROMISE GUN LAW

THE SENATE passed a compromise bill Wednesday to outlaw most interstate rifle, shotgun and ammunition sales and prohibit imports of all surplus military firearms. The House expected to approve it shortly and send it to the President to be signed into law.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE INCREASES SLIGHTLY

THE GOVERNMENT reported Wednesday that the national unemployment rate increased slightly in September, mostly because there were fewer job openings. The hardest hit were women. The Labor Department said the unemployment rate was 3.6 per cent of the American working force of 78.8 million persons.

APOLLO COUNTDOWN CONTINUES SMOOTHLY

ONE OF AMERICA'S smoothest countdowns ticked off Wednesday night toward the Friday launch of the three-man Apollo 7. A second space ship was moved to another pad at Cape Kennedy for a possible flight to the Moon. The unprecedented Apollo 7 and Apollo 8 signifies the speedup in the nation's $25 billion drive to get to the moon ahead of Russia.

CHERRY BOMBS EXPLODE IN CHICAGO

A NEGRO-PUERTO RICAN walkout and a rash of fires Wednesday emptied 3,100-student Harrison High School, where youngsters quit classes for three days in a dispute over the teaching of Afro-American and Latin-American history courses. Police cleared the building after two cherry bombs and a stink bomb exploded and at least eight fires sent smoke wafting through the hallways and classrooms.

U.S. JETS GO TO ISRAEL

PRESIDENT JOHNSON after long delay announced Wednesday the United States will begin negotiations with Israel on selling it advanced supersonic jets. Johnson made the disclosure in a White House statement as he signed a $1.9 billion foreign aid bill, sharply reduced from his original request for $2.9 billion.

HOUSE PASSES TV DEBATE BILL

HOUSE DEMOCRATS forced passages Wednesday of legislation that could set up televised debates by major presidential candidates after cracking an all-night Republican filibuster with extraordinary lookup tactics. Only after 27 hours and 45 roll calls was the House able to approve the measure 280 to 35. In the end, the bill got substantial support from Republicans who claimed all along they opposed it.

HUMPHREY USES BULLHORN TO TALK IN BOSTON

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert H. Humphrey used a bullhorn in Boston Wednesday to outpour a crush of students and he pledged "the first priority" of his administration would be to end the war in Vietnam. He promised that as president he would maintain a highly trained National Guard riot control unit on continual alert to help quell domestic violence.

ROOF COLLAPSES IN SOMERVILLE FIRE

A GENERAL ALARM fire Wednesday heavily damaged a four story brick warehouse which contained some $20 million worth of meats, nuts and other merchandise. All fire fighters were evacuated when the roof collapsed and the walls threatened to cave in.

R.I. CIGARETTE TAX FALLS BELOW EXPECTATIONS

THE FIVE CENT per pack increase in tobacco taxes in Rhode Island, aimed at raising more revenue seems to be failing. State Administration Director Frederick C. Lees said Wednesday that revenues from cigarettes—the tax jumped from eight to 13 cents a pack—fell $226,000 below estimates.

U.S. MARINES BEAT OFF CONG ATTACK

U.S. MARINES guarding approaches to the Thuong Due Green Beret camp Wednesday hurled back an assault by hundreds of North Vietnamese troops who remained in the area despite almost constant pounding by allied artillery and planes, including B52 bombers. Red gunners shot down one of the many attacking U.S. jets, an F4 Phantom, and its two crewmen were killed. In Saigon, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu put government troops on a full special alert, and a government source said a coup attempt against Thieu's regime had been thwarted.

GRENADE EXPLODES AS ISRAELIS PRAY

IN THE GROTO of Hebron, Israel, a hand grenade exploded Wednesday among Israelis at prayer, wounding at least 39 persons. The grenade exploded in the cave of Maceplah where the Old Testament says Abraham was buried with his wife, Sarah. Prayers were being said by men, women and children during a service commemorating Succoth, the Jewish Feast of the Tabernacles.

RED COSMONAUTS HAVE NEW LITTLE FLIER

SOVIET COSMONAUT Pavel Popovich and his testpilot wife Marina, became parents on Wednesday of a seven pound daughter. Popovich spent 71 hours orbiting the Earth in August, 1962.

TWO JETS CRASH IN WEST GERMANY

TWO STARFIGHTER jets crashed Wednesday near Bonn, West Germany. The crashes raised the number of U.S.-built F104 jet fighters lost by the West German Air Force to 90.

$15M High School Must Be New Construction

By SHIRLEY GOLDWIN

For the second time Newton city fathers have approved all new construction for the proposed $12 to $15.4 million new Newton High School.

On Monday night the Board of Aldermen voted 21 to 1, with Alderman Winslow C. Auryansen casting the lone dissenting vote, to deny a motion to rescind a board order calling for all new construction for the proposed new school.

In effect, this action gave the go-ahead signal to the Mayor and the architects to proceed with plans for an all new 2,500 student facility.

Cost estimates for the new school presently range from $12 to $15.4 million. The Aldermen have placed a $15.4 million ceiling price on the construction, but Mayor Monte G. Basbas has declared that he will try to see that the costs are kept below $12 million.

The Aldermen in August had approved all new construction rather than any renovation for the planned new Newtonville complex. They maintained that position Monday night.

However, when a report from the Newton Taxpayers' Association called for a re-study based on recently passed state legislation which allows state financial assistance for renovation projects, a motion was made two weeks ago and tabled that the board order supporting all new construction be rescinded.

The motion, made by Alderman Edward C. Uehlein, also asked that the entire matter be sent back to committee for further study.

The architects, Perry, Dean and Stewart, were requested to study the new legislation and to make a new recommendation.

The report to Mayor

Basbas, revealed Monday night, reaffirmed their previous recommendation for all new construction.

The reasons they cited were:

1. The law in question is not clearly written.
2. The interpretation by the School Building Assistance Commission has not yet been made.
3. Implementation must await a new capital outlay.
4. Criteria will be strict and expensive.

Students From 15 Nations Hosted Here Over Weekend

Foreign students currently studying at universities in the Boston area were guests of over 20 Newton families during the past weekend.

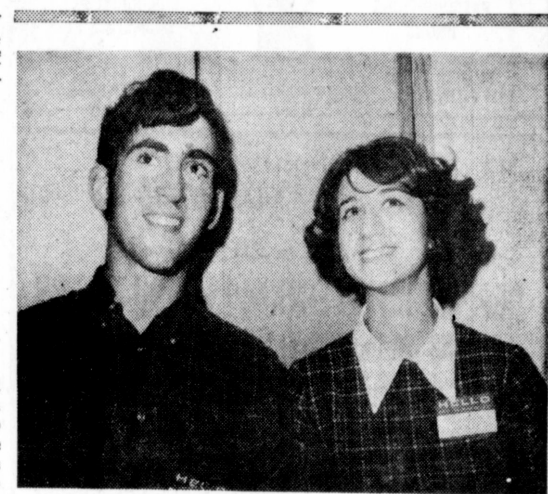

It was the fourth annual International Student Weekend sponsored by the Newton Community Peace Center, a non-profit educational organization whose aim is to alert the community to the work, programs and activities of other groups working toward world peace and international understanding.

The purpose of the weekend was to give the foreign students an opportunity to know American people outside of the school environment, as well as to accord the American families a chance to learn about other people and customs and to discover more about themselves.

On Saturday, the activities of each family and guests ranged from visiting the gem exhibit at the Science Museum to driving to Cape Cod, ordinary sight-seeing or just sitting around getting to know each other.

The highlight of the weekend was a square dance held Saturday night at the Meadowbrook Junior High School attended by many of the guests and their hosts, as well as some of American Field Service families, such as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shor, of Chestnut Hill, with their Chilean student Eduardo Messina.

GOP Claim Election Methods Sub Par

A surprising claim was made this week by a Republican observer that the operating methods currently used by Newton in counting election votes fail "to meet the minimum standards for a controlled procedure as would be defined by members of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants."

That assertion was made by Joseph I. Weinrebe, who represented the Republican party as an observer when Newton's punch-card votes were tallied on primary night last month (Sept. 17).

Aldermen Ask Information Aid On Buying Bids

A resolution offered by Alderman Sidney T. Small asking that Newton city department heads cooperate with aldermen in furnishing information was referred to the Public Works Committee by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night.

Small claimed that Purchasing Department head Harold Pillsbury did not cooperate with him when he requested information concerning motor trucks ordered by the city of Newton this year.

He said Pillsbury told him he had given the information to the chairman of the ALDERMEN—(See Page 6) at the Boston College Computer Center.

Weinrebe made his observation in a letter to Chairman William Lincoln of the Newton Republican City Committee which was made public by Lincoln.

It was followed immediately by a statement by 14 Newton residents in which they said:

"We, the undersigned, wish to draw to your attention the possibility of undetected errors occurring in the Newton election as has been set forth in the enclosed letter. We suggest immediate action be taken before the November elections, to assure that the election results will be correctly tabulated."

Those joining in the statement were Robert ELECTION—(See Page 35)

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Nixon Got Into Politics By Answering Newspaper Ad

Shortly after World War II, the members of a Republican committee in a section of California were seeking a candidate who might have a chance of defeating a strongly entrenched Democratic Congressman they were anxious to unseat.

None of the would-be GOP contenders for the office met their qualifications and specifications. They felt it would have been an exercise in political futility — a waste of time, money and energy — to have supported any one of them.

The committee members agreed that a political hack would have no chance whatever of toppling the Democratic Congressman. They needed an outstanding candidate they could sell in order to have any prospect of winning. They had been unable to find one.

So they advertised in the newspapers for a candidate they could back for Congress.

Each of the politically hopeful and ambitious young men and women who answered the advertisement was interviewed at great length.

6. Alternative A will exceed D in cost to taxpayers by only $375,500.

7. This potential savings will be eaten up by additional maintenance in six years, 9 months.

8. After 1975, alternative D will cost almost $50,000 a year more to maintain.

9. If we wait to resolve this question, we may lose as much as $750,000 and delay the project one year.

The Newton P.T.A. Council last week also voted to back all new construction following a study by the organization's School Building Committee.

At Monday night's aldermanic session Public Buildings Committee Chairman Ernest F. Dietz reported that his committee recommended all new construction 6-0. He reported that was also Mayor Monte G. Basbas's recommendation.

Alderman Hopkins said the figures in the architect's report are questionable based on the city's previous experience with school construction. He expressed the opinion that the matter needed more study.

Hopkins also argued that the present period of economic inflation is not the best time to authorize the expenditure of such large sums of money. After speaking against the measure, Hopkins voted for it.

PTA Council Urges New HS Construction

The Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations last week reaffirmed its support for all new construction of Newton high school.

Although the Board of Aldermen approved all new construction, members had second thoughts after the Newton Taxpayers Assoc. brought to their attention a new state law that provides 40 per cent state aid for renovation as well as new construction.

The PTA Council acted after hearing and discussing its building committee's report, presented by Dr. Gilbert Friedell.

Dr. Friedell pointed out that the state "will reimburse only up to one-third of the amount paid for construction in the previous year."

"Guidelines for implementation of this law are currently being drawn up by the School Building Assistance Comm., so that there would be additional delay before new plans could be made."

The building committee report said "financial concerns are important, but to

Poor Judgment

Major-General Charles P. Stone insists that his action in sending two soldiers under his command into the Vietnam combat area because they failed to salute was not "capricious."

General Stone, who likes to think of himself as a tough and stern disciplinarian, uses far too mild a term to defend himself.

Not only was he capricious, but his judgment was such as to cause one to question whether the lives of 18,000 men should be trusted to his command.

It's one thing to discipline fighting men so they will be better able to protect themselves and their lives.

But it's something else again to send them into a combat area as punishment for any offence, whether trivial or serious.

That downgrades the role of front-line combat troops who may be serving with great valor and at serious risk to themselves.

They're fighting for their country, not serving out a punishment. General Stone's idea of proper punishment for failing to salute can hardly improve their morale.

General Stone's action smacks too much of the Nazi general in the movies who would threaten a soldier with assignment to the eastern front.

High military officials might well review the case of General Stone himself to determine whether he should be left in command of thousands of men. A synonym of capricious is erratic, and General Stone certainly has been guilty of erratic behavior, to say nothing of failing to display the solid judgment which would be expected from him.

The Buckeye Zippys

There is now a new group of young people with a name to go along with the Hippies and the Yippies who presently clutter up the streets and public places of our cities. The new group is known as the Zippys—and blessing and peace be upon them.

The Zippys stand for "zealous in promoting patriotic youth" and we say more power to them. The zippys are not protesting, they're advocating. They are for education, good government, hair cuts, bathing, discipline, parents, teachers, religion and love of God and country.

The movement began in Columbus, Ohio, when 140 members of the West High School band compared the strict military precision discipline under which they operate, with the careless and irresponsible attitudes of some young people who receive publicity because they protest.

The members of the band felt so deeply about the situation that they took the oath of a Zippy, which was administered by William O'Neill, a justice of the Ohio Supreme Court and a former governor of the state.

The band will go to Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 1 to march in the annual Rose Bowl parade. They will be Ohio's only representative in the annual extravaganza.

The Buckeye State couldn't have any finer representation.

Political Highlights

After long discussion and careful deliberation, the GOP committee members finally chose an intense young naval veteran as the candidate they would back for Congress. His name was Richard M. Nixon.

In such a manner was born the political career of the man who is now the Republican party's Presidential standard-bearer.

The rise in politics of the candidate picked from the applicants who replied to a newspaper advertisement was so meteoric as to be astonishing.

He more than fulfilled the hopes of the committee which had tabbed him for political greatness. In a period of just a few years he was elected, successively, as Congressman, U.S. Senator and Vice President of the United States.

Today he stands as the most likely to be the next President. The highest elective office in the world, which eluded him eight years ago, is now almost within his grasp.

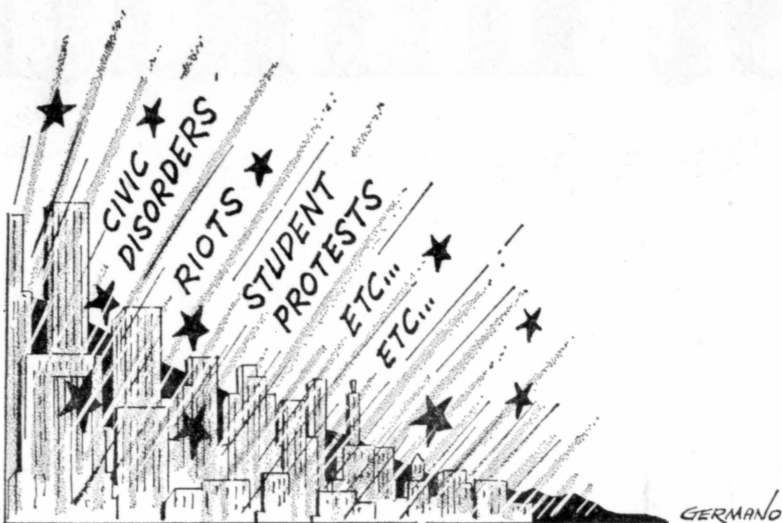

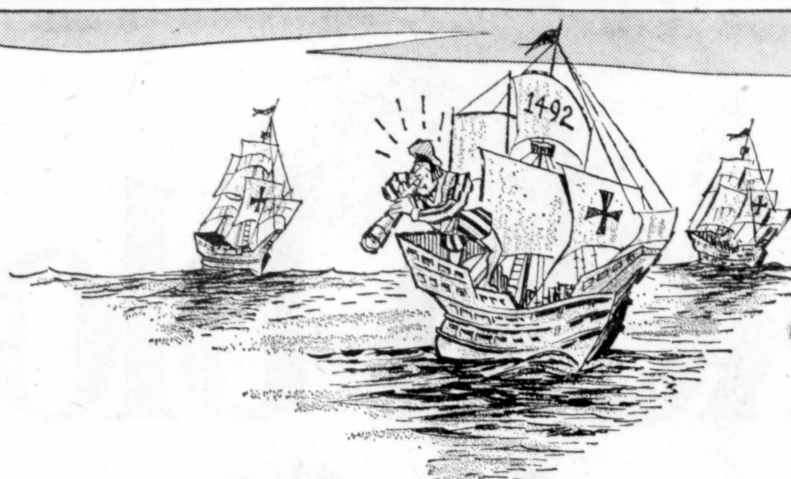

Newsmen covering the 1952 Republican national convention at Chicago were surprised when Richard M. Nixon was tapped as the Vice Presidential running mate of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Nixon, then a U.S. Senator, was a member of the delegation which came half way across the continent to represent California at that '52 conclave.

Earl Warren, then Governor of California and now chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, headed the Golden State contingent and was its favorite son candidate for President.

He had hopes that a deadlock between Dwight

REDISCOVERING AMERICA IN '68

Eisenhower and Robert Taft might open the way for him to pick up the nomination for President or that he might be chosen for the Vice Presidential spot if Eisenhower was nominated on an early ballot.

Political observers considered Warren's favorite son candidacy unrealistic. He had been something of a flop as a Vice Presidential candidate four years earlier and had failed to carry his home state of California.

Warren had been an extremely gracious loser, but the hungry Republicans weren't looking for gracious losers in 1952.

Mr. Eisenhower captured the Presidential nomination on the first ballot, and the GOP politicians running the Ike steamroller immediately picked Nixon as his ticket mate.

Warren felt that Nixon had pulled the rug from under him and had worked for Ike in the California delegation without his knowledge.

Unsympathetic newspaper reporters expressed the opinion at the time that if Warren had been even half-awake he would have known what was going on in his own delegation.

Whatever happened, Warren has never forgiven Nixon, and relations between the two men have been chilly for 16 years.

That has resulted in some conjecture as to what will happen if President Johnson does not succeed in gaining Senate approval of a new Supreme Court chief justice and Nixon is the next President.

Warren's feeling against Nixon presumably prompted him to submit his resignation to Mr. Johnson.

Richard Nixon has been and is a rather reserved, reticent individual who, when he is in deep thought, sometimes forgets to smile while he is campaigning.

Even though he is considered an outstanding campaigner, possibly the best in the United States, Nixon does not make friends easily.

But when he does make friendships, they are usually lasting ones.

At the end of World War II Nixon and a young man from Greater Boston named Gerhard Bleicken were working together in the Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington.

One had been in the Pacific theatre of operations and the other in the Atlantic when the war was at its height.

But as the fighting subsided and the war drew to a close they were shifted to the Bureau of Aeronautics where they worked together for almost a year.

Even then Nixon thought in terms of public service. The two were lawyers, and before he entered the service Bleicken was starting up the ladder of the John Hancock Insurance Company.

Today Bleicken is the senior executive vice president of the Hancock and one of Boston's busiest executives.

But he isn't too busy to do a stint for his old navy friend, Richard Nixon.

Bleicken is the chairman of a committee which will stage a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for Nixon at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel on the night of Oct. 22.

Nixon himself makes it a point not to attend his own fund-raising dinners, but Maryland Governor Spiro Agnew, GOP nominee for Vice President, will be the principal speaker at the affair Bleicken is planning.

Tickets for the event probably will be scarce. Those desiring them should drop Bleicken a note at the John Hancock Building.

Newton Names Eight To GOP Finance Group

Chairman William A. Lincoln of the Newton Republican City Committee last night announced the appointment of several well known Newton residents to the organization's Special Finance Committee.

Appointees are Ernest C. Angevine, Edward A. Careddis, William B. Dockser, Charles F. Dwyer, Richard H. Lovell, Julius L. Masow, Stanley Mamer, and John P. Nixon.

The Special Finance Committee will augment the work of the standing committee headed by William B. Dockser which is now conducting its successful "Loyalty Campaign" within the city committee's membership.

The funds raised by the Special Committee will go for election activities and for maintenance of the GOP election headquarters in Newton, Lincoln explained.

Graphic Editor Will Address Temple Beth Avodah Sisterhood

James G. Colbert, news director and political columnist of the Newton Graphic, will be the principal speaker at the opening fall meeting of the Sisterhood of the Temple Beth Avodah to be held on Wednesday night of next week (Oct. 16) at the temple on Puddingstone lane.

He will speak on "Politics — 1968."

A graduate of Boston Latin School and Harvard College, Mr. Colbert was associated with the Boston Post before joining the Transcript Press which publishes the Newton Graphic and seven other suburban weekly newspapers.

He was, successively, Harvard correspondent, staff reporter, City Hall reporter, State House reporter, political columnist and political editor for the Post, covered several national conventions and Presidential campaigns and was one of the few political writers in the country to forecast the election of former President Truman 20 years ago.

New members of the Sisterhood will be received by the officers and board members during a champagne hour which will begin at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Jason Tonkonogy, president, will preside at a short business meeting. A report also will be made on plans and preparations for the Antique Show to be held at the temple on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 27 and 28. Mrs. Stanley Selih, program chairman, will introduce Mr. Colbert. A question-and-answer period will follow the talk during which the Graphic writer will answer queries from the audience.

JAMES G. COLBERT

Refreshments will be served after Mr. Colbert concludes his talk.

Officers of the Sisterhood for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Jason Tonkonogy; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Alan Fain, Mrs. Colman Goldberg and Mrs. Robert Maltz; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Philip Shapiro; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Carlton Ranan; Social Secretary, Mrs. Melvin Fisher; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Maurice Rubens and Treasurer, Mrs. Chas. Rudnick, all of the Newtons.

aldermanic Public Works Committee and "I should get my information from him."

In a prepared press release Small said "There is no desire on the part of the mayor, or his department head, to comply with Massachusetts Law Chapter 41, Section 103, which states all information except public welfare, or assistance records shall be available to any citizen. This practice must be stopped. Our city government is not a private club, we are a public institution, working for, and with the people of Newton."

"Everything our city government and its employees do, should be with the public interest in its main concern. Such interest is not carried out when a department head refuses information to a member of the Board of Aldermen or any citizen of this community," he continued.

Legislation and Rules Committee Chairman Melvin J. Dangel replied Monday night that city records are open to public inspection but that department heads are too busy to prepare reports for individuals. "They couldn't possibly handle it," he said.

Under the city charter the Board of Aldermen, he declared, works through committees. It has always been a practice for reports to be requested by and prepared for chairmen of committees. Dangel stated. Department heads are often requested to come to committee meetings to explain matters and to answer questions from committee members.

Dangel also pointed to parts of the city charter which explain the division of the branches of local government.

Administration is vested in the executive branch, he asserted and the charter says that the legislative and executive branches should not attempt to usurp the other's functions.

Also in the charter, Dangel said, it states that at the request of the Board of Aldermen an administrator shall appear and answer questions.

Alderman Robert Tennant expressed the opinion that a matter involving an individual should not be discussed without that individual being present.

When queried about the matter Mayor Basbas said all the information is a matter of public record. Bids are advertised and the results are made public, he declared. Department heads could be ded to Newton's voting rolls on last Saturday. The deadline for registering as a voter was 10 p.m. last Saturday night.

The election department offices were kept open to accommodate those who were waiting in line to register at that time.

The heavy registration since the primary and the big last-minute rush on Saturday is considered to reflect a high public interest in the coming election.

However, political analysts are not yet prepared to forecast whether this will help the Democrats or the Republicans in Newton.

The voting list is not quite as big as in the last two Presidential contests.

Four years ago, when President Johnson was elected, there were 50,365 registered voters in Newton, 207 more than at present.

In 1960, when the late John F. Kennedy was standing for the Presidency, Newton had 51,702 enrolled voters, an all-time record high.

He could have obtained it from him." tied up endlessly in preparing reports for individuals. "The report Alderman Small sought was prepared for and in the hands of the Chairman of the Public Works Committee and he could have obtained it from him."

The average citizen is not the only one who sometimes feels frustrated by the lengthy procedures of Argentine bureaucracy.

President Juan Carlos Onganía recently decreed that officials who don't bring him reports he requests within 24 hours will be fired.

MRS. RONALD EMERY GUIMOND

First Baptist Church Scene Of Guimond-Hale Wedding

At a recent six o'clock evening service at the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, Miss Julia Vivienne Hale and Ronald Emery Guimond were married.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pierce Hale of 50 Westminster road, Newton Centre. The groom is the son of Mrs. Agnes Guimond of Nashua, N.H.

The Rev. Harold Malmberg was the officiating clergyman. A reception followed at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

Given away by Mr. Russell Pierce Hale, the bride wore white Alencon lace A-line skirted gown appliqued on English net and peau de soie entraine. The molded bodice had a wedding ring collar and long lace sleeves.

A becoming headpiece was fastened with a cathedral length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of French white roses.

Miss Phyllis Bower of West Hartford, Ct., was honor maid. Her light blue A-line gown was trimmed with lace. She carried a nosegay of pink Elegance carnations with baby's breath.

Identically attired, the other attendant was Miss Joan Young of Newton Centre.

Richard Guimond of Nashua, N.H., served as best man for his brother. Ushering were Russell Peterson Hale of Dorchester, brother of the bride, and Ralph Guimond of Nashua, N.H., cousin of the groom.

Auburndale Club Opposes Oil Farm

The Auburndale Women's Club has issued a strong protest against an oil storage facility proposed for their part of the city.

In a letter to Alderman Harry L. Walen, chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee, club president Mrs. James I. Glaser said:

"The executive board of the Auburndale Women's Club unanimously voted to protest the issuance of a license to Mr. Victor A. Nicolazzo for a fuel dump on the present property of the Auburndale Lumber Company."

Nicolazzo, head of the Bigelow Oil Co. in Newton Highlands, has requested a license for an underground fuel storage facility to be located on the present site of Auburndale Lumber. When the request came before the Board of Aldermen on Sept. 17, it caused considerable controversy. Two fire experts clashed over the relative safety of the proposal, and several Auburndale residents spoke against it. The Aldermen ordered further study of the matter.

Mrs. Glaser's letter concluded:

"We fear the fire hazard, the hundreds of noisy trucks and dangerous traffic congestion. This fuel dump should be set up outside this very congested area. We urge that the request for a license be rejected."

Teacher's Ass'n To Meet Tues.

Newton Chorale Opens Season

The Newton Chorale opened its 1968-69 season with a program for the Temple Beth El Asereth Israel Sisterhood last Thursday (Oct. 3). They entertained the Women's Auxiliary of the Maimonides School in Brookline yesterday (Oct. 9).

The Recuperative Center in Roslindale will hear them next Tuesday (Oct. 15) in a program of Yiddish, Hebrew, Israeli and show tunes.

This dedicated group of women is under the able direction of Mrs. Hans Seligman, who has been the organist and choir director of Temple Beth-El in Lynn for many years.

A Scholarship fund has been established for an Israeli child to further his musical studies. Mrs. Ralph E. Dephous is Accompanist for the group. Soloists are: Mrs. Jack Cohen, Frank Green, William Green, Theodore Nissen and Joseph Zalcman.

Readers are: Mrs. Frank Green and Bea Paipert. Other members of the group include Mrs. Milton Banner, Sidney Cahan, Irving Derdak, Benjamin Fastov, Myer Gootkin, Tillie Marcus Lotow, Benjamin Waldman, Bernard Thal, Henry Weisgold, Sidney Yoffee, and Joseph Zalcman.

NH Woman's Club Meets Wednesday

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will open their fall season with a meeting at the Workshop on Columbus St. next Wednesday (Oct. 16). A dessert and social hour will begin at 1 p.m. followed by a business meeting at 1:45 and a program immediately after.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Harold D. Hockridge, assisted by Mrs. James R. Doherty, Mrs. John J. Ellsworth, Mrs. Carroll H. Smyth and Mrs. Bernard N. White.

The afternoon program will be given by Mrs. Clara V. Cotta, Astrologer, and a member of the American Federation of Astrologers, who will inform as well as entertain us with a Lecture entitled "Your Astrological Sign and You". In the Art Corner will be displayed current political cartoons arranged by Mrs. Max Ulin and Mrs. Joseph Moulton.

MRS. DAVID ALLEN ZARLING

European Trip Followed Zarling - Mintzer Bridal

On the rocks by the seaside at the New Ocean House in Swampscott, recently, Miss Joyce Ellen Mintzer became the bride of David Allen Zarling.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Delfs Mintzer of Delmar, N.Y., and Mr. Bernard Mintzer of Troy, N.Y. Mr. Zarling is the son of Mrs. Robert L. Green of West Newton and the late Mr. Harold Zarling.

Rabbi Julius Gutman of Troy, N.Y., and the Rev. Alex Zimmer of Newton officiated. A reception followed at the Oval Room at the hotel.

The bride wore an empire gown made with a high neckline and long sleeves to match her becoming headpiece. She carried a cascade of orchids.

Miss Laura Mintzer of Troy, N.Y., was her sister's honor maid.

The best man was Geoffrey Muther of Newton Centre. The ushers included Aaron Sandler of Essexville, Mich., and Dr. Eugene Sandler, both of Marblehead and uncles of the groom.

When the Zarlings return from a trip to Europe they will live in Hanover, N.H.

The bride attended Emma Willard School, Troy, N.Y., and was graduated from the University of Vermont. She is now studying for her doctorate in Neurophysiology at Dartmouth College.

Mr. Zarling is a graduate of Newton High School and the University of Vermont. On a teaching fellowship, he is working for his doctorate at the Dartmouth College Biology Department. (photo by Alan Lee)

Extinction

DES MOINES (UPI) — The timber wolf is now extinct in Iowa, the State Conservation Commission says.

The "wolf" that is occasionally spotted usually turns out to be a coyote.

The Gourmet Adventures of

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

No one seems to know how the name of Lady Curzon came to be identified with a turtle soup. This soup is quite popular on the European continent. For example in Austria, particularly Vienna, the soup is offered by many fine restaurants. Holland's restaurants also know Lady Curzon soup, as do some establishments in Switzerland. If French restaurants are acquainted with it they prefer to ignore it and in the United States few people even seem to have heard of it. Basically, Lady Curzon soup is made with clear turtle consommé, but it is sometimes prepared with clam broth, mussel broth or oxtail soup. It is always served in thimble-sized cups. And it is always received with a great deal of enthusiasm!

Italo-American GOP Club Holds Membership Drive

The Italian-American Republican Club of Newton will launch a membership drive on Nov. 1, according to Club President Anthony Tambascio.

"We hope to enlist 100 new members by next Feb. 1," he commented. "We feel that we've made a significant impact on public opinion and we anticipate a very warm response to this recruitment effort."

The Club's newly formed membership committee will be headed by Executive Committee member Ed Nardone who is in the process of developing a membership campaign plan.

The Italian-American Republican Club was founded six months ago when the Republican State Committee set a precedent by chartering the first ethnic political club in Massachusetts' Republican Party history.

Recently, the Club sponsored its first annual banquet, an affair attended by more than 300 persons, including Attorney General Elliot Richardson, Suffolk County Sheriff John Sears, Newton Mayor Monte G. Basbas and a score of other political notables.

The Club's purpose is to promote Republican candidates and the Republican philosophy in the Italian-American neighborhoods of Newton. It has already made notable headway in the membership recruitment area.

Tambascio explained his motives for launching the drive at a recent Club gathering. In his view, there will be a tendency for political interest to diminish in the period immediately after the Presidential elections. Under the circumstances, he feels the Club should make a special effort to not only sustain interest, but to intensify it.

Warren, Mrs. Eliot Keyes and Anthony Bibbo and Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Mann.

Building Chairmen for Parochial schools are St. Jean's, Sister Therese Proulx and St. Bernard's, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gosselyn.

Montpelier, Vt. — Although the sap of all maples contains sugar, it is the sugar maple that is tapped commercially and is the basis for the maple sugar-syrup industry.

Manager Young Men's Dept. At Milton's

Hy Lockhart will be the manager of the young men's "Key Club" Department at the brand new Milton's of Chestnut Hill, Route 9, according to Milton Katz, executive vice president.

Lockhart brings a unique and varied experience to his new responsibility which will be of great benefit to his young customers. Experienced in communicating with the young, modern, fashion-wise people of the "now" generation, Lockhart talks the language of today's styling and apparel preference for young men.

Lockhart has been a musician, a band leader and a sales representative for the Polaroid Company. He studied at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston University and the Schilling House School of Arranging and Composition.

He makes his home at 5 Bound Brook road, Newton Highlands, with his wife, Bernice, and they are the parents of five children, Edward, Yvette, Kenneth, Jeffrey and Beverly.

and Julian D. Steele, deputy commissioner of the Division of Urban Renewal in the Massachusetts Department of Commerce and Development.

The project is expected to cost $126,000 with the city and states sharing the cost equally. It will be used to prepare the area for commercial development and to provide 10 single-family housing sites.

The $126,000 will be used to provide access roads to the area and extend sewerage and water mains.

In a statement, issued from the office of Executive Director of the Newton Redevelopment Authority, Kenneth H. Salk, the NRA said:

"The City of Newton in its continuing effort to improve the city's urban environment has taken another positive step in converting an undeveloped area into a development of real economic and taxable value to the city.

"The area is located in the Lower Falls Village off Rte. 128 and Rte. 16 and encompasses about 11 acres. A portion will be developed for 10 single family dwellings on 10,000 square foot lots."

The NRA emphasized "it is important to note that the sale of these lots will be restricted to site occupants who are to be displaced by governmental action with first preference to those to be displaced in the Federally-aided portion of the Newton Lower Falls Project."

The major portion of the project area will be disposed of for office research facilities.

The venture is one of the first of its kind in the state.

The Commonwealth is providing financial assistance to communities in eliminating open blighted areas when they do not qualify for Federal financial assistance, for the purpose of converting them into an adequate place for employment which will be beneficial to the Commonwealth and the community.

Although other communities have such projects in the planning stage, Newton is the first in the state to sign a contract with the Commonwealth in preparation for actual work to begin.

Have you ever thought of God as Life?

Or Principle, or Mind, or Soul, or Truth?

These are some of the synonyms that Christian Science uses to define God. Each of them helps the individual to know God better.

The name Life, for example, shows that God is not a far-off abstract deity, but is the very source of our life. He is that close to each one of us.

If you are searching for better ideas about God, and how you may know Him better, you will enjoy reading the current Bible Lessons in our Reading Room.

They are full of inspiring ideas.

PTA Council Backs Leash Law In City

A resolution in support of a strictly enforced leash law was passed by the Newton PTA Council at its meeting last week.

The measure called for strict enforcement of the present law until December of this year, then a stronger leash law, if necessary.

Another resolution passed by the group called for strict enforcement regarding snow removal from sidewalks. The group also urged strict enforcement of the ordinance dealing with cars parked on sidewalks so as to impede snow removal.

Exposition Gains

MONTREAL (UPI)—Man and His World, successor to Montreal's Expo 67, recently welcomed the 8 millionth visitor since it opened last May 17. Attendance has climbed steadily from a weekly average of about 440,000 during May and June to a 660,000 average in July and August. The exposition will close Oct. 14 but the city already is planning to reopen it in 1969. The long-range program is to develop "Man" into a permanent entertainment and cultural enterprise.

Dr. Lettvin To Address BBN's Meeting Oct. 20

Dr. Jerome V. Lettvin, Professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be the guest speaker at the 21st annual meeting of the Jewish Community of Brookline-Brighton-Newton, Sunday, Oct. 20. Attorney Frank Silver of Newton will preside as chairman of the meetings.

The program will open at 7 p.m. at the Slosberg

Auditorium, 50 Sunderland road, Brookline, with a sherry hour and an exhibit display. In the business meeting reports of officers will be presented for the past year and the election of new officers will be held.

"We are pleased," said B.B.N. President Harry Olins, to present a man of Dr. Lettvin's stature as our principal speaker. His topic, "Responsibility of the Jew as an American," is of vital importance to all of us involved in community services today."

Dr. Lettvin is a professor in biology and electrical engineering. He holds B.S. and M.D. degrees from the University of Illinois and certification in the American Board of Psychiatricists as well as membership in the American Psychological Society.

The B.B.N. Center is one of six affiliated with the Associated Jewish Community Centers — Greater Boston, a constituent agency of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies.

Helen Patterson NEEDS YOU in Newton

"On November 5, you will be voting for a State Senator to represent you and your community on Beacon Hill.

"It is your opportunity to vote for a candidate who CAN represent you — who knows how you feel about the need for first-rate education, better care for the elderly and the emotionally disturbed, reformed auto insurance, and the other problems that concern a suburban family.

"After 12 years service to town and state organizations, I believe I know these problems. And I want the opportunity to convince you that I do, because I need your help.

"If YOU are concerned about these problems — and the kind of government that Newton will get in the next session of the Massachusetts Senate — please call us at 969-3500 or 3501.

"We'll invite you to the next volunteer meeting, where I'll answer any questions you want to ask. "Then, if you're satisfied that I can do this vital job for the suburbs, I'll ask more than your vote — I'll ask for your help in my campaign.

Patterson for SENATOR

"Please call — right now. This month is your last chance to effect the kind of government you'll have to live with for the next two years."

BRA's Hale Champion Will Speak At Chamber's Achievement Dinner

Hale Champion, Development Administrator of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, will be the principal speaker at the Newton Chamber of Commerce's 10th Annual Achievement Dinner at Sidney Hill Country Club on Oct. 22.

"Champion, a native of Coldwater, Mich., graduated from Michigan schools and received his B.A. degree from Stanford University and served in the U.S. Army during World War II. His career includes achievements in journalism, politics and governmental administration. As a journalist, he worked for the United Press, the Milwaukee Journal, Sacramento Bee, San Francisco Chronicle and wrote for The Reporter and other magazines. He was a Nieman Fellow at Harvard in 1956-57.

Prior to being named Director of Finance for the State of California in 1961, he had served as press secretary, executive secretary and principal advisor to Governor Edmund G. Brown.

During his six years as state finance director he had overall supervision of management and personnel, as well as fiscal matters and was chairman of the State Public Works Board and the State Lands Commission.

Mr. Champion has also served as consultant or member for a number of federal task forces and national organizations, specializing in problems of governmental organization and inter-governmental relations.

In January 1967 he was named as a Fellow of the Institute of Politics at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. He was named to succeed Edward Logue last January.

Married to the former Marie Tift of Westfield, N.J., he and his wife and two children (Thomas, 13 and Katherine, 4) reside in Boston.

Mr. Champion joins a distinguished list of speakers who have addressed the Chamber's Achievement Dinner, including David Brickman, Admiral William Raborn, Admiral Charles Stark Draper, General Alfred Greunther, Dr. Werner von Braun, Hon. Gerald Ford, Erwin D. Canham and Hon. Leverett Saltonstall.

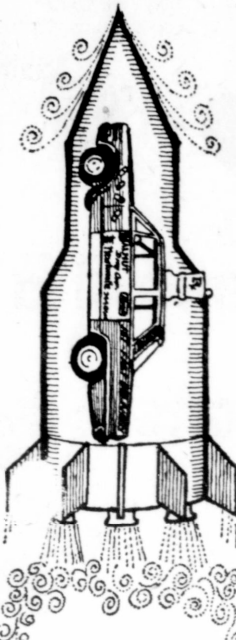

Recipient of the 1968 Achievement Award, given to one closely identified with Newton who has distinguished himself in business or professional life, will be Joseph E. Cronin of Newton Centre, President of the American Baseball League.

Tickets to the dinner are available at the Chamber office or through committee members headed by Kevin F. Hughes, Chamber president.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pan American World Airways has inaugurated nonstop service between the United States and Morocco with weekly flights between New York and Rabat. This supplements Pan Am's weekly flights between the two cities via Lisbon.

The new flight will extend beyond Rabat to Lagos, Nigeria, Kinshasa, Republic of the Congo (stop subject to government approval) and Johannesburg, South Africa.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JAMES SHULMAN

After finally organizing the schedules and classes at Newton South High School, the individual grades have begun to roll with the aims of greater unity and spirit throughout the school.

The leader of the classes at South feel the students are in store for an unbelievably successful and enjoyable year.

The Associates Council, which sponsored the kickoff dance, feels the great accomplishment of that affair is a guiding signal for what's to come — bigger and better things.

The dance offered something for everybody, and no one felt left out. The Council wants to make each individual a major part of Newton South's activities, not just part of their little identifiable group.

The associates council's major plan for the year is to alter the atmosphere and physical appearance of Newton South High. Beginning with the Halloween dance, the unity of the school will play an important part in the production of the dance.

The houses and classes will be contributing to the project making most everyone in the school responsible for the dance. This hopefully will spark the students to feel closer to the school.

There have been and will be a number of pep rallies supporting the various athletic teams throughout the school. During the lunch blocks the cheer leaders have performed and there might be music to eat by at lunch time.

Already some of the physical appearances have been noted in the halls such as the some of the newly designed walls in the Cutler house commons room and the wall in the Goodwin house corridor. There are also, posters and mobiles, with much more to follow.

Associates council president Cliff Greene hopes new faces join in the activities along with the old ones. He wants full support in fund raising drives for the Peace Corps and the orphan.

The objective is for the students to feel they belong to the school, not that they just come and go, and are relieved when the 3 o'clock bell sounds.

Senior class president Steve Bahn recently predicted the year of '69 will be a "different year," with many new ideas and activities.

Senior Supper plans are just being started, but already new forms of entertainment and overall ideas for the evening have been tossed in as suggestions, with nothing definite as yet.

The juniors' major goal this year is to integrate the class. It is impossible for the government and committees to do this themselves. The students first must have spirit and respect for the school. If this were accomplished, it would help not only integrate the junior class, but the entire school.

The newly constructed school-wide government should solve some of the problems on the way to unifying the students.

Junior class president Louis Miller hopes his class will take a leading role in the newly inducted government. He went on to say that the juniors are a kind of "middle class," who are expected to do their part in all school activities.

The juniors are also looking forward to their many programs for the coming year. There will be dances for juniors only.

Newton South has 26 students who won recognition because of their outstanding performance on the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

They are among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 per cent of those who will graduate from high school next year. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Cooperation.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the cooperation said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nation-wide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the test.

At Newton South they are: Lawrence Adelman, Richard Beaser, Malcolm Becker, Jane Berkowitz, Eric Black, Ellen Fireman, Robert Freeman, Richard Friedman, Paul Gerstein, William Goldberg, Karen Guberman, Donna Henderson, Charles Laven, Pamela Long, Emily Madoff, Jerney Mann, Bruce Miller, Sandra Mozdzen, Kathy Oppenheim, Caren Palmer, John Pantos, Carol Radio, Martha Radio, David Saunders, Judith Strymish, and Paul Taylor.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — William Windom, remembered for his role as a congressman in "The Farmer's Daughter" video series, will play Deborah Kerr's husband in "The Gypsy Moths."

By MEL STERN

Using color is the cheapest and quickest way to turn a dull room into a cheerful alive one, even if the color you choose is stark white. A striking combination of colors in curtains, rugs, furniture covering (and even furniture) and accessories can make a room sparkle. Be sure to choose colors you will be able to live with comfortably day after day. Match colors to your temperament (and your room-mate's or husband's) and combine colors carefully and tastefully. Try to achieve a warm, welcome atmosphere in every room in your home.

Color in furniture is important in creating a warm, welcome atmosphere. Come to FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard Brookline, 566-8635, for decorator furniture for every room in your home. Occasional furniture. Delivery in our own trucks by experienced men. Daily 9-5:30, Wed. 'til 9:30.

Letters To The Editor

Dickinson Stadium Use

Editor
Newton Graphic

In a letter printed in your column recently, Mr. Anthony Tambascio raised several questions which could lead to harmful misunderstanding if left unanswered. I should like to present the facts.

Use of Dickinson Stadium at Newton High School is under the sole control of the School Committee. It is my understanding that Our Lady's High School petitioned the School Committee for permission to use the Stadium for varsity football games about 10 years ago and that their request was denied after a public hearing because that particular field was in such heavy use that addition of another football team was not feasible.

Maintenance of the field is the responsibility of the Recreation Department of the City Government. As Recreation Commissioner, it is my opinion that use of Dickinson field by an additional football team would render the field less satisfactory for all users.

Furthermore, it would add substantially to the maintenance costs, principally for annual or bi-annual resodding. The field is currently used for varsity, junior varsity, and sophomore games by the football teams of Newton High and varsity Newton South High games. Even now, the field is overused and cannot be maintained in top quality.

Far from discriminating against parochial schools, the government of the City of Newton has gone out of its way to assist and cooperate with the Catholic schools by making public facilities available for athletic programs. The Newton Centre and Newton Highlands Playgrounds baseball diamonds have been made available for years to Sacred Heart High School for its varsity and junior varsity baseball games. St. Bernard's Elementary School has used West Newton Common for intramural sports.

In fact, Our Lady's High School has been using the Recreation Department's Allison Park field for their football games until this year, when the school voluntarily moved to the brand new MDC field in Brighton. The Recreation Department had been marking and maintaining the Allison field and providing bleachers for Our Lady's games. Our Lady's continues to use the facilities of Cabot Park in Newton for football practice sessions, and baseball games.

If Our Lady's would like to use Dickinson Stadium, a petition should be directed to the School Committee.

John B. Penney
Recreation Commissioner

Help for Biafra

Editor,
Newton Graphic

In reply to the recent letter from Mrs. Melvin I. Shoul advocating contribution of the funds allocated for the Newton Halloween parties to UNICEF for Biafran Relief. These funds have been appropriated by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and supplemental funds are being contributed by members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce for the specific purpose of promoting these Halloween parties. These parties are not merely tradition, they are promoted for a purpose — to give an alternative activity to the old-fashioned destructive Halloween acts of vandalism.

For several years the UNICEF Committee has utilized the traditional Halloween Trick or Treat to collect contributions. They have distributed special collection cans to school children, and have had volunteers on duty at the Halloween Parties to accept the collections from the youngsters. As I understand it the Newton Peace Center is coordinating this effort this year as well as Biafran Relief.

It seems to me that a special effort could be made this year to collect funds for Biafran Relief by volunteer contributions. The PTA Halloween chairmen have always been willing to cooperate with the UNICEF Committee as long as they provide their own volunteer workers. I'm sure they will again.

Incidentally the children of Newton have already contributed some funds to Biafran Relief. Part of the monies earned by the children with fund-raising carnivals on the playgrounds this summer was sent to the American Red Cross Biafran Relief Fund.

John B. Penney,
Recreation Commissioner

Meadowbrook Dispute

The Editor,
Newton Graphic

I find myself in the position of being answered for a letter I didn't write. To have to read Mrs. Tanager's and Mr. Geller's letters without having had the fun of starting it is like taxation without representation. The letter they question was a private letter written by Mrs. Richard Myerson to Mr. Colbert (not the Editor) as a plea that the paper help cool the situation. Let me state my position and why I agree that we need to "cool it."

I have been supporting the Meadowbrook program on the unscientific basis that it appeared the education my son and his friends received was excellent. I admit the possibility that the system might be better for some and poorer for others, but I suspect the structured system was too. It would appear from the test scores that the net change has been insignificant. I suspect there is a plus in the responsibility of the children.

I suggest that the Meadowbrook controversy and the lunch program controversy are tempests in tea pots compared to the larger problem — our methods of communication with the School Committee and the administration, and theirs with us.

I attended the midsummer's night nightmare, referred to by Mr. Geller, with the 700 other parents. I have attended PTA meetings. I have read the letters to the Editor. I have heard of the calls and abuse received by the School Committee members. I know that some (certainly not all) people with complaints have turned to hostility, rudeness and obstruction as the way to gain their end.

In this are we not a microcosm of the nation — indeed the world? Is it not obvious that just as our country is threatened by extreme rightism in a backlash that those who protest by obstruction can win their point but destroy the system? We can lose top-grade teachers and elected representatives, not because of community involvement — which they welcome — but because of a hostile atmosphere.

On the other side of the coin, I believe that the School Committee and the administration are, to some extent at least, responsible for the hostility they now suffer. On the old paternal principle that they knew best, the Meadowbrook program, for instance, was inaugurated with minimum community understanding or support. I believe, in retrospect, that a significant change as this needed "selling" and continual dialogue between the community and the school staff.

Let me make the following recommendations:
1. Our School Committee and administration should be sensitive to the community feelings about the various programs. They must enlist community support for the programs.

2. Members of the community must learn to use restraint. By all means, opinions should be expressed, the public should keep itself informed, and they should inform the School Committee and the administration of their feelings. But we must remember that the School Committee are our elected representatives, empowered by law to govern the school system. Let them do that, at least between elections. Obviously it behooves the interested citizen to be politically active and be sure that the School Committee is representative.

3. Last, and perhaps most important, let us help educate our children by example. Let us give them the example of a mature adult community coping with the problems of change — and change there must be and should be — in a civilized manner.

I would like to say that I believe we have started in these directions. There is a meaningful dialogue underway in the Meadowbrook area at least. Like Mrs. Tanager, I'm hopeful.

Richard L. Myerson
14 Oak Hill St.,
Newton Centre
(Editor's Note: The Graphic expresses its regret if a private letter from Mrs. Myerson to Mr. Colbert was published as a letter to the editor which it was assumed to be.)

Kitchen Dealers Planning Open House This Weekend

Is there a "best time" to re-do your kitchen?

If your refrigerator refuses to freeze, your cabinets need repainting, drawers stick and doors jam — and you hate "dishpan hands" — you may feel the best time to remodel is right now.

And, according to the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers (AIKD), you may be quite right. A faulty appliance can be replaced, a door adjusted. But often a faulty appliance or a deteriorating cabinet is a sign of multiple problems to come due to the age of the equipment.

Let's face it, your kitchen may be out of date! Or it may simply be out of step with your needs.

AIKD members next weekend (October 10-12) are calling attention to kitchens in a nation-wide Columbus Day Weekend open house, with the theme "Happiness Is a New Kitchen."

Specialist such as Charles Marc Kitchens, 4174 Washington Street, Roslindale, and Suburban Kitchens, 1242 Hyde Park Avenue, Hyde Park, are inviting everyone to come see the newest in cabinetry and appliances and to shop for ideas and innovations.

Surveys show that the life of today's modern kitchen can be 15 years. But families grow. Tastes change. New types of appliances and new features are introduced. So why live with something that's barely adequate when you can more intelligently (and at a reasonable price) enjoy a kitchen that is totally new!

What is a reasonable price? Well, how much did you pay for your current car?

Kitchens range, as cars do, from VW's to luxury models. It's all a matter of budget. And you can pay for a kitchen in the same manner as you pay for a car — on monthly budget terms.

Whatever you expect to spend, there are three rules for spending it wisely: Chart your needs. Consult a specialist. Plan ahead.

Don't wait until the end of November to decide it would arrive, and a week or so to install — unless extensive alterations are required.

One word of caution: if the alterations are so major as to require opening up an outside wall, the depth of winter is not the most pleasant time to live with such a big "window"! On the other hand, with today's modern methods and tools, the competent kitchen specialist can install your complete new kitchen "most any time that suits you, with a minimum of inconvenience to you in the process."

Before you visit Charles Marc Kitchens or Suburban Kitchens next weekend, compile your own "kitchen shopping list," just for fun.

Do you need "full meal" space or just a snack area?

Is the man of the house a barbecue aficionado who'd love an indoor charcoal grill? (Yes, one can be installed so no smokes get into his eyes or yours!)

What storage do you need for dishes, groceries, pots and pans? (Don't forget the "company service" Aunt Emma gave you, and be lovely to have a new kitchen for Christmas!)

AIKD members advise it takes about eight weeks to plan and install a complete kitchen. That's allowing time for discussion, for design and approval of layouts and budget, then three to four weeks for all merchandise to provisions for Fido and the cat.)

Do you wish you had a place to "sit down and work"? (Counter areas can be provided at a convenient height.)

How about that extra clean-up sink for the gardener, or for the play crowd that always wants to "wash up" while the lettuce is draining?

Do you want a built-in oven? A dishwasher? A garbage disposer? An automatic washer and dryer in or near the kitchen? What cabinet style do you prefer? Do you want a baking center? A tray storage unit? A pull-out table? A spice cabinet?

You see, happiness for you, too, may be a new kitchen that you've just started planning!

Hidden Hurts

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Any number of "hidden" injuries can be suffered by auto crash victims and this internal damage is generally more serious than readily apparent fractures, cuts and bruises. Routine x-ray studies often reveal the first indications of hidden injuries which result from the crash impact displacing or causing intense secondary pressure on internal organs, arteries or the spine.

Dr. Thomas A. Freed and Dr. Lewis H. Bosher, of the departments of radiology and surgery, Medical College of Richmond, stress the pressing need for x-ray examinations of all patients who suffer blunt trauma, especially after auto accidents.

OK Construction Of Apartments At Bowen Site

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday went along with its Land Use Committee's recommendation and voted 18 to 3 to give site plan approval to the proposed construction of 18 apartments and a rental office at the old Bowen School on Langley road.

Three efficiency apartments will be set aside for the Newton Housing Authority for low income housing under the federal rent supplement program.

The board defeated by a vote of 17 to 5 an amendment offered by Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell which asked that three two-bedroom apartments be reserved for low-income occupants.

Also defeated by a 16 to 5 vote was an amendment proposed by Alderman Matthew Jefferson calling for the setting aside of one two-bedroom apartment and two efficiencies.

The controversial piece of property will be developed by Maurice Silverman of Waban.

Those who sought the larger apartments for low-income housing indicated these were necessary if families were to be able to avail themselves of the rental units.

At a previous meeting Silverman had declared that the rental cost of the larger apartments would necessarily be too high to come under the rent supplement program.

On Monday night Alderman Louis I. Egelson asserted that he had been told by Newton Housing Authority Chairman Max Wexler that he would prefer efficiencies.

A year ago, he quoted Wexler as saying, there were 100 applicants for housing for the elderly projects who had placed their names on the waiting lists even though some did not yet meet the age requirements. They hoped by getting on the lists early to have priority when they did reach the necessary age.

In addition, Egelson reported, Wexler said he favored placement of families with children in two family homes rather than in apartment houses. Alderman Sidney T. Small said there are in the Thompsonville area where the Bowen School land is located, as many as 16 families living in cold water flats who might have taken advantage of the low-income rentals.

"If we do not pass this (McDonnell's amendment)," Small declared, "we will create a precedent. Future developers whom we ask to reserve apartments for low-income housing will point to this decision and also be willing to commit only efficiency apartments."

Unbeaten Tigers Best Brockton 19-8 In First Home League Game

Quarterback Colin Clapton ran for three touchdowns and intercepted a pass to propel Newton High to a 19-8 victory over Brockton in its home Suburban League opener last Saturday at Dickinson Stadium.

For only the second time in nine years were the Tigers winning their second straight game of the football campaign. Newton upset highly-touted Everett 21-12 in the Class A Game-of-the-Week two weeks ago.

Newton scored three of the first four times it had the ball against Brockton, moving with ease. The win avenged a 3-0 loss to the Shoe City team last year.

A 37-yard jaunt by senior scatback Joe DiSeglio set up the first score, racing to the three-yard line. Clapton then rolled over right guard for the six points.

Clapton had had a 57-yard touchdown run called back seconds earlier because of a clipping penalty directly after the kick-off.

Newton's final tally came as a result of a Kenny Butler fumble recovery early in the second quarter. Butler alertly pounced on a loose ball from fullback Clyde Steeves at the Brockton 22.

Clapton fired a slant-in pass to Ron Arcese on the first play for an apparent touchdown, but the referee ruled that Arcese's knee had touched the ground at the one.

Clapton snuck over center Richard Johnson for the touchdown.

What emerged as the winning score climaxed a 56-yard drive at the tail-end of the first quarter.

After alternating runs between Bob Wargin, DiSeglio and fullback Mike Butts, Clapton scrambled 14 yards to the Brockton 20.

A five-yard gain by Wargin and a fine reception by tight end Butler carried the ball to the seven.

Using a delay, Clapton sent Wargin over left tackle on a fake, an dthen followed the junior setback with the ball after a hole had been created. The result was seven yards and another six points.

Newton's success was marred by the loss of Wargin in the second period with a broken collarbone, suffered while chasing a pass. Wargin has been near-spectacular in the Tigers' openers, gaining 142 yards against Everett and having 26 yards in five attempts versus Brockton. He will be out of action for several weeks.

George Norcross filled in for Wargin, rushing for 24 yards in eight attempts.

Brockton's touchdown came on its opening drive on a two-yard plunge by Steeves. The Newton defensive line was outstanding thereafter, special notice going to Bob Caggiano and Tom Shaw.

The offensive line created several gaping holes for the Newton backs, most notably for DiSeglio in the first stanza, when the 5-8 senior had five yards with which to run through unmolested.

DiSeglio was Newton's top runner, gaining 68 yards in eight rushes. Clapton was seven of 10 passing for 90 yards.

Newton High Harriers Beat Arlington, Bow To Brockton

By JEFF GROSSMAN

A team victory over Arlington and a record breaking performance by Doug Tomb against Brockton highlighted Newton High Cross Country action as the Tiger Harriers split last week.

Tomb ran 13:10 as he broke the school record for the course and tied the course record that was set by Ron Wayne of Brockton two years ago.

This is especially significant since Wayne went on to be New England Cross Country Champion that year and he was a senior. (Tomb is a junior.)

The race was a fast one from the start as the Brockton runners set a torrid pace and pulled away from all the Tigers except Tomb. Coming into the last quarter mile Doug was fourth but a devastating kick by the junior took him past all opposition.

After Tomb, though, it was all Brockton as the Black and Red took two through ten. Among them were Kevin Hart 13:11, Joe Porta 13:14, Paul Bisette 13:20, Dave O'Connell 13:46, Bill Seaver 14:10, Joe Gaffin 14:13 and Jack Weldon 14:14.

Eleventh and twelfth went to John Bowles and Jay Didman and fourteenth and fifteenth were Mike O'Brien and Nick Brown to round out the Black and Orange's scoring.

The victory over Arlington was the key to the win in the story as a strong team effort was the key to the win in the meet with the Spy Ponders. Doug Tomb won easily.

Tiger Soccer Team Defeats South 2-0

Skip Stearns of the Newton High Soccer team broke a scoreless tie at 11:30 of the first period and the Tigers went on to achieve a 2-0 victory over Newton South last week on the South home field.

South, which has started strong in its last few outings, only to fade in the second half, turned in a lackluster performance from start to finish. The Lions showed virtually no offense as they dropped their season's record to 0-4-1 in Suburban League play.

Co-Captain Paul Taylor and halfback Frank Hurvitz mounted the only semblance of an attack, but couldn't capitalize.

Rodney Brown and Rick Black also turned in strong all-around efforts. Black, at fullback, is a converted goaltender, and was impressive in his first starting assignment at his new position.

The Lancers' offense was headed by QB Steve Farina who scored a touchdown and rushed twice for extra points. Other touchdowns were netted by Paul Harvey and Tom Giusti.

Coach Dick Riley, of Our Lady's, was happy with his entire defense, especially the fine rushing play of Capt. Paul Harvey and Bob Dalicandro. "Steve DePasquale and Harvey looked real good at the ends and Kevin McCabe had another good game in the backfield. DePasquale had a third-period interception in addition to battling down a John Mulligan pass on a rush.

"We ran the all inside like we had to. We found out the

Soccer Club, Sacred Heart In Tie Game

The Newton Soccer Club and Sacred Heart Azzuri, tangling for the first time this season, fought to a 1-1 deadlock Sunday in a New England Soccer League game at Hawthorn Field, Newton.

Ignazio Lococco gave Newton the advantage two minutes before the end of the first half when his left-footed kick hit the inside left post and trickled into the goal.

Sunday Sermon For Christian Scientists

"The Law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

This verse from Romans is the Golden Text of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" that will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. At First Church of Christ, Scientist, 391 Walnut St., Newtonville. Services will begin at 10:45 a.m.

Among related passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by the denomination's Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter — certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, of life in God."

Dante Alighieri Society Members

Several Newton residents have been appointed to serve on the Dante Alighieri Society's new quarters inauguration Committee. In attendance for the inaugural ceremonies will be the Ambassador of Italy Mr. Egidio Ortona; the Consul General of Italy Count Tonci-Ottieri; the Director of the Italian Institute of Culture Professor Giuseppe Cardillo and Governor John A. Volpe.

Local committee members are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Forte of 80 Craigmore St., Waban; Mrs. Rosetta Romagnoli of 51 Bennington St., Newton; Dr. Cinzio Comito of 56 Washington St., Newton; and Dr. and Mrs. Ciro Pernice of 34 Hartford St., Newton Highlands.

Elected a member of the board of directors was Mrs. Eliot Finer of Newton.

Primary goal of the auxiliary this year is the completion of payment of a $25,000 pledge made to the hospital development fund.

Newton South Harriers Win Over Revere

Newton South's Cross-Country team had the distinction of becoming the school's first sports team to win a contest this fall. The Lion Harriers trounced Revere, 20-39 last week.

Sophomore sensation Tom LaPlante flew through the 2.7 mile course in 13:58, to top first place in the meet. This was LaPlante's second victory in three meets. At the rate he's progressing he seems sure to break the Newton South home course sophomore record of 14:15, held by Geoff Davis, class of '68.

Senior Lew Freedman romped home in third place in a 14:29 clocking. Sophomore Dick Dickinson steamed in next in fourth position with a 14:43 mark, while another soph. Larry Junda, raced across the finish line in the fifth spot, at 14:54. Junior Dave Glaser was the fifth Lion and seventh finisher in the field of 18, to round out the South scorers in 15:04.

Charles Pottey and Bruce Kaye, both sophomores, came in eighth and eleventh, respectively, in 15:06 and 15:15. Senior Bruce Kopelman, in thirteenth, was the last of the Lion runners at 15:34.

The varsity is now 1-2 on the year, with this week's meet at home, against Arlington.

A 15-50 perfect score was recorded by the jayvees in their meet. South was unbelievable, capturing the top eight places!

Mike LeBlanc, 15:15; John Seeler, 15:32; Steve Sahl, 15:35; Andy Cohen, 16:07; Dave Finch, 16:31; Dan Barkin, 16:33; Ron Schneider, 16:44; and Henry Ehrlich, 17:00, all crossed the finish line before the top Revere runner.

The JV is now 2-1 on the season.

What makes the double victory doubly sweet is the fact that of the 15 competitors who ran varsity and placed JV, only three will graduate, and nine are sophomores.

Newton Art Ass'n Guest Artist Is C. T. Allenbrook

The Newton Art Association, Inc., has arranged for famous artist Charles T. Allenbrook to be guest artist at the Association meeting on Thursday evening (Oct. 17) at 7:30 p.m. in the hall of the Beethoven School in Waban.

"How to Develop Creative Ability" will be demonstrated by Mr. Allenbrook who is known on three continents as a successful portrait painter. He has created new and exciting three-dimensional landscapes by new uses of paints, aided by nature's materials. Included will be three-dimensional scenes from the Bible that "take you there."

Allenbrook, who said, "Every artist should want to create original canvases," agreed to reveal secrets of his creative originality and to demonstrate his discoveries.

The attendance is limited to members and their guests: professional artists and talented amateur artist-members.

Named To Posts N.E. Hospital

Three Newton women were elected to offices in the Friends of New England Hospital at the recent annual meeting of the hospital women's auxiliary.

Named treasurer was Mrs. Malcolm Jackson of Abundant. Mrs. Reginald Benn of Newton was chosen assistant treasurer.

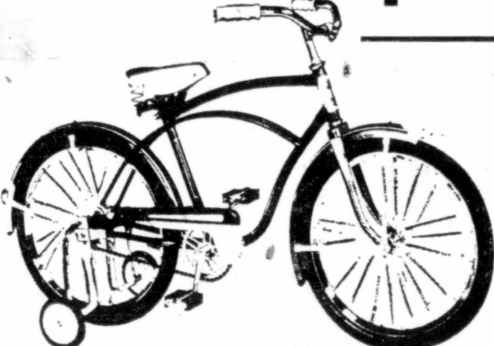

Elected a member of the board of directors was Mrs. Eliot Finer of Newton.

Primary goal of the auxiliary this year is the completion of payment of a $25,000 pledge made to the hospital development fund.

Finally breaking into the win column, Our Lady's High School of Newton whipped previously undefeated Nantucket High, 22-0, last Saturday at Msgr. Daly Field, Nonantum, in a non-league game.

The Lancers' offense was headed by QB Steve Farina who scored a touchdown and rushed twice for extra points. Other touchdowns were netted by Paul Harvey and Tom Giusti.

Coach Dick Riley, of Our Lady's, was happy with his entire defense, especially the fine rushing play of Capt. Paul Harvey and Bob Dalicandro. St. John's Dinner Dance Night of Oct. 25

The annual parish-reunion dinner dance of St. John's Book Club of St. John's Church in Wellesley Hills, whose parishioners include residents of Newton Lower Falls, will be held at the school hall on Friday night, Oct. 25, starting at 8 pm.
An eight-course Italian dinner featuring roast beef will be served family style and in as much quantity as diners wish. A tipasto, homemade chicken soup and spaghetti will precede the main course. Wine will be served with dinner.
Baron Hugo and his orchestra will provide the dinner music. Individual table serenading and a community sing-a-long will be featured throughout the evening.
Table reservations may be made through the Chairman of the Dinner Dance, Mrs. John J. Curtin, Jr., of 17 Tennyson rd., Wellesley Hills, (telephone 235-9351).
Telephone committee members are, Mrs. George Sullivan, Mrs. Kevin O'Connor, Mrs. Robert Wheatley, Mrs. Robert Cuniff, Mrs. David Gentes, Mrs. Leonard LaPriore, Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. John Kneeland.
Early reservations are urged by the committee for the traditional sellout evening. Tables for groups of eight or more will be arranged. Reservations for tables near the dance floor or at the quiet end of the hall for those who prefer chatting are available.
The school hall will be transformed into a Venetian street scene. All the enchantment of Venice will prevail on this "La Belle Noche" through the creative decorating talents of Mrs. Vincent J. Rosa and Mrs. George H. Kelley, Jr.

Cambridge Latin Gridders Defeat Newton South 14-8

By LEWIS FREEDMAN
Cambridge Latin's football team defeated Newton South last Saturday for the first time since the two teams have been meeting on the gridiron. The score was 14-8.
The Lions showed their first semblance of an offense this fall in the first period.
Halfback Nick Parnell, returning to standard form after an ankle injury, took a handoff from quarterback Tom Rezzuti on the first play from scrimmage and scampered off-tackle for 61 yards and a touchdown. Seconds later, Rezzuti carried the pigskin over for the conversion, and South had an 8-0 lead.
Newton carried its slim margin into the third quarter when Cambridge Latin scored its first points on a 34-yard run by quarterback Mike Lund. The try for extra points failed and South still led 8-6.
Suddenly, the Cambridge front four stiffened as South could only gain 37 second-half yards through the sturdy line. Neither could the Lions penetrate beyond Newton South's 35-yard line.
Meanwhile, quarterback Lund was keeping his charges moving. Through he rarely went to the air during the

Local Artist In Cambridge Show

Firefighters Are Praised By Chas. F. Norton

Members of the Newton Fire Department have been praised for their work in battling a blaze last month in an apartment building at 219 Commonwealth Ave.
The commendation came from Charles F. Norton, vice president of Homes, Inc., which owns the building.
His letter to Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., follows.
"On Sept. 11 a fire occurred at an apartment building owned by Homes, Incorporated at 219 Commonwealth Avenue. There was an immediate response by members of the Newton Fire Department and, because of their professional handling of this fire, it was completely contained. The resulting damage from the fire was relatively minimal, and the firemen were most solicitous in protecting the personal property of tenants and the structure itself.
"We have only to read the daily papers to know that the job of a firefighter is a dangerous and thankless one. We at Homes, Incorporated wish to express our deep and abiding gratitude for the presence of these men in the Newton Fire Department and to convey our heartfelt wish that they may continue in their profession in good health and without injury."

Isadore Zack to Address B'nai B'rith Chapter Oct. 16

The Chestnut Hill Chapter of B'nai B'rith will hold their next meeting on October 16, at 8 p.m. at the Newton Highlands Women's Club. Mrs. Donald Resnick will preside over a short business meeting. Immediately following, Mrs. Alfred Knopf, A.D.L. Chairman, will present Isadore Zack, director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

In this capacity Mr. Zack is in charge of the fact finding activities of the League in this area. The A.D.L. educational arm of B'nai B'rith, the oldest and largest Jewish Service Organization in the world is engaged in a program designed to strengthen the democratic fabric of the American Community by working with Church, School, and Civic and other local and National groups in a joint effort to eradicate racial and religious discrimination.

Mr. Zack came to the Anti-Defamation League in 1946, directly after five years of service with the U.S. Army, World War II, where he was Special Agent in the Military Intelligence Division and where he received six citations. He is currently Secretary of the Military Intelligence Association of New England and also National Vice-President of the Counter-Intelligence Corps Association. Chestnut Hill Chapter announces that this meeting will be open to members and their husbands, friends, and relatives. Refreshments will be served by Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. Louis Stepler and her committee.

Local Gardeners Among Winners In Harvest Show

Newton gardeners fared well in the distribution of prizes at the Harvest Show conducted on Boston Common.

Award winners from this city included: Mrs. C. Campbell of the Chestnut Hill Club who won first prize for her flower arrangement and design section; Florence Kostarelos of Newton Centre, who won first and second prizes; Mrs. Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill, whose collection of plants won a second prize, and the Harry Quint Greenhouses of Newton, which won a third prize in the plant collection competition.

The annual show was jointly sponsored by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the State Agriculture Department.

24 Alarms In Newton

Newton firemen answered 24 alarms over the weekend, marking the beginning of "Fire Prevention Week." Five of the alarms were false.

In a fire last Friday afternoon, heavy smoke and water damage was caused to a kitchen at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

The blaze broke out in a kitchen stove, sending flames to a storage area and then up smoke vents to the roof. The main dining room of the club was spared.

Mishkan Tefila Sisterhood To Meet October 16

The Sisterhood of Temple Mishkan Tefila will hold its opening meeting of the 1968-1969 season on Wednesday, October 16, at 12:30 p.m. in the Temple Social Hall, 300 Hammond Pond Parkway, Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Leo Karas, President of the Sisterhood, will preside. D'bar Torah will be given by Mrs. Abraham Goldman. Chairman of the Day will be Mrs. Julian H. Katzoff. Program Chairmen are Mrs. Paul King and Mrs. Morton Lieberman. Mrs. Edward Bardfield will be in charge of Hospitality.

The topic of this stimulating program, which is open to the public, will be "Politics 1968 — Is It For the People and By the People?"

Participating in the discussion will be Dr. Noam Chomsky, Professor of Modern Language and Linguistics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and Linguistics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Francis X. Bellotti, former Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and Steve Fredericks, known as "The man who owns midnight," a WMEX talk program. This meeting is open to all.

Aldermen Take Webster Estate

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a 20 to 0 vote appropriated funds and authorized a bond issue to acquire 37.79 acres of the Webster Estate along Hammond Pond Parkway.

The aldermen approved a $10,000 appropriation and authorized a $290,000 bond issue to purchase the extensive property which runs along the westerly side of Hammond Pond Parkway south of Beacon St.

The $300,000 land acquisition is actually a bargain for the city of Newton, explained Alderman Finance Committee Chairman Winslow C. Auryansen.

The purchase, he said, will in reality cost the city only about $75,000. The Federal Housing and Urban Development Agency will reimburse Newton in the amount of $152,000 and the Mass. Dept. of Natural Resources will contribute $75,000.

The land will be used for conservation and recreation purposes.

Auryansen commended Mayor Monte G. Basbas for the expeditious manner in which the important land acquisition was handled.

Carleton Coll. Rep. at Schools

Recent Deaths

Elbert G. Allen
Funeral services for Elbert G. Allen, 89, formerly of 11 Richfield rd., West Newton, an electrical engineer for many years for Stone and Webster and other corporations, were held in Second Church of Newton last Saturday. He died Thursday in a Hingham nursing home.

Born in East Bredgewater, Allen had worked on hydraulic engineering, transportation and other projects throughout the United States and Italy. He was a fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the author of books and articles on engineering and travel subjects.

Mr. Allen was a former board member of the Walker Missionary Home in Newton, former treasurer of the Second Church of Newton and for 50 years secretary of his Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Class of 1900.

He leaves two children, E. Kent Allen, of Hingham, and Mrs. Sylvia Wernham, of State College, Pa.

Murdina Dewire

Funeral services for Mrs. Murdina Anne (Macdonald) Dewire of 65 Prospect St., West Newton, were held Wednesday at 11 a.m. in the Second Church in Newton, 60 Highland St., West Newton.

Mrs. Dewire died at her home Saturday after a long illness. She was in her 93rd year.

She was born in Stanchell, Prince Edward Island, Canada, daughter of the late Malcolm and Mary Ann (Gillis) Macdonald, and had lived in Newton 70 years.

Wife of the late Alexander W. Dewire and mother of the late Edward A. Dewire, she leaves two daughters: Mrs. Esther H. Jenks of Bourne and Mrs. Mary G. Carey of West Newton; three sons, Malcolm M. of Salem, N.J. and Donald M. and J. Norman, both of West Newton; 10 grandchildren, three sisters, Miss K.M. Macdonald of Boston, and Mrs. William McCloud and Mrs. J.D. Matheson, both of Prince Edward Island; and two brothers, John Macdonald of Carlisle, Pa., and Alex Macdonald of Canby, Ore.

Cpl. L. E. Garron Jr.

A solemn requiem high Mass was celebrated in St. Brendan Church, Bellingham, last Saturday for Lance Cpl. Lawrence E. Garron Jr., USMC, of 1295 Pond St., Franklin, a former Newton resident, who was killed in action in Quang Nam Province, South Vietnam, Sept. 21, while on a mission with B Co., 2nd Platoon, 1st Eng.

Burial followed in St. Joseph Cemetery, Medway.

Born in Newton Sept. 27, 1947, son of Lawrence E. and Eleanor A. (Flanagan) Garron, he moved with his family to Medway when he was a child, and he attended grammar school there.

He attended the Boston Trade High School and enlisted in the service after graduation in 1967.

He had been in Vietnam for the past 11 months and had been previously wounded in combat.

Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Mary Jane, at home; his grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Garron of Westborough; his uncle, Thomas M. Flanagan of Oakland St., Newton; also other aunts and uncles. He was a great-grandson of the late Mrs. Elizabeth O'Neal of Washington St., West Newton, who died in July.

Everett J. Janse

Funeral services for Everett J. Janse, 52, of 168 Alcott Rd., Falmouth, were held Tuesday from the Martin E. Conroy Funeral Home, 439 Washington St., Newton, at 8 a.m., with a High Mass of Requiem in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Janse was born in Newton, son of the late John

A. and Dorothy S. (Johnson) Janse. A well-known contractor in Newton, he was a former candidate for mayor of Newton.

He was educated in Newton schools and was a manufacturer's sales representative. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lois (Johnson) Janse; one son, E. ### Unique Program This Sunday At Unitarian Church

The strange world of psychic phenomena will be the subject of a unique sermon-dialogue this Sunday, (Oct. 13) at the First Unitarian Church of Newton, 1328 Washington St., West Newton.

The Rev. G. Clyde Dodder, minister of the church, and Dr. Charles R. Buffler, of the Associated Sciences Research Foundation, will be examining the meaning of the activities of such well-known personalities as Edgar Cayce and the medium, Arthur Ford.

Dr. Buffler's foundation has carried on extensive research in the ancient art of dowsing — the ability to find water with the aid of a forked stick. Just recently, Dr. Buffler was requested by the American Society of Psychical Research to check up on poltergeist phenomena — the unexplained movement of physical objects without any visible force being applied.

Among the mysterious happenings in this field which have fascinated both scientists and mystics are the experiences of psychic surgery as it is carried on in the Philippines, and the amazing power of Denver's Ted Serios to project images onto photographic plates through the concentrated effort of his mind alone.

Following the service on Sunday, both Mr. Dodder and Dr. Buffler will be available for questions and discussions.

On Tuesday of next week (Oct. 15) the church will co-sponsor with the A.S.R. Foundation, an appearance at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall by Miss Ruth Shaver of Schenectady, N.Y.

Miss Shaver is the author of two books describing the experiences of her sister, Jessie Shaver Jones, whose psychic abilities have been studied by the Rhine Institute at Duke University. Mrs. Jones will also be present and arrangements have been made for a number of private meetings with her by interested individuals on the following day.

The public is invited to both the Sunday service and the lecture. Further information may be obtained at the church (527-3203).

Fall Crittenton League Meeting To Be Oct. 14

The first Fall meeting of the Newton Circle of the Florence Crittenton League will be held in the home of Mrs. Edwin Hawbridge, 92 Windsor rd., Waban, on Monday (Oct. 14).

Luncheon hostesses are Mrs. Augustus B. Castoldi, Mrs. Edmund F. Finnerly, Mrs. Richard Morgan and Mrs. C. C. Pontius, and will serve the membership at 1 p.m.

The officers of the Circle elected at the Annual Meeting in May are Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, president; Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, first vice-president; Mrs. Norman E. MacNeil, second vice-president; Mrs. Lee Loumas, Recording secretary; Mrs. William Paine, II, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Bruce, treasurer; Mrs. Philip K. Brown, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Richard C. Schofield, auditor; and Mrs. James H. Orr, member at large.

Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, president, Mrs. Norman M. MacNeil, program chairman, will introduce the speaker for the afternoon, Miss Ethel Jackson, Long's Jewelry Company, "Jewels for Beauty."

NEWTON RESIDENTS—Mrs. E. Pat Groper (left) and Mrs. Sumner Feldberg who are serving as Special Gifts chairmen for the 42nd annual Boston Hadassah Donor Luncheon to benefit the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center in Jerusalem. The luncheon will be held in December.

Meeting Tonight Will Determine Recreation Needs

Determining recreational needs of young people in Newton in one major goal of a meeting being sponsored tonight (Thursday, Oct. 10) by the Newton Youth Center. The meeting to be held at the Newton Congregational Church, 54 Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands, is open to all interested persons in the area, and begins at 8 p.m.

The Newton Youth Center, supervised and administered by the Newton Community Service Centers, sponsors and initiates activities for teenagers in the senior high schools. Youth co-ordinators work with young people throughout the city in formulating their programs. Offices of the Youth Center are at 429 Cherry St., location of the Community Center.

The Youth Center is working to establish five centers throughout the Newtons. Funding for the organization comes from the State and City. The Center's first event this season was a "Paint On Dance" held last Friday at Warren Junior High.

Further information can be obtained by calling 244-2260, and speaking with Mrs. Wright, Mr. Jackson or Mr. Mattson.

Newtonites Serve At B.U. Tea Today

Three Newton wives of vice-presidents of Boston University will assist Mrs. Arland F. Christ-Janer, wife of the president of B.U., who is hostess today (Oct. 10) in her Wellesley Hills home to women who are new members of the Boston University community.

Russian tea will be served by Mrs. Everett Walters, and Mrs. Joseph Kiebal, both of West Newton and Mrs. J. Wendell Yeo of Auburndale, to the more than 300 women who have, or whose husbands have, just joined the Boston University Faculty and staff.

The November 10 Newcomers' meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Shields Warren, wife of the president of the B.U. Board of Trustees, at 103 Otis St., West Newton. B.U. Dean of Women Elsbeth Melville will be the speaker on the topic "New Morals at the Campus."

Donald Saunders Is On Board Of Huntington "Y"

Donald L. Saunders of 230 Dudley Rd., Newton Centre, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Huntington YMCA at the recent annual meeting of the Boston Board Council.

Mr. Saunders, President of Irving M. Saunders and Associates, Realtors, is a graduate of Brown University, is owner and manager of the Hotel Lenox and Copley Square in Boston and the Surf and Sand Resort Hotel in Sarasota, Fla. He is married to the former Virginia A. Weisman and has two daughters, Lisa and Pam.

Grade Level Meetings At Bowen School

On Wednesday, Oct. 16 and Thursday, Oct. 17 the Bowen School will hold its Grade Level Meetings. The Kindergarten, first, second and third grades will hold their meetings on the 16th. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades will hold theirs on the 17th.

A short meeting will be held in the auditorium at 7:30 p.m. and then parents will visit their child's classroom to meet the teachers and hear what is planned for year. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Joins Staff at Norwich Univ.

Lt. Col. Ritchie Garrison, USA (Retired), a native of Newton, has been named to the Norwich University staff as assistant to the director of plans and external affairs for sequicentennial planning.

Col. Garrison, a civil engineering graduate of Norwich University, has held various positions including assistant professor of military science at Norwich U., while on active service with the army. He served tours of duty in the Atlantic, Pacific and in Europe during his military career.

A member of the Association of the U. S. Army, the Army Association of America and the U. S. Armor Association, he will work closely with Col. Frederick H. Foerster, Jr. (USAF) (Retired) director of plans and external affairs, and Maj. Gen. Ernest N. Harmon, USA (Retired) president emeritus and chairman of Norwich University's sequicentennial committee in his new capacity at the University.

Party Day for N-W Hospital Aid Oct. 23

Party Day for 1,800 members of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association and their friends is Wednesday afternoon, October 23. The day is the single annual fund raising event of the Aid Association and represents fun for a worthy purpose. Proceeds from ticket purchases and donations are used to provide equipment or facilities for the 260-bed Newton - Wellesley Hospital, a teaching affiliate of Tufts University School of Medicine.

A series of 50 dessert-bridge parties will be sponsored by Aid members, with most being held in the member's homes. Because of the day, the Aid hopes to provide a nursing station in the new west wing of the hospital, presently under construction. Co-chairmen of Party Day 1968 are Mrs. Harry J. Pur-

Smith Club To Meet Wednesday

The Newton Smith Club will hold its opening meeting next Wednesday (Oct. 16) at the home of Mrs. Herbert Berman on 30 Ellis Rd., West Newton. Club president Mrs. Seymour Kaufman of Newton Centre will preside. Members of the Club will participate in both cooking and hosting a buffet supper. Male guests are welcome to the supper and lecture. State Representative Katherine D. Kane will discuss Summering, Boston Neighborhood Festival held in the summer of 1968. Mrs. Kane is the director of Summering and Special Assistant for Mayor White. She graduated Summa cum Laude from Smith College and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

From 1961-1964 she served as president of the Boston League of Women Voters. She is the wife of Boston businessman Louis Kane and the mother of three young children.

Imperial Towers Now Leasing For Late 1968

Alfred L. Roberts and Myron C. Roberts, developers of the Imperial Towers, 280 Boylston street, Chestnut Hill, announce that the new triple winged ten-story deluxe residence has progressed rapidly in recent weeks. Plans call for occupancy at the end of this year, bringing a new pattern to leisure living.

The completely air conditioned building will offer the added benefits of a heated swimming pool, landscaped gardens, nine hole putting green and private health club lounge. Security precautions for the complex, now leasing for occupancy in late 1968, include locking devices for both front and rear doors, an outer lobby dial-intercom system and a concierge on duty in the lobby.

World Affairs Lectures By 1st Unitarian Soc.

The first in the series of seven World Affairs Lectures by the First Unitarian Society will be held tomorrow morning (Oct. 11) at the Parish Hall of the Society at 1326 Washington St., West Newton. An annual event, the lectures are held on the second Friday of each month in the Parish Hall beginning at 10 a.m.

Geoffrey Godsell, Editorial Writer for the Christian Science Monitor, will be the first speaker with his enlightening analysis of current world events and situations. Mr. Godsell's presentations have become a community wide event looked forward to by many of his past audiences. Open to the general public, tickets are available at the door for either single performances or the entire series. Mrs. Henry Whitmore of 31 Sterling St., West Newton, may be reached for further information at 527-3181.

American Jewish Congress, at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 20, at the Newton Centre Women's Club, Centre Street, Newton. Associated with the program are the Suburban Women's Division, Mrs. Robert Kirschbaum, president; and the Metropolitan Women's Division, Mrs. George Kramer, president.

Discussed will be the positions of the Democratic and Republican parties on the issues facing our country as seen by the two parties. Dr. I. Milton Sacks, Associate professor of Politics at Brandeis University, will represent the Democrats. John W. Sears, Sheriff of Suffolk County will represent the Republicans.

MRS. JOHN MITCHELL

Lorraine Brophy Becomes Mrs. John Joseph Mitchell

White chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the altar of St. Theresa's Church in West Roxbury for the recent marriage of Miss Lorraine Marie Brophy to John Joseph Mitchell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frederick Brophy of 20 Rustic road, West Roxbury. Mrs. John Joseph Mitchell of 71 Tower street, Forest Hills and the late Mr. Mitchell are the groom's parents.

The Rev. Richard G. Johnson celebrated the 11 o'clock nuptial mass. A reception was held at the Chestnut Hill Country Club.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a modified empire gown of white silk satin. The fitted bodice, which had a mandarin collar and long sleeves, was marked with clusters of pearls. The A-line skirt terminated in a Camelot train marked with similar jewels.

Her full length illusion veil was fastened to a camelot cap of matching jeweled satin. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis with ivy.

Miss Louis Kfoury of West Roxbury was matron of honor. Her Victorian shirtwaist gown fashioned with a lime twist green moire skirt which was caught with a hot pink satin sash. A matching pink looped bow enhanced her hair and she carried a nosegay of white iceberg chrysanthemums.

Identically attired, the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Sachin of Norwood, Mrs. Gerard Goslinif Quincy, as well as two sisters of the groom, Miss Kathleen Mitchell and Miss Mary M. Mitchell, both of Forest Hills.

The best man was the groom's brother, Bernard Mitchell of Amherst, N.H. Ushering were two other brothers of the groom, Kevin Mitchell of Forest Hills and Thomas Mitchell of Cambridge, as well as the brides brother, Richard Brophy of West Roxbury, John Healy of Plainville, Francis Leonard of Jamaica Plain and Paul Sullivan of Chestnut Hill.

After a honeymoon in Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will live in Roslindale.

Mr. Luigi Vena was soloist. The bride was graduated from Girls' Latin School and Rigis College. She is a mathematician for the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories.

Members of the Hyde School P.T.A. will hold their first meeting of the Fall in the school gymnasium at 8 p.m. next Tuesday night, (October 15).

When the role playing is completed, the second half of the program will continue in the Hyde School classrooms.

Small discussion groups of between 15 and 20 people will then expand upon the situations they observed and discuss other situations that might not have been portrayed. Refreshments will be served in the rooms to help create an informal atmosphere so conducive to stimulating dialogue.

In charge of the program for the evening are Mrs. Frank Propp and Mrs. Sigmund Geller, co-program chairmen and their committee consisting of Mrs. Donald Manthei and Mrs. Clark Sawin.

Hyde School teachers participating will be Miss E. Collis and Miss M. Callahan; parents participating will be Mrs. Daniel Murrow, Mr. Donald Manthei, Mrs. Jerry Handspicker, Mr. Frank Propp, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearlman, Mr. Norman Berkowitz, Mr. Jacob Hank, Mrs. Ernest Loewenstein and Mr. William Mackavay.

He pointed out that the United States average is around 40 per cent for state aid, while in 1967 the Massachusetts average was 20 per cent. In Newton it is 7 per cent.

Dr. Laurits said that Massachusetts, in comparison with other states, ranks first in fire protection, fifth in public welfare, seventh in health in hospital, ninth in police, 35th in local schools, 36th in sewerage, and 49th in public higher education. He cited statistics from the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation primer.

Newton Upper Falls Improvement Assn Will Sponsor Square Dance

After greeting old and warmly welcoming new members of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association in the Emerson School gym at an open meeting Wednesday evening, Philip J. Dobryn, president, briefly indicated the aims of the Association for the 1968-1969 year.

Recreation chairman Kenneth Vlass in detail commented on the activities projected for the coming year in the Emerson School gym. Monday evening he said will be set aside for basketball. Any team in the Upper Falls may use the gym this night to practice to compete in the Newton city basketball league.

Other evenings will be set aside for mother and daughter night, father and son night, high school night, and junior high school night. As the plan is set up, citizens in the village may avail themselves of the recreational opportunity at least one evening a week.

In order to make this program successful, however, volunteers are needed to supervise the youngsters. If a free evening is available, please call and offer your services to either Ken Vlass at 527-9058 or Phil Dobryn at 332-4345.

Mr. Vlass also advised the members that the construction will soon begin of the long awaited basketball court at the lower playground.

On Oct. 12, from 8 to 11 p.m. in the Emerson School gym, the Association will sponsor a square dance, with Jack Evans as the caller. The general public is invited to this "fun" evening. Nov. 14 is the date set aside for the International Pot Luck Supper. Mrs. Virginia Dolph, Hospitality Chairman, will provide further details at a future date.

City officials involved with Code Enforcement Program present at this meeting were Bruce G. Train, Administrative Assistant to the Mayor and Project Coordinator; Albert French, Neighborhood Advisor; Peter Ray, Project Supervisor; Norman Deane, Rehabilitation Supervisor; Chester Phelan, Financial Supervisor; and Rudolph Luz, Housing Inspector.

They briefly gave an account of the progress of the code enforcement program to date in the Newton Upper Falls and stated should there be additional information required feel free to call them at 244-1810 or go directly to the Site Office at 386 Elliot street.

If you would rather the Association take the matter up with the Code Enforcement officials, feel free to contact Public Works chairman Robert Young at 969-8624. He in turn will "get the ball rolling" at the Site Office.

The Fall Clean-Up Campaign, which was a tremendous success last year, will again be repeated some time during the first two weeks in November. Anthony Gentile and Jack Daley, Co-chairmen, remind all to clean up all litter, trash, debris, etc., from yards and buildings. Special trucks will be available for pickups. Definite date will be published shortly.

Frank Dippo, Membership Chairman, was gratified with the members that attended the first meet of the season.

He introduced William Butler, a member of the Division of Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, United States Department of Interior, who showed a movie and gave an inspiring talk on water pollution problems — especially in the Charles River. He left us with the hope that in the not too distant future we may again see youngsters and oldsters swimming in the Charles near home.

Coffee and home made refreshments were served by Hospitality Chairman Mrs. Dolph and her committee.

They briefly gave an account of the progress of the code enforcement program to date in the Newton Upper Falls and stated should there be additional information required feel free to call them at 244-1810 or go directly to the Site Office at 386 Elliot street.

If you would rather the Association take the matter up with the Code Enforcement officials, feel free to contact Public Works chairman Robert Young at 969-8624. He in turn will "get the ball rolling" at the Site Office.

The Fall Clean-Up Campaign, which was a tremendous success last year, will again be repeated some time during the first two weeks in November. Anthony Gentile and Jack Daley, Co-chairmen, remind all to clean up all litter, trash, debris, etc., from yards and buildings. Special trucks will be available for pickups. Definite date will be published shortly.

Frank Dippo, Membership Chairman, was gratified with the members that attended the first meet of the season.

He introduced William Butler, a member of the Division of Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, United States Department of Interior, who showed a movie and gave an inspiring talk on water pollution problems — especially in the Charles River. He left us with the hope that in the not too distant future we may again see youngsters and oldsters swimming in the Charles near home.

Coffee and home made refreshments were served by Hospitality Chairman Mrs. Dolph and her committee.

City officials involved with Code Enforcement Program present at this meeting were Bruce G. Train, Administrative Assistant to the Mayor and Project Coordinator; Albert French, Neighborhood Advisor; Peter Ray, Project Supervisor; Norman Deane, Rehabilitation Supervisor; Chester Phelan, Financial Supervisor; and Rudolph Luz, Housing Inspector.

Women Fill Manpower Need

DETROIT (UPI) — The answer to an anticipated shortage of office workers is women, report researchers of Kelly Services, national supplier of temporary help services.

Kelly points out that in 1967 nearly 7 million women worked in temporary jobs and one out of four women worked less than 35 hours a week at any one time. The company says that despite expanding use of computers and other business machines, clerical workers of all types will be needed.

Plan Series Of Cotillions

The annual Fall Organizational Meeting of Newton Cotillions will be held this morning Thursday, (October 10) at the Chestnut Hill Country Club. Discussion of plans for the new series of dances to be held at the club on November 29, December 27, February 14, and April 25 followed the serving of refreshments and coffee.

The meeting, presided over by Mrs. Seaton M. Woodley, Jr., featured a report of the recommendations of the student representatives. The students, under the direction of Chairman Jane Woodley, and Vice-Chairman Lewis Stearn, had met previously last Sunday.

6 Nobles Boys Win Letters Of Commendation

Six students at the Noble & Greenough School in Dedham, including three residents of Newton, have received Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test.

Headmaster Eliot T. Putnam announced that those named are Robert P. Briggs of Brookline, Baird K. Brightman of Newton, Edward D. Frank of Brookline, William L. Schwartz of Waban, Christopher B. Walker of Southboro and Weston J. Wellington of West Newton.

They were among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two per cent of those who will graduate from high school in 1969. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semifinalists announced last month by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Giants won their first National Football League Eastern division title in 1933.

Newton Highl'ds Chapter DAR To Meet Next Mon.

"The Best of New Books", a lecture by Marion T. Rudkin, will be presented next Monday morning, Oct. 14, by the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, DAR, at the Workshop, 72 Columbus St., Newton Highlands. A coffee hour at 10 a.m. will precede the book review.

Given annually to aid the Scholarship Fund of Hillside School for Boys, this morning with books is one of the Chapter's favorite projects. Tickets may be purchased from any chapter member, or at the door.

A food sale will be held at the same time, as the means of augmenting the Fund, with Mrs. J. Douglas Johnston in charge, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Anderson and Mrs. Sterling G. Thomas.

Hostesses for the coffee hour are Mrs. Leslie W. Irwin and Mrs. Hartwell W. Blanchard.

Newton Woman Is Caseworker With Family Service

Mrs. Katherine B. Perlman of Newton has been appointed as caseworker in the Family Service Center, Area 1 of the Family Service Association of Greater Boston, according to an announcement by Mrs. Anne Ford, Director of Professional Services.

Mrs. Perlman, a member of the National Association of Social Workers and its Academy of Certified Social Workers, was formerly employed at the Beaverbrook Child Guidance Center, was part of a research project at the Harvard School of Public Health, and was a part-time member of the Homemaker Service Staff at Family Service Association of Greater Boston. She took a post-graduate fellowship in conjunction with the Mass. General Hospital Department of Psychiatry and the Wellesley Human Relations Service.

A graduate of Mount Holyoke College, she received a masters' degree in sociology and one in social work from Columbia University.

Family Service Center — Area 1, a Mass. Bay United Fund participant, serves hundreds of families and individuals each year in the communities of Boston. Family Service Center — Area No. 1 has professionally trained and qualified counselors to help people with a wide variety of problems. The problems include marital, parent-child, emotional, social adjustment, economic, and others which interfere with an individual's relationship with others and with his ability to meet the demands of everyday life.

What Is Montessori?

It is a learning program designed to fulfill the inner needs of young children from 2 1/2 to 6. This is accomplished through special learning materials, that help the child to teach himself by direct experiences with the material.

He works at his own pace independently of the group and may proceed as rapidly or as slowly as his ability permits. The "method" is taken from nature; Dr. Montessori seconded it by giving the child positive freedom for the creation of his own personality.

Montessori begins a process within children, where they begin to educate themselves — a process which must continue all their lives.

The most meaningful education is self-education. You expose the child to good work habits which improve his concentration span.

When the child has achieved success in accomplishing a task, it enables him to have a positive attitude towards the learning process, and academic excellence will be a natural by-product.

The important thing isn't what the child knows but that he knows how to seek knowledge. "Develop interest rather than give facts," said Dr. Montessori. Above all, help the child to realize his own personal worth and the worth of others. Help him to have a deep respect for all life, material as well as spiritual.

To aid this process of growth, the child is placed in the ungraded environment of the Montessori class. The child is permitted to learn according to his ability and is not forced to keep up with the group. No marks are given, as the child's accomplishments are his rewards.

Furniture is light and movable and children are free to talk at will and move about at will choosing their own work, providing they do not abuse others.

The child is given freedom within a framework. Gradually these limits are expanded as the child grows in self-discipline, but he must first learn the ground rules. The method is tremendously creative; the children find their own way over obstacles. Each discovery gives them a great burst of energy to get over the next obstacles and they do this joyfully. For what is creativity, but the outward expression of something that is being formed within?

Montessori helps the child to build himself interiorly; when the child is ready he will come to an "explosion" into art, or reading, or language.

All we can do is to bring them the working tools, then set them free to create — to give new form — to open new visions. Our task is to saturate the environment with learning situations.

It is the child himself who absorbs all that he is able to. He is the one to choose from this environment those experiences which are useful and good for his development. This motivation originates from within the child himself; it cannot be imposed from without.

Planning To Move? No Need To Skip Meals If You Plan Right

By JEANNE LEMM

UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — If statistics were kept on skipped meals, they'd probably peak around September 30, the traditional moving day for Americans.

The end of September is the peak period for moves, and a record 41 million Americans are expected to change their addresses by the end of this year—70 per cent of them between May 15 and October 15.

Three figures come from Atlas Van-Lines, Evansville, Ind., which adds that food needs shouldn't be dropped by the wayside on moving day, since at that time you need all the energy you can get from well-balanced meals.

To help provide such meals with a minimum of effort, the moving company has compiled a list of packing tips, plus streamlined menus and recipes for the first few days in a new home.

—Before you move, use up as much food as possible, especially opened cans and jars that could leak in transit, food in breakable containers, frozen food and other perishables.

—If you plan to move open packages of dry staples, such as flour, cereals and baking soda, tape them shut before packing.

FOR NEW HOME

—A day or two before the van comes, label two boxes "food for new home" and fill one with products bought especially for the first few days here. Fill the other with utensils, serving dishes and related articles you'll need to prepare the meals.

—In the food box, pack these canned goods: beef stew, peach halves, fruit, juice, fruit cocktail, mushroom soup, chow mein noodles, tuna, mandarin oranges, pineapple chunks, chocolate syrup, spaghetti in tomato sauce, plums and chicken in gravy. Add packaged biscuit mix, raspberry jam, ready-to-eat cereal, coffee cake mix — the kind that comes with its own mixing bag and baking pan, coffee, breadsticks, salt, pepper and butter. The packaged foods should be in unopened containers, and the glass jam jar, wrapped in paper before packing.

—Fill the second box with disposable paper products, a skillet, a couple of saucepans, a small cookie sheet for baking biscuits, a paring knife and tablespoons, and a casserole. The paperware should include two sizes of paper plates, cereal dishes, cups for both hot and cold beverages, napkins and placemats, plus plastic flatware if you don't pack your every day set.

As soon as possible after moving, buy perishables—not enough to restock completely, but just to tide you over the first few days.

For the first dinner, serve canned beef stew, lettuce with bottled dressing, biscuits made from the mix and peach melba. For each dessert serving, place a chilled peach half in a cereal dish, top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and a spoonful of raspberry jam.

For lunch, set out cold cuts, bread, potato chips, and canned fruit cocktail.

Second night dinner: chopstick tuna, mandarin orange-pineapple salad, bread sticks, butter and chocolate sundaes.

For the main dish, combine 1 (10½-ounce) can of cream of mushroom soup with ¼ cup of water in an ungreased casserole. Add 1 cup each of sliced celery and chow mein noodles, 1 (7-ounce) can of tuna, drained and flaked, and ¼ cup of chopped onions. Toss lightly. Sprinkle 1 cup of chow mein noodles on top. Bake 20 minutes in preheated 375-degree oven. Makes 4½ servings. For salad, arrange mandarin orange sections and pineapple chunks on lettuce.

SECOND DAY

Start the second full day with a bacon and egg breakfast, lunch of canned spaghetti with the franks added, bread and canned plums. For dinner, serve chicken pot pie, salad, bread sticks and chocolate ice cream.

For lunch main dish, empty 2 (15½-ounce) cans of spaghetti in tomato sauce into casserole. Top with 6 skinless franks, split lengthwise and stuffed with ½ slice of processed cheese each. Bake 20 minutes in preheated 400-degree oven. Makes 4½ servings. For the pot pie, heat 2 (1-pound) cans of chicken in gravy in a wide 3-quart saucepan. When contents are bubbling, top with dumplings made from ½ cup of milk and 1 cup of biscuit mix. Cook as label directs. Makes 6 servings.

Bill Daily Still Plugs Potato Chips Even As "Jeannie" TV Ratings Hit

By VERDON SCOTT

UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bill Daily is one of the co-stars of "I Dream of Jeannie" — not the kind of star who makes you drop everything to catch the show, but whose performance is absolutely invaluable.

As with most successful series, it is the genuine assists from supporting players that make "Jeannie" a hit.

As does Roger Healey in the weekly situation comedy, Daily frequently slips in nuggets of humor on his own. It is a natural extension of his moonlighting job as a writer of commercials for radio and television.

POTATO CHIPS

In addition to the series Daily writes commercials regularly for a potato chip firm and for a national bakery.

The actor and his wife, Pat, have been married 19 years and are the parents of Patrick, 10, and Kimberly, 8. Both are adopted.

The Daily family is poised to move into a brand new four-bedroom home in the hills of Studio City, a half-hour drive from Columbia Studios where the NBC-TV show is filmed. There will be an office in the house where Bill can work on his commercials. Included on the grounds is a swimming pool for the children.

WORKING DAY

Daily works four days in the series, rehearsing three and shooting one on the final day. On a normal day he is on the set at 7 a.m., in makeup, in his Air Force uniform, and before the cameras until 7 p.m.

Pat, whom he considers a brilliant cook, has dinner waiting for him when he gets home.

SPAGHETTI

"I'm a cook, too. A good one," Daily claims. "I'm terrific when it comes to making spaghetti with clams." The barbecue chores fall to Bill when the family spends the summer in a beach cottage on Lido Island at Newport Beach about 50 miles down the California coast from their home. On weekends Daily likes nothing better than packing Kimberly and Patrick into the family car and heading for the chartered fishing boats for deep-sea trolling.

Recently, to Pat's dismay, the children and their father returned home with almost a hundred pounds of bonita.

Mrs. Daily was grateful, however, that the catch was brought to the old house. She has plans to decorate their new home with antiques and as many of the Daily painting collection as possible.

"Our problem is that the new place has so many glass walls and draperies, we don't know what to do with all the really fine paintings we've bought over the years," Daily says.

A native of Des Moines, Iowa, Bill attended the Goodman Theater College in Chicago before becoming an NBC staff director. Later he switched to writing for the old "Club 60" television show starring Dennis James. Thereafter he formed his own comedy act and hit the Midwest nightclub circuit.

At the moment he is satisfied with working as an actor during the day and writing commercials at night — oh, yes, and fishing weekends.

Take A Break

NEW YORK (UPI) — People who ride long distances in planes, trains and buses without taking exercise breaks may find themselves suffering from a new kind of problem — vacation emboli. This is the same thing, medically, as pulmonary embolism, the formation of a blood clot that gathers in the lungs, causing illness and death.

Vacation emboli is related to blood pooling in leg veins of people sitting still for long periods. A report on the problem — particularly common in this jet age when overnight travel is accomplished while the passenger is sleeping upright in a tight tourist-class seat — was published in "Medical World News," the weekly news magazine of medicine.

Royal Translation

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — An Urdu translation of Plato's "Republic" by President Zakir Husain of India is one of the latest books published by the Indian Academy of Letters with assistance of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Home Improvement Grant Awarded For Newton Upper Falls Program

Mayor Monte G. Basbas announced this week that the first home improvement grant had been awarded under the Federally assisted Newton Upper Falls Improvement Program.

The three-year improvement program has been in operation since April of this year, when the first housing inspections were undertaken. Since that time, over 120 dwelling units in the Upper Falls have been surveyed by the program's housing inspectors.

Concurrently, the program staff at the site office at 386 Elliot Street in the Upper Falls area have been processing applications for Federal home improvement loans and grants. Several more awards are expected to be made in the near future now that the initial period of organization and staff training is complete.

In addition to providing Federal financial assistance for the home improvements called for in its survey of all the housing in the Upper Falls, the improvement program provides assistance to homeowners in finding and supervising contractors to do the work.

Combined with the home improvements, the City has undertaken to pave and reconstruct streets, walks, curbs and other public facilities in the Upper Falls section without charge to the residents.

Contracts have been let for work along Ossipee Road, Cliff Road, Cheney Street, Cheney Court, and Shawmut Park and work is expected to begin in the near future and to be completed next Spring.

Bidding is underway for work along River Avenue, Indiana Court, Pennsylvania Avenue, Abbott Street, Chestnut Street, Hale Street, Indiana Terrace, Linden Street, Mechanic Street, Oak Street, Sacco Street, Butts Street, Keef Avenue, and Williams Street.

Alderman Small Makes Protest To Mayor Basbas

Alderman-at-Large Sidney T. Small of Ward 6 has sent the following letter to Mayor Monte G. Basbas concerning the efforts of the alderman to obtain information from the Newton Purchasing Department:

Dear Mayor Basbas: "I have in my possession a copy of correspondence between Mr. Pillsbury of the City Purchasing Department and yourself, sent to me by Mr. Pillsbury. I would like to remind you of the events, which lead to this correspondence.

"Several weeks ago I called the Purchasing Department. Mr. Pillsbury was not in, at which time I asked his secretary for information concerning motor trucks ordered by the City of Newton in the year of 1968. The information I wanted to know was those motor trucks that were ordered, those that delivered and those as yet undelivered to this date. Mr. Pillsbury did not return my call nor did I get this information from his office.

"I called his office a second time, he informed me at that time that he had that information and that he had given it to the chairman of the Public Works Committee, and I should get my information from him. Rather than argue with Mr. Pillsbury and relate to him that not only as a member of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton am I entitled to such information, but any citizen is entitled to public information coming from the Purchasing Department."

"I tried contacting the Committee chairman and found he was on vacation, so I still could not get the information. You will recall a few days later, I visited your office, and told you that I had sought this information and was not getting it from Mr. Pillsbury. You said to me that you would instruct him to send the information to me.

"I waited another week and after not hearing from Mr. Pillsbury I called him again, he said he had not heard from you, and had not discussed this with you and he didn't plan to do anything about it. I asked him if he would discuss this matter with you, and hear from you directly about our conversation.

"The result of this is the letter that I have in my hands from Mr. Pillsbury to you, stating, 'Alderman Small advised me today, he spoke to you regarding the above information and you approved the said service. Shall we proceed at our earliest convenience?' (We are short handed) Signed by Mr. Pillsbury.

"The answer from your office stated, 'I think the document to which Mr. Small refers is the large sheet which you have already prepared. I would say that you should release this information to the chairman of the Committee and as I understand you have already done so,' signed Monte G. Basbas.

"Now, Mr. Mayor, as one of the members of the Board, who instituted the investigation held all during last winter as to why the City of Newton suffered such an experience in the snow removal, I believe that a quick response to my request was in order. The reason for my seeking this information was so that all might be done to prevent the very late delivery of equipment such as took place a year ago and which partly received blame for the poor snow removal of last winter.

"It should not be necessary for me to remind you, or any Department Head, in this case the Purchasing Department, that information belongs to the Public, it belongs to the People, and so to myself not just as a member of the Board of Aldermen, but as a citizen of the City. I think too, that your Department Heads might well remember that although they are responsible to the Mayor of this Community, they are also responsible to the citizens of this Community for whom they work, and are paid by the citizens of the Community of Newton.

"I can tell you, Mr. Mayor, I do not appreciate the manner in which this Department handled this matter, nor can I appreciate the way you looked after it after my conversation with you."

MRS. DAVID A. McLAUGHLIN

Miss Stephens Is Bride Of David A. McLaughlin

In St. Thomas Roman Catholic Church, Delmar, N.Y., recently, Miss Mary Alice Stephens became the bride of David Anthony McLaughlin.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis A. Stephens of Glenmont, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McLaughlin of 98 Bourne street, Forest Hills, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Robert F. Willi officiated at the 12 o'clock noon ceremony. Mrs. Paul R. Bechet of Albany, N. Y., was matron of honor. She wore a full length empire gown of topaz and antique gold Jakarta linen. Her antique gold Dior bow held in place her double tiered shoulder length illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white glamelias with English ivy.

Similarly attired, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Francis X. Crowley of Newton, sister of the groom, Mrs. Alfred Wiswall of Tewksbury, another sister of the groom and Miss Doreen R. Kelly of Boston.

James Mulreman of Rosindale, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushering were Leo T. Feeley Jr. of Albany, N. Y., Joseph Leary of Franklin, John L. Malloy Jr. of Westwood and Lawrence O'Rourke of West Falmouth. After a trip to Jamaica in the West Indies, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will make their home on Marshallfield.

The bride was graduated from the Academy of the Boston Names and the College of St. Rose, both in Albany, as well as Boston College Law School. She will practice law in Boston.

confronting South Vietnam," he added.

"After Vietnam had been divided at the Geneva Conference of 1954 between the communist north ruled by Ho Chi Minh and the non-communist south ruled by Ngo Dinh Diem, a strong anti-communist and fervent nationalist, Diem was faced with great difficulties," Curtis observed.

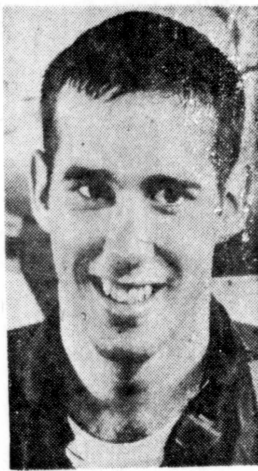

"He faced the problem caused by dissident elements in the South, and the necessity of absorbing nearly a million refugees from the north who were fleeing from communism.

"When Diem appealed to the United States for economic aid, President Eisenhower wrote him October 23, 1954, promising aid 'to assist the government in developing and maintaining a strong viable state.'

Curtis observed that shortly before President Eisenhower's letter to Diem of October 1954 the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty (SEATO) had been signed by the United States and other nations giving the states of Indochina a guarantee against aggression from without and subversion from within.

Curtis said that the aid given pursuant to President Eisenhower's letter of October 1954 was of the same nature as the economic and military aid which the United States has since been giving to many countries; that 63 percent of the aid given free Vietnam up to 1961 was for economic purposes; that there was no thought of sending American combat troops or promise to do so; that at the end of President Eisenhower's term in 1961 there were only about 750 U.S. military advisors in South Vietnam; that these were increased to about 1,500 during the Kennedy years; that the decision to participate actively in combat in the Vietnamese war was made some years later.

"These being the facts, any statement giving the impression that President Eisenhower bore the responsibility for getting us involved in this war is unwarranted," concluded the former Congressman.

The Newton Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Michel Sasson, today announced plans for three concerts during the 1968-69 season, and all concerts will be held at the Meadowbrook Junior High school starting at 8 p.m.

On Sunday, November 24, guest soloist Fredy Ostrovsky, Boston Symphony violinist, will play Bruch's Concerto in G minor for violin and orchestra.

On Sunday, March 9, Roger and Peter Voisin will play the Vivaldi Concerto in C major.

This special program also includes Berlioz's Harold in Italy with Burton Fine, principal violinist of the Boston Symphony, as a soloist.

The final concert of the series is Sunday, May 18. Malcolm Frager, noted pianist, will perform the seldom heard original version of Tchaikovsky's B flat Concerto.

All seating is reserved. For ticket information call Mrs. Stolbach at 244-8506 or write Newton Symphony Orchestra, 136 Winslow road, Newton, Mass. 02168.

Newton's Highland Glee Club Opens 61st Season

The Highland Glee Club of Newton opened its 61st season recently with a roast beef dinner served in the dining room of the Newton Centre Methodist Church by the women of the church. The tables and the windows were beautifully decorated with clusters of fall flowers from the gardens of a club member, F. Seifert Smith of North Marshfield.

Additional attractiveness was supplied for the occasion by the presence of the wives of the glee club members who, during the singing rehearsal, met in the church parlour for a session in the area of what they could do to help improve the Highland Glee Club and its service to the community.

Those present were Mrs.

APOLLO 7 PASSES HALF WAY MARK

APOLLO 7 PASSED THE halfway mark of its 11-day test flight for a trip to the moon Wednesday, more than half of its objectives already met. At 9:08 p.m. EDT, the spacecraft had been in flight 130 hours and five minutes — half of its planned 260 hour, 10 minute mission from liftoff Friday to splashdown next Tuesday. It remains almost a foregone conclusion that if Apollo 7 successfully completes its flight, Apollo 8 will circle the moon at Christmastime.

SECOND DAY OF HEAVY FIGHTING IN VIETNAM

ALLIED TROOPS backed by columns of armored personnel carriers killed 75 North Vietnamese soldiers in a second day of heavy fighting below the eastern edge of the Demilitarized Zone, military spokesmen said Thursday. The government soldiers lost five dead and 12 wounded in fighting that raged through the afternoon under monsoon rains. The Communists damaged four ARVN armored personnel carriers with B40 and B41 antitank rockets.

WORLD WAITS LBJ ANNOUNCEMENT ON BOMB HALT

OFFICIAL SOURCES in Washington confirmed Wednesday that President Johnson hopes to announce soon a complete halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, although one crucial snag remains. The disclosure came as reports of such a breakthrough circulated on three continents. The Washington sources said that Johnson hopes to have the evidence and assurances he wants from Hanoi to permit him to order the total bombing cessation the North Vietnamese have been demanding as a condition to full peace negotiations. But these sources stressed that the potential Hanoi-Washington agreement was not yet completed.

HURRICANE GLADYS AIMS AT TAMPA BAY AREA

HURRICANE GLADYS slashed across western Cuba and into the Gulf of Mexico with mounting fury Wednesday, aiming anticipated 100 mile per hour winds at the populous Tampa Bay area along Florida's west coast. Miami Weather Bureau said Gladys should begin failing the lower Florida keys and the southwest Florida coast with hurricane force winds by early Thursday. "While it is too early to be certain as to the landfall of the center, computations presently indicate it should reach the Barenton-Tampa Bay area Thursday afternoon," forecasters said. Hurricane warnings went up from Clearwater south through the lower half of the Florida Keys to Marathon.

SELECT NEW HAVEN FOR GERMAN MEASLES TESTS

Seek 10,000 Signatures For Charter Commission

A drive for 10,000 signatures to place the question of the election of a Charter Commission for Newton on the ballot in 1969 has been undertaken by five Newton organizations.

The League of Women Voters of Newton, the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Council of PTA's, the Newton Democratic City Committee and the Newton Republican City Committee are planning a "sign-in" on election day, Nov. 5.

Their activities are being coordinated by Citizens for Charter Review, an organization created solely for the purpose of placing the question of charter review before the voters of Newton.

The Charter Review group has arranged for petition-carrying members to collect the signatures of Newton's registered voters at all the polling places in the city on election day. They will also have copies of the charter and will be prepared to answer questions any voter might have about charter review.

The last review of Newton's charter was made in 1897. The practices of good government have changed considerably since then. The nine-member Charter Commission would have the help and advice of

City Offers Bags And Helpful Hints

It's that time again.

The leaves are falling and the faster they fall and the bigger the accumulation they attain the greater is the nuisance they create. And ... well beyond any consideration of aesthetic appearances they offer very definite hazards to life and limb.

What to do about them? Here with are some suggestions and warnings. The suggestions come from Street Commissioner Edmund C. Bolduc. He knows a lot about leaves and the nuisance and dangers they can bring to a city like Newton which has lots of trees. This season it will cost the city somewhere around $300,000 to get them off the streets and prevent them from clogging public drains.

Claims From Wallace Camp In Bay State Appear Absurd

Predictions by some supporters of former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace that he will carry Massachusetts are ridiculous.

Wallace will be a poor third when the Bay State returns are tabulated on the night of Nov. 5.

He will not make a creditable showing in this State.

Charles H. McGlue, Wallace's Massachusetts campaign manager, has not made any claims that Wallace will carry the Commonwealth but he has forecast that Wallace will get 500,000 votes across the State.

interested citizens and professional consultants to make sure that the Charter meets the city's present needs.

Endorsing the signature drive are Mayor Basbas, the Newton Board of Aldermen, the School Committee and many other prominent citizens. They join Citizens for Charter Review in recognizing the local constitution and in realizing that it can be best accomplished through the efforts of a popularly elected Charter Commission.

The Commission is composed of nine registered voters of the city who will serve without pay. Members will be elected at large at a regular city election.

The recently passed home rule amendment gives each city and town the power to revise its charter. The Commission will review Newton's charter and may propose revisions.

Issues which might be considered under the prerogative of the Commission would be the terms of office of the Mayor, the Aldermen and members of the School Board. Also, the method of filling vacancies in the office of Mayor, Aldermanic Board and the School Committee.

The Commission could also consider whether or not Newton should have preliminary elections.

If 10,000 signatures of registered voters are obtained, on election day in 1969 the voters will cast ballots on the question: "Shall

The meeting this coming Sunday will have a speaker from the National Council of Catholic Men, experienced in the setting up of such councils in other parishes, who will outline the meaning of the Church and the role of the layman and the Parish Council in the modern world. There will be an opportunity for everyone attending to meet and discuss, to present their own ideas and to vote on any proposals which are made.

All members of Our Lady's Parish are invited to attend the coming meeting and to take their part in deciding the shape and membership of Our Lady's new Parish Council. The meeting will take place in the parish cafeteria, and refreshments will be served.

College Club To Meet On Oct. 23

Mrs. Roger Lester of Waban is recording secretary for the Connecticut College Club of Boston, that will hold its fall meeting next Wednesday evening (Oct. 23) at the College Club on Commonwealth Ave., Boston. Miss Alice E. Johnson, the college's dean of freshmen, and three undergraduates will present a panel discussion of "Student Activism."

A commission is elected to revise the charter of Newton? At the same time they will also vote for nine charter commissioners.

If the majority of votes cast on the question is in the affirmative, the nine candidates with the highest number of votes will be elected.

Within 45 days after election, a public hearing must be held. Eight months after election, proposed charter revisions (if any) must be published and made available to the public. A public hearing must then be held on these proposals.

Ten months after election, the Charter Commission must submit a final report to the Board of Aldermen. The question of approving the proposed charter revisions must be voted on at the next regular city election (1971). If a majority of the votes cast is in the affirmative, the revisions are adopted.

A Perplexing Question

The 26-year-old battleship U.S.S. New Jersey went blazing into the Vietnam war a couple of weeks ago, her 16-inch guns hurling shells 23 miles onto enemy targets in the DMZ. Since that time the grand old battleship has been on other fire missions aiding our troops in the field.

The huge, 57,000-ton vessel, the world's only active battleship, was put in mothballs after the Korean War, and reactivated on the strength of Navy arguments that her guns could help to supplement aerial bombardment of North Vietnam.

The cost of reactivating the behemoth of the seas was an estimated $41.5 million. The cost of maintaining the ship as it continues its duty will run into many millions more.

We wonder how many ground-to-ground rockets, similar to those being deployed and used by the Communists against South Vietnamese communities (where the casualties include more civilians than military), could be manufactured and used for the same amount of money?

This is a question Congress currently is asking Defense Secretary Clark Clifford. It has been put to the Secretary by Congressman H. R. Gross, of Iowa.

He asked whether the U.S. has rockets similar to those being used by the Communists, and if we have such weapons, why aren't they being used?

Gross, in a discussion with Cong. George Mahon, of Texas, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, asserted there is widespread perplexity throughout the U.S. over the failure to use missiles against key North Vietnamese targets.

The questions are loaded with political dynamite in this election year. If Clifford reveals that the United States does not have rockets similar to those used by the Communists, the outcry will be great. If he reveals we do have them, the outcry will be just as great as to why we are refraining from using them.

The Threat To Apollo 7

Once again the United States — and mankind — is paying another section in the long road leading to the stars. The Apollo 7 spacecraft with astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham aboard, is presently whirling around the earth on a shakedown flight in the program designed to ultimately land man on the moon.

To most people now, putting men into orbital flight around the earth is old hat. The blasé American public, once caught up in a fever of excitement over men venturing into space, today accepts the achievement just as it accepted the miracles of earth-bound air flight, radio and television.

The public in its constant search for change, excitement and thrills, quickly forgets the enormous technological triumphs that have been recorded as civilization advances toward new frontiers.

The present flight of Apollo 7, unfortunately, carries with it a problem that all the technology and research in the world has, as yet, failed to solve. The problem has been the scourge of mankind since the beginning of time.

A problem that has cost billions in money, materials and man-hours, far more than the cost of the moon program.

It is ironic that astronauts Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham, who are surrounded by all the best scientific devices for safety and successful completion of their mission, should fall prey to the common cold.

Up there in space the trio's efficiency and the success of the mission is being threatened by the sniffles. It would be indeed tragic if the planned 10-day, 21-hour, 40-minute flight had to be cut short because of man's ancient enemy.

Political Highlights

McGlue is a shrewd and able politician, and he's not about to downgrade Wallace's appeal in the State where he's running things.

But the facts are that Wallace's vote total will be much closer to 200,000 votes than it will be to 500,000.

Wallace might pull enough votes away from Hubert H. Humphrey to give Richard Nixon a real chance of carrying Massachusetts, a basically Democratic State. At the moment, however, that does not seem likely.

Ironically, Nixon is in some measure responsible for knocking down Wallace's vote-pulling power.

His declarations that a vote for Wallace is a vote wasted have made an impact on many thousands of voters.

While this may have helped Nixon in some States, it probably has hurt him in Massachusetts.

The assertion by Wallace aides that the biggest crowd which has greeted him anywhere turned out to hear him during his recent visit to the Boston Common was misleading.

A huge throng of nearly 20,000 persons did gather on the Common for Wallace's appearance there.

A large percentage of the persons in the crowd, however, were teen-age boys and girls who are not old enough to vote.

A sizeable portion of the audience was comprised of curiosity-seekers who obviously have no intention of voting for Wallace, some of them from Democratic headquarters, some Republican politicos.

They had come to see and hear Wallace as some sort of curiosity. They listened politely, and they didn't boo or heckle him although they laughed at some of Wallace's verbal blunders.

The number of persons in the crowd who are out-and-out Wallace supporters was rather small, only a few thousand at the most.

Hubert Humphrey may stage a vote-getting spurt in Massachusetts. He is proportionately stronger here than in most states. Richard Nixon could put on a drive which will see him carry the Bay State as a result of his visit here and that of Spiro Agnew and other Republican drum-beaters.

But Wallace is going nowhere but down. His strength will drop, not rise. The biggest decline of all will occur on election day itself when people in the privacy of their polling places realize the absurdity of casting a vote for Wallace.

Wallace's campaign is so flimsy as to be a joke, and the way to treat it is to laugh it off as so many people did who listened to him on Boston Common.

When Wallace is President, he told his audience, there will be no busing of school children between Boston and Cape Cod.

Many persons in the crowd blinked at that pronouncement and wondered if Wallace actually could be so poorly informed as to really believe that school children actually are being bused between Boston and Cape Cod.

And if they were, what would the President of the United States do about it?

Wallace's attack upon Harvard University also was somewhat absurd. There was a time when a candidate could get votes by rearing back and firing a broadside at Harvard.

But that went out of political fashion with high button shoes, and Mr. Wallace really was outdating himself although, if pressed, we would have to admit that we do not know any more about Alabama than George Wallace knows about Massachusetts.

Wallace in some respects is a talented entertainer. He's pretty sharp at coining a phrase and turning a quip. If he cannot get elected Governor of Alabama the next winter in the television field.

But we must report on the basis of all the political evidence that his cause in Massachusetts is lost beyond all rescue and that most of the people who say they will vote for him as an expression of some form of protest don't really mean it.

Mr. Wallace's campaign in this state may not be exactly a disaster. A more apt description would be that it is just a funny sideshow to the real thing.

GOP Set To Stage Big Drive To Cut HHH's Lead In State

With all the political evidence indicating that Hubert Humphrey is leading Richard Nixon by a fairly substantial margin in Massachusetts, Republican leaders will put on a big drive in the next week in an attempt to shift this State from the Humphrey to the Nixon column.

Nixon himself is scheduled to sweep into the Bay State this week. His visit should give fresh momentum and a new lift to his campaign.

The GOP Presidential standard-bearer will be followed by his ticket mate, colorful Governor Spiro Agnew who will be the principal speaker at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner to be held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel next Tuesday night.

Gerhard D. Bleicken, senior vice president of the John Hancock Insurance Company and chairman of next Tuesday night's dinner, reports that Republican groups are coming from all sections of the Commonwealth to attend the event.

Bleicken declares that GOP delegations from the Berkshires, the Merrimack and Blackstone Valleys, from the North and South Shores, from Cape Cod and Cape Ann, will be among those converging on the Sheraton Plaza Tuesday to hear Governor Agnew and help boost the Nixon-Agnew campaign fund.

"We will have a sellout crowd," asserts Bleicken who is running the dinner because of his close personal friendship with Nixon which dates back to the days when the two served together in the navy during World War II.

In addition to making their own impact upon the voters, Nixon and Agnew hope to stimulate the drives being made in their behalf by various groups and organizations headed by such popular Republican figures as Congressman Bradford Morse of Lowell, and State Senator John Quinlan of Dover.

GOP chieftains are disturbed by the results of

Fall Meeting Of Women's Clubs Next Tuesday

The Fall meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held next Tuesday (Oct. 22) in the Administration building of the Newton Junior College, Washington Park, Newtonville.

Desert and social hour will be at 1 p.m., followed by a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. George J. Brookhiser.

Charles W. Dudley, president of the College, will speak on "The College Today."

On October 30th at 1 p.m., Mrs. George Obrokhiser and Mrs. Charles W. Laffin will open their homes for several tables of Bridge as a fund raising project.

painstaking professional surveys which show Humphrey well ahead of Nixon in Massachusetts.

Political analysts also find it difficult to reconcile the findings in the Bay State with other polls which give Nixon a commanding lead on a nation-wide basis.

If a tide of public dissatisfaction and discontent with the Johnson administration is running, as most political experts believe, it should be evident in Massachusetts.

Political tides of such a nature do not stop at State borders. Yet, such a tide has not shown up on the polls made so far in the Bay State.

Massachusetts is not considered by the students of politics to be a barometric State, as Maine once was.

A Democratic candidate for President must carry in the opinion of the political pundits who believe that a Republican Presidential contender can lose the Bay State and win election, as the polls indicate Nixon will do.

This, of course, is because Massachusetts is basically a Democratic State.

Yet, in the last nine Presidential elections the men who carried Massachusetts won the Presidency.

The last candidate for the Presidency who carried the Bay State but did not get the necessary votes elsewhere to win the election was Alfred E. Smith just 40 years ago.

Richard Nixon may be on his way to doing what Herbert Hoover did in 1928.

But if he is unable to carry Massachusetts, he may be involved in a closer contest across the nation than most of the experts now realize.

No Cabinet Post For Brooke He Holds A Better Job Now

Reports have been widely circulated that Senator Edward W. Brooke might become U.S. Attorney General if Richard Nixon is elected the next President.

Some admirers of Governor Volpe have even wondered whether this might lessen the likelihood that Volpe will be tapped for a cabinet post if Nixon defeats Hubert Humphrey.

The answer is that there really is no possibility whatever that Nixon will appoint Brooke to any position.

And the simple reason for that is that Nixon has no job he could offer Brooke which would cause the latter to resign from his position in the U.S. Senate.

Brooke has a pretty good job right now, and he isn't about to step out of it.

The happiest person in Massachusetts if he did so would be John A. Volpe.

In such an unlikely and implausible turn of events, Volpe would resign from the Governorship and have Lieutenant Governor Francis W. Sargent name him the new junior Senator from Massachusetts.

That, of course, is not going to happen.

DR. RICHARD F. GIBBS

Dr. Gibbs Speaks At Medical Forum

Newton physician Richard F. Gibbs of 170 Hartman Road served as moderator and introductory speaker this week at Suffolk University's medical-legal forum. The lecture series is examining issues of the legal liabilities of doctors, nurses and hospitals. Emphasis is on obstetrical cases.

Dr. Gibbs, attending physician at the Boston Hospital for Women, Lying-in Division, is a third-year student at Suffolk's Law School. His speech was entitled "The Scope of Medical Malpractice."

In discussing the Code on Medical Ethics, Dr. Gibbs called for greater communication between doctors and lawyers. He stated, "In light of ever increasing numbers of medical malpractice claims one wonders if the public does not become the ultimate and real loser," he declared. Dr. Gibbs described many of these claims as "arbitrary, capricious and generally without merit."

Gibbs also said that "nuisance" claims have resulted in spiraling increases in the cost of malpractice insurance, and that many doctors are finding it necessary to be versed in law.

Beaver Country Day Pupils Win Merit Letters

Principal Donald R. Nickerson announced today that letters of commendation have been received by five students at the Beaver Country Day School for their high performance in the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test NMSQT.

John Kiley To Present Concert Aid Rubella Parents Association

John Kiley, noted organist for the Red Sox, Bruins and Celtics, is donating his services at a benefit concert to aid multiply-handicapped children afflicted by the rubella (German measles) epidemic of 1963-64.

This concert is to be held at the Newman Junior High School, Needham, on Friday, October 25, at 8 p.m. It has been estimated that as a result of this epidemic, approximately one thousand children in Massachusetts were afflicted with one OR MORE handicaps! These handicaps included: blindness, deafness, heart disease, brain injury and many other abnormalities.

Recently the parents of these children formed the "Rubella Parents Association" to help these afflicted children. John Kiley's concert on October 25 is the first fund-raising activity to be sponsored by this organization. All proceeds will aid the "Rubella Parents Association" in this worthy cause. Tickets are available at the door.

Several prominent business executives will participate in a panel discussion at a meeting of the Houseware-Hardware Lodge of B'nai B'rith this Sunday morning (Oct. 20) at the Needham Motor Inn. Leon Tobin is president of the Lodge.

Topic of the panel discussion will be "Mass Merchandising in the next five years, as I see it."

Speakers taking part in the discussion will be Allan Larkin, co-publisher of "Modern Retailer;" Norman Altman, president of the Norman Altman Co.; Sidney

L. Davis, editor-in-chief of "Modern Retailer;" Ken Kandler, vice president and merchandise manager of Hardline of the Giant Stores; and Mike Markell, president of Proctor Paint.

Robert Waterman will serve as moderator.

A question and answer period will follow the discussion.

injured last Saturday when she was struck by an automobile in front of Newton High School. She died several hours later at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Her brother, Stanley, was hit by the same automobile and received a leg injury.

The driver of the vehicle, a 22-year-old youth from Goshen, N.Y., said that the girl ran into the street from in front of a parked car.

An old fashioned Country Fair, sponsored by the Cabot School PTA where the girl attended, was to have been held this Saturday from noon until 6:30 p.m. at the school playground.

Out of respect for Eva and her family, the Fair was called off.

The purpose of the Fair was to provide an afternoon of fun for Cabot School families and to give the faculty, parents and students a chance to get together informally.

The School Principal, Mr. Freeman, planned to attend the function with his family and hoped to meet many of the parents in a leisurely, relaxed way.

PTA officials hope to reschedule the affair at a later date.

Memorial PTA Pumpkin Sale This Weekend

The annual Pumpkin Sale by the Memorial School PTA will be held this Saturday (Oct. 19) and Sunday (Oct. 20) at the Oak Hill Park Shopping Centre.

Chairman Eugene F. Black promises a good selection of pumpkins of all sizes and explains that proceeds from the sale will benefit PTA projects.

For trick 'n' treats, Memorial School PTA is also selling famous brand candy bars, 24 for a dollar. For delivery, call 527-6377, 527-8512 and 527-0980.

Cub Pack 217 Meets Tonight

Cub Scout Pack 217, sponsored by Temple Emanuel in Newton Centre, will have its first meeting of the season in the Vestry of the Temple at 7:15 tonight (Oct. 17).

All boys who are 8, 9, or 10 years old, whether they have been Cub Scouts before or not, are cordially invited to this meeting.

Each boy must be accompanied by a parent.

MRS. GEORGE B. WEBB

Miss Sardella - Sgt. Webb Wed; Papal Blessing Read

A trip to Niagara Falls followed the recent marriage of Miss Stella Ann Sardella to Sgt. George B. Webb, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, which took place at the Sacred Heart Church.

Mr. Paul Sardella of 55 Stalla road, Roslindale and the late Mrs. Mildred Sardella are the bride's parents. The groom is the son of Mrs. Wesley Eugene Webb of Hartsville, South Carolina, and the late Mr. Webb.

The Rt. Rev. George Kerr officiated at the three o'clock afternoon ceremony at which two rings were exchanged. He bestowed the Papal Blessing. A reception was held at the ballroom at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston.

Mr. Sardella escorted his daughter, who wore an empire gown of silk organza appliqued with precious lace, entraine.

Her tiered illusion veil, marked with similar lace appliques was fastened to a becoming headpiece. She carried traditional white flowers.

Mrs. Annette Estelle LoRusso of Roslindale, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Elena Frieburger of Roslindale, Miss JoAnne DiPaolo of Mattapan, Miss Phyllis Centofant of Roslindale, Miss Mary Trifiro of Roslindale, Miss Pamela Ann Gocco of Newton and Miss Barbara Webb of Hartsville, South Carolina.

The three flower girls, all nieces of the bride, were Andrea LoRusso, Paulette Maria Sardella and Rosemarie Paula Sardella. Paul Sardella Jr., of Canton was best man for his sister's groom. The ushers were Joseph D. LoRusso, Joseph P. LoRusso, Paul Petros and Petros, all of Roslindale, as well as Cosmo Gilbert 3rd of Waltham and Geraude Fowler of Baltimore, Md.

Niagara Falls was the honeymoon destination of the Webbs, who will live in Boston.

The bride is a graduate of Holy Cross Academy and Bryant and Stratton School.

The groom is serving with the Marine Corps, stationed at Norfolk, Va., (Photo by Nocca Studio).

Glenn M. Fishman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Fishman of 1457 Beacon St., Newton, and a student at Newton High School, is a saxophone student in the private study division of Berklee School of Music.

Miss Drummond, Mr. Surette Exchange Vows

Now living in Norwood are Mr. Louis Joseph Surette and his bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Ann Drummond, whose marriage took place recently at St. Gregory's Church in Dorchester.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Drummond of Mattapan. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Surette of 619 Washington street, Newton, are the groom's parents.

The Rev. William F. Drummond, S.J., officiated at the 10 o'clock nuptials. The Lower Mills Memorial Post was the setting for the reception.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Victorian period gown made of pure silk organza bodiced with Alencon lace. A becoming headpiece was fastened with her illusion veil and she carried a Colonial banquet of glamelias and roses.

Mrs. Alice Linehan was her sister's matron of honor. The other attendants included Miss Joan Gill of Dorchester, Miss Janet Burgess of Westwood, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Arlene Curtis of Medford, sister of the groom.

The best man was Kevin Stokes of Waltham. Ushers were Edward Linchan of Dorchester, Robert Goudette of Waltham, cousin of the bride, and Douglas DeCosta of Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Surette left on a trip through Vermont.

Mr. Surette was graduated from Burdett College.

MRS. RAYMOND HAKIM

Canadian Home for Former Catherine McLaughlin, Groom

Now making their home in Montreal, Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hakim (Catherine McLaughlin), whose marriage was solemnized recently at the Holy Name Church, here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McLaughlin of 31 Congreve street, Roslindale, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Hakim of Montreal, Canada, are the groom's parents.

The Rev. Anadore officiated at the 11 o'clock double ring ceremony. The Colonial Ten Acres in Wayland was the scene of the reception.

Escorted by her father, the bride's white satin sheath was topped with a cage of Spanish lace terminating in a cathedral length train.

A lotus shaped headpiece made of pearls and rhinestones held in place her buffant illusion veil. She carried a traditional bouquet of white flowers.

Miss Ann Marie McLaughlin of Roslindale, sister of the bride, was honor maid. The other attendants included Miss Ann Hakim of Montreal, Canada, Miss Diane Ayache of Roslindale, Miss Helen Torpey of Jamaica Plain and Mrs. Elizabeth Brower of Brighton.

Anthony Hakim of Montreal, Canada, brother of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were William Loughlan of Newton, Maharaj K. Koul of Kashmir, Robert McLaughlin of Roslindale, Andre Assalant of New York and William Brower of Brighton.

The bride, having completed her junior year at Emmanuel College, is continuing work for her B.A. degree at St. George Williams University in Montreal.

Mr. Hakim was graduated from A.U.C. and recently received his doctorate from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. (Photo by Pagar Studio).

Mrs. Stephen Gens, President, conducted the meeting and outlined the season's program and activities. Mrs. Irwin Parness and Mrs. Harold Meizler of Newton, hostesses for the afternoon, prepared a buffet luncheon.

The afternoon's program was presented by Estelle Skal who reviewed James Baldwin's new novel Tell Me How Long the Train's Been Gone.

Mrs. Allen Dublin and Mrs. Leonard Zieff of Newton, co-chairmen of the annual luncheon, reported that the event will be held at the Sidney Hill Country Club, Caenstnut Hill on Nov. 13. Mrs. Udell Rosenberg of Newton, chairman of the Ad-Book Committee, reported that goals for the year will be reached.

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

Some families eat the same green salad with the same dressing every day and Sunday too—and enjoy it. Why not try something new for a change? Radishes are a pleasant-tasting and colorful addition to many stand-by salads. Try coarsely chopping them and add to green, potato, chicken, tuna or macaroni salad. Toss in to enhance routine cole slaw. Sprinkle on cottage cheese. Use raw young green peas, pods, and onion for an interesting combination. A delicious dressing for fresh greens, radishes, cucumbers and cabbage is vinegar, sugar and equal parts of mayonnaise and sour cream. Adds flavor to any salad.

For a real change, plan to attend the GOURMET NIGHTS OF FRANCE at the HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 22, 23 and 24. Enjoy the authentic taste of bouillabaisse, escargot, French wine, and other French treats. Make your reservations early... Call me at 332-4400

Cars will be exhibited on the main mall from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

O'Donnell Backs Alderman Shea For State Rep.

Kenneth P. O'Donnell, close advisor to the late President Kennedy and active member of the Platform Committee at the Democratic National Convention, yesterday endorsed Alderman H. James Shea, Jr., for election as State Representative.

In his endorsement of Shea O'Donnell stated: "Today's problems demand the participation in federal and state legislatures of our most active, informed and issue

Bernard Kaplan, past president of the council, calling for student participation in the PTA Council. Mr. Kaplan asked that one student representative from Newton High and one from Newton South High be invited to Council meetings.

He suggested that such participation would offer a different viewpoint, stimulate fresh ideas, and open new channels of communication.

The next meeting of the PTA Council will be held on Nov. 7 at the Peabody Home. The featured speakers will be Mayor Bonte G. Basbas, Alderman Wendell Bauckman and School Committeeman Manuel Beckwith.

PERSONAL WELCOME from President William Graham, at left, to Lake Forest (Ill.) College is extended to Jeffrey N. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis of 5 Evelyn road, Waban, and James C. oriented citizens. Jim Shea will be such a legislator."

Responding to O'Donnell's endorsement, Alderman Shea declared: "I am grateful for Ken O'Donnell's confidence in me and in my candidacy. As an individual intimately involved in the legislative process for some years, Ken O'Donnell is keenly aware of our domestic problems and the demands of legislative service."

"While I have spoken to many issues in the course of this contest, I would like to take this opportunity to express again my commitment to the reduction in size of the Massachusetts House to 160 members, support for the elimination of double and triple member districts, opposition to statutory or constitutional limits on the length of legislative sessions and my conviction that legislative committees must have greater staff resources. In these ways we can streamline and professionalize legislative service here in Massachusetts."

Alderman Shea received 2,770 votes placing first in the Sept. 17 Democratic Primary in the newly formed 12th Middlesex District consisting of Newton Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7.

Helen Patterson CAN BE your State Senator!

It's up to you! NOW is your chance to WORK — and November 5 is your chance to VOTE — for the ONE STATE SENATOR who will represent Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Weston and Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 in Newton.

Helen Patterson ran on stickers in the primary — and won! Her campaign is snow-balling as voters and volunteers meet her and learn her qualifications.

Helen Patterson is the mother of four children (12, 15, 18 and 20 years old) who understands the problems of the suburbs. She has NO interests that conflict with being a full-time State Senator!

And she's QUALIFIED...

- Past Board of Directors, Wellesley League of Women Voters
- Member, Commission on Church and Race, Massachusetts Council of Churches
- Board of Directors, Boston School Volunteer Program
- Vice-president, Massachusetts Federation for Fair Housing and Equal Rights
- Degrees from Radcliffe (A.B.) and Middlebury College (M.S.)

COLLEGE BOARD—SAT

Do Intensive Review Courses
Help On the SAT?

Most assuredly, review courses help those students who have no reading problem. For these students, total familiarity with the format of the SAT examinations, practice in taking these tests, and concentration upon examination-taking technique, will allow them to work in a relaxed manner and provide a true measure of their ability. To improve scores, our program gives training in analogies, vocabulary and advanced reading comprehension. A complete and thorough review is given all mathematic areas covered on the SAT. Students desiring the mathematical review must take a placement test.

All Classes Limited To Eight Students

For those with low scores on the verbal section of the SAT's, require a scholastic evaluation at no cost to the student. And in some instances may recommend an intensive course in developmental reading rather than the SAT review course.

Call 665-0227 for next date of free evaluation, reservation and full information. Courses held in Newton Centre and Melrose.

The Art of Home Decor

By MEL STERN

Splatter painting is new... splatter painting is "in"... splatter painting is easy, inexpensive and fun. Splatter dye plain sheets into a modern painting for your living-room wall. Or splatter dye window shades by splatter painting the fabric and then ironing it on to the shade (shade material can be purchased with convenient adhesive backs). Try it on lamp shades, paneled screens, steamer trunk-turned-coffee-table. And anyone can splatter paint. All you need are sheets and liquid or powdered fabric dye. Spread a wet sheet on the grass and begin to splatter. Use one color at a time (start with the lightest) and redampen the sheet each time you change colors. Iron the finished sheet.

Do-it-yourself designing is fun. But for decorating harmony and good looks, consult our expert decorating staff. With our help you can be your own decorator and have your decor coordinated in your favorite type and style.

There's Always Something New at the Plaza!

All right. All right. So the car above is not new. It's a 1912 Hudson touring car. But it looks new. And it's only one of thirty beautifully restored antique automobiles that you can see along the South Shore Plaza Mall this Saturday, October 19th.

Or, if you're more interested in new cars, then you'll want to see our equally splendid selection of the 1969 Lincoln-Mercurys. We have all their newest models, from the sleek Cougar XR-7 to the luxurious Mark III. And they'll be here for three days: October 17, 18 and 19.

Yes, there's always something new at the Plaza, whether it's an auto show or an art exhibit, a puppet performance or a skating spectacular. The Plaza is a family of 71 modern, friendly shops and stores welcoming you with fine food, tasteful furnishings, unbeatable bargains and attentive service. It's a shopper's delight. It's a browser's paradise.

Come down this week for our Autumn Automobile Show. See the most beautiful cars ever designed — past and present. But no matter when you come, you'll find — there's always something new at the Plaza.

Retarded Children To Benefit By The GBARC Drive In Newton

The Newton Chapter of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children will conduct a door to door fund drive this Saturday (Oct. 19) with proceeds earmarked to further the work of the organization, whose principal aim is help for the retarded. This organization is not a member of the United Fund and depends on this drive to secure the support needed for this vital work.

Mrs. Harvey Chansky, chairman of the Newton chapter, says some high school students will be helping but more volunteers are needed for the canister solicitation. Any person wishing to help should contact her at BI 4-7310.

The establishment of a nursery school for the retarded children of this area has been the goal of the Newton Chapter of GBARC this past year. An open Board meeting will be held Tuesday evening (Nov. 12) at the Newton Mental Health Center at 8 p.m. Plans for the current year's projects will be discussed and all interested persons are urged to attend.

At the Chapter's recent meeting at the Newton Mental Health Center, Mrs. Virginia Odell, teacher for the newly established Community Clinical Nursery for retarded children of this area, outlined the nursery program in some detail.

It is intended to provide the mentally handicapped child with a well-planned, normal nursery experience, modified as necessary to fit the children's abilities. It is planned to give the children an opportunity for group play, to develop self-help skills, such as managing coats and boots, buttons and zippers, learning to pour from a pitcher into a cup.

There will be opportunities for self expression through music, dance and art, using a variety of materials; and the children will help prepare simple foods which they may later enjoy at snack time. Simple science projects are included in the program, such as seeing what happens to snow when brought into the warm room; and, conversely, what happens to water placed outside on a freezing day.

Language skills, often slow to develop in the retarded, are encouraged; and special help is given to develop a healthy self concept. Mrs. Odell stressed the need of these youngsters to experience success, often difficult in the normal environment, but carefully provided for each child at his own level in this nursery program. Mrs. Odell comes to this nursery, one of a growing number of such Mental Health Dept. facilities, from the nursery for the retarded in Framingham where she taught the past five years.

Mrs. Dianthe Richards, chief social worker of the Newton Mental Health Center, which will handle admissions to the nursery school, outlined admission procedures. Evaluation of the child's suitability for the school will include an opportunity to observe the child in a nursery setting, records of previous developmental evaluations, previous nursery experience (if any), and, in some instances, psychological testing.

Much of the cost of operating the nursery will be provided by state funds, but to meet other expenses not covered, a fee will be charged based on ability to pay. No child will be excluded because of inability to pay.

A discussion group for the nursery parents is also being planned. The nursery is expected to open this month at the Peabody School. Transportation will be provided. A maximum of twelve children from ages 3 through 6 years can be accepted for the five day a week morning program. Interested parents should contact the Newton Mental Health Center at 969-4925.

Sermon Theme At Lutheran Church

The Rev. Robert L. Griesse, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Newtons, has selected as his sermon theme for this Sunday (Oct. 20) "The Man Who Went Home with a Word in His Pocket." The first service, with Holy Communion, will be at 9:30 a.m. and the second service at 10:30. After the late service, the pastor and congregation will gather in the parish hall for coffee and a discussion of Law and Order in society as it pertains to the Christian life. During this time, the children receive Sunday School instruction. Pre-schoolers are cared for in the nursery during both services.

Wednesday evening is Religious Education Night at the church. Four Lutheran pastors and a seminar offer five separate courses for different age groups. Classes start at 7 p.m. and end at 8:30.

The October 22nd meeting of the Walther League will deal with the subject of world hunger. On Saturday, October 26, the group will hold a Halloween party for the children of the Brook Farm House in West Roxbury.

The Ladies Guild will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 22 to hear Representative John G. Bradley speak on the subject, "The Christian and His Concerns as a Citizen." This will be followed by a panel discussion highlighting various areas of the subject.

Two Newton area students were named to the Dean's List at Duke University, Durham, N.C. for the spring semester of last year. John Stedman Marold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Marold of 12 Leewood Rd., Newton Highlands and Frances Ann Deats, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul K. Deats, Jr. of 106 Berkeley St., West Newton maintained at least a 3.0 academic average to receive this honor.

Three Newton Area students have been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester last year at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. They are Marjorie L. Jacobs of 17 Sherbrooke Rd. ## Expert Production Crew For "Ten Little Indians"

When the curtain rises for the Country Players' production of "Ten Little Indians" at Meadowbrook Junior High School at 8:30 on the nights of Nov. 8 and 9, the audience won't be seeing men and women in large measure responsible for the excellence of the show.

They will be the members of the production crew — the folk responsible for making a theatrical presentation something real, something vibrant, something that brings into sharp focus the terpsichorean talents of the people on the stage.

For the forthcoming offering of Agatha Christie's mystery thriller which delighted Broadway, The Country Players have gathered a top-talent, behind-the-scenes array of experts with a wealth of know-how and experience.

Stage manager, for instance, will be Marie Cotton. Marie is a former assistant editor of the ASA Film Co., New York. For two years she has worked on the production staff with the Boston Opera Company. She holds a bachelor's degree in the fine arts from Boston University. She has extensive experience in producing and stage managing through affiliations with the Cape Cod Melody Tent and as a camp drama department head at Stoney Clobe, Hunter, N.Y.

David Wolf, scenic designer, is a veteran with The Players. He has been connected with such popular shows of the organization as "The Deadly Game," "Inherit the Wind," "Make a Million," "Come Blow Your Horn," and "Catch Me If You Can." He has also assisted in settings for the "Damn Yankees," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and "Can Can."

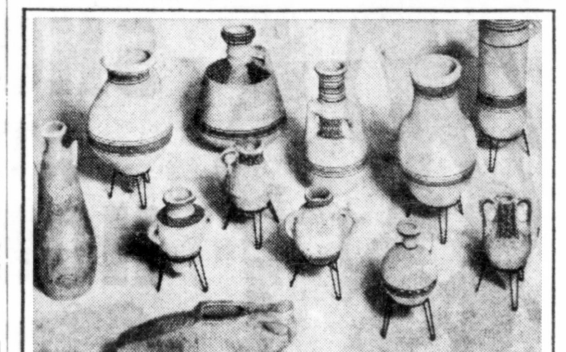

In charge of lighting will be Joel Gray, whose former credits include "The Players' production of "Bells Are Ringing," and "The Happiest Day of the Year." Business Manager Robert Cotton worked in a similar capacity for the South Shore Music Theatre, Cohasset.

Also working on production crew are Anne Kosow, production coordinator; Joan Gray, Chris Ford and Shirley Vitello, assistant stage managers; Marlene Sherman, tickets and posters; Cookie Kates and Ruth Boynick, props and properties; Howard Agranat, Mark Aranson, Melvin Clayton, John Vitello and Milton Zola, set construction.

Other seasoned staff members include Daniel Kosow, publicity and flyers; Carl Winograd, photography; Dona Thorman, programs; Henry Goldberg, special effects; Pat Pellows and Harry Snyder, make-up; Chris and Kenneth Ford, house managers and refreshments;

New 1969

Volvos Arrive At Brown's

The 1969 Swedish Volvo has arrived at Gene Brown's Volvo Village at 714 Beacon street in Newton Centre. This is an introduction of the new Volvos in the United States.

While body styling of the Swedish automobiles continues unchanged, the new cars feature more than 15 significant engineering improvements including a new engine.

With a displacement increase from 109 to 121 cubic inches (1.8 to two litres), the new engine boosts performance of all four of the models Volvo sells in America — the 142 two-door sedan, the 144 four-door sedan, the 145 four-door station wagon and the 1800 sports coupe.

Chief design features of these sedans are interior room and visibility. Using a compact car wheelbase of 102 inches, Volvo engineers have provided passenger and trunk space comparable to medium size domestic cars with wheelbases of more than 110 inches. The glass area of 140 Series models, from 3,830 square inches for the two-door model to 4,608 inches for the station wagon, is larger than many standard size American cars.

Passenger comfort centers around the seats which have all new upholstery for 1969. Vinyl plastic has been replaced by a new synthetic fabric especially developed to keep the seats cooler in summer and warmer in winter. Made of acrylic and nylon, this material is extra durable, fire retardant, and usually easy to clean. Seats for the 1800 sports coupe continue to be upholstered with leather.

Volvo sedan front seats also have two exclusive features — variable back support and an anti-whiplash device. A special friction clutch allows the seat backs to recline at a controlled rate should the car be hit from the rear. Adding to whiplash protection are adjustable headrests. The seat backs also are infinitely adjustable from straight upright to fully reclined. Variable back support is regulated by a control knob which adjusts from soft to firm the tension of special straps built into the seat backs.

Volvo's new engine produces 118 horsepower at 5,800 r.p.m. and develops 123 ft./lbs. of torque at 3,500 r.p.m., a 10 per cent improvement over the

CANDIDATES NIGHT — Mrs. Samuel Thier, at left, chairman of the Candidates Night for the Newton League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Charles Lipson, chairman of the League's Voter Service Resource Committee, are shown in the display at the Newton Free Library in Newton Corner. There are similar displays in some of the branch libraries. Candidates night will be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 30 at 7:30 at Newton South High School.

LWV Sponsors Candidates Night On October 30

The League of Women Voters of Newton will hold Candidates Night on Wednesday evening, October 30, at Newton South High School. The evening will begin promptly at 7:30 in order to allow sufficient time for the candidates to speak.

Prof. George Goodwin, chairman of the Politics Dept. at the University of Massachusetts in Boston, will be the moderator.

Candidates for state and national offices will be present. All Newton voters are urged to take this opportunity to meet and hear the candidates, as well as to question them.

previous powerplant. The increased torque noticeably boosts acceleration and low speed flexibility. To further improve performance while maintaining effective smog control, the engine is equipped with a unique air induction system that preheats incoming air to 88 degrees for maximum operating efficiency. Also contributing to better performance and reduced engine noise is a liquid coupled clutch which limits the cooling fan to a maximum speed of 3,000 r.p.m. Alternators replace generators on all '69 models.

Two Newton Co-op Banks Are Merged

A consolidation of the Newton Cooperative Bank and the West Newton Cooperative Bank, was announced yesterday by Walter A. Hood and Franklin K. Hoyt, respective presidents of the two banks.

They said the merger of the two banking institutions into one bank to be known as the Newton Cooperative Bank will make possible "more complete banking services."

Directors of both banks have voted to approve the consolidation, which also has been okayed by the State Banking Commissioner but is subject to the approval of the shareholders of each bank.

Hoyt will serve as chairman of the board of directors of the new bank and Hood as president and chief executive officer.

Assets of the consolidated bank will amount to more than $30 million.

Weymouth Blasts N.H.S. Hopes In 28-8 Runaway

Newton High's hopes for championship laurels received what may be a knockout blow last Saturday when the Tigers were topped by once-beaten Weymouth High, 28 to 8 in a game played at Weymouth.

It was Newton's first loss after opening victories over Everett and Brockton. Weymouth, which bowed to undefeated Brookline in its debut, was returning to action after a two-week layoff. It marked the Maroon's sixth win over Newton without a setback.

Newton was unable to maintain a sustained offense, compiling a total of only 75 yards, 24 on the ground and 54 through the air.

The usual pinpoint passing of senior Colin Clapton was reduced to three for 17 through an outstanding Weymouth rush which kept constant pressure on the Newton backfield. Several of Clapton's aerials went through the hands of open receivers.

MISSING MARGIN

The Tigers were not able to find a runner to replace Bob Wargin, injured last week, and out indefinitely with a broken collarbone. Wargin had been the team's most potent runner, pounding out nearly 175 yards in a game and a quarter.

Weymouth placed the score beyond Newton's reach in the first half with two touchdowns on the ground and one on a pass. Each team scored once in the third quarter, Newton by way of a pass interference call and a seven-yard Clapton run. Jay Civetti caught a Clapton pass for the conversion.

Weymouth alternated quarterbacks in the game, Tom McMahon and Bill McDonald. They shouldered the brunt of the Maroon running attack, carrying 28 of 55 rushes for 144 yards. McMahon led all ground gainers with 104 yards in 19 attempts while McDonald gained 40 yards and threw a 13-yard scoring strike to Bernie Burke in the first half.

The Newton soccer team, with near perfect goaltending by senior Chester Proshan, has recorded five shutouts in its past six games and has sole possession of third place in the Suburban Soccer League behind Lincoln Sudbury (7-0) and Medford.

Following two initial losses, Gordon Elliot's protégés have outscored opponents 10-2 en route to a 5-3 record. Majestic on defense have been Barry Harsip and Dave Russell.

After scoring only once in its losses to Watertown and Lincoln, the front line has evolved gradually into a unified combination, propelled by center Skip Stearns and wing Abe Oros. Notable performances, especially recently, have been given by Kevin Sheehan, Enrico DiMambro, Emilio Mazzola and Kevin Corrigan, completing the offensive nucleus.

Oros leads Newton scorers with three goals and an assist. The sure-footed sophomore registered the game-winners against Lexington (1-0) and Brookline (1-0) and assisted Mazzola in the Tigers' upending of Brockton (1-0). Stearns, Sheehan and Mazzola have all tallied twice.

Proshan has been tremendous in the nets with acrobatic, diving stops to prohibit scoring. His top effort was against Lexington with 10 saves. The triumph over the Minutemen halted a 46-game Lexington unbeaten streak in regular season play.

Harsip and Russell have been tremendous in support of Proshan from their full-back and halfback slots. Harsip possesses tremendous speed and is able to play at half field and still recover in time on breaks. Russell is extremely versatile and kicks well with both feet. Also impressive on defense have been Jon Marcus, Jon Newman and Howie Tarlow.

Newton High Harriers Win Over Malden But Lose To Weymouth

The Newton High cross country team remains tied for first place with Medford in the Suburban League race as they routed Malden and lost to Weymouth last week.

The Malden win brought the Tiger's league record to 4-0 while the loss to non-league opponent Weymouth put their overall slate at 4-2.

On Oct. 9 Newton took nine of the first 12 positions to easily whip the Malden Tornados, 18-46. The N.H.S. runners pulled away quickly and after 1½ miles occupied seven of the first eight positions, to virtually sew up the race.

Doug Tomb was the winner, with Mike O'Brien and Jay Sidman second and third. Malden took fourth and sixth but Mike Blake in fifth and John Bowles in seventh finished the Tiger's scoring and secured the victory.

The Jayvees duplicated this by taking one through four and sixth to triumph easily. Ed Reilly was the winner and was followed by Larry Vicary, Marc Flood, Bill Clark and Roddy Tempest.

The Weymouth race two days later however was a complete turn-around, with the Maroon and Gold taking nine of the first ten spots. The Tigers were worn out going into this meet as it was their third race in six days and four men were out with injuries.

Weymouth's sophomore standout Dave Sullivan won the race and Newton's Doug Tomb was a close second. Weymouth then took three through ten to finish off the Tigers.

Rounding out N.H.S.'s scoring was Nick Brown in 11th place, John Bowles, 12th;

Jay Sidman, 13th; and Steve Caggiano, 14th.

Newton's next meet is with Medford and it shapes up as the championship encounter as both squads are undefeated in league action.

Arlington Bests South's Harriers In Driving Rain

The rain was pouring with a driving, blinding intensity and the runners were drenched long before the start of the race. The terrain, mostly a grass course, was as treacherous in most parts, as an ice-covered street, and in others, the mud was three inches deep. It was a miracle that there were no broken bones. Three runners fell.

A much-improved pack of Arlington Harriers made a reluctant trip to Newton South's Mt. Ida Cross-Country course, on Monday afternoon, of last week and floated home with an impressive 19-44 victory.

Despite the horrible conditions, the Lions' top ten finishers broke the 16:00 barrier.

Tom LaPlante, South's outstanding sophomore, sloshed through the course in an excellent 14:34. However, Arlington's top finisher logged a 14:21. Nevertheless, LaPlante's time was good for second place, and with one more meet on the 2.6 mile route, he seems a good bet to break the sophomore record of 14:21.

The other Lion placers were: Lew Freedman, 10th in 15:13; Dick Dickinson, 11th in 15:16; Larry Junda, 12th, in 15:44; and Charles Pottey, thirteenth in 15:45.

The rest of the varsity finished in a tightly-knit group as Ron Schneider, Captain Bruce Kopelman, and Dave Glaser crossed the line in 15:50, 15:51, and 15:52, respectively.

Arlington's powerful JV squad, now 4-0, dumped a hopeful Lion five, 20-36, dropping Newton's slate to 2-2.

Sophomore Mike LeBlanc was the first across the line for the blue and orange in third place at 15:48. John Sealer steamed through in 15:59 for sixth place. Steve Sahl's 16:03 was good for seventh. Andy Cohen (16:12) and Bruce Kaye (16:25) rounded out the pointscorers in ninth and eleventh.

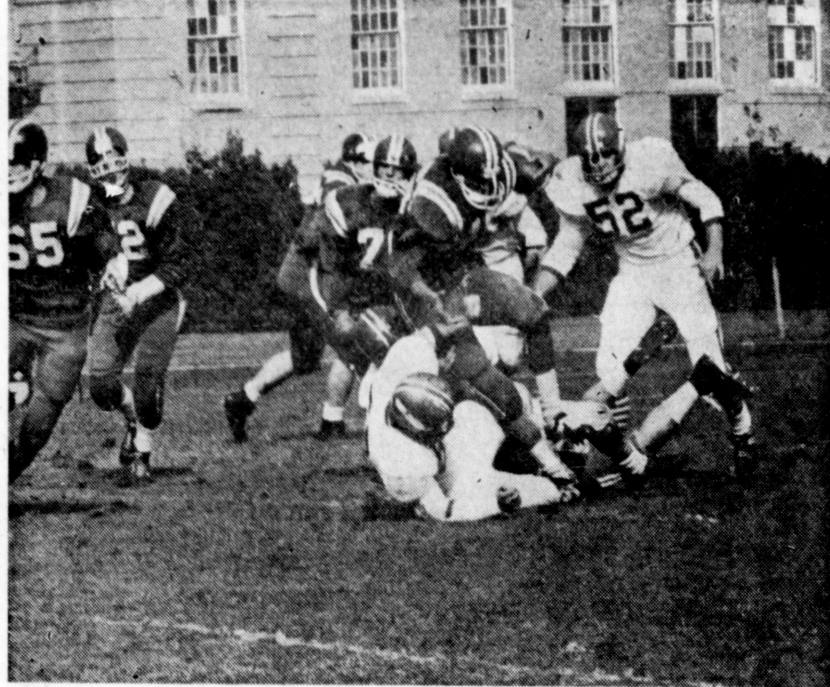

In direct contrast to wet Monday was calm Friday. South visited Medford on a perfect running day. The temperature was just right — not too hot, not too cold — and the wind was almost non-existent.

The Lions put on a good show against the strong (now 4-1) Mustangs, but were defeated, 24-33. Perennial first-place finisher Tom LaPlante did not lead the pack across the finish-line this time, but was still first for Newton and second in the race in a 13:15 clocking for the 2.5 mile route. In front of LaPlante was Medford's fabulous junior, Martin Murphy, who raced home in 12:50, only seconds off the course record of 12:42.

Sophomore Charles Pottey really came into his own in this meet, touring the course in an excellent 13:29, good for fourth place. This was by far his best effort of the season. Another sophomore, Dick Dickinson raced to the sixth position in 13:41. He was followed by senior Lew Freedman in tenth, at 14:00, and still another sophomore, Mike LeBlanc, in eleventh, at 14:05.

The varsity slate now reads 1-4 with this week's meet at Waltham.

The JV Lions upped their season's mark to 3-2 with an

Top Girl Tennis Stars Play Here Oct. 25-27

Some of the top young women tennis stars ever gathered from New England courts will be seen in action in Newton, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 25-27 when the city will be host to the New England Collegiate Tennis Tournament for Women.

Newton fell a sudden and unexpected heir to the tourney when the Longwood Cricket Club, where it has been an annual fixture was forced to cancel out.

Now the tourney will be played on the courts of Newton South High School. The competition — both from a stand-point of skill and spectacular play — has been rising in prestige for years. It is being sponsored by the New England Lawn Tennis Association and Radcliffe College.

Entries will be received from such colleges as Boston College, Brandeis University, Newton Junior College, Northeastern University, Pine Manor School, Simmons College, University of Massachusetts, Wellesley, Wheaton College, Smith College and Radcliffe.

Mrs. Florence D. Frades, whose home is at 154 Truman avenue, Newton Centre, expressing her enthusiasm in having Newton named as the site of the tournament praised local cooperation received in obtaining the outstanding sporting event.

Mrs. Frades is tournament vice chairman and is now serving with Radcliffe's office for sports, dance and recreation.

Helping to fill the void caused by the Longwood Cricket's cancellation within a limited time period were John B. Penney of the Newton Recreation Department, Miss Helene Breivogel, head of the Physical Education Department for Women, Miss Barbara Gilmore, instructor, the custodial staff of South Newton High and students and the residents of Newton generally.

All 12 Newton South High courts have been reserved for the tourney from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., except on Sunday for the semi-finals and finals will be used from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frades for several years was in the Physical Education Department of Newton Schools. Before going to Radcliffe she had served as Women's Physical Education director at Northeastern University.

Wakefield High Warriors Tame Newton South Lions

Newton South's football team suffered its third consecutive defeat of the young gridiron season as it bowed 21-0 to the Wakefield High Warriors at Dickinson Stadium last Saturday.

Quarterback Tom Rezzutti was home in bed with mononucleosis, and the rest of the Lions could get nowhere without him.

Coach George Winkler's biggest problem was to produce an able replacement for Rezzutti. John Lopez was first in the parade, but spent most of his time trying to evade the invading enemy linemen, and as a result, was ineffective.

Tom Nelson was fairly impressive in his stint as he completed two passes and stood up well under fire. However, he threw an interception which led to a warrior touchdown.

Even halfback Nick Parnell was shifted into the signal-caller's position for a short impressive defeat of the Mustangs. South tallied a perfect score of 15-50 with their first seven runners crossing the line before a Medford man.

Bruce Kaye, 14:26, Steve Sahl, 14:27, John Sealer, 14:40, Andy Cohen, 15:00, Ron Schneider, 15:09, Mike Oshima, 15:15, and Howie Berman, 15:32, paced the massacre.

while. This saved the trouble of a hand-off, for Parnell rushed on seemingly every play of the game.

Newton could generate no offense, as only once did the Lions penetrate enemy territory, but a penalty and a tough defense stopped that drive. The South defense couldn't control the offensive bursts up-the-middle by Wakefield fullback Steve White.

However, Lopez was outstanding in the cornerback spot, batting down half a dozen opposition aerials and nearly intercepting two. Lopez also filled in capably for Rezzutti in handling the punting and kick-off chores.

An oddity in the game was that there were no fumbles! But there were an unusual amount of penalties, many of which proved instrumental in halting drives.

South will take on Rindge Tech next Saturday, at Cambridge, in hopes of nailing down its first football victory of the season.

First Win For Newton South Soccer Team

Center-forward Frank Hurvitz boomed two 20-yard shots through the uprights and Alan King deflected in a third goal as the Newton South soccer team racked up its first triumph of the year, 3-2, over Brookline High, last Friday.

Steve Finer went all the way as goaltender and turned in a strong game. For once, he was supported by a powerful offense as Hurvitz, just getting accustomed to a new position, was deadly.

Earlier in the week the Lions dropped their fifth encounter of the season, against Brockton, 3-1. South slapped 21 shots at the enemy netminder, but could only beat him once, on a long shot by Bill Starr.

Dimitrios Antonopoulos had a goal and two assists for the hosts and was the driving force in their offense.

GETS OFF PASS — Newton South Quarterback John Lopez gets off a pass to Peter Shepard (right center) who seems adequately covered by Wakefield's burly No. 74. Lopez was taking the place of Tom Rezzutti, who was ill. Lopez and the rest of the team tried valiantly but it was a losing effort. The Lions went down to defeat, 21-0, for their third loss in as many games, and now sport the unenviable record of 0-3 for the season, so far. As well as being the quarterback, Lopez was also called upon to do all the kicking for the team. (Photo by Roger Belson)

Three Negro Teachers Cite Discrimination

After hearing a report that three Negro teachers in the Newton public schools had encountered discrimination in locating housing in the city, the Newton School Committee on Monday night voted unanimously to send letters to the Chamber of Commerce and to the Real Estate Board expressing concern.

Supt. Dr. James Laurits declared that he received a letter from the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights reporting the discrimination shown against the three teachers.

The Fair Housing Committee in its letter said they had only three contacts with Negro teachers and that all three had reported poor experiences.

Laurits expressed the opinion that most Newton citizens have demonstrated a wish to end discrimination, but that some does still exist.

The motion to send a letter expressing the School Committee's concern about the matter was made by Committee woman Mrs. Norma Mintz.

Committee man Vincent Stanton who said he also favored the sending of a letter, pointed out that the injustice had nothing really to do with the fact that those discriminated against were teachers, but it was on this basis that the School Committee could act.

Dr. Laurits said that one of the teachers wished to

Newman House Movie Benefit Next Tuesday

The curtain will rise next Tuesday night (Oct. 22) at 8:15 when Newman House, Newton's unique parent-directed center for the city's high school students, stages a movie benefit at the West Newton Theatre.

The film for the benefit is "Up the Down Staircase" with Sandy Dennis. "This is an especially appropriate presentation for Newman House," said President Charles T. Donovan, "since it depicts the problem that has motivated us all in the House: community our ideas effectively to young people."

The movie shows the difficulties of a new teacher whose first assignment is in a metropolitan high school. It is based on the best-selling novel of the same name, and drew practically universal acclaim from film critics when it appeared as a first-run movie a couple of years ago.

Tickets for "Up the Down Staircase" are available at Newman House every afternoon on school days. Newman House is located at the corner of Walnut and Clyde streets, Newtonville, across from the main entrance to Newton High School.

Tickets may also be obtained from officers and directors of Newman House: (all Mr. and Mrs.) president

Lecture Series At Temple Reyim Starts Tuesday

Dr. Alexander Altmann will give the first in a series of four lectures at the Combined Adult Jewish Education Program to be held at Temple Reyim, 1860 Washington St., West Newton, starting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday night (Oct. 22). Dr. Altmann will lecture on "Moses Mendelssohn and the Light of Reason."

Moses Mendelssohn (1729-86) was the pioneer of the modern phase of Judaism. A celebrated philosopher and man of letters, he became the spokesman of religious tolerance and advocated Reason as the essence of Jewish theology. The problems inherent in this rational stance brought him, however, into many conflicts which the lecture will be trying to disentangle.

Dr. Altmann occupies the Philip W. Low Chair in Jewish Philosophy at Brandeis University. He has held this position since 1959 and was director of the Philip W. Low Institute of Advanced Judaic Studies from 1960-65.

A native of Hungary, where he was born, Dr. Altmann was educated in Germany and in 1931 was awarded the Doctorate in Philosophy summa cum laude by Berlin University, and he received in the same his rabbinical diploma from the Berlin Rabbinical Seminary. He served as Rabbi of the Jewish Community of Berlin and as lecturer in Jewish Philosophy and homiletics at the Seminary until 1933 when he received a "call" to become the Chief Rabbi of the Jewish Community of Manchester, England. He held this position for 21 years until he came to the United States at the invitation of Brandeis University in 1959.

Angier School Pumpkin Sale

Pumpkins and cider will be the order of the day on this Saturday (Oct. 19) from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Angier School grounds when the Angier P.T.A. invites all Newton residents to purchase these and other treats at their sale.

Co-chairman for the event, Mr. Alan Miller and Dr. Joe Massimo, announce that the proceeds will be used to support the school library and creative arts program.

The committee working to plan the event include Mr. Ed Ehrenberg, Mr. Robert Foster, Mrs. Joe Massimo, Mr. David Proctor, Mrs. Charles Weingarten, Mr. and Mrs. Norman White. The pumpkin sale will be held inside in case of bad weather.

GOP Club Holds Social Evening

The Newton Young Republican Club will sponsor a social evening for all newly registered voters between 21 and 35 years of age. This event, open to Democrats and Independents as well as Republicans, will be held a week from Monday, Oct. 28, at the Community Center, 429 Cherry street, West Newton, from 8 to 11 p.m. Admission is free. Dancing will be provided by the Vincent Lopez Orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Visiting Professor at the Hebrew University and in the fall semester 1968 Jacob Ziskind Visiting Professor at Brandeis University.

In 1952 he founded the Institute of Jewish Studies in Manchester and acted as chairman of its Board of Governors and Honorary Director and as Editor of the Journal of Jewish Studies until his emigration to America.

Dr. Altmann is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; of the American Academy for Jewish Research; a member of the Board of Directors of the Leo Baeck Institute, New York; and Chairman of the American Editorial Board of the projected 15 volume Encyclopedia Judaica. He is a contributor to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Dr. Altmann holds honorary degrees from Manchester University and from the Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion.

Registration should be made through your respective Temple, however, registration

Black Theological Students Present Grievance Petition

A small group of black students at the Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre presented a petition containing what they designated as grievances and demands to President Roy Pearson and two other members of the administrative staff at the school Wednesday, Oct. 11. The petition was presented in an orderly manner and there was no demonstration, according to Dr. Pearson. During the course of the

Second Church Council Hostess At Oct. 25 Meet

The Woman's Council of the Second Church in Newton will be hostess for the fall meeting of the Suffolk District on Friday of next week (Oct. 25). Sixty-seven women's associations will be represented. Morning and afternoon sessions will begin at 10 a.m. and end at 3 p.m. with luncheon being served at 12:30 p.m. by Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden and her committee.

The morning session will present workshops on the concerns of Suffolk District — spiritual life, material aids, stewardship, program, adventures in reading and social action. In the afternoon there will be an outstanding speaker, the Rev. Paul Varga, whose topic will be "Where in the World Are We Going?"

Reservations for the luncheon should be made by seriousness of the national problem of our time." At the same time, it has passed another vote establishing as its own priority conversations with the faculty and staff of several black seminaries looking toward fruitful cooperation of the most fundamental nature.

In a statement Dr. Pearson said:

"The school commends the seriousness with which these students are approaching the problems of their own education; it remains as always committed to the best possible education for all of its students; it welcomes the present suggestions for improvement; it looks forward to further profitable discussion with the black members of its student body; and it is especially interested in developing better means of communication with all of its students."

Beverage Intake

New York — Americans drink about 17 gallons of beer a year and about four quarts of hard liquor and four quarts of wine per capita.

Lee Loumos Says:

One of my greatest joys of summer living is the outdoor charcoal barbecue. Now, at last, with the introduction of the new JENN-AIR INDOOR BARB-Q, I can enjoy this facet of summer living all year round. In fact, I doubt if I will ever bother with lighting charcoal again! The JENN-AIR vents out all odors and smoke without a hood and seals the meat juices in to give you the tasty-est steak you ever ate. This is no mouthing of Madison Avenue jargon, as I have just installed one in my own home and can personally vouch for every word. Come in and let me show you how this revolutionary new appliance works and when you hear how inexpensive it is to own and install, I'm sure you will want one at once.

THE POLITICAL DEBATE OF THE AGES

Representative Chandler Stevens, 33, will be there — to take on his two Congressional opponents the Democrat, 70, and the Republican, 75.

Dr. Stevens, a responsible Independent, has never lost an election. In the sad Party politics of 1968, he is the choice of those who care.

Hospital Honors 12 Newton Youths

Twelve Newton teen-agers were honored this week by the Brookline Hospital for the volunteer services they have performed.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

The concerned candidate:
PIERSON for State Representative.

Alderman Winslow C. Auerbach,
27 Jensen Street, Newton

Hospital President Rubin Epstein presented them with citations and praised the youngsters for their efforts with the comment, "you have the stability to live purposeful lives and more in meaningful directions in a world where so many of our youth are confused and discouraged."

Receiving the awards were Frances Blau, Anita Davis, Caryl Goodman, Lisa Zacks, Deborah Budd, Pam Goff, Arlene Kanter, Judi Kushner, Nancy Bakst, Larul Calmus, Judith Limentani and Stephen N. Drasner, all of Newton.

Newton Serviceman Home From Vietnam

First Lieutenant Philip J. Stoner, of 350 Auburndale Ave., Auburndale, is visiting at home during a 30-day leave following a 13-month tour of duty with the 3rd Marine Division in Vietnam.

While overseas he served for nine months as a forward observer for the Artillery in Cam Lo, Gio Linh and other areas near the DMZ. He later served as a civil action leader, working with the Vietnamese people near Dong Ha. In this area he assisted the natives in reconstruction work and taught English to the youngsters.

Following his leave, he will report to the 2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., for further assignment.

Unitarian Fair Ready For Next Week Oct. 25-26

The First Unitarian Society in Newton will have their biennial Fair at the Parish House, 1325 Washington St., West Newton, next Thursday and Friday (Oct. 24 and 25) with the help of many members of the Church School and a "men's brigade."

Mr. John E. Cox will direct the men in setting up "The Village Green" which is the theme of the fair. There will be a garden surrounded by shops.

One of these will be the Church School Shop, where may be found the products of two workshops which Mrs. Van Alstine has conducted with the primary and intermediate children. There will also be stone and enamel jewelry made by the Junior High Group of the Church School.

The older members of the School will wait on table at the dinner, Thursday, under the tutelage of Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach.

There will be two servings of a pot roast dinner at 5:45 and 7:15. Reservations will be accepted by telephone, 527-3203 and 527-8820, on or before Monday, Oct. 21.

A home-cooked luncheon will be served on Friday from 11:30 to 2 o'clock. Special attention will be given to provide quick service for business people and teachers.

RABBI EMANUEL

Adult Program Temple Reyim Sisterhood

Rabbi Emanuel Goldsmith, philosopher presently at Brandeis University, will keynote Temple Reyim Sisterhood's Adult Education series at the Temple, 1860 Washington Street, West Newton, on Thursday, October 24 at 9:30 A.M.

Rabbi Goldsmith is serving as teaching assistant in Hebrew literature at Brandeis University where he is also pursuing doctoral studies.

He has served as assistant editor of Reconstructionist Magazine and as associate national program director of the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization. He is the author of Modern Trends in Jewish Religion and has published articles on Jewish education, literature and religion in National Jewish Monthly, Jewish Heritage, Judaism, Jewish Spector, Conservative Judaism and other journals. He holds a degree from the City College of New York and was ordained by the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Focusing this year on The Jew In The Twentieth Century, the nine lecture-discussions will be given by an impressive list of speakers, including Dr. Sara Wilensky of Hebrew Teachers College, Robert E. Segal of the Jewish Community Council, Mrs. Sadelle Sachs of Fair Housing, Inc., Sibley Higginbotham, Executive Director of the Associated Day Care Centers of Metropolitan Boston, Mrs. Helen Kieval and Rabbi Philip Kieval of Temple Reyim.

Any woman interested in attending these lectures is invited to join. The following are members of the Temple

Seek To Construct Double-Decker Business Garage At Chestnut Hill

No opposition was recorded Monday night to zoning change request which would allow construction of a double-decker 166-car parking garage in Chestnut Hill.

At a joint meeting of the Planning Board and the Aldermanic Land Use Committee, Peter Van, a Newton Centre attorney representing the petitioners, presented plans showing the second floor of the structure would be level with contiguous Florence St., Chestnut Hill.

The garage would be built by the owners of a Boylston st. shopping center, Reva Gluck, of Brookline, and Bessie Kriensky, of Newton Centre. Atty. Van said the additional parking area is needed because of the expansion of an office building in the complex.

The structure would be used solely for the employees of American International Travel Service, Inc., 1330 Boylston st., Chestnut Hill, and the other businesses located in the same office building, Van said.

Planning Board member Stanley Miller objected to the additional entrance and exit to the garage from Florence st. Van maintained they are required as a safety precaution in case the other entrance and exit, from the present shopping center lot becomes blocked.

The attorney said the garage would relieve congestion on the nearby streets and provide additional parking spaces for shoppers. The area in question is unused land at 138 Florence st., property of Vincenzo Lalli.

Van explained that the two levels would be the most economical way to develop the property since there is a pit there which could be used for the first level.

Miller asked Van: "Would you build this if the entrance and exit were not allowed on Florence St.?"

"I wouldn't believe we would, sir," he replied.

The chairman of the committee, Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner, remarked: "You are asking us to fracture our land-use plan." The owners are seeking to extend the business-manufacturing zone to include this property.

Mayo Larkin, a Newton Centre resident and architect for the owners, defended the planned garage as retaining the residential character of the neighborhood.

Except for the 166 cars coming up Florence St.," said Flaschner.

Not all of the cars, it developed, would use the entrance, however. In addition, according to Larkin, screening would block the parked autos from the public's view. Parking space for 53 cars would be provided on the lower level and for 113 on the upper (the Florence St.) level.

There was no opposition recorded at the meeting to the plans. Two nearby businessmen voiced support because of the additional parking.

By the wording of the city's zoning laws, the new addition to the office building must also provide space for parking for 42 additional cars.

The committee met in closed-door session following the hearing to discuss this and several other hearings conducted Monday. They will report their opinions to the full board next Monday for action.

Units-

The positions of the candidates for U.S. Representative on such issues as Vietnam, civil disorders and negative income tax will be analyzed. Also taken up will be the positions of the State candidates on such issues as welfare, the sports stadium, and raising new revenue for the State. Information on the candidates for Governor's Council and the County offices will also be included.

Times and places for the meetings are as follows:

Wed., Oct. 23 (9:30-11:15 a.m.) Newtonville Library, 345 Walnut St. (Please use Highland Ave. entrance). Chairman: Mrs. Robert Capeless.

Wed., Oct. 23 (Luncheon meeting 11:30-2:00) at the home of Mrs. Norman Krim, 15 Fox Lane, Newton Centre. Leader: Mrs. Ernest Picard. (Bring a sandwich, coffee will be served.)

Wed., Oct. 23 (8:00-9:45 p.m.) Home of Mrs. Ronald Rubin, 136 Randlett Park, West Newton. Chairman: Mrs. Kenneth Quinlan. Leader: Mrs. Franklin Peterson.

Thurs., Oct. 24 (9:30-11:15 a.m.) Home of Mrs. Edgar Brown, 32 Fisher Ave., Newton Highlands. Chairman: Mrs. Herbert Spatz. Leader: Mrs. Julius Feldman.

To the People of NEWTON

You re-elected CURTIS four times to Congress, with increasing pluralities, when Newton was in the old 10th District.

With your help he will again be your Congressman.

Continue his outstanding service which was interrupted by a Gerrymander that wiped out his district.

In July, 1967, Newton was shifted into the revamped Third District where he is now a candidate.

Recent Deaths

Domenica Baccari
The funeral of Mrs. Domenica (Gallo) Baccari, 75, of 65 Clinton St., Newton, was held Monday with a solemn Mass of requiem in Our Lady's Church.

The celebrant was the Rev. David G. Bonfiglio, assisted by the Rev. Robert C. Fichtner as deacon and the Rev. William N. Quealy as sub-deacon.

Honorary bearers were members of St. Anthony's Society, the president, Teresa Volante, and Mrs. Carmella Antonellis, Mrs. Carmella Gentile, Mrs. Guisippina Zarilla, Mrs. Constantina Cellucci, and Mrs. Benedetta Antonellis.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, with prayers by Fr. Bonfiglio.

Mrs. Baccari lived in Newton more than 50 years and was the wife of the late Cesidio Baccari. She was a member of the Newton High School cafeteria staff.

She leaves three sons, Daniel, Pasquale, and Joseph, all of Newton. Two other sons, Antonio and Biagio, also of Newton, are deceased.

Rosario Guzzi
A solemn requiem Mass was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church at 9 a.m. last Saturday for Rosario Guzzi, of 90 Webster St., West Newton, who died of a heart attack Wednesday. He was 78.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

He was born in Catanzaro, Italy, son of the late Domenico and Theresa (Yerardi) Guzzi, and had made his home most of his life in West Newton.

He was a veteran of World War I, serving as a corporal in a bakery company of the Army from Nov. 1917, to June 1919.

Prior to his retirement eight years ago, he owned and operated Guzzi's Bakery in West Newton.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Phyllis E. (Voner); two sons, John D. of Lawrenceville Heights, Ohio, and Francis J. of Waltham; two daughters, Mrs. Theresa E. Lawlor of Dedham and Mrs. Virginia R. Romano of West Patterson, N. J.; two brothers, Francis J. and Louis W. Guzzi, both of West Newton; two sisters, Mrs. Theresa Carvelli and Miss Sally Guzzi of West Newton and 10 grandchildren.

Joseph A. Barry
Joseph A. Barry Jr. of 211 Highland Ave., Newtonville, will be buried tomorrow (Oct. 18) with services at St. Philip Neri Church, Waban, at 10 a.m. Mr. Barry, former chairman of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association and manager of marketing administration at Raytheon, died at the Faulkner Hospital on Monday at the age of 58.

Born in Winthrop, he was a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Harvard College and Boston College Law School. A veteran of World War II with the army, he was very active in civic and social affairs in the area and was a guest lecturer in management psychology at Northeastern.

Surviving him are his wife, Helen M. (Foley) Barry; three sons, Major Joseph A. 3rd, USA of Virginia; William F. of San Diego and Philip M. Barry of Boston. Also a daughter, Mrs. Joan McCarthy of Honolulu, and two brothers, Dr. John R. Barry of West Roxbury and Philip Barry of Virginia.

Interment will be in Holyhood cemetery, Brookline.

William Carl Beck
Long-time Waban resident William Carl Beck, 82, died suddenly at his home at 1765 Beacon St. Sunday evening (Oct. 13). He was a Vice President and Treasurer at Gamewell Co., Newton Upper Falls, with whom he has been affiliated for more than 50 years.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon (Oct. 16) at Union Church in Waban with the Rev. Boyd M. Johnson Jr. as officiating clergyman. Arrangements were by the E.W. Pratt Co. of Newton Centre and burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Beck was born in New York City where he was a graduate of Trinity-Pauling Preparatory School and of New York University. He was a 50-year member of the Mamaroneck, N.Y. Masonic Lodge and also of Brae Burn Country Club since 1918.

Surviving him is his wife, Mrs. Mary (Fletcher) Beck; a son William C. Beck Jr., of Wellesley; three daughters, Mrs. Joan Sithian of Worthington, Ohio; Mrs. Janet Sisler of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Beverly Sears of Tacoma, Wash. and 11 grandchildren. INITIAL GIFT — The Gordon family has contributed $40,000 to the New England Sinai Hospital Building Fund which seeks to raise $1.5 million. At left is Archie Kaplan, chairman of the building fund, accepting check from Maurice Gordon, Robert G. Gordon and Donald Jacobson, all of Newton.

Sinai Hospital Gets $40,000 From Gordons

An initial gift of $40,000 to the New England Sinai Hospital Building Fund was announced today from the families of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jacobson, all of Newton.

In making the gift, the three men, who are principals in the firm of Maurice Gordon and Sons Realty Company, pledged their volunteer services to hospital's $1.5 million dollar campaign.

Speaking for himself and his sons, Maurice Gordon stated that "the unique nature of New England Sinai Hospital in never discharging a patient who could benefit from hospital care despite a negative medical prognosis makes us feel that it is worthy of special support." The three are already actively at work in advisory and solicitation roles.

Maurice Gordon, who heads the firm, is well-known for his liberal contributions to charity which include a grant to the Bio-Research Institute of Cambridge for Lung Cancer, a men's dormitory at Brandeis University where he also established a Scholarship Endowment Fund, a new dormitory wing at Emmanuel College and a large contribution to the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center which named a building in his honor.

An advisor to the trustees of Boston University Committee on Properties, he is also a trustee of Hebrew Teachers College, member of the Advisory Council of Suffolk University College of Business Administration and a Founder of the Solomon Schechter Day School.

He is a former member of

Davis School Pumpkin Fair On Saturday

The annual pumpkin fair sponsored by the Davis School PTA will be held at the school's grounds, 492 Valtham st., West Newton, from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday (Oct. 19).

The announcement was made by Peter Felopulos of West Newton, president of the PTA, who said the event will be held rain or shine.

On sale will be pumpkins of all sizes, cider, apples, coffee,

Shack, a division of Tandy Corporation, because of the large number and distribution of its outlets. Most are located in convenient shopping locations, and are open more hours each day than other stores. USO hopes that this convenience will be further inducement for the public to respond.

The ambitious USOTape-a-letter project is an extension of the organization's 'Living Letter' Program, which replace the V-mail that was so popular during World War II. Taping facilities are maintained at most stateside USO clubs and in all USO clubs overseas, where servicemen can playback the letter and record a return message. These facilities are available to the general public for taping letters to servicemen throughout the year.

In order to allow time for mail delivery to Vietnam, Thailand and other critical areas, the tape-a-letter project has already been started and will run through Nov. 30.

Radio Shack To Tape Messages For Viet Vets

USO has announced plans for a special national project that it hopes will enable every overseas serviceman to receive taped holiday greetings from their families and friends. The unique 'Living Letter' project will cover more than 250 key cities throughout the country, and is aimed at making free taping facilities available to almost everyone in the nation.

The project has been developed to encourage the public to send special greetings to Armed Forces personnel who will be away from home during the holidays. USO especially wants to stimulate the flow of taped letters to Vietnam, where any message, taped or written, is doubly appreciated.

Through special arrangements with the Radio Shack stores, America's largest electronics equipment chain, USO will have free taping facilities in over 350 locations. In addition to supplying special recording booths in each of its stores, Radio Shack has agreed to supply free tapes and mailing cartons to anyone wishing to send a letter in their own voice to servicemen overseas. USO has selected Radio donuts, trick-or-treat candy, and balloons. The day's activities will include games for the children.

The fair is being coordinated by Mr. and Mrs. William Steinhardt of West Newton, co-chairmen of the PTA's ways and means committee. They are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs.

Gary Patton, also of West Newton.

1969 VOLVO NEWLY ARRIVED

Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden, where it's tough being a car. Everything we did to make that possible on previous Volvos, we have continued to do on these.

We don't guarantee how long the 140 series Volvos will last over here, where being a car is relatively easy. But we can tell you that they're equipped with speedometers (odometers in automotive jargon) that don't just go up to 99,999 like the ones on other cars.

They go up to 999,999. Which, at the very least, shows that we have confidence.

Newton "Y" To Have Art And Camera Classes

Two programs for creative and artistic children who have interests in photography and art have been announced by the Newton YMCA. These classes will be held on Saturday mornings and will run for 10 weeks beginning this Saturday (Oct. 19).

The art and painting class will meet for study in perspective, dimension, and color mixing, in the water color medium with opportunity for creative expression.

Any child with a camera may wish to take the course in photography to be held at 10:30 a.m. Class content will include the workings of the camera, correct picture taking, developing and printing.

Robert MacIntosh, a junior at the Massachusetts College of Art, will be the instructor for both of these classes. Further information may be obtained by calling the Y at 244-6050.

Union Church Plans Day-long Country Fair

Fair hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. A snack bar will offer tea, coffee and luncheon. A harvest supper for Union Church parishioners will climax the day.

The general chairman of the fair is Mrs. Henry T. Dunker. Her assistant is Mrs. Joseph M. Clough. Committee chairmen are: Mrs. George H. Tryon; Mrs. Earl B. Colvin; Mrs. Chester C. Vaughan; Mrs. Barrett L. Gilchrist; Mrs. Norman H. Dow; Mrs. Donald H. Gosch; Mrs. George E. MacDonald; Mrs. Warren E. Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Millard; Mr. and Mrs. David D. Nickerson; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Geddes are in charge of the harvest supper.

CHANDLER H. STEVENS

Rep. Stevens Planning Big Newton Drive

State Representative Chandler H. Stevens, the Independent candidate for Congress in the third district, will place special emphasis on Newton during the final two weeks of his campaign. In addition to being scheduled for Newton appearances for more than half of the remaining campaign time, Dr. Stevens will be the guest of honor at a $25-a-plate district-wide fund-raising dinner to be held here — at Valle's on Route 9 — next Wednesday night (Oct. 23).

Stevens, a 33-year-old economist and management consultant, is the only Massachusetts Legislator since 1914. He was elected in 1964, while serving as chairman of the Bedford Board of Selectmen, and re-elected in 1966 by a two-to-one margin over his nearest party opponent.

Stevens is making his race for Congress as an Independent because he believes the people of the district wish an alternative to the Vietnam and welfare policies of both major parties. He has won the endorsement of the Newton McCarthy-for-President organization, and of the bi-partisan National Committee for an Effective Congress.

Stevens favors an immediate end to acts of war against the territory of North Vietnam as an aid to peace negotiations, and a phased deescalation of American military involvement in South Vietnam.

He believes American foreign policy should be less paternalistic in respect to the governments and policies of under-developed nations, encouraging them to develop their own patterns of national behavior rather than conforming to American policies.

He predicts that such a policy would speed the emergence of a strong third force in world affairs which would lessen the danger of direct and open clash between the super-powers, America and the divided communist bloc.

Domestically, Stevens also believes national policy has been unduly paternalistic. He supports increased decentralization of control over such community services as education, police protection, and economic development — so that communities can determine their own patterns of public activity rather than conforming to national patterns. However, he stresses that strong federal programs are still essential to expand civil rights, help attract private industry into the solution of community problems, and prevent one area from undermining the efforts of another in such matters as effective pollution control and gun control.

Dr. Stevens earned his Ph.D. in economics at MIT. He holds an engineering degree from Georgia Tech, and has also done research at Georgetown University. He previously served as an Adjunct Assistant Professor of Economics at Brandeis University.

Stevens was the founding chairman of Citizens for Massachusetts, the statewide constitutional reform organization which co-sponsored the forthcoming popular referendum aimed at calling an elected constitutional convention to modernize the basic structure of Massachusetts government.

As a state legislator, Dr. Stevens also sponsored the Home Rule and Executive Reorganization amendments actually fenced in our entire property several years ago. A neighbor of ours had two old, and definitely home-oriented pet cats torn apart and killed by a pair of roving dogs.

It is our conviction that if people cannot find the time, or do not have the interest to keep their animals restrained, they have no moral right to loose them upon the community.

More power to Mrs. Fishbein and her much-needed crusade!!!!!!

Angier P.T.A. Plans Annual Potluck Supper

The annual pot luck supper by the Angier School P.T.A. to be held in the school gymnasium on Monday evening, October 28, was planned at the first regular meeting of the P.T.A.

Parents will have the opportunity to demonstrate their culinary prowess by contributing their favorite casserole, salad or dessert to the event, according to Chairman Mrs. Arthur Ezrin.

The evening will be mainly a social get-together for parents and teachers. Parents will be invited to visit their children's classrooms following the supper and a brief talk by Dr. Rita Emlaw, principal.

Officers of the P.T.A. for the 1968-69 school year are Norman White, president; Ed Ehrenberg, first vice president; Mrs. Arthur Ezrin, second vice president; Mrs. David Hubel, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Lee, corresponding secretary, and Alaa Miller, treasurer.

N-V Garden Club Meets Thursday

The Newtonville Garden Club will meet next Thursday (Oct. 24) at the Newtonville Library Hall at 10:15 a.m.

The program will be "Houseplants: General Cultural Hints and New Forms of Decorative Use" by Mrs. Evelyn Cronin. Mrs. Cronin is a member of the Hills Garden Club of Wellesley and the Arlington Garden Club.

She has served as president of the Hill Garden Club and president of the Council of Garden Clubs of Wellesley. On the board of the Garden Club Federation, Mrs. Cronin now serves as director of the Metropolitan District. Mrs. Walter B. Chase, program chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the morning.

Story-telling To Open Countryside Book Fair Mon.

A story-telling session with Mrs. Virginia Tashjian, Newton author and librarian, will open the book fair next week at Countryside School.

This year's fair is more than a fund-raising project, according to Mrs. William Strong, 1401 Walnut St., chairman. Proceeds will be used to buy new books for the school library; the extra events are an educational dividend.

A large selection of hard-bound books will be on display at the school throughout the week October 21-25. Every child in the school will have a chance to browse through the books and to participate in one special event.

Mrs. Tashjian will tell stories to children in the upper grades on Monday afternoon, Oct. 21. She is assistant librarian at Newton Public Library and author of a collection of Armenian folk tales. Once There Was and Was Not. Films for the lower grades will be shown later in the week.

Parents can visit the fair as part of the first general P.T.A. meeting at Countryside, Wednesday, Oct. 23. Neighbors and friends of the school are invited to browse through the collection in Room 1-A on Thursday afternoon from one until three.

Assisting Mrs. Strong with arrangements are Mrs. Margaret White, librarian at the school, and Mrs. Ava Bond, Countryside art teacher. A committee of 25 parents will staff the fair.

GRACE BEMIS CURTIS

To Lecture On Christian Science Here

Only love can conquer today's rising tide of fear and hate, according to Grace Bemis, Curtis, C.S.B., of Pittsburg, Penn. Her Christian Science lecture called "Loving to Live," will be given Friday, October 18.

Miss Curtis will speak at 8 p.m. in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Norwood, Walpole and Washington Streets. The lecture is sponsored by this church and is free and open to the public and will last about an hour. A nursery is available.

Before devoting full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science, Miss Curtis was a concert pianist and music teacher. She studied at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester and the New York School for Music in Rochester and the New York School for Music and Fine Arts in New York. She also studied privately with two students of Franz Liszt.

A life-long Christian Scientist, Miss Curtis is a teacher of Christian Science and a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Members of this Board give lectures throughout the world.

New Purity
Supreme Opens In Walpole

The newest supermarket in the Purity Supreme food chain opened its doors Wednesday, October 16, at 10 a.m. in Walpole.

Located on Route 1A (Main street), the store will be the company's first in the Walpole area and will feature the same "No Price Advertising" policy now effective in the other 13 Purity Supreme markets in the Greater Boston area.

Community leaders and local dignitaries attended the ribbon cutting ceremony of the largest and most modern supermarket in the Walpole area.

The Walpole supermarket will be the thirty-fourth store for Purity Supreme, the fastest growing, medium sized food chain in the country. The new store will offer the first opportunity for most Walpole residents to visit the supermarket that helped introduce discount food prices to Eastern Massachusetts.

Local shoppers will also have an opportunity to see and shop in a typical Purity Supreme store with its wide, gleaming

Heading up the Purity Supreme team of "Anti Inflationary Fighters" is Store Manager Ned DeLuca. Assisting him will be: Grocery Manager Robert Krim, Meat Manager John Kaseta and

Basbas Marks Guidance Week

Mayor Monte G. Basbas has proclaimed next week (Oct. 20-26) Vocational Guidance Week in the City of Newton. The Mayor urges all residents to observe the week by making themselves better acquainted with the services of professional counselors and the extent to which citizens can benefit from these services.

The Mayor's formal proclamation pointed out that the individual's right to choose his own occupation is a basic American freedom. The document continues: "Professional vocational guidance makes a maximum contribution to the process whereby an individual develops purpose and direction in his life's work..."

Vocational guidance also, according to the report, "provides vital assistance to individuals in selecting, locating and training for job and career opportunities which benefit the individual and strengthen our society..."

Deli Manager William Rich. The new Walpole store will be open 6 days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Leaves-

The warnings also emanate with the Commissioner. Perforce and for the public's own good, a lot of teeth have been put into the ordinances in recent years.

WHAT TO DO
What can you do? Well, you can bag them and have the city trucks pick up the bags. You can burn them, if you don't live on those streets on which burning is banned and you go to the trouble of getting a permit from the Fire Department.

One thing you can't do — is to sweep or rake them right off your own property out into the street or gutter to let the city take care of them. Because such disposal raises havoc with drains, violations can cost you a fine up to $20.

Commissioner Bolduc is asking the cooperation of all residents. He appreciates the problem and he knows the leaves won't just take off and leave those lawns neat and tidy for the coming of the first snow. Besides his department is offering help for those who would like to put their leaves in a bag and have them carried off in city trucks.

BURLAP BAGS
If you choose the bag idea, here's how you go about it.

From 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., each weekday you can purchase a good-sized bag for the nominal sum of 20 cents. They will be available at the Street Department's headquarters or at its divisions on Eliot street, Newton Highlands, Auburndale avenue, West Newton, or Crafts street, Newton Highlands, West Newton, or Crafts street, Newton. Or, if it's more convenient you can pick up a bag at any of the fire stations any day in the week, including Sunday. Of course, if you have a bag of your own on hand, it's O.K.

When you've tucked all your leaves inside the burlap container you just place them out for the regular trash collection. There's a slight catch — nothing but leaves should go into the leaf bags.

For those who don't wish to bother about the burlap idea the leaves can be placed in regular trash barrels for collection.

IF YOU BURN
If you decide the old burning idea is still the best and easiest way to get rid of your accumulation here is the procedure you must follow: (1) Get a permit from fire headquarters or any of the city's fire stations; (2) Don't do your burning over catch basins; (3) Place the leaf ash in metal barrels (such as those used for paint) and place them in the drainage system but as Commissioner Bolduc points out they're good for gardens and lawns.

NO BURNING
Because they have been recently re-surfaced or re-paved all burning has been banned on some streets. These are the entire length of Washington, Commonwealth Park West, Northfield road, Longwell road, Longfellow road, Nonantum, Myrtle, Page road, Auburndale avenue, Rossmore, Irving, Waverly avenue, Hyde avenue, Waltham, Jackson road, Mill and Eastside Parkway.

Also banned to leaf-burners are sections of other streets, namely, Walnut street (from Lincoln to Homer); Upland avenue (from Heatherland to Nod Hill); River (from Elm to Pine); Derby (from Cherry to Waltham); Beacon (from Allen to Windsor road); Homer (from Walnut to Centre); Commonwealth avenue (from Rowe to Boston line); Crafts (from Walnut to

Newton Library Will Hear 3 Travelers On U.N. Day

Three young women from Roxbury and Dorchester who were Experimenters in International Living last summer, will discuss their homestay experiences at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre St., Newton Corner on United Nations Day — next Thursday night (Oct. 24) at 7:30 p.m.

The three young ladies are members of the new Roxbury Council, the only black council in the United States, and lived in Turkey, India and Switzerland. Their trips abroad were financially sponsored by the Roxbury community.

Moderator Bob Phillips, vice President of the Boston Council for the Experiment in International Living will introduce the panelists, who are Reina Duval, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Duval of Dorchester, a visitor in Izmir, Turkey; Emily Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Lurey Thomas of Roxbury, who lived in Jamshedpur, Bihar, India and Brenda Jones, whose homestay was in Thon, Switzerland, daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Jones of Roxbury. in kindergarten as having perceptual problems, is in progress to help the youngsters to overcome their reading and learning disabilities.

In addition, a tutorial program for pupils in grades 1 through 12 has begun. Grimes reported that for this program 250 students were referred during the first week of school but that only 186 "in desperate need" could be accepted. It would cost $750 per child per year if a tutor were provided for one hour a day, five days a week at $5 an hour, Grimes noted.

To stretch the program the tutoring time has been cut to 45 minutes, four days a week and the tutor works with two or three students in each session, Grimes said.

The total cost of the tutorial program is now $2200 per week or $354 per child per year, he said. The state pays half the cost so that the net cost to the city of Newton is $177 per child per year, Grimes pointed out.

A budget of $66,000 will be needed for next year to continue the program at its present level but to meet the anticipated demand $80,000 would be necessary, he said.

Dr. Landy, in reporting the history to aid children with perceptual problems, said that in the spring of 1967 a state law was passed directing public schools to develop programs to identify and treat perceptually handicapped youngsters. The state picks up 50 per cent of the cost.

Last spring a survey of all kindergarten children in the city was undertaken to identify those with problems. A test devised by the Meeting Street School in Providence, Rhode Island, was used.

The test was divided into three parts. First, it tried to assess the child's gross motor control. He was asked to do such things as skip or hop on one foot to determine his balance, for example.

The second part of the test was designed to determine his motor coordination or how well the child could see forms and reproduce them.

The third part attempted to find out the child's language development or, for example, how well he was able to organize words in a sentence and thoughts in sequence.

School Psychologist Jennifer Lee, who described this identification project to the School

Elks Offer New Student Scholarships

Newton students will be eligible for an increased number of scholarships being offered this year by the Benevolents and Protective Order of Elks. In addition to national scholarships, students may compete for 16 $600 state scholarships reserved for Massachusetts residents.

Joseph Marucci, Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge No. 1327, announced that applications for the scholarships will be available in the lodge, 429 Centre street, in December. Forms must be completed and filed with the lodge by Feb. 15, 1969.

Marucci explained that the Elks organization celebrated its centennial by increasing scholarships. The Elks National Foundation, the fraternal order's $18,000,000 charitable trust fund, increased the number of its Most Valuable Student Scholarships from 150 to 200 and the total amount from $133,000 to $181,000. Top awards have been upped from $2,000 to $2,500.

Top Newton students who need financial help for their education may compete for the following national Most Valuable Student Awards:

- 1st — 2 at $2,500 each — $5,000.
- 2nd — 2 at 2,250 each — $4,500.
- 3rd — 2 at $2,000 each — 4,000.
- 4th — 2 at $1,750 each — $3,500.
- 5th — 2 at $1,500 each — $3,000.
- 20 at $1,000 each — $20,000.
- 50 at 900 each — $45,000.
- 120 at 80 each — $9,600.
- Total — 200 Awards — $181,000.

The Most Valuable Student competition, now in its 35th year, is open to all high school seniors and college students below the senior year. Entrants must be citizens of the United States. With its strong emphasis on high scholastic achievement, the competition is aimed at the exceptionally able student.

In addition, the Foundation offers 295 scholarships on a state quota basis. Newton entries will be judged by the Massachusetts Elks Association which also selects entrants for the Most Valuable Student competition.

Miss Goldwyn Pembroke Frosh

A Waban girl is among the 292 freshmen enrolled at Pembroke College, the women's coordinate college in Brown University. Wendy K. Goldwyn, a graduate of Newton South High School, is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Goldwyn of 436 Waban Ave.

Freshmen at the college represent 38 states, the District of Columbia and five foreign countries.

The 78th class in Pembroke's history was selected from nearly 2000 applicants to the college.

Among the girls are 16 Merit Scholars and seven National Achievement Scholars.

David Weltman Nominated For J.C.C. Office

David L. Weltman, of Newton, prominent attorney and community leader, has been nominated for the office of president of the Jewish Community Center of Brookline-Brighton-Newton, to succeed Harry Olins according to Chairman of the Nominating Committee Bernard L. Landers.

Election will be held at the 21st Annual Meeting of the Center next Sunday (Oct. 20) starting at 7 p.m. in the Slossburg Auditorium, 50 Sutherland rd., Brookline. There will be a Sherry Hour and Exhibits.

Dr. Jerome Y. Lettvin, professor of Biology and Electrical Engineering at M.I.T., will speak to the assembly on "Responsibility of a Jew as an American."

Mr. Weltman has served as vice-president of the Center since 1962, and as chairman of the Center's Youth Activities Committee for the past six years. A member of the board of the Associated Jewish Community Centers, he is a Trustee of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston, and served on the CJP Commission on Group Work Services.

He is immediate past chairman of the National Committee on Leadership Development of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds. In 1966 he received the President's Young Leadership Award of CJP.

Mr. Weltman is a member of the Administrative Committee of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston, Administrative Vice-Chairman of the American Jewish Committee, and a Trustee of the Tufts-New England Medical Center Hospital, Inc., and the Museum of Science.

A partner in the law firm of Foley, Hoag and Elliot, Mr. Weltman resides in Newton with his wife Lois, who is a vice-president of the Women's Division of CJP, and their four children.

Dr. Wolf Presents Musical Program

Dr. Kenneth Wolf, well-known pianist, will present a free morning musicale at the Newton Junior College All-College Convocation to be held at 11:15 a.m., Tuesday, October 22, at the Newton High School Auditorium on Walnut street in Newtonville. Included in Dr. Wolf's program will be the Sonata in C minor by Carl Phillip Emanuel Bach and the Sonata in W minor by Mozart.

Dr. Wolf was a child prodigy, exhibiting precocious musical gifts at an early age. His childhood teachers included Boris Goldovsky in piano and Arthur Shepherd in composition. Later he studied piano with Arthur Schnabel and Rosina Lhevinne, and composition with Paul Hindemith.

Dr. Wolf's New York debut, in recital at Town Hall in 1949, was followed by performances of his own piano concert by the Utah Symphony and by the Los Angeles Chamber Symphony, with Wolf as piano soloist.

Other compositions by Wolf have been played on national concert tours by pianists Theodore Lettvin and Eunice Podis, violinist Josef Gingold, and French horn soloist Myron Bloom. Wolf has also given recitals on cities across the country.

His educational history includes graduation from Yale University in 1945 at the age of 14 and from Western Reserve University School of Medicine in 1956. He has been occupied in medical research at the National Institute of Health and at the Harvard Medical School, where he is Associate Professor in Anatomy.

Dr. Wolf continues his professional activity as pianist and composer. He is familiar to Boston audiences through repeated appearances at the Gardner Museum, with the Boston Pops, at Brandeis and Harvard Universities, and at other educational institutions. His compositions have included in programs of the Brookline and Cambridge Composers Forums, and the Belmont Choral Society to compose a major work which was performed by them in May, 1964.

Taxpayers' Group Explains School Building Position

A spokesman for the Newton Taxpayers' Association yesterday defended that organization's proposal for renovating two of the buildings at Newton High School instead of building an entirely new high school complex.

Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive director of the Association, in a letter to Mayor Monte G. Basbas, declared that the Association's plan "is more prudent financially" and "much more productive" than one approved by the School Committee and Board of Aldermen calling for all new construction.

He said the Taxpayers' plan would cost from $1.5 to $2 million less than the "all new plan" of the architects.

Muther's letter to Mayor Basbas follows: "Now that the Aldermen have advised that on the basis of the architects' report 'all new construction' should be undertaken at the north Newton High School, principally because of the reported 'slight' difference of about $1/2 million between 'all new' and 'new plus renovation' costs, we ask you to consider further the following points before reaching a final decision:

"1. The plan of the Taxpayers' Association does not hinge on whether state aid is available for renovation. It is a construction plan in its own right; one which is more prudent financially and which is simultaneously much more productive of square footage, gross or educationally than the 'all new' proposals made to date. Thus:

a. 390,000 sq. ft. gross of new area is new construction without any question, and in itself approaches the 349,000 sq. ft. of educational space which is pivotal in determining the architects'

Volunteers Plan Party Day For Newton Wellesley Hospital Aid

Even as politicians exhort people to come to the aid of the Party, west of Boston some 1,800 women are working hard for the party of their Aid.

In this case, it is the 15th annual party day of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association, to be held next Wednesday afternoon, October 23.

More than 50 dessert-bridge parties will be sponsored by Aid members living in the Newtons, Wellesleys, Westons, Needhams and surrounding communities. Proceeds from ticket purchases and donations have a two edged usefulness. They underwrite a new nursing station, to be located in the west wing presently being built at the teaching hospital. They also are credited against the Aid Association's building fund pledge of $100,000.

Buttrressing the work of the Party Day co-chairmen, Mrs. Harry J. Purple of Newton and Mrs. Walter Wegner of Wellesley, are a host of village chairmen.

The village chairmen, busily organizing the parties from whence Party Day draws its name, are Mrs. F. Payson LaBaron, Auburndale; Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall, Needham; Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb, Newton; Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson, Newton Centre; Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy, Newton Highlands; Mrs. David L. Currier, Newton Lower Falls, and Mrs. William G. Johnson, Newton Upper Falls. Also, Mrs. Warren Huston, Newtonville; Mrs. David W. Skinner, Waban; Mrs. Roger E. Hall, Weston; Mrs. Ralph L. Chisholm, West Newton; Mrs. Arthur D. Baldwin, Wellesley, and Mrs. Arthur H. Hausserman, Wellesley Hills.

Working with its sister organization to assure a successful Party Day is the Junior Aid Association and its liaison chairmen. They are Mrs. Richard A. Campbell of Wellesley Hills and Mrs. Joseph W. Guiney of Newtonville.

Dog Leashing Finds Strong Aid Support

Ald. Eliot K. Cohen, a member of the Newton aldermanic committee studying the dog leash law proposal, said this week there is strong support on the eight-man committee for enactment of a law "with teeth" — no pun intended.

He said the general consensus on the legislation and rules committee is for a leash law. The question is what kind to recommend to the full 24-member Board of Aldermen.

Cohen revealed the support for the law as the Newton PTA Council announced it has postponed until December any action on the recommendation of the Council's safety committee that if existing ordinances are not strictly enforced, the Council should endorse the dog-leash law.

rate of compensation in their contract with the city;

b. Another 126,000 sq. ft. gross of new area is "new," subject to interpretation by the School Building Assistance Commission, and may indeed not be required at this time;

c. The city would still have the bulk of Building II and III less the gymnasium for renovation if it so wished — so the matter of state aid for renovation is secondary to the Taxpayers' plan and only came up as a kind of possible bonus when we learned of the new law;

d. The cost of the Taxpayers' plan can be fairly estimated to be $1.5 to $2 million less than the "all new" plan of the architects.

"2. The architects used $13.7 million as a new construction comparative cost figure, whereas we recall your recent intimation that $10-12 million should be the top.

"3. Although not privy to the Aldermen's discussion in committee, we call your attention to the later stated views of Alderman Hopkins on various reported cost items figuring in their decision.

"We sincerely trust that upon due review of these and other facets of the problem your best judgment will be based on the best value to be obtained for the tax dollar."

Lunch Program Asks For City Money Aid

The Newton School Committee on Monday night voted to ask the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen for a $38,400 appropriation to aid the School Department in meeting expenses for the elementary school lunch program until receipts begin to flow in adequately.

Assistant Superintendent in charge of Business Services, John Gilleland, reported that the appropriation would enable the School Department to set up a revolving fund to meet weekly expenses, primarily payroll. "We need the money to get the pipelines filled," Gilleland said.

There is $500 in cash on hand and expenses are nearer to $15,000, Gilleland declared. The milk bill is about $900 per week. Of this amount parents pay half and the federal government pays half. However, the money from Uncle Sam doesn't become available until mid-January.

Gilleland said, however, that receipts will eventually pay for the program and it is anticipated that there will be no real expense to the city once the money gets rolling.

A report on all costs will be made in December, Gilleland noted. If an adjustment in the charges to parents must be made on the basis of costs, it will be done then.

Committee member Edwin Hawkridge pointed out that the main reason for the present need for an interim appropriation of funds is that the School Committee last spring turned back to the city the money it had budgeted for the lunch program.

Discuss "Test Case" In Ward Lines Issue

An action that could ultimately effect all the cities and towns in the Commonwealth is being discussed and given serious consideration by the Legislation and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

The action under discussion is a test case in the courts to determine if Newton must undertake what is called a lengthy and costly process of redrawing its ward lines.

According to Alderman-at-Large Eliot K. Cohen, a test case would tell Newton if it is bound to follow the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling.

If the test case is filed, Cohen said, and the court subsequently rules Newton must redraw its lines, then Newton would seek to make that decision binding on all cities and towns in Massachusetts.

The city would also attempt to make the court decision binding on the Legislature because of the expense and time involved in again redrawing the lines, this time for the 1970 state election.

The proposal initially came from Alderman-at-Large Joseph M. McDonnell who, in recommending the redrawing be done in time for the 1969 city election, said certain wards in the city are illegally unrepresented.

Cohen feels that if the city did redraw its lines for its own 1968 city elections and the Legislature failed to accept these lines for the state election in 1970 then the voters would be confused by having to go to two different places.

"And they may not go," he said.

Cohen said the matter has been discussed in the aldermanic committee for two months, with appearances having been made by acting City Solicitor Charles H. Morang and by Alan W. Licarie, executive secretary of the Election Commission, and the feeling is that redrawing would be "time consuming, costly and confusing for voters."

The chairman of Cohen's committee, Alderman Melvin J. Dangel, maintains the redrawing would cost between $200,000 and $300,000 and take two years to complete because of related changes required in the Engineering and Assessors departments.

Assessing records and engineering maps would have to be changed, he said. Cohen thinks any changes made now in the makeup of the wards would be premature considering the new federal census coming up in 1970 and the changing character of the city.

"If we redistrict now we may have to do it all over again in 1974," he said. He cited the number of new apartment buildings going up as the cause of this change in character, which alters the population of wards.

Newton Boys End Marine Corps Basic

Two Newton youths were graduated recently from the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S.C., after successfully completing basic training.

Pvt. Daniel H. Tocci, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Tocci, of 2057 Commonwealth ave., and Thomas J. Valley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Valley, of 128 Chestnut st., will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to their first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

REV. JACK MENDELSON

Rev. Mendelsohn To Speak At Temple Shalom Sisterhood

Rev. Jack Mendelsohn, D.D., minister of historic Arlington Street Church in Boston, will be guest speaker at the opening meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton on Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 1:30 at the Temple, 175 Temple St., West Newton. His topic will be "There Is No Safety in Hiding," a quote from Senator Ted Kennedy. All are invited.

Dr. Mendelsohn has traveled extensively in Europe, the Middle East, Africa and South America. He has written many books and articles. In addition to his service in the Unitarian Universalist Church, he has been deeply involved in civic affairs; he is the former president of the Urban League of Boston, was appointed a member of Governor Peabody's Advisory Committee on Civil Rights, and is a member of the board of the Boston Conference on Religion and Race and of the Citizens' Housing and Planning Association of Metropolitan Boston, among other activities.

Sisterhood President Mrs. Joseph B. Soltz will welcome members and friends, and greetings will be brought by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom. Mrs. Harvey Rollin will give the opening prayer, Mrs. Richard Kaye the closing prayer. A most interesting afternoon is anticipated.

Robert N. Atwell, 21, is a student at Berkeley School of Music where he is majoring in music education. Atwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Atwell of 16 Lucille Place, Newton Upper Falls, will be qualified as a teacher, musician, arranger and composer upon graduation.

No Public Enthusiasm For Any Presidential Candidate

It has been a long time since there has been a Presidential election campaign in which the candidates aroused as little public enthusiasm as do Richard M. Nixon, Hubert H. Humphrey and George C. Wallace at the present time.

Even Barry Goldwater, whose run for the Presidency four years ago turned into a political disaster, generated more real enthusiasm than does Richard M. Nixon who probably will be elected the next President of the United States because of what many people refer to as "the mess" in Washington.

This Presidential election actually is up for grabs if Humphrey should suddenly find a means of firing the imagination of the rank and file of voters.

That, however, is not likely to happen. It is improbable that Nixon's big advantage — from the standpoint of the all-important electoral votes — can be wiped out in the time remaining before the Nov. 5 election.

If Nixon is elected the next President, as it now appears he will be, it will be largely on the basis of a negative vote.

Nixon, of course, is extremely popular with the rank and file of Republican party workers. But there aren't enough of them to elect anybody to anything.

Indications are that Nixon will be swept into office by discontented people who express dissatisfaction with some phase of the Johnson administration.

A feeling exists among many voters, entirely apart from partisan politics, that Richard Nixon, because he is a Republican, would have a better chance than Hubert Humphrey of ending the war in Vietnam.

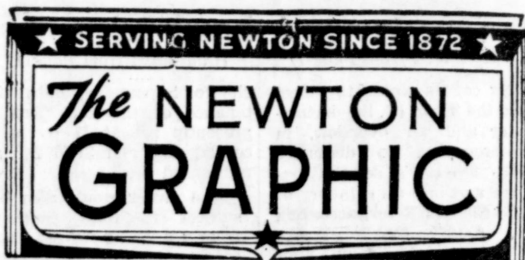

Among people with sons approaching draft age that seems to override the issue of law and order, and different people mean different things when they talk of law and order.

They talk about their inability to walk the streets in their own neighborhoods at night, but mostly they talk about Negro violence, rioting, looting and arson.

The problems they discuss would be handled at a local level by a Mayor or in a town by a Board of Selectmen. Yet, somehow they relate them to President Johnson and blame him for them.

In a situation where many people are in a mood to blame Mr. Johnson because MBTA bus operators and firefighters in certain sections of Boston have de-

Bishop's Golden Jubilee

The Most Rev. Eric Francis MacKenzie, 73, Auxiliary Bishop of the Boston Catholic Archdiocese and pastor of the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre, receives the congratulations of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Egan on the occasion of the Bishop's 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. The Bishop marked his Golden Jubilee by celebrating a low Mass of Thanksgiving at 2 p.m. last Sunday. Afterward an informal reception was held at the parish center.

Strong Dog Leash Law Seen Assured For City

It now appears just about certain that the free and easy lift for Newton's canine population is about to end.

At Monday night's session of the Board of Aldermen a proposed strong control law calling for the leashing of all dogs, except on their own property or when attended by "a person of adequate age," met with no real opposition from any Board member.

However, passage of the Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell imposed a charter objection after several technical amendments to the suggested new law were presented by various aldermen.

The parliamentary device called a "Charter objection" automatically cuts off debate and postpones a vote until the next meeting, which will be in two weeks.

McDonnell maintained that the ordinance draft had only been handed to Board members that same day and that the various amendments being proposed were creating confusion so that aldermen were not clear about what they were voting on.

He asked that the Legislation and Rules Committee complete the final ordinance, taking into consideration requests for changes made Monday night, and give board members an opportunity to study it before the next meeting.

McDonnell's charter objection came after two attempts to send the measure back to committee for similar action met with defeat on the floor of the board.

Legislation and Rules Committee Chairman Melvin J. Dangel, who presented his committee's recommendations to the city fathers, said that a large number of people in Newton obviously want a strong dog control law.

that "no person owning or harboring a dog shall suffer or allow it to run at large in any of the streets or public places in the City of Newton or upon the premises of anyone other than the owner or keeper of such dog without the permission of the owner or occupant of such premises."

It also says, "No dog shall be permitted in any street or public place within the City of Newton unless it is effectively restrained by a chain or leash not exceeding 10 feet in length or unless it is attended by a person of adequate age and discretion to properly control its actions in accordance with the preceding sentence."

Dogs found running at large or in violation of any of the provisions of the proposed law may be picked up by the city's Department of Animal Control and impounded. The owner, if known, will be notified and may reclaim his pet upon payment of the license fee, if unpaid, and of all costs and charges incurred by the

Berlin Conference

Meadowbrook Head Going To Germany

Maurice H. Plum, principal of the Meadowbrook Junior high school in Newton, is going to Germany for a conference on "The Role of the Teacher in Educational Change."

The conference will be held at Kongresshalle, 1 Berlin, West Germany, and will run from next Monday (Oct. 28) to Nov. 2, with 157 representatives from 24 countries taking part.

The purpose of the conference is "to identify changes in the role of the teacher resulting from those basic changes in society and technology which require a reconsideration of objectives and curricula as well as of teaching and learning."

"For this purpose the conference will convene experts in such fields as education, psychology, sociology, economics and architecture."

Blum will be one of four public school participants from the United States. The others include Joseph Hill, from Evanston, Ill., Dr. John Jenkins, Miami Springs high school, and Arthur Thayer, superintendent, Newbury Park, Cal.

Sponsors of the conference are The Pedagogisches Zentrum, Berlin, Institut für Bildungsforschung, Max-Planck Gesellschaft, Berlin, Lararhogskolan, Stockholm,

Break In Furnace Walls Halts Use Of Incinerator

Newton's $2 million-plus incinerator, completed only two years ago, seems to be creating some unexpected headaches, according to some members of the Board of Aldermen through its design and construction were defended by others.

The incinerator has not been in operation since last Saturday as the result of the collapse of furnace walls.

On Monday night the Board of Aldermen appropriated $31,000 for construction of a lagoon outside the building which would re-circulate water which collects fly ash. The fly ash collected could be removed from the lagoon as a solid and removed to the dump.

This is being done to remedy a condition which INCINERATOR—(See Pg 2)

"Get Tough" Snow-Parking Policy Set

A "Get tough" policy in regard to Newton residents who park their cars on the sidewalk to minimize the amount of driveway shoveling during snowstorms, was announced by Police Chief William F. Quinn this week.

Chief Quinn said he had received a resolution forwarded to him by the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations that endorses City Ordinance No. 228 which states that "Parking on any way or sidewalk in such a manner as to impede the removal or plowing of snow or ice, shall be punished by a fine of $15."

The Chief said that many drivers park in their own driveways with the rear wheels on the sidewalks in order to minimize the amount of shoveling and, as a result, sidewalk plows are forced to leave unplowed many stretches of sidewalks necessary to safe walking routes. When this occurs, many children are forced to walk in the roadways, he declared.

The Police Chief requests that during the coming winter all residents cooperate by leaving the sidewalks clear. He added that violators will be tagged and that the court will be asked to fine them $15 for each violation.

Candidates' Night Next Wednesday

A Candidates' Night will be sponsored on Wednesday night of next week (Oct. 30) by the Newton League of Women Voters.

It will be held at Newton South High School and will start at 7:30 p.m.

All Newton residents are invited to attend and to see and hear candidates for state and national offices and - if they so desire - to ask questions of the political contenders.

The 7:30 p.m. starting time has been set to allow time for a question-and-answer period.

Professor George Goodwin of the politics department at the University of Massachusetts of Boston, will serve as moderator.

Mrs. Samuel Thier will be chairman of the Candidates' Night program.

When the chips are down, and problems loom to threaten Newton and the Commonwealth...

What kind of man will stand for you?

This is the kind of man that Wigmore Pierson feels a State Representative ought to be:

"A Representative has a responsibility to maintain a continuing dialogue with his constituents. He has an obligation to provide meaningful guidance and leadership where complex, yet vital, questions are concerned. My concept of a Representative, then, is of one who has a deep sense of continuing responsibility to those he serves and a profound dedication to, and sense of community; one who recognizes an obligation not only to reflect public opinion, but to help to fashion it. That is the kind of man a Representative ought to be."

In order to truly represent, a State Representative must know his District and understand its problems. All his life, Wigmore Pierson has called Newton his home. He is a product of the Newton Public Schools and of the Browne and Nichols School. Pierson completed his formal education at Lake Forest College and the Dartmouth Graduate School of Business Administration.

In order to truly represent, a State Representative must be in full energies to the task. He must take the people's fight to the State House. He must make Newton's voice heard on Beacon Hill — and that includes being on the job for roll call votes.

In order to truly represent, a State Representative must be in constant contact with the people he serves. Wigmore Pierson will maintain an office and a 24-hour answering service within the District. Pierson will encourage the citizens of Newton to relate their problems, ideas, and suggestions to him. Their opinions will be heard, not just at election time, but all the time, anytime.

What kind of man will stand for you? (On November Fifth, don't just settle for more of the same. Vote for Wigmore Pierson, State Representative, Newton Wards 1, 2, 3, and 7.)

Newton Jaycees

At Pillar House

The second meeting of the Newton Jaycees was held recently at the Pillar House with two guest speakers for the occasion. Frank Procum spoke on the Natick Jaycees program for mentally retarded children and Richard Reynolds, pharmacist and president of the Newton Jaycees spoke on drug abuse.

Mr. Procum described the activities of Troop 2 of Boy Scouts in Natick which consists exclusively of mentally retarded boys. Many of these boys, who were regarded as drawbacks in school, have excelled in this new endeavor. These boys learn first aid, cooking, map reading and tenting over and above monthly hikes at Nobscott. Parents and educators alike have applauded this worthwhile project and work for its continued success.

Mr. Reynolds, whose subject was drug abuse, described the drugs which are harmful when taken without medical supervision. He also described in detail the effects these drugs have on a person's mental and physical faculties. He concluded his talk by outlining the steps being taken to curb this menace to society. Proper legal controls along with strict enforcement of laws were mentioned but most important is education of the public to the terrible dangers inherent in these drugs in the control of this public menace.

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

To a wine lover, the word Graves has a significant meaning. The word is related to the French graver, meaning gravel, and to grave, the pebbly marl found on riverbanks. These terms are perfectly descriptive of the gravelly earth of the area, washed down by the Garonne's waters. To this pebbly soil the wine of Graves owes much of its character. This region in France produces wines of nearly every type—red wines, medium-dry wines, sweet, luscious white wines. Of the world's wine regions, few can match Graves' variety.

now causes water to collect on the floor of the incinerator and an overflow, in emergencies, to discharge into the city's sewage system and into an estuary of the Charles River, according to Acting Public Works Committee Chairman Elliot K. Cohen.

The aldermen also approved a $4500 appropriation for repairs to the furnace.

Alderman H. James Shea Jr., who said he was concerned with pollution of the Charles River by the city, proposed a resolution at the conclusion of Monday night's meeting which called for "emission of any such pollutant fly ash residue from the Newton municipal incinerator or from its lagoon in the tributary of the Charles River 'only under conditions of dire emergency.' The resolution presented at 1 a.m. Tuesday morning was referred to the Public Works Committee for study.

Shea charged that on inspection of the incinerator he found it being run at much greater speed than it should, that he found leaks from the first floor to the cellar, that pumps were not working properly, that pipes were corroding and that maintenance costs are proving to be higher than ever anticipated.

He called for an in-depth investigation by the Public Works Committee to find out what kind of experience can be expected in the future and if the problems can be solved.

"In many respects the new incinerator is less satisfactory than the old one," Shea claimed.

Alderman William E. Hopkins, an engineer by profession, who also inspected the incinerator, had an opposite opinion. He said, "we have a wonderful installation of the latest proven design. We now have a collection of fly ash and no emissions into the air," he declared.

Incinerators are known to be high maintenance cost items. "We cannot expect to have something operating at capacity under temperatures of 2000 degrees without wear and tear on parts," Hopkins insisted. However, he said, it has now been found that stainless steel of a certain type for particular parts gives much longer life and it will be used.

Hopkins also pointed out that the incinerator is burning 50 per cent more trash than was being accomplished by the old one on Eliot St.

Acting City Solicitor Charles Morang reported that the matter of the incinerator design is under investigation by the city's executive department and that efforts are being made to have the designers take care of the necessary repairs.

Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell first tried to get the matter of the $31,000 appropriation for construction of the lagoon, sent back to the Public Works Committee for further study. His motion was defeated by a vote of 18 to 3 with 3 members absent. Those voting to send it back to committee city for impounding and maintenance of the dog. This is presently set at $1 for a licensed dog and $150 for an unlicensed one.

The owner would also be subject to fines ranging from a warning for the first offense, $2 for the second, $5 for a third and $10 for a fourth offense. These fines are set by state law. Failure to comply could mean court action.

In addition to all the proposed changes in Newton's present ordinance, some provisions such as those now requiring muzzling or confinement of dogs for such things as biting or the killing or maiming of domesticated animals or birds would remain on the books.

Dangel also reported that Police Chief William F. Quinn has stated that to enforce the proposed new ordinance the Department of Animal Control would need to be strengthened.

Money would have to be appropriated to pay for an additional part-time dog officer, were Aldermen McDonnell, Shea, and Sidney T. Small.

Also rejected was an amendment proposed by McDonnell asking that no pollutants be discharged into the Charles River from the lagoon. The vote against the amendment was 16 to 5, with three members absent. In favor were Aldermen Matthew Jefferson, McDonnell, Shea and Small.

Cohen pointed out that construction of the lagoon was being sought to remedy the present pollution problem but that a possible breakdown in the system could conceivably cause an occasional discharge into the estuary of the Charles.

RETURN Laurence

to CONGRESS

Republican - 3rd District
To the People of NEWTON

We need a change in Washington—a change from the tired, worn-out policies of the Johnson Administration. Laurence Curtis back in Washington as your Congressman again would represent such a change.

Laurence Curtis has the judgment based on his broad background in municipal, state and federal government, and the progressive outlook, capacity and vigor to work for a needed change.

You people of Newton do not have to be sold on Curtis as an outstanding Congressman.

He represented you in Washington for 10 years before your District was shifted around. You know how well he served you!

You re-elected him four times with increasing pluralities. Now you can do yourself a favor and send him back to Congress.

His vigor was recently attested to by Dr. Paul Dudley White, internationally famed heart specialist, who said:

"Laurence Curtis is a notable example of a man who has maintained his excellent physical fitness through proper exercise despite his loss of a leg in war. I find him in better physical condition than most men many years his junior. He would pass physically for a man at least 10 years younger."

Curtis is not campaigning on idle or extravagant promises. He points to the record of what he has done as evidence of what he can do and will do.

- Congressman 1953-1962
- State Treasurer 2 years
- Member, Massachusetts Senate and House 10 years
- Past State Department Commander, Disabled American Veterans, Past National Senior Vice Commander
- Veteran, U.S. Naval Aviation
- Member, Amputee Veterans Association
- Former Secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes
- Harvard College and Law School, Varsity Football, Hockey
- Phi Beta Kappa

Polls and surveys indicate that Richard M. Nixon will be the next President of the United States.

He will need the help of Congressmen such as Laurence Curtis for the good of our nation and all its people.

You can meet that need and provide that help by electing former Congressman Laurence Curtis as the next Congressman from the Third District.

In his message to the voters of the Third District, Laurence Curtis says:

"In this time of crisis our government needs experienced men who will seek new and better solutions to replace the policies which have failed. I am standing for election to Congress so that I may help find those solutions and bring about the changes so vitally needed."

Graduated State Tax

With the political spotlight focused on the men seeking to serve as the next President of the United States, too little public attention is being paid to the questions which will be listed on the Nov. 5 election ballot for a vote by the people.

Some of the matters on which the voters must make a decision are of sufficient importance that they should be discussed in length before Election Day.

Question No. 2, for example, asks whether the State Constitution should be amended so that the Legislature could enact a graduated State Income Tax.

Great discussion and debate occurred six years ago when the same question appeared on the ballot. After listening to all the arguments for and against a graduated tax in the 1962 campaign, the people rejected the proposal by a decisive margin.

Now the question is being submitted to them again to determine if they have changed their mind.

This would permit a graduated State income tax, fashioned after the federal income tax which rises as the amount of taxable income increases.

It is a question to which you should give some thought between now and Nov. 5.

Indications are that the State will need additional revenue next year. It may be obtained either by a higher sales tax or, if this suggested constitutional amendment is approved, by a graduated State income tax.

Which do you prefer?

Fighters For Freedom

In Czechoslovakia, communist totalitarianism has destroyed its most feared enemy—the free press. Newspapers and broadcasters in that country are now forbidden to make any news reports that “could be considered as criticism” by the Soviet occupation forces.

In the United States, nearly 11,000 newspapers serve as watchdogs of the public interest. Editors are free to report the news and comment on it as they see fit.

With the free press looking over its shoulder, government from city hall to the White House has to put its best foot forward, and outright oppression of the people becomes impossible.

For various reasons, freedom of the press in the United States has been criticized and proposals advanced to limit its ability to report the news. Different explanations for this have been cited including national security and the question of whether pretrial reporting of crime news makes it impossible to get an impartial jury.

In debating the latter point with a member of the legal profession, the managing editor of the New York Times said, “. . . We newspapermen do not believe that a law degree makes a man more honorable than a degree in journalism. . . I have absolutely no doubt that the free press in America has prevented and corrected far more injustice than it has committed.”

This about sums it up. The action taken in Czechoslovakia is another reminder of the role played by the free press in preserving the freedom of any society, including our own.

- Political Highlights -

manded police guard, Richard Nixon is trying to swim carefully with the tide.

Some political observers believe Nixon is just a bit too careful, but he is striving to present the picture of a poised and confident candidate to people who are confused and uncertain as to what to do and where to turn.

This writer, trying to size up the Presidential picture, has been stunned by the reports which have come in from some sections of the country.

One recent survey indicated that Massachusetts may be the only state Humphrey will carry and that he isn't too certain of capturing that.

Humphrey is even having trouble in his home State of Minnesota where fellow Senator Eugene McCarthy has refused to endorse him. This could cost McCarthy his Senate seat the next time he runs. Right now that is small comfort to Humphrey.

Democratic leaders in Kentucky long ago gave up any hope that Humphrey would carry their state. Now they're worrying that he may not poll 20 percent of the vote. If he fails to do so, the Democratic party would not qualify as a major party in the state in the next election.

Nixon has a solid Republican party behind him. GOP leaders who worked for Governor Nelson Rockefeller before the convention are now beating the drums lustily for Nixon.

A number of top Democratic candidates, on the other hand, have divorced themselves entirely from the Humphrey-Muskie ticket.

Surveys by newspapers in Oklahoma show a close fight between Nixon and Wallace, with Nixon holding a slim lead and Humphrey well back in third place.

“ISN'T IT NICE WE AGREE, COMRADE?”

Political leaders in Ohio say there is a good chance Wallace will get more votes than Humphrey in that state.

In Indiana Humphrey and Wallace are reported running about evenly.

The reports on Wallace from many states outside the South are incredible to this reporter and extremely difficult to believe.

Wallace now is expected to carry five states in the Old Confederacy — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and Arkansas — which between them have 45 electoral votes.

But he also appears to be polling a surprising vote in many states far from the deep south.

Wallace's total may and should go down before election day. But whatever votes he gets, whether in the south or outside it, will be wasted votes.

The function of the people on Nov. 5 will be to elect a President — the best President they can from the candidates listed on the ballot.

Those people who cast their votes for Wallace will be registering a protest, not choosing a President.

They can lodge a protest by writing to their Senators, their Congressman, their newspapers. On Nov. 5 they should join in picking the man who will fill the world's most powerful office for the next four years.

Persons who have watched and heard Wallace on television must realize that he is not qualified to be President, that he cannot be elected and that if he could, his election would be one of the worst things which could happen in the United States.

One of the reasons the Wallace vote may be far greater than it should be in a number of states is that so many people are unenthusiastic about Nixon and Humphrey.

They don't care much about electing either of the two so they will throw away a vote on Wallace as a protest.

Nevertheless, a vote for Wallace is a wasted vote, an irresponsible vote, a racist vote, a hate vote.

A woman reader wrote in the other day, in answer to a column, and asked what's wrong with casting a protest vote on Nov. 5.

The answer is that we should concentrate on choosing a President in the coming election.

If we don't choose one — if no candidate polls a majority of the electoral votes when the election returns are tabulated—our nation will face a crisis.

We don't think that will happen. Everything indicates that Nixon will be elected even though Humphrey is likely to carry Massachusetts.

But the best interests of the people of the United States will be served if they concentrate on picking between Nixon and Humphrey and forget about protest votes for Wallace.

Six Questions To Be Listed On Nov. 5 Election Ballot

A lot of people will pick up their Nov. 5 election ballot and be surprised at the referendum questions listed at the end of the ballot. Here is a summary of the questions and an explanation of what they mean:

Question No. 1 asks whether the period of time in which a Governor may approve or veto a bill passed by the legislature should be increased from five to ten days.

There is strong support for and little objection to this proposal. A President has 10 days in which to decide whether to sign or reject a measure enacted by Congress. This would simply allow a Governor more time in which to deliberate the merits of a bill adopted by the Legislature and sent to his desk.

Question No. 2 would change the State Constitution so that the Legislature could enact a graduated State income tax. This means that instead of paying a flat percentage on all your taxable income, as you do now, you would pay a graduated tax which would rise as the income went up. That would be similar to the manner in which the federal government levies its income tax.

Sunday You Get Back That Lost Hour

You can collect that hour of sleep you lost last April next Sunday (Oct. 27).

Of course, if you fail to turn your clock BACK one hour Saturday night, you'll be one of those who will spend a good part of Sunday, complaining that you forgot to do so, and that the alarm went off under Daylight Saving Time.

And for the attention of motorists Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin issues a special warning. He points out that large numbers who have become accustomed to driving home in sunlight will now have to consider all the hazards with a darkness that comes 60 minutes earlier.

Mormon Center Dedication Sun.

Newton residents are invited to attend dedication ceremonies of the million dollar Stake Center of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints, Weston, this Sunday (Oct. 27).

Among the 4200 members of the Boston Stake are residents from the Newtons including Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bentall, Mr. and Mrs. Ward C. Low, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Ulrick and Ida Mugucia.

Kenneth Gordon Burnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Burnes of 29 Ellison Road, Newton, and a graduate of the Cambridge School, Weston, is enrolled as a freshman at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.

Question No. 3 would empower the State Supreme Court to declare the Governor's office vacant because a Governor was unable to perform his duties.

There is a sharp dispute as to whether this proposed amendment to the State Constitution is well drawn and whether some better means could be found to accomplish the same purpose. One argument is that it violates the principle of separation of powers between the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the State government.

Question No. 4 is intended to lead the way to a State Constitutional Convention in July, 1971.

A sharp controversy has raged for some time as to whether a Constitutional Convention should be held to revise the State Constitution. Amendments to the Constitution, if passed by two Legislatures, can be adopted by the voters. The first three referenda questions are suggested constitutional amendments.

Some persons, however, favor a complete overhaul of the Constitution.

Question No. 5 contains the liquor sections which appear on the ballot every two years. One political columnist suggested that this referendum be scrapped. However, some towns in Massachusetts are still dry, and the vote on the various parts of this question determines whether they stay dry.

Question No. 6 asks whether Massachusetts should retain the death penalty. This vote will be advisory in nature but undoubtedly would be followed by the Legislature. A Yes-vote favors the use of the electric chair. A No-vote opposes the death penalty and, in effect, urges its repeal.

EARLY BOMB HALT HOPES APPEAR REMOTE

PROSPECTS FOR an early bombing halt in Vietnam appeared remote Wednesday, as U.S. officials reported Hanoi continues to refuse President Johnson the assurances he wants before ordering the halt. The officials also discounted new reports that the Soviet Union was seeking to nudge Hanoi toward an agreement that would permit deescalation. In fighting Wednesday, U.S. artillery and jets killed at least 225 Communist troops moving in the open, South of Da Nang.

Meantime, on the diplomatic front of the war, U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators in session in Paris failed again to reach agreement on conditions for a bombing halt. Chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman urged Hanoi to “abandon its aggression and join us in seeking peace.”

2 MASS. MEN AMONG 6 MISSING IN CRASH

TWO MEN FROM Massachusetts were among six crew members reported missing in the crash of an Air Force KC135 Stratotanker, Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha, Neb., disclosed Wednesday. The plane, assigned to the 99th Bomb Wing at Westover AFB in Massachusetts, was enroute from Thailand when it went down Tuesday about 55 miles from the Ching Chuan Kang air base in Taiwan. The missing Bay State men are S.Sgt. Robert Goyette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Goyette, Adams; and Sgt. Robert Dudek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dudek, Ipswich.

CARDINAL'S DEFENSE OF JACKIE STIRS ROME

VATICAN SOURCES have challenged Cardinal Cushing's let-no-man-condemn-his defense of Jacqueline Onassis' marriage to a divorced man, Msgr. Fausto Vailanti, the official spokesman for the Holy See, Wednesday reaffirmed the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to the marriage, which it said put the widow of President John F. Kennedy in “an irregular position” and outside the sacraments of the church.

Meanwhile, Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis emerged from their honeymoon yacht for the first time in two days and took a dip in a cypress-shelter lagoon on their private island off Greece. The couple, appearing oblivious to the commotion their marriage has stirred, kept newsmen guessing Wednesday on their plans for a honeymoon trip, if any.

NINE CUBAN TERRORISTS NABBED IN N.Y.

POLICE IN NEW YORK Wednesday seized nine Cuban exiles accused of at least four recent bombings and of plotting a wave of murder and sabotage as a prelude to a full-scale invasion of Cuba. Investigators today said the suspects were about to embark on a series of assassinations of Cuban officials in a number of countries, including the Cuban ambassador to the United Nations and his entire staff, who were to be gunned down in a raid on the Cuban Mission. The suspects planned to arm themselves with weapons stolen from a Brooklyn armory, authorities believed. The nine were identified as members of Cuban Power, a three-year-old supersecret organization divided into six-man cells, each with its own code name.

CANDIDATES PRESS HARD AS ELECTION NEARS

AS THE PRESIDENTIAL election loomed closer, Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon cut a path across the center of crucially close Michigan Wednesday, imploring Republicans to work harder and urging those leaning toward George C. Wallace “not to throw away your vote.” The GOP standard-bearer, escorted and advised by Michigan Gov. George Romney, told his listeners that Michigan was “dead even.”

Democratic presidential hopeful Hubert H. Humphrey stood in front of the Alamo in San Antonio, Tex., Wednesday and said Nixon was now “on the road to defeat.” He contended Nixon had played “cheap politics with this country” when he selected Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate.

Campaigning in Youngstown, Ohio, this party candidate Wallace was the target Wednesday of sticks, stones and other objects thrown by some 40 Black Power advocates in an attempt to interrupt his talk.

ASTRONAUTS GRATEFUL FOR WELCOME

“IT'S GREAT to be back here and I want to thank you all for coming out to give us this warm welcome,” Donn Eisele told the more than 500 persons who turned out for the brass band reception at Cape Kennedy Wednesday for the three astronauts who piloted Apollo 7 through its historic 11-day mission in space. Walter Schirra, commander of Apollo 7, and Walt Cunningham smiled in agreement and Schirra gave a thumbs-up sign as the trio enjoyed the heroes' welcome staged for them at the cape. More debriefing and physical examinations are scheduled for the trio until Saturday, when they fly to Houston for a reunion with their families.

URGE LOCAL VOICE IN HIGHWAY PLANNING

THE FEDERAL Highway Administration moved Wednesday to give the public more voice in where the government builds highways. Under the current system, hearings on highway construction plans are often held with little notice to the public. Under the proposed new rules, state highway departments would have to take into consideration in road planning social, economic and aesthetic effects on the neighborhood involved. In addition, states wishing to qualify for federal funds would have to submit details of alternative routes, and publish newspaper notices describing with maps the proposed location of a new highway.

SLAY SUSPECT TO GET MENTAL TESTS

AFTER STANDING mute at his arraignment in Boston Wednesday, Richard W. Quillen, 27, accused slayer of former Rep. William F. Otis and his wife, was ordered to undergo mental tests. Quillen waived examination in Municipal Court and was ordered brought before Superior Court Judge David Rose. The attorneys asked that Quillen be sent to Bridgewater State Mental Hospital for 35 days of mental tests rather than be sent to jail. The judge granted the request and the 6-foot, 220-pound unemployed meatcutter was sent to the hospital. Quillen was arrested Monday night in Philadelphia when he allegedly tried to purchase clothing with the dead man's credit card. The suspect reportedly has admitted the twin stabbings.

'DOWB' DUE TODAY AT OTIS AIR BASE

A SPECIAL deep-diving vessel arrives today at Otis Air Force Base to take part in operations to recover the experimental submarine Alvin from some 5,000 feet of water off Cape Cod. The DOWB, which stands for Deep Ocean Work Boat, was being flown in from the West Coast aboard a giant C133 Cargomaster and then was scheduled to be taken by trailer from Otis to Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute. The institute's recovery team plans to leave Sunday and arrive Monday at the site, some 120 miles south of the Cape, where the Alvin sank a week ago. The multi-million dollar research vessel snapped several cables when it was being lowered into the water and sank. Its three-man crew scrambled to safety.

DISORDER CLOSES SCHOOL IN ROXBURY

A BOSTON SCHOOL Committee spokesman said disorders at the Martin Luther King Grammar School in Roxbury Wednesday were touched off by some 25 to 30 students. The outbreak forced authorities to close down the school. Windows were broken, a science laboratory and lunchroom were damaged and food was thrown around the cafeteria. Six false alarms were sounded in the school between 9:30 a.m. and noon, and most of the more than 700 students failed to return to classes after the last alarm. Those remaining were dismissed for the day at 12:30 p.m. Two members of the Black Student Union, a high school group, tried to quell the disturbance, but were unsuccessful.

500 EXPECTED AT WALLACE FETE IN HUB

SOME 500 PERSONS are expected to attend a $25-a-plate dinner in Boston Friday night to raise funds for third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace. The reception, which begins at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Statler Hilton Hotel, will feature Dan Smoot of Texas, a radio commentator and former FBI agent, as keynote speaker. The funds to be raised are earmarked for television spots for the Wallace campaign during the final week of the presidential race.

KENNEDY, MUSKIE ENDORSE HELEN PATTERSON; GOV. HOFF WILL ATTEND FUND LUNCHEON

Gov. Philip Hoff of Vermont announced early this week that he will attend a $25-a-plate fund-raising luncheon for Helen R. Patterson of Wellesley, candidate for State Senator from Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Weston and Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 in Newton.

The luncheon will be at B.C. Law School, Chestnut Hill, Newton, this Saturday (Oct. 26) from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 235-8922 or 8923.

In an unparalleled display of endorsement for a candidate for State Senator, two other top New England political figures also backed Mrs. Patterson's campaign this week.

Mrs. Patterson met with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on Monday morning and received his support and best wishes for her candidacy.

Sen. Kennedy particularly endorsed Mrs. Patterson's work in community mental health projects and praised her emphasis on adding mental health programs to planned extended day care centers.

Monday night Mrs. Patterson met with Mrs. Jane Muskie in her headquarters at the Ritz-Carlton, Boston, and accompanied Mrs. Muskie to a reception-rally at Sidney Hill Country Club, Newton, Wreels.

The ladies were joined in the receiving line by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Democratic candidate for vice president, who endorsed Mrs. Patterson's candidacy.

The affair was sponsored by the Democratic Women On "She will work in the Massachusetts Senate for clean air and clean water, as I have worked in the Senate of the United States," Muskie said.

Patterson for Senator volunteers reported that ticket sales for the Hoff-Patterson luncheon were going "extremely well."

Silent Burglar Alarm Traps Man In Waban

A silent burglar led to the arrest over the weekend of a 33-year-old Dorchester man on breaking and entering charges.

Theodore S. Davis, of 20 Bickford St., made no plea when arraigned in Newton district court on charges. His case was continued until tomorrow and he was held in lieu of $17,500 bail.

Davis was arrested at gunpoint after six police officers surrounded a Waban home. An automatic burglar alarm went off at 9:45 p.m. Saturday at the home of George Maddoff, at 40 Gordon Rd. The alarm is silent at the scene but alerts police at the station.

Police said they found a ladder raised against a second floor window. Capt. John N. McMullen said officers mounted the ladder and apprehended a man on the first floor. The house had been ransacked.

Silent burglars entered the office of the Suburban Cab Co., 34 Dustin St., West Newton, on Monday and escaped with a 500-pound safe.

The amount of money in the safe was not known immediately but the manager, Michael Terrio, told police it contained three days' receipts.

Two house breaks were also reported over the past weekend. Milton M. Mandell, of 30 Silver Birch Rd., Waban, reported Sunday a silver set and women's jewelry missing after thieves forced a rear window to enter the home. He also said a bedroom had been ransacked and food left on the kitchen floor.

Samuel Weiner of 44 Fenno Rd., Newton Centre, reported Saturday morning that his home had been ransacked. There were also several cases of weekend vandalism reported.

Whist Party Monday Night

A number of Newton women are helping with plans for a whist party to be held at Hibernian Hall in Watertown next Monday night (Oct. 28) by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

MRS. ROBERT L. RIEMER

Miss Kotzen, Simmons Senior Wed To Robert L. Riemer

Miss Stephany Beth Kotzen and Robert Lee Riemer exchanged vows recently at the Sheraton Plaza Ballroom in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert M. Kotzen of 194 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, and Mr. Bernard A. Riemer of 99 Waban Park, Newton, and the late Mrs. Marion Riemer are the couple's parents.

Rabbi Halpern of Temple Israel officiated at the 6:30 o'clock evening service. A reception followed the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown made of ivory silk duoden satin highlighted with Alencon lace and embroidered with pearls and crystals. The fitted bodice had a high circlet neckline and long sleeves, while the bell skirt was fashioned with a split wattleau panel train.

A matching lace crown was fastened with her elbow length bouffant illusion veil. She carried a cascade of traditional white flowers.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Linda Kotzen Paresky of Weston, while the maid of honor was Miss Joan Mofenson of Waban.

The bridesmaids were Miss Karen Lawson of Fairlawn, N.J., Miss Susan Heifetz and Rosalyn Heifetz, both of Lowell, as well as Miss Carol Riemer of Newton and Miss Barbara Riemer of Brighton. Miss Susan Marcus of Great Neck, Long Island, N.Y., was junior bridesmaid.

All the attendants wore oriental blue gowns styled with wedding ring collars, short sleeves, molded bodices and A-line skirts.

Stanley Jay Riemer of Newton served as best man. Ushering were David I. Riemer of Newton, David Parwesky of Weston, Harold Hahn Jr., of Middlefield, Ct., Paul Dean 3rd, of Newton, Leon Welling of Riverdale, N.Y., Martin Sher of Jamaica Plain, David Mofenson of Waban, Joel Rubenstein of New York City and Hyman Eisenman of Newton.

After cruising along the coast of Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Riemer are living in Newton.

Having graduated from Beaver Country Day School, the bride is a senior at Simmons College.

A graduate of Babson College, the groom is a commander in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and a stockbroker for Goodbody and Company in Boston. (photo by the Nourises)

Miss Hanrahan, Lt. Bergen Are Married

Miss Margaret E. Hanrahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Gillen of Brockton, and Lt. (j.g.) William J. Bergen, U.S.N. (ret.) of Groton, Ct., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bergen of Somerville exchanged vows recently at St. Bonaventure's Church, Manomet.

The Rev. John A. Hanrahan, S.J., nephew of the bride, officiated at the two o'clock single ring ceremony. A reception was held at the Mayflower Inn, Manomet.

Given in marriage by another nephew, Mr. Robert P. Moran of Lowell, the bride wore a full length blue silk gown with a matching coat. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Mrs. Phyllis V. Moran of Brockton was her sister's only attendant.

Martin Bergen of New York, brother of the groom, served as best man. David A. Gordon of Somerville, Robert Griffin of Reading, and Philip A. Moran of Somerville, three nephews of the bride, as well as the groom's son, Stephen J. Bergen of Groton, Ct., were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergen are making their home in Preston, Ct.

RECENT BRIDE — The former Miss Marcia Hieger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Hieger of New York City, who recently became the bride of Douglas E. Sherman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman of Newton Highlands. The couple, who were married in New York City, are living in Brooklyn.

Local girls who wore their Caps and Gowns throughout the first week of classes and will wear them on all official college occasions throughout their senior year at Trinity College in Washington, D. C., are Eleanor Cavanaugh daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Cavanaugh of 4 Ascenta Terrace, and Mary Ann Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Donovan of 19 Exeter St., both of West Newton. The girls don their academic gown as an indication of their candidacy for the A.B. degree in June.

Hope DeRogatis, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. David S. DeRogatis of 242 Waban Ave., Waban, was among the students of The College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio who received a point average of 3.50 to 4.00 during the second semester last year, thus being named to the Dean's List.

MRS. STEPHEN MARTIN

Miss Susan McKee Bride Of Mr. Stephen Martin

The marriage of Miss Susan McKee to Stephen Martin took place recently. They were married by the Rev. Donald S. Cheetham and the Rev. William Payton.

Given away by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown made of antique silk satin. The molded bodice had a sweetheart neckline and the long sleeves were pointed at the wrists. Her full skirt terminated in a cathedral length train.

Her lace mantilla belonged to her maternal great grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Tobias and her only jewelry, a pearl and diamond necklace was previously worn by her paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Ralph McKee. The double queen's crown she chose was made of seed pearls, aurora beads. She carried her prayer book with miniature carnations.

Miss Peggy McKee was her sister's maid of honor.

Miss Elizabeth Barlow of Staten Island, N.Y., and Miss Anne Mayer of Thompson, Ct., were the bridesmaids.

They were all dressed alike in emerald green karate and matching Venice lace. They wore bows in their hair and carried bouquets of yellow mums centered with matching daisies.

Peter Martin of Wellesley served as best man. The ushers were Randolph McKee, brother of the bride, Lt.

Myrtle Baptist Choir Concert For Headstart

Proceeds from a concert by the Myrtle Baptist Gospel Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Samuel Turner, will be donated to the Newton Headstart Program according to Executive Director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Anthony J. Bibbo.

The performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Thursday evening (Nov. 7) at Temple Shalom, 175 Temple st., West Newton. There will be no admission for the concert however a collection will be taken at the end of the evening for those wishing to contribute.

Chairman of the Newton Headstart Committee Mrs. Leston Havens, reported the pleasure of the committee in having the Myrtle Baptist Gospel Chorus available for this performance and in the Temple site which offers a warm and cordial atmosphere for such an event.

Newton's Headstart Program is in its second year of operation. Classroom space is donated by the First Unitarian Society and coordinated by Mrs. John Taplin. The Newton Headstart

Program is part of a 5 community regional program funded by OEO and administered by WEMBROC Inc. (WEMBROC consists of Community Action Groups in Newton, Brookline, Watertown, Waltham, and Arlington). The youngsters in Newton come from each of the city's villages to a preschool program which includes medical and social service components as well as an education experience.

The Headstart Committee in Newton, sponsors of the concert, consists of Parents of Headstart Children, Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., and Newton Community Action, Inc. The Community Service Centers administers the program locally. This program is being sponsored for the purpose of raising funds towards Newton's local share cost of the program.

Many people assume that the federal government pays all costs of its poverty programs. Basic costs are underwritten by the Federal government but the community must demonstrate its commitment to the program by supporting the activity with a per cent of the total cost referred to as "local share," which amounted to 10 per cent last year in Newton.

The federal government now requires that the local community support the program up to 20 per cent if it is to retain the Headstart Program.

For additional information contact the Newton Community Service Centers at 244-2260 or 244-5614 or Mrs. Leston Havens 527-7108. Local share contributions may be made directly to Mrs. Edmund Landy, Treasurer through the Newton Community Service Centers at 429 Cherry street, in West Newton.

Helen R. Patterson is a NEW VOICE in Massachusetts politics. She's your candidate for State Senator in Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Weston and Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 in Newton.

Why should you vote for Helen Patterson?
Where does she stand?
On the vital issues concerning the suburbs,

- Helen Patterson will work to
- reduce the real estate tax burden through tax reform
  - improve educational standards
  - face creatively the mutual problems of the city and the suburbs
  - reform the present auto insurance structure

If you stand with Helen Patterson on these issues—vote for her as your State Senator on Election Day, November 5.

Survey Shows Newton Needs Urban Renewal

Kenneth H. Salk, director of redevelopment for Newton, revealed this week that surveys show urban renewal is needed in the Garden City.

He said that out of a total of 26,117 dwelling units, 380 lack some or all plumbing facilities; there are 182 homes classified as dilapidated and 1140 listed as deteriorated.

Salk made the revelations as the first phase of a two-part project costing about $3 million was launched in Newton.

He said a 1963 study by the city Planning Dept. showed six areas containing blight. They are Newton Corner, Upper Falls, Lower Falls, West Newton, Nonantum and Newtonville. The same study showed that wealth, considered a major factor in property upkeep, is not equally distributed. About 30 per cent of the population takes home less than $6000 a year.

Rubin Epstein Chairs Sinai Hospital Dinner

In a double announcement made by Archie Kaplan, chairman of New England Sinai Hospital's $1.5 million drive for a new 120-bed hospital, Rubin Epstein of Chestnut Hill was named chairman of the hospital dinner set for Sunday, November 24 at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

Herbert Tarr, ordained Rabbi and author of the best selling novel "Heaven Help Us" will be the guest speaker at the dinner.

Rabbi Tarr, who was catapulted into fame in 1963 with his novel, "The Conversion of Chaplain Cohen," which sold well over one million copies and is currently being made into a motion picture, now has another smashing success on his hands.

This latest novel, published this year by Random House, is already racing to the top of the best-seller list. It will soon be produced on Broadway as a musical comedy. Words for the songs are being written by the same lyricist who did "Fiddler on the Roof." The music is being composed by the same songwriter who wrote "Finian's Rainbow" and "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever."

Rabbi Tarr is a native New Yorker who graduated from Herzliah Teachers College, Brooklyn College, Columbia University and Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. He holds degrees in Education, English, Comparative Literature and two in Hebrew Letters. He has led congregations in Buffalo and Long Island, and served as an Air Force Chaplain.

Mr. Epstein, who is a vice-president and member of the board of directors of New England Sinai Hospital, is also president of Brookline Hospital. He is treasurer of the Hista drut-Cardinal Cushing Hospital in Galilee. For seven years he chaired the March of Dimes fund-raising dinners. He serves on the Finance Committee of the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, is chairman of the Brookline Cancer Fund, past chairman of its Heart Fund and past assistant chairman of the American Red Cross.

At Brandeis University, Mr. Epstein is national vice-chairman of Fellows, a vice-president and lifetime director of the Greater Boston Brandeis Club.

President of City Bank and Trust Company, he was recently appointed to the National Small Business Administration Advisory

Salute From Her Club Members to Mrs. Kostarelos

Miss Florence Kostarelos of Newton Centre is receiving the congratulations of the Newton Centre Women's Club for her achievement in winning two prizes at the recent Harvest Festival of the Horticultural Society.

Miss Kostarelos is a member of the club's board of directors.

One of entries in the plants and products category, an exhibit of herbs and plants, brought her a first prize. She won a second prize with a showing of her hanging ivy geraniums.

A talented artist, she used some of her work as backgrounds behind the exhibits. The winner and board member is also a member of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, the Newton Art Association, the Copley Society, the Cambridge Art Association and the North Shore Art Association.

Pvt. Montuori Has Guerilla Training

Army Private Robert H. Montuori, 24, of West Newton has completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training at Ft. Polk, La., part of which was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

Pvt. Montuori, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Montuori of 70 Orchard Ave., while in training lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

A piano student in the division of private study at Berklee School of Music, Boston, is Lisa A. Friedman, 9, daughter of Mr. John R. Friedman of 450 Crafts St., West Newton.

Law And Order Lecture by Lee Bailey to Aid Roxbury Playroom

"Law and Order," one of the most important issues confronting the nation today will be the subject of a lecture to be presented at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 2, at B.U.'s Hayden Hall on Commonwealth Avenue, by Attorney F. Lee Bailey.

Proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to Playroom 81 in Mission Hill, Roxbury, a recreation area created three years ago by a small group of mothers in the Mission Hill housing project. The noted lawyer is contributing his services for the cause.

Playroom 81 is an outstanding project of people recognizing a need and helping themselves to fill the need. Although the project has attracted wide attention and increased its services in one of Roxbury's most hard-hit areas, it has been facing lack of adequate financial backing from its start.

Tickets for the lecture are priced at $2.50 per person and patrons pay $25 for a ticket admitting two. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Elmes, 90 Cherry Brook road, Weston, tel. 899-0637.

Sponsors of the lecture include Attorney William E. Bailey; James H. Ballou of the A.I.A.; U.S. Senator Edward W. Brooke; State Auditor Thaddeus Buczko; President Melnea Cass of the Women's Service Club; Treasurer Robert C. Crane; John Cort of the Commonwealth Service Corps; former U.S. Congressman Laurence Curtis, Secretary of State John F.X. Davoren, State Senator James deNormandie, and Dwayne Grimes.

Also State Representative Michael Haynes and Franklin Holgate, U.S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Director Melvin King of the Urban League, Jonathan Kozol, the Rev. Richard P. McClintock; Director Grace L. Mitchell of Green Acres Day School; Peter P. Papesch, A.I.P.; Urban League Personnel Director Robert Phillips; Attorney General Elliott Richardson; Lieutenant Governor Francis W. Sargent; Joseph F. Schappa, Jr., A.I.A.; Playroom 81 Director Barbara Searcy; Sheriff John W. Sears, State Representative Janet Starr, Chairman Thomas Slaughter, AFRAM Associates; Mayor Kevin White and Governor John A. Other guests included the administrative officers of the College.

Dr. Howards Promoted To Professor

Dr. Melvin Howards, director of Northeastern University's Center for Educational Development, has been promoted to professor of education at the university.

Dr. Howards, who lives at 94 Shady Hill Road, Newton, is also director of the Reading Improvement Center at N.U. He is responsible for several programs at Northeastern, including a "drop-out" school for members of Boston's Neighborhood Youth Corps; a reading teacher-intern program; New England's only training center for VISTA, the nation's domestic peace corps; a tutor-training project for poverty areas; and a six-week summer program to upgrade reading skills of Negro students accepted to Northeastern.

Dr. Howards, who has been at Northeastern since 1962, received his bachelor's degree in 1949 from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. He earned his master's degree in 1953 from Columbia University and his doctorate in 1962 from New York University.

Prof. Howards is a member of the International Reading Association and is the author of several articles in education journals.

1968 is a very good year to come to the aid of both parties... by voting for Stevens.

Do-nothing Congresses happen because the parties nominate do-nothing men — and you vote for them.

President John F. Kennedy said: "Sometimes party loyalty asks too much." That's exactly what's happening in the third district this year.

If you live between Newton and Winchendon, your Congressman is 70 years old and he's been in Washington for 26 years. Do you know his name? .....

Well, what about the other party's candidate who is 75 and spent 10 years in Congress. Do you remember his name? .....

Well, how about something either one of them has ever done? .....

Tough, isn't it? But you still have a choice — Representative Chandler Harrison Stevens.

He's a responsible Independent — the only Independent in the Massachusetts Legislature. He has an impressive record of achievement in government reform, and Dr. Stevens is one Independent who wins — he's never lost an election. At 33, Harry Stevens is a man of the future.

As an Independent he will be the most visible man in the Congress.

Regardless of how you decorate your home, an essential appliance is a vacuum cleaner. Equip your home with a basic upright or canister cleaner. The upright combines suction with a brushing and/or beating action to clean both surface and deep down dirt from your rugs. The canister is more versatile and can be used for most every kind of household cleaning. It is a compact box, tank, or round unit used with a hose and attachments to clean rugs and carpets, bare floors, tables, walls, blinds, and more. Supplemental cleaners you could own are a lightweight upright cleaner, a portable hand vacuum cleaner, a heavy-duty cleaner or an electric broom. Be sure to ask for a demonstration to see which one does what you want best.

For the best furniture in the area... decorator quality and style... come to FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard Street, Brookline, 566-8635. ## At Miami Meeting

Dr. Harold Berk of Newton Center will make a scientific presentation at the 1968 annual meeting of the American Society of Dentistry for Children at the Hilton Plaza hotel in Miami Beach, Florida, this weekend.

At the ASDC meeting outstanding lecturers will discuss the most recent findings in dentistry for children, with emphasis on preventive dentistry and the role of growth and development in guiding the dentition of the growing child.

A panel discussion expected to attract wide interest at the meeting will be on oral habits in children as seen from the point of view of a speech pathologist, a child psychologist, an orthodontist, and a pediatric dentist (a specialist in dentistry for children).

1968 is a very good year to come to the aid of both parties... by voting for Stevens.

Do-nothing Congresses happen because the parties nominate do-nothing men — and you vote for them.

President John F. Kennedy said: "Sometimes party loyalty asks too much." That's exactly what's happening in the third district this year.

If you live between Newton and Winchendon, your Congressman is 70 years old and he's been in Washington for 26 years. Do you know his name? .....

Well, what about the other party's candidate who is 75 and spent 10 years in Congress. Do you remember his name? .....

Well, how about something either one of them has ever done? .....
Tough, isn't it? But you still have a choice — Representative Chandler Harrison Stevens.

He's a responsible Independent — the only Independent in the Massachusetts Legislature. He has an impressive record of achievement in government reform, and Dr. Stevens is one Independent who wins — he's never lost an election. At 33, Harry Stevens is a man of the future.

As an Independent he will be the most visible man in the Congress.

Identically attired, but in green, the bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Atkinson and Miss Susan Atkinson, both sisters of the bride, Miss Kristina Seeglit, all of Newton, Mrs. Philip Ruputz of Newton Centre and Miss Jacqueline Gentile of West Newton.

Ronald M. Andrew of South Hanover served as best man.

The Art of Home Decor

By MEL STERN

Regardless of how you decorate your home, an essential appliance is a vacuum cleaner. Equip your home with a basic upright or canister cleaner. The upright combines suction with a brushing and/or beating action to clean both surface and deep down dirt from your rugs. The canister is more versatile and can be used for most every kind of household cleaning. It is a compact box, tank, or round unit used with a hose and attachments to clean rugs and carpets, bare floors, tables, walls, blinds, and more. Supplemental cleaners you could own are a lightweight upright cleaner, a portable hand vacuum cleaner, a heavy-duty cleaner or an electric broom. Be sure to ask for a demonstration to see which one does what you want best.

For the best furniture in the area . . . decorator quality and style . . . come to FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard Street, Brookline, 566-8635. Our experienced salespeople will help you pick what you want and need — they will help you prevent those expensive decorating mistakes. Daily 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Wednesday 'til 9:30 p.m.

HELPFUL HINT: A short handled mop can be used to dust floors in tight corners. It can save moving heavy furniture.

Paperback Booksmith Price $3.69

SC-3720 (stereo only!) Quite possibly the crowning achievement of Klemperer's magnificent career . . . a recording which indelibly establishes him as the supreme interpreter of the grand-scale religious works.

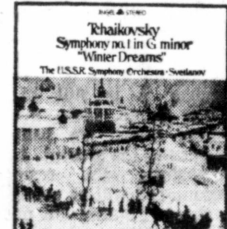

SC-36434 (stereo only!) The incomparable Schwarzkopf in a brand new program of favorite opera arias from Gianni Schicchi, Bohème, Otello, The Bartered Bride and Eugene Onegin. Radiant performances.

SP-3654 (stereo only!) A beautifully recorded "pop" concert of melodic and familiar tunes long associated with the London locale. Over 44 minutes of truly beautiful stereophonic listening.

SP-3655 (stereo only!) Recorded in England for authenticity of both style and sound, it is a thrilling and regal extravaganza of band, chorus and organ richness. Works by Walton, Bliss, Elgar and other noted English musical penmen.

SR-40057 (stereo only!) A tonically thrilling and beautifully descriptive symphonic picture of winter and the wonderfully languid dreams and emotions it creates. Melodious and warm, it is the first authentically recorded Russian performance of the work.

S-36338 (stereo only) Impeccable technique, rich round tone, mature musicianship—Miss Da Pré possesses all these attributes. Her playing is "so extraordinary a sound one must go back to the heyday of Casals and Rostropovich for adequate comparisons." (—New York Herald Tribune)

S-36496 (stereo only!) The world's two most popular guitar concertos—classical and modern. Technically impeccable interpretations by the Venezuelan-born master guitarist. With sonics to match performance, it's an album we enthusiastically recommend.

S-36504 (stereo only!) FIRST STEREO RECORDING of this early Mahler cantata. Fine soloists, gorgeous choral sounds and exciting brass are interwoven throughout Mahler's rich and colorful orchestral tapestry. The recording is a revelation in stereo sound.

Seraphim is happening at unbelievable prices!

Reg. list price $2.49

Paperback Booksmith Price $1.49

S 60056 (stereo only!) Released for the first time in America—a handsome new Kempe performance of two now standard orchestral works priced to fit everyone's pocket-book.

□ 60054 (mono only!) Still more new material by the legendary Gigli—in this Seraphim issue. Much on LP for the first time, all carefully transferred to preserve the "golden voice" forever.

S 60055 (stereo only!) Loose pocket change will buy you this never-before-available performance of Brahms' exquisite piano concerto. Absolutely first-rate stereo sound—a winning disc all 'round!

□ IB-6026 (mono only!) The much-honored 1943 Caniglia/Gigli performance conducted by Tullio Serafin—transferred from 78's in the magnificent tradition of Angel's Great Recordings of the Century series. A prized recording at a price too good to be true.

□ S-60068 (stereo only!) Available for the first time in America! A champion of the Elgar way in the only available recording of this unjustly neglected symphony. A performance as appealing as its Seraphim price.

□ S 60062 (stereo only!) The only performance of this symphony available on record. Sir Thomas Beecham's interlarded wizardry is in full bloom . . . yours to enjoy at Seraphim's incredibly low, low price.

S-60072 (stereo only) A Menuhin family blend featuring Hephzibah, Jeremy and Yehudi. Yehudi is conductor. An unusual, if not unique, album idea for you who want something "unordinary."

S-60061 (stereo only) A fresh-sounding new look at the great Fourth and the moody Prometheus. The uncanny precision and vigorous musicality of the Moscow Philharmonic—here available at a price as satisfying as their superb performance.

□ 60042—mono only Donat's renowned reading of Eliot's whimsical "Cats" . . . (with musical background) AND 20 of Shakespeare's love sonnets meaningfully read by Dame Edith Evans.

IB-6027 (mono only) The historic 1938 Caniglia/Gigli performance painstakingly transferred to LP for today's most discerning ears. One of the finest "Tosca's" ever put on record.

S-60075 (stereo only!) The most fiery (and most popular) of all the romantic violin concertos performed by the young artist America has taken to heart ever since his 1958 Boston debut.

S-60071 (stereo only) No other recording of either composition is currently available. "The recording, like the Dorati performance, is first class." Seraphim's low price affords you the luxury of sampling the "unfamiliar."

60073 (mono only!) An unexpected treat—a Volume II sequel to Seraphim's phenomenally successful first Brain anthology (60040). The sprightly and sunny Mozart Quintet and the tonally exciting contemporary Berkeley Trio comprise this new release.

S-60074 (stereo only!) One of Rodzinski's brightest recordings, a performance which dramatically displays his propulsive energy and the unique Viennese-style finesse. Standard repertoire finely recorded and very attractively priced.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JAMES SHULMAN

The "unification" program that the classes at Newton South High School have suggested and now put into effect is becoming an overnight success. The students, classes and houses are working together as one to benefit each other and the school as a whole.

Homeroom 7202, is sponsoring a dance Saturday, December 7. The Art of Lovin' will play. The dance will be held on the evening after the Senior SAT exams are given. Denebola is sponsoring a contest to name the dance. The winner of the winning name will receive a $50 cash prize. The winner will be announced in next month's Denebola.

All names must be submitted to either Johnny Lank in room 7202, or to any one of the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders and their respective homerooms are listed below.

A panel of judges will be drafted from both the faculty and the students to select the winning entry. All entries must be in no later than Friday, Nov. 1.

The student activities council at South is planning a Halloween dance on Saturday (Oct. 26) at 7:30 p.m. The council is pulling together the three houses and classes for ideas, plans, and production.

Eric Black, Vice President of the Senior Class and co-

chairman of the dance, has stated "that the Halloween activity is not being planned merely as a dance. He added that various traditional, as well as original, Halloween diversions are being planned."

There will be, however, a topnotch band playing most of the evening while Goodwin House President Larry Adelman and his council are presently searching South for talent to fill out the program. Tickets to the dance will go on sale shortly at the price of $1.25, and will not be sold at the door. The dance will run from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. All proceeds will go to charity.

Newly orientated sophomores have begun working on the activities council as well as joining and taking part in other school projects.

The 1968 Sophomore Class Committee was selected last June. Students were elected from each Junior High School to serve as representatives to the Student Activities Committee. These students will organize Sophomore activities until November. At that time, class officers and a committee will be chosen. Sign up and vote procedures will soon be explained.

Several class committee meetings have been held under the direction of Stuart Silverman and Mr. Arner, class advisor. An assembly was held Oct. 16th, dealing with a sophomore's first impressions of South.

The present Sophomore Class Committee members are:

George Berman, Peter Dana, Wendy Goldberg, Miriam Kaye, Howard Levin, Eric Malmberg, and Joan Matchell.

Also Rusty Phillips, Louise Rosenberg, James Smith, Ellen Wallace, Paul White and Lisa Williams.

Carol Efron and her literary staff have chosen "Perspective" as the theme of this year's book. Carol hopes to incorporate under this topic many of the important things going on in the world today.

This year Regulus is co-sponsor with Wheeler House of a new activity. This is a film festival headed by Mr. Goggin, which will consist of films shown at night about once a month. This activity is an effort to widen the scope of the school environment as well as to raise money for the production of a "top-flight" yearbook.

As of October 10, the Class of 1969 has $108.35 in its treasury.

The following are projected expenses for this senior year; these figures are based primarily on the expenditures of last year's Senior Class. As such, they are very reasonable estimations of our total financial obligations for this year.

Senior Supper: (based on an attendance of 400 students and members of the faculty. Caterer (400 meals; $3.50 per person) $1400.00 Building fee (approx.) $120.00.

Police men (approx.) $72.00. Decorations and props, $50.00.

Cushion fund $15.00. Total $1692.00.

Thus, approximately $1700 dollars will be needed to adequately finance Senior Supper.

The Senior Class of 1969 has undertaken to honor the memory of the late Danny Mendelson with a fitting tribute which, it is hoped, will become a permanent memorial and a Senior tradition. The nature of this memorial, which has not been finalized, will be submitted to the class, as a whole, for approval will be submitted to Danny's parents for consent, and then will be instituted as soon as possible. The approximate cost for this memorial will be $125.

Sheraton Plaza, Boston: Room, $500.00. No meal option as yet available.

Sheraton Boston: Room alone, $2,000.00. With meals for every couple, the room would be free of charge.

The cost, per couple, for a meal, would run between $10-20.00. In addition to room and (or) meal expenses, entertainment would cost (depending on type and quality) anywhere from $300-500.00.

Winter Week and Senior Symposium: The school associates council is now in the process of considering a "Winter Week" festival in which each class would sponsor an event of activity. Because it is still in the talking stage, there are no figures which we have to consider at the present. As for symposium, the expenses encountered will be solely for speakers. Figures will not be available till early in the spring.

Jerry Mann spent the summer in India as an AFS exchange student. He told of his memories and experiences in an article in Denebola.

"A year ago, I submitted an application for the American Field Service American's Abroad Program. Under the program; if selected, I would have the opportunity to live with a family somewhere in the world. June 3 I received a frantic call from Miss McLane telling me to start getting ready because I had been selected to go to India.

"Three weeks later, I went to New York and sailed with six hundred other AFS'ers to Rotterdam. The boat trip was really fun, and there was a real opportunity to meet kids from schools all over the country. We also had classes on board to help us get used to our respective countries. When we arrived in Rotterdam, sixty-one of us boarded a plane for Bombay, India.

"I spent the summer in Poona which is about 110 miles southeast of Bombay. By Indian standards this was a small city of about one million. I lived in a Hindu, Brahmin family of four.

"It took me about a month before I was able to settle down in the normal family routine. This was mostly due to the kinds of cultural adjustments that I had to make. I was in India to learn about their culture by living in it. So I had to get used to eating with my hands, Indian bathrooms, eating rice twice a day, dodging cows and buffalos in the streets, riding on the left, and countless other changes. One of the more difficult changes that I was forced to make centered around the family, and the family structure. In India, the mother cooks. Her main purpose is to cook and produce children whereas the father is the master. The children are not allowed to question their parents. The kids also fear what their relatives might say about them. This very rigid family structure then reflects itself in the rest of the society.

"Every morning at seven, my brother and I would set out on his motorcycle for yoga classes. They were really fun. We would return home at 8:30 to have breakfast, and if I was lucky I could catch "The Voice of America Breakfast Show" on shortwave radio. It was very interesting to be on the other side of the world during a situation such as the Chicago Convention because all the Indians could read about it in their newspapers was that Hubert Humphrey was nominated.

"After breakfast I would usually go to college. I audited some classes there for the first few weeks. The Indians as a people are extremely warm and friendly. It is an Indian custom.

By 12:30 I would return home to have lunch with my mother and father. One of the reasons I was able to get so close to my family was because during lunch time I could have really good discussions with them. People in India have as many misimpressions about the United States as we have of them. In India most people res. between twelve and four.

"After lunch, I would go upstairs to my bedroom and read, write, play the sitar, think, or sleep. The life in India is very slow, and it is very comforting to live such a life. People don't really care what time it is.

"I spent my afternoons engaged in all kinds of assorted activities. AFS in Poona arranged programs quite frequently to visit schools, factories, and speak with assorted prominent people. If AFS didn't have a program, then I did something with my family. One afternoon pastime was to go into the downtown area of Poona and go shopping. The downtown district is very crowded, with thin winding streets all covered with little shops, people, bicycles, animals and cars.

"Then, later on in the evening I would go to my sitar class.

"After class, I went home for dinner, which was served at nine. It was very similar to lunch except that the whole family was there. The family belonged to the upper class, however, so you shouldn't think this was an average life. I did get a chance to really live India. I had contact with poorer people and saw how they live also.

"My summer with AFS was an experience I shall never forget. Now I have a second family in the world. AFS gave me the opportunity to widen my view and understanding in so many ways that cannot be expressed."

Goodwill League Elects Officers

Officers were elected at the opening meeting of the Goodwill League Inc. which was held recently at the home of Mrs. Edgar Grossman. Plans are under way for the annual dinner-dance to be held in April at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

Election results were as follows: President, Mrs. Nelson Noble; vice president, Mrs. Edward Berger; Treasurer, Mrs. Jack Silberberg; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. William Pollak; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Burton Livingston; Publicity, Mrs. Samuel Katitz and Happy Day, Mrs. Nathan Goodman.

Pencil Process

Community College Plans Open House

Massachusetts Bay Community College will hold its annual open house on Sunday, Nov. 3, from 2 to 5 p.m., at its campus located at 57 Stanley Avenue in Watertown. The public is cordially invited.

MBCC opened its doors in September, 1961, to its first class, numbering few more than 400 people. In September, 1968, the Day school registered more than 1300. The Summer sessions, which concluded in August, and fall Evening Division combined to accommodate over 2000 additional students.

Degree programs are offered in liberal arts, business administration, secretarial studies, electronics technology, nursing. The college also has a rehabilitation specialist training program for BR supervisors, a fire science program, and college-credit courses operating in Roxbury with the cooperation of ABCI Exhibits and tours of the major facilities of the campus will be offered with student faculty, and administration hosting this traditional event.

Paul Burlingame Is Helping Lions Quit Ivy Grid Doldrums

When Paul Burlingame was a student at Newton High School he dabbled in football and poetry and specialized in burning up track records.

Possibly on the suggestion of an interested teacher that he'd finally make his mark either as a good poet OR as an outstanding gridiron warrior, he has been concentrating on both poetry and football at Columbia University where he's now a junior.

He's proving the N.H.S. teacher wrong. He's starring in poetry and football. And he's discovered they are not incompatible.

Paul's son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Burlingame of 31 Jefferson street, Newton. He's only 19 and was a member of the 1966 graduating class at Newton High.

Until well along in his sophomore year at Columbia he hadn't been much of a scorer — until he got a chance. They had to press him into service when two Columbia first-string offensive backs came down with injuries. He put his unquestioned speed to work right away.

Against a tough Dartmouth defense he zipped over the grid like a lightning bolt to score a 52-yard touchdown.

PLEASANT SURPRISE
This year, the quiet youngster, is knocking on the door for All-Ivy recognition and future Lion opponents are wearing out films of early Columbia games to find a way to stop him.

His play has been described as one of the pleasant surprises Frank Navarro has experienced during his brief career as a Columbia coach.

Columbia out of door-mat ranks into contention with the other Ivy biggies.

And — tough as he is once he gets a football in the crook of his arm — there's a deep trace of the poet in this boy's philosophy and outlook on life.

"When I carry the ball I actually become obsessed," he said recently. "I'm entirely oblivious to pain then. Running with the ball is a tremendously sensual thing."

Whether his poetical Muse is the source of the 19-year-old's inspiration grid-wide or not, Coach Navarro doesn't care. As the Lions turn toward the last half of their season he'd like some more of the same.

Burlingame began to catch the eye of future opponent scouts in the Princeton game.

PAUL BURLINGAME

second on the Columbia schedule. In that battle, won by Princeton, Paul collected five passes and in blocking (a new but strongly welcome talent) he proved himself an excellent trail blazer.

IT'S A RITUAL

"I think I play football as much for other people as for myself," he said recently as he reverted to the poetical side of his nature. "I'm a very emotional person and I find that I need reassurances of what I can do. These reassurances are what I get out of playing football. The football game is just a ritual you go through."

He's a big boy and still growing. Right now he's carrying 200 pounds on a 6-1 frame. He's a bit deprecating about his ball carrying ability. He points out his success thus far is mostly due to his speed (at N.H.S. he won six track letters) rather than finesse.

SEEKS FINESSE

On this point he says: "I still have to learn the little runners' tricks like setting up a defensive man with a fake. And I don't cut back enough either. But I have become a much better broken field runner recently and if I get outside I'll run away from them."

Still awaiting the Lions are Yale (this Saturday); Rutgers, Cornell, Dartmouth, Penn and Brown (in that order).

The coaches of those teams won't be passing out volumes of Burlingame sonnets at practice sessions for their stalwarts to memorize. However, as they run off the movies of Lions games they'll be exhorting their defense men to study and memorize the work of a coming new star in the Ivy League firmament.

Even if most of his poetry is concerned with love, Paul leaves his Bartlett's and Thesaurus in the dressing room when he goes out there for the opening whistle. Then he gets hungry for the ritual ahead.

Delegation From Temple Attends Hebrew Conclave

A large delegation from Temple Beth Avodah in Newton will attend the eighth biennial convention of the New England Council of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, to be held next on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of next week (Nov. 1, 2 and 3) at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

The general theme of the convention is "Judaism's Response to a Generation in Turmoil."

Melvin J. Fischer, past president of Temple Beth Avodah, present treasurer of the New England Council and nominee for Council Vice President, will chair one of the several workshops planned. Fischer's group will discuss "What We Can Teach Our Children about Sex and Drugs."

Rabbi Edward M. Maline and Chairman Frederick S. Shapiro will represent Temple Beth Avodah along with the following elected delegates: Congregation President Jay I. W. Moskow; First Vice President Stanley Selib; Vice Presidents Lewis P. Aronson and Arthur I. Hersen. Alternates are Samuel M. Blacker, Henry Lustig, Jr., Howard Poorvu, Daniel Shapiro and Max Share.

Sabbath Services of Temple Beth Avodah will be held at the Convention Services scheduled at Temple Emanuel of Marblehead on Friday, Nov. 1. A chartered bus will take Temple members wishing to attend services in Marblehead. Reservations should be made in advance to assure seating space.

James M. Ritvo of Newton is a Volunteer in Service of America (VISTA) and has been assigned to the San Francisco Bay Area Project in California for a year. He was one of 44 trainees to graduate recently from the VISTA training program at the University of Oregon. Ritvo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Ritvo of 63 Remington St., is a graduate of Noble and Greenough School in Dedham and a graduate of Tufts University. He has worked with the Boston poverty program.

Newton South Harriers Edge Waltham High

For the first time in history a Newton South cross-country team defeated Waltham High at the hosts' course. The Lions nipped the Hawks 27-28 last week on a rocky 2.3 mile course.

Waltham's sensational junior, Moe Bordenca, ripped the course in 12:22, slightly slower than normal because of the unusual heat — 30 degrees — but still fast enough to win by 30 seconds. Newton South's top man, Tom La Plante, raced to a 12:53 clocking to take second place. South also copied places four, six, seven and eight, for its slim winning margin. Sophomores Charles Pottey, 13:23, Dick Dickinson, 13:25, senior Lew Freedman, 13:41, and sophomore Mike LeBlanc, 13:45, were the pointscorers. Junior Dave Glaser, 14:03, sophomore Larry Junda, 14:08, and seniors Bruce Kopelman, 14:43, and David Finch, 15:44, were the other varsity competitors.

The Lion record is now 2-4, with a final dual-meet scheduled against Everett at the Mt. Ida course, before league and state competition begins.

Despite the fact that Bruce Kaye, Ron Schneider, Steve Sahl, and Jim Silverman were sidelined with various ailments, the JV Lions squeaked by Waltham by the same margin as the varsity, 27-28.

Andy Cohen turned in his best race of the season, finishing second in the excellent time of 13:52. John Sealer's 14:35 was good enough for fourth. Howie Berman was fifth in 14:42. Mike Oshima was sixth in 14:46, and Merrill Goldfarb finished in the tenth spot in 15:22 to clinch the victory. All five placers are sophomores. The JV mark is now 4-2.

LIONS COMPETE IN CATHOLIC INVITATIONAL

The Lions competed last Saturday in the Catholic Memorial Invitational Cross-Country meet. South ran in Division 1 both for the junior-senior race and the freshman-sophomore race. The juniors and seniors did not do very well as Lew Freedman led the finishers in 13:18.

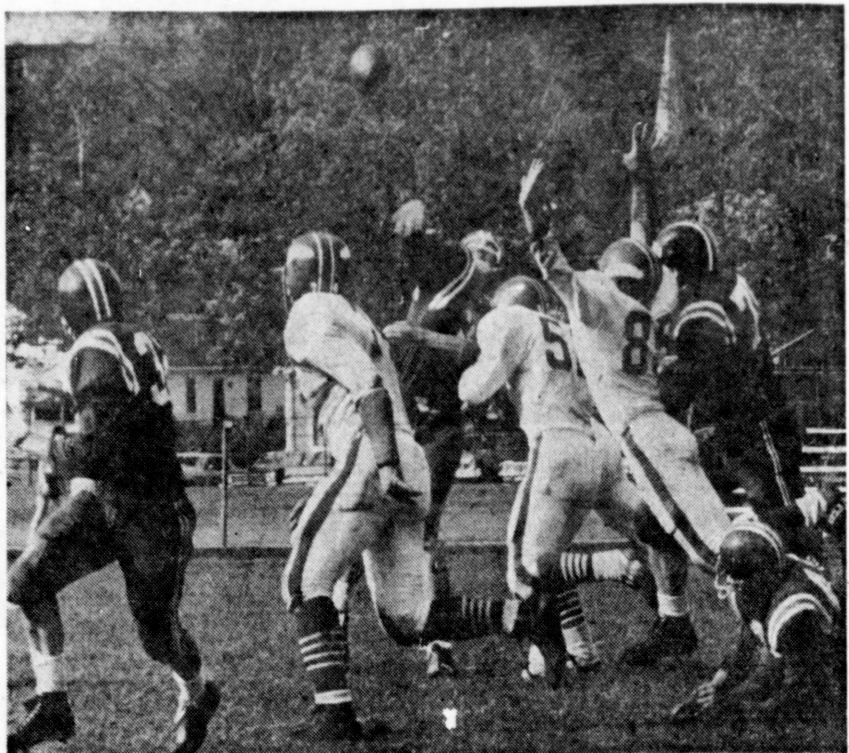

The other Lion competitors, Dave Glaser, Steve Sahl, Bruce Kopelman, Bob Haims, and Jim Silverman were even further back in the huge pack of 245 runners, from 35 schools.

Newton raced home very strongly, however, in the JV race. Tom LaPlante flew home in 13:21 over the 2.5 mile Franklin Park course, good for an eighth place trophy. Dick Dickinson hustled in seconds behind him, 13:30 in sixteenth, also good for a medal. Charley Pottey, in 41st place, Mike LeBlanc, in 82nd, and Bruce Kaye, in 99th were the other South point-scorers. The team's 246 total gave it 7th place in the state.

Col. Stewart On Astronaut Medical Team

U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Eleanor M. Stewart, who received her nurse's training at Faulkner Hospital School of Nursing in Jamaica Plain, and niece of Mrs. A. W. Johnson of 20 Woodside rd., Newtonville, was a member of the medical team at Cape Kennedy, Fla., on standby to support the launch of the three Apollo 7 astronauts for their earth-orbiting mission.

A PASSING EFFORT — John Lopez, center in black, filling in for the then ailing Tom Rezzuti, heaves the ball to Pete Shepard (32) at left, in a recent game against Wakefield. James Callanan (85) of Wakefield tried unsuccessfully to block the pass. Steve Bugli (52) in white hit Lopez just as he got the ball off. South lost the game on their home field, 21-0. ## Medford Soccer Team Defeats Newton South Eastern Mass. defending soccer champ Medford paid a visit to Newton South, last week, and rode home with a 4-0 triumph.

The champs proved much too strong for the Lions, who are now 1-6-1. Medford was held scoreless in the first period, but tallied two goals in the second and added two more in the fourth period of play.

The Mustangs controlled the action throughout the contest, continuously peppering South Goalie Fred Klashman, and keeping the pressure on the Lion end. There was one five minute period when the ball did not leave the South zone.

Beth Avodah To Start Adult Ed. Program For Yr.

Temple Beth Avodah of Newton will begin its 1968-69 adult educational program tomorrow (FRIDAY) at 8:30 p.m. The first session of the program will be held in conjunction with a New Members' Service at which new congregants will be officially welcomed into the Temple.

The Adult Educational Program will take the book, "The Root and the Branches", as its theme for the year. A summary of the chapter dealing with "Ethics and the Political Process" will be given at the first meeting followed by a lecture by Rabbi Edward Maline.

Rabbi Maline will discuss the question "Should the Synagogue Involve Itself in the Political Process?" A discussion will be held after Rabbi Maline's talk. Guests are welcome to attend.

medical facility, Wilford Hall Hospital at Lackland AFB, Tex. No stranger to the U.S. space program, Col. Stewart was a member of the medical recovery team at Lajes Field, Azores, that supported Astronaut John Glenn during Project Mercury.

She is one of three Air Force medical personnel sent from Lackland to augment the National Aeronautics and Space Administration special emergency medical staff during the launch and first manned Apollo space flight.

Newton High Cross Country Team Clinches Suburban League Title

By JESS GROSSMAN

A 21-42 rout of Medford clinched the Suburban League title for Newton's cross country team as its runners finished league action undefeated and moved up from their second place finish of last year.

Doug Tomb won the race and remained undefeated in Suburban League action while winning in six of seven races overall.

Going into the meet easily with a 15-48 decision Medford was a close second to over the Mustang jayvees. Newton in the league with a 4-1 record to the Garden City's 5-0 slate. After one loop of Newton's course, however, Medford was no longer even a close second as the Orange and Black occupied seven of the first ten spots.

Medford's Marty Murphy gave Tomb a stiff battle until the last 250 yards where Doug flew past Murphy to win by 100 yards. Third and fourth in the race was Newton's Dave Black and Jay Sidman.

Fifth was a Medford harrier but sixth and seventh places went to John Bowles and Nick Brown, both of Newton, to finish out the scoring.

The fact that the five Newton runners mentioned above and the next five in after them are returning next year should serve to greatly encourage Coach Ab Bailey for the future.

The junior varsity also won

Newton South Football Team In 14-14 Tie With Reading

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

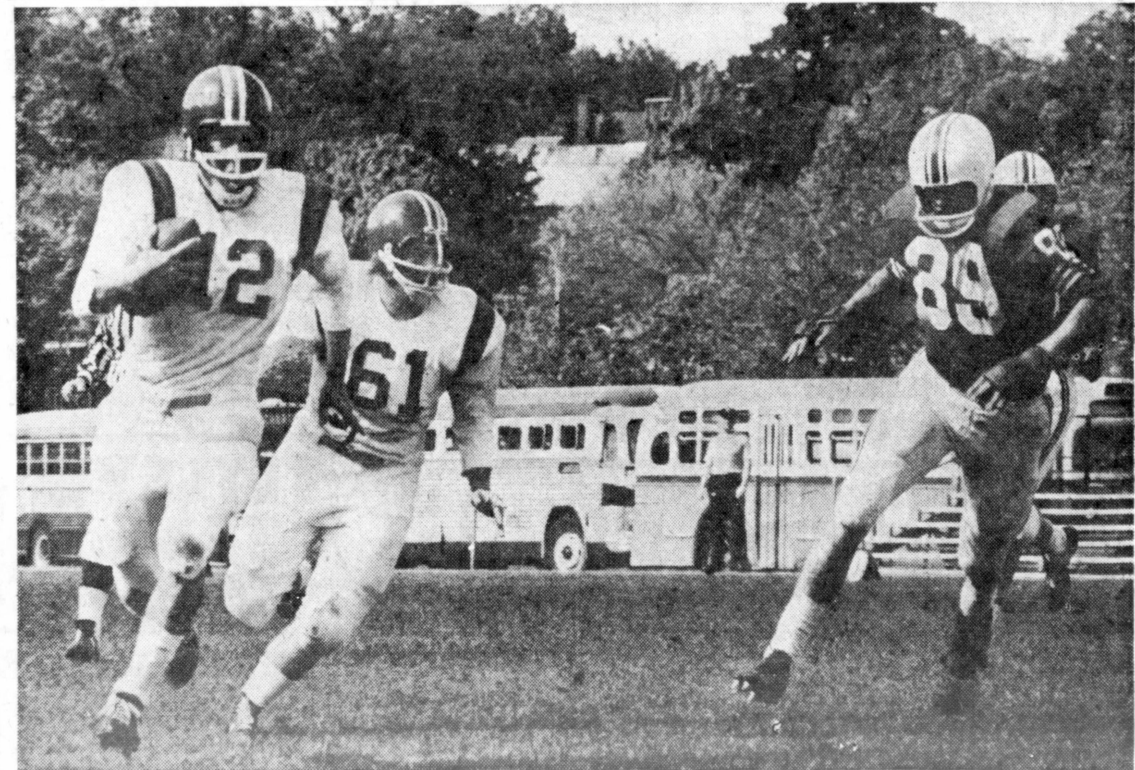

The long dormant Newton South offense came alive last Saturday afternoon in a pouring rain to salvage a 14-14 tie with Reading.

Both quarterbacks, Tom Rezzuti of South, and Mike O'Brien of Reading, stuck mainly with the ground attack because of the wet conditions.

Reading gained an 8-6 double reverse to score their halftime lead on a short run final touchdown, but then a conversion pass in the South defense stiffened and second period. Earlier in the quarter, South had enjoyed a brief lead when Nick Parnell scampered around end on a 45-yard jaunt for a touchdown. This capped an 80-yard drive. The conversion attempt, though, was missed.

Newton grabbed the lead back in the third quarter when Tommy Rezzuti plunged over from the one for six points and then quarterback sneaked into the end zone for a two-point conversion.

This Saturday will find the Lions at home versus Lexington High. Reading pulled a neat

Temple Emanuel PTA Meeting Monday Night

The opening PTA meeting of Temple Emanuel Religious School, Newton Centre, will be held next Monday night (Oct. 28) in the Community Hall.

Rabbi Samuel Chiel will install the following PTA officers: Presidents: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frutkoff; First Vice Presidents: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abramson; Second Vice Presidents: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Greene; treasurers: Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mitchell; Corresponding Secretaries: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Furman; Recording Secretaries: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cohen.

Prizes will be awarded to Heh and Vov students who achieved outstanding scores in the General Achievement Exams administered by the Boston Bureau of Jewish Education last June.

Rabbi Samuel Chiel will speak on the topic, "The Uniqueness of Religious Education". Mr. Stanley L. Cohen, Educational Director, will conduct an orientation session for parents of first-graders.

Dr. Leo Tarutz will be honored for 17 years of devoted and dedicated service to the Religious School and Temple.

The agenda will also include parent-teacher conferences. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Newton National Bank Honors Mrs. Kelley

Louis G. LeBlanc, President of the Newton National Bank, presented a retirement gift of cultured pearls to Mrs. Katherine G. Kelley at a party given at the Highlands Restaurant as a token of appreciation for her many years' service to the bank.

In addition to the many fellow employees and friends who attended a second tribute was accorded Mrs. Kelley by the presence of her fellow banker-sons, William E. Kelley, President of Hancock Bank and Trust Company of Quincy, and Roy A. Kelley, Senior Systems Officer of The First National Bank of Boston.

Additional gifts were also presented to Mrs. Kelley by the members of the bank's staff and friends.

Three students from the Newton area are enrolled for the Fall quarter at Transylvania College in Lexington, Ky. They are Gayle Anne Purple, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Purple of 626 Centre St.; Patrick Emile Bastin son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Bastin of 84 Brookside Ave. and Susan Elisabeth Santilano daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.A. Santilano of 148 Bellevue St. All are graduates of Newton High School and Miss Purple and Mr. Bastin are seniors while Miss Santilano is a sophomore.

Bigelow Pupils Tour Newton Free Library

A pilot group of two dozen Bigelow Junior High School pupils this week toured the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre Street, Newton Corner, with their teacher, Miss Phyllis Brunkau, in a new series of student visits to the Main Library.

Mrs. Theodore Brameld, Bigelow Librarian, and Mrs. James Tashjian, Assistant Librarian of the Newton system, have coordinated a schedule designed to welcome on a class basis all 162 Bigelow ninth-graders.

The students, whose library needs will be intensified as they complete ninth grade and move on to Newton High School, are being briefed on modern resources and services of the Newton Free Library. Mrs. Tashjian personally escorted the Bigelow students and gave a capsule history of the Library before she introduced Library department heads to the group.

Mrs. Tashjian stressed the important contributions which the Newton Free Library professional reference staff makes to students, and she urged the Bigelow group to make good use of the Young Adult section of the Reference Area.

In the first tour, accompanied by Miss Phyllis Brunkau, English and Social Science teacher, were Chris Smith, Bob O'Neil, Steve Wilbur, Matt Newman, James J. Gampi, Darlene Connors, Charles Shulman, Jeff Rutherford, Kathi Arsenault, Debbi Cutler, Robert Spivack, Lisa Lattanzio, Linda Scales, Janet Younker, Steve Skinner, Marie Manning, John Boudreau, Dawn Carmen, Nancy Bernstone, Aaron Hark, Karen Anderson, Charlie Jodrey, Mark Hopkins, and Robert Barnes.

City Librarian Henry E. Bates, Jr. hopes to be able to organize similar Main Library visits for all Newton-ninth-grade students, although it may take more than a year to structure a cycle to include the over 1400 ninth-graders in the City in 1968.

Membership Drive For Discussion Group

The Newton Chapter of the Great Books Discussion Groups, under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Cutler, coordinator of Newton Adult Library Services, is beginning its years drive for new members. Discussion leader is Irving Sanders of Newton.

The Great Books Discussion Groups, devoted to furthering free liberal education for adults, sponsors over 50 such groups in greater Boston. The local group meets every other week for a two-hour discussion of elected readings from the greatest thinkers of all time: Shakespeare, Plato, Freud. There are no lectures, only a trained moderator to guide the conversation, no dues or other charges and no educational requirements.

Newton residents interested may call 527-7700 or 244-7221. Those interested may also attend the Great Books Get-Together to be held at Boston University's Sherman Union next Sunday at 3 p.m.

SKINNING DOGS ALIVE!

Three experimenters connected with a Massachusetts medical school and hospital surgically peeled off in sheets 30% to 50% of the body skin of 21 dogs.

In seven of the dogs, 30 to 50 percent of the skin was removed and replaced (autograft) and four of these dogs had to be killed because "... the large open wounds resulting from partial graft failure made care difficult and painful for the animals."

Fourteen dogs had 25 to 40 per cent of skin replaced by skin from a donor dog (homograft). There was 86 per cent mortality and 36 per cent of the grafts rotted.

The dogs were allowed to live 3 to 26 days.

The experimenters state: "In the light of technical failures and the high mortality rate in dogs, there is, at present, no laboratory justification for treating large burns in man with early excision and homografting."

The following Federal grants—from taxpayers' money—supported these experiments:

Grant A 104606 02 $124,208.00
Grant A 106091 01 236,942.00

Total — $361,150.00!

YOU AND YOUR CAR

— by Don MacDonald —

For the three persons out of every four who buy used instead of new cars, caveat emptor time is when they visit the often frightening land of straw hat and cigar where cars live between owners.

You'll have no real need to beware, though, if you follow a few simple rules.

The first and most important is instead of assuming that the dealer is dishonest, try being honest with him. I'll guarantee that you'll be the first customer to walk onto the lot in many months, and when he recovers from shock, he'll make you an equally honest deal.

Be Flexible

The second key tactic is to be flexible in your preference for make and model. This is because depreciation can work to your favor in two ways. You can either pick the car that holds its value best or loses it the fastest.

The first method puts money in the bank; the other is money never spent.

Assuming you've established rapport with the honest gambler, the dealer will let you study the various trade publications he gets that give up-to-the-minute wholesale values as set by auto auctions not open to the public. Remember that these prices are his costs and it is only fair to allow him a markup for overhead and a reasonable profit. Without these he won't be around to service your car.

Shop around if you want but the third essential step, once you've picked out two or three cars that please you, is to ask a mechanic you know and trust to check out these cars. It's cheap insurance for the maybe $20 that it will cost you.

Your mechanic will first look for honest, undisturbed grime and dirt on the engine and underpinnings. A fresh weld on the frame or a spanking new radiator in an otherwise well-used car are two of many signals that could warn of accident damage.

He'll also sight along the body sides for the tell-tale waviness of bumped-out panels. The repaired car may be perfectly solid but the surgery has destroyed the original rustproofing in the damaged area.

Repainted?

Your man can tell instantly if the car has been repainted, a sign of neglect or damage in a fairly new car, through evidence of overspray on trim and other areas not painted by the factory.

By checking the driver's door and window handles, the condition of the floor and pedal covers and the glass area swept by the windshield wipers, he can tell you almost to the mile how far back the odometer has been turned back, if it has.

He'll check the compression of each cylinder with a special gauge. It's fine if they are all down a little for that indicates normal wear but any significant variation spells major future repair bills.

He knows the rust-prone panels of each make so he'll probe with his finger or a magnet for temporary plastic repairs. If finances force a choice, take a mechanical problem instead of rust. Engines can be fixed whereas rust is a terminal type of cancer.

Finally, he'll go driving, not just around the block but long enough to warm the transmission and axle oils thoroughly. Cold, thick lubricants can hide a multitude of expensive noises. If his report is positive, you've found yourself a cream-puff.

Ice Content

New York — Should all of the natural ice on the earth melt, it would result in raising the level of the oceans by only about 10 feet.

Diamond Output

New York — Total output of diamonds amounts to 2.5 tons per year in the world. About 90 per cent is sent to the U.S. to be used for jewelry, but mostly for industrial purposes.

TAKES OATH — Peter V. Valtz, formerly of Newton, takes oath as first lieutenant from the enlisted rank of staff sergeant from Col. Charles B. Boswell, at Fort Meade, Md. Lt. Valtz served 16 months in Vietnam, where he earned the Silver Star with "V," Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal and the Purple Heart medal.

Curtis Happy With Public Enthusiasm

"My present campaign is generating more enthusiasm than I have ever seen in my past campaigns," declared former Congressman Laurence Curtis of Newton at a meeting which included Independents and Democrats as well as Republicans at Hibernian Hall in Nonantum this week.

He disclosed plans for a large motorcade on the next weekend which will travel through the western part of the district, including the cities of Gardner, Fitchburg and Leominster as well as surrounding towns.

There will be several sound trucks, used only where permission has been granted, and 12 "Curtis Girls" in their colorful red and white outfits will distribute literature.

"A similar motorcade took place last weekend starting at Marlboro and passing through all the towns in that area," he said.

Curtis observed that he had sent to leaders in the district a statement of his views on the principal issues of the campaign.

With regard to the admission of Red China to the U.N., Curtis' position is that so long as Red China refuses to join unless Nationalist China is ousted, he is opposed to such action.

His statement also said "so long as Red China pursues its course of extreme Maoism and its threatening attitude towards the United States, we should continue the policy of non-recognition, but an effort should be made gradually to break down the barriers."

"My campaign is being stepped up, and there will be a strong finish right down to the wire," Curtis said, and added that his radio jingle "Bring Larry Curtis Back to Congress" was being well received.

"We expect the country to react in the American way by its votes - to the failures of the present administration in both foreign and domestic policy and demand new leadership in Washington," he said, "and a new Congressman in the Third District will be a necessary part of that change."

Workshop To Hold Sale And Auction

The Newton Workshop will hold a sale and auction of paintings, prints, drawings, sculpture, and pottery this Saturday (Oct. 26) at the Aurburndale Congregational Church, 64 Hancock St., at the corner of Woodland Rd., near Lasell Junior College, Aurburndale. The sale will be from 1 to 4 in the afternoon, with the auction beginning at 4 p.m.

During the sale, David Omar White will demonstrate his skill as a portrait artist. The portraits will be sold to those who model for them.

Some of the finest artists in Newton and the Boston area will contribute their work for the Newton Workshop.

There will be a table of seconds for those looking for the unusual in crafts. For those who look for "objects d'art" of a less permanent kind, there will be a bake sale and a Jack o'Lantern designer cutting pumpkins to order.

The auction will begin promptly at 4 p.m. giving everyone a chance to bid on some of the finest pieces of art.

Four graduates of the Newton High Schools are enrolled at Mount Ida Junior College in Newton Centre. They are Mary Guarciariello, daughter of Cosmo A. Guarciariello of 1011 Centre St., Newton Centre; Karen Bennett daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bennett of 15 Edward Rd., West Newton; Linda Ann Charbonnier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Charbonnier of 15 Carter St., Newton and Miss Kramer, daughter of Mr. John Kramer of 136 Clark St.

Among the 580 members of the freshman class at Dean Junior College in Franklin, were Emily J. Coleman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Saul M. Coleman of 42 McCarthy Rd., Newton Centre; Laurel I. Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Gould of 265 Cypress St., Newton; Linda Kimmel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kimmel of 22 Westbourne Rd., Newton Centre; and Joel S. Rudy, son of Mrs. Thelma Rudy of 14 Melina Rd., Newton Centre.

Case of Missing Mother: "Is Cold But Not Closed"

Investigators this week admitted that the strange case of the missing Newton mother is "cold but not closed."

Police Chief William F. Quinn said two men are still working full time running down every possible lead in the disappearance of Mrs. Susan Cairn, the 21-year-old Newton mother of two who vanished a month ago without a trace.

Quinn said police have interviewed without results all those persons who might possibly have a clue.

"There is not even enough evidence to say she was kidnapped," Quinn declared. "We don't even have her screaming."

On the night the girl disappeared, neighbors reported shuffling noises emanating from her apartment, sounding as if furniture was being moved. Later, scuff marks were found on the kitchen floor.

The woman's purse, containing her house keys, was found in the apartment. The only item believed missing from the house was her housecoat.

Her two children, a 3½ year-old daughter, and a son, 1½, were left in the home overnight alone. They were found the next day by their grandmother who reported her daughter missing. The children are now being cared for by the Massachusetts Division of Child Guardianship.

Quinn said lack of evidence makes it impossible to speculate whether Mrs. Cairn is alive or dead.

202 Volunteers Give Blood In Newton Centre

Blood donors who gave to the Bloodmobile during its recent visit to the Sacred Heart Church numbered 202. A varied group, it included members of the Sacred Heart Parish, 32; from the First Baptist Church, 20; the Newton Police Department, 30; and 15 from the Norton Vacuum Equipment Corp. The rest who donated to protect their families were the good citizens of Newton Centre."

The next open Bloodmobile visit will take place on Nov. 19 at Temple Mishkan Tefila on Hammond Park Parkway. Call the Newton Red Cross now at 527-0000 for an appointment, so that Red Cross can be ready to cover the blood needs for Newton.

Food for the Red Cross workers during the Newton Centre visit was prepared and served by the ladies from Sacred Heart Church and the First Baptist Church. Baby sitting was provided by Mrs. Charles Carpenter of the Baptist Church.

Red Cross volunteers who served at this Bloodmobile were: Mrs. D. Aldrich Prouty, Chairman of Office of Volunteers, who was supervisor of the day with Mrs. Ralph Stober, Mrs. Earl Atkinson, Mrs. James Blackall, Helen Ludlow, Mary Gibbons, Mrs. Herbert Connolly, Mrs. Martha Price, Mrs. Adele, Mrs. Charles Henley and Richard Simmons. Also Mrs. Robert Moore, Jr. Mrs. Richard M. Echum, Marjorie Manchester, Mrs. Franklin Jerome, Mrs. Walter Levine, Mrs. Walter Chase, Mrs. Ed. Morrison, Mrs. Robert Morrison, Mrs. George Linnehan, Ann Heffer, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Curtis Kehew, Mrs. Charles Donovan, Mrs. Kenneth Rogers, Mrs. Robert Krause and Mrs. Frances Achard.

OVERLOOK

Greater Boston's New 120 Bed Communicare Center is now accepting applications for the care of

- post operative patients
- chronically ill
- non acute patients
- elderly

OVERLOOK an extended care center — responding to the unprecedented demand for hospital service — provides total medical, nursing and therapeutic care and services as needed by a non acute patient.

OVERLOOK a major medical facility, is concerned with returning the patient to his home and to his family as quickly as possible through the professional and dedicated service of an outstanding nursing staff and through the most modern medical care and therapeutic facilities available in the Greater Boston area. The nursing and professional staff will be under the direction of the patient's physician. The nursing staff will be on duty on a 24-hour, seven day basis.

OVERLOOK is the first in a series of medical care centers to be built throughout the country by Communicare, a Massachusetts corporation. OVERLOOK will provide for 120 patients in a carefully planned atmosphere of complete restorative therapy. Located at 10 Bellamy St., Brighton, OVERLOOK's three stories of contemporary design give a view of the Charles River, Massachusetts Turnpike and surrounding areas of Watertown, Cambridge and Newton.

OVERLOOK from its exterior to its interior is not an institutionalized facility. Maintaining an informal and warm atmosphere.

OVERLOOK has furnished and decorated its patients' rooms and lounge areas with a Spanish Mediterranean motif for eye and body comfort. Most of the patients' rooms are semi-private with adjoining bath or nearby bathing facilities.

OVERLOOK centered upon the concept of concerned care for the total patient's needs — concerned with not only revitalizing the body but also the spirit and the mind — will have:

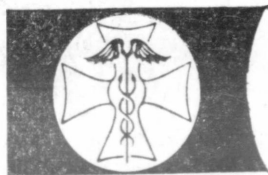

- professional medical staff directed by an administrative medical director
- physiotherapy
- areas for painting, music, sculpture and woodcraft
- forums of occupational and environmental therapy
- dental rooms • library • barber and beauty shops
- public and private dining areas • social lounges
- color televisions • plant solarium
- organized trips to theatres and museums
- occupational, physical and speech therapy
- individual air conditioning • all electric heat
- modern kitchen with the latest equipment supervised by professional dietician. Religious dietary laws will be observed upon the patient's request.
- non denominational chapel with religious services by chaplains of all faiths, who will be available for spiritual counselling

OVERLOOK in conjunction with Boston's excellent universities will sponsor a training program in the field of community care. A training curriculum and qualified faculty have been organized to start this program for careers in community medical care and to expand and enrich the total concept of community medical care.

Further information on any details about OVERLOOK — Medicare patients, admission, policies, rates, etc. — may be had by writing to or visiting OVERLOOK at 10 Bellamy St., Brighton, or by phoning 782-8113.

*COMMUNICARE IS TOTAL CARE AT MUCH LESS COST

OVERLOOK has been licensed and approved by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Health Department.

National Service Award To Lawrence L. Suttenger

Lawrence L. Suttenger of Newton will receive the National Community Service Award of the Jewish Theological Seminary at the fourth annual Award Dinner scheduled for Sunday, November 17 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston. The award recognizes outstanding contributions to the maintenance of Jewish ideals and values.

Currently president of Temple Emanuel in Newton, Mr. Suttenger is also a past president of the Ledgewood Home for Jewish Children where he now serves as a member of the board of directors. He is president of the Men's Association of the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged, member of the endowment committee of Beth Israel Hospital and a trustee of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston.

A graduate from St. John's University with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree, he spent two years at Boston College Law School and is a member of Delta Mu Delta, an Honorary Scholarship Society.

An officer in the Finance Department attached to the Ordnance during World War II, Mr. Suttenger was discharged with the rank of Major.

He is a partner in the National C.P.A. firm of Ernest and Ernst.

Married, the Suttengers have three children: Joel, 24 at Boston University Law School; Gary, 20, at Columbia University; and Marge, 13, in high school.

Exchange Open On 3 Mondays

The Westdale Girl Scout Uniform Exchange will be open again this fall in the downstairs room of the Auburndale Library, Auburn and Melrose Streets. Dates of operation are: Monday afternoons, Oct. 28 Nov. 18 and 25. Hours are from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Uniforms and equipment for all levels — Brownies, Junior, Cadettes, and Senior, as well as Leaders' outfits and supplies, are welcome. There is a special need for Junior uniforms this year. All Bay Path Colonial Girl Scouts — past, present, and future, are invited to participate.

For further information, please call Mrs. William Kell, Jr., at 244-6017.

Charter Review Drive Spurred By News Story

The effort to place the question of a Charter Commission for Newton on next year's ballot gained momentum in recent days. Responding to the article in last week's Newton Graphic, a few hundred registered voters have already signed the petitions circulated by Citizens for Charter Review.

The signature drive was not scheduled to start until election day, but due to numerous requests petitions are being made available now. Anyone who wishes to carry a petition or to sign one, should call Mrs. Alan Crist (244-1804), Chairman for Charter Review for the League of Women Voters of Newton.

already been distributed to people who requested them and to members of the League of Women Voters of Newton, the Democratic City Committee, the Republican City Committee, the PTA Council, and the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Many of these workers will be collecting signatures outside the polls on November 5th.

Despite such wide support in the community, a saboteur was almost successful in fouling up the signature drive. Mrs. Crist was carrying a stack of petitions to the League office when she was approached by a small black animal. Mistaking his identity she leaned down to pat his glossy fur. Mistaking her intentions, the skunk proceeded to defend himself. Over 500 blank petitions and numerous important papers were scented beyond salvation. Mrs. Crist fortunately has recovered.

Even though his action was hostile, Mrs. Crist feels that the skunk was basically in sympathy with the drive to review Newton's Charter. He vented his anger on the blank petitions, but avoided her on her first trip when she was carrying petitions filled with signatures to her car.

In response to requests for information about the provisions of Newton's Charter, Citizens for Charter Review wish to announce that they now have mimeographed copies of the Charter available on request. Please call or write to the office of the League of Women Voters of Newton, 72 Columbus street, Newton Highlands, Mass. 02161.

BC-LAB Opens In Waltham Tues.

All members of the Waltham - Newton - Watertown - Weston Bar Association were invited to attend ceremonies at the Boston College Legal Assistance Bureau which officially opened its doors to the Greater Boston community with an open house recently at its downtown Waltham offices.

BC-LAB will provide free legal services for all persons who cannot afford an attorney. The Bureau is operating with full cooperation from the local Bar association.

The Tuesday opening culminated a full year of planning by the students at BC with the aid of college and Waltham officials. The BC-LAB is already rendering legal assistance to some 30 persons who might not otherwise have been able to obtain representation.

Says:

On Friday night, October 25th, we are having a special showing of the new Sylvania "Scanner," the combination color-TV-slide projector and tape recorder. We think this is the finest family entertainment instrument ever developed, and would like to have you come in with some of your own family slides so that you can not only see them on color-TV — but also be on color TV. Even if some of your slides are not perfect, bring them in and see how they look on this wonderful new system, as we are anxious to have your evaluation and comments on this innovation in home entertainment. We'll be serving refreshments so come in ready to relax and enjoy yourself.

Improvement Soc. Of Waban Board In Fall Meeting

The first fall meeting of the board of directors of the Waban Improvement Society was held recently in the home of President Walter D. Hill, 101 Carlton Rd., Waban.

Discussion included the office building being constructed on the corner of Route 9 and Chestnut St.; the need for local citizens to be more alert to keeping their village neat and clean and observance of the "rules of the road" in Waban Square. Concern was expressed over the need for adequate police protection and traffic control in the Square.

Attention was called to the fact that the notice board in the Square had been repaired and painted, two new trash containers installed there and steps were being taken to provide additional trash containers. The book return box at the library will be repainted.

A lengthy discussion ensued on the need to get all residents of Waban involved in community activities: school programs, public safety, zoning and housing, beautification, parking and traffic, human relations, etc. Another meeting will be held on Nov. 7 to discuss involving the whole community in a "Waban Early Day's" celebration. The directors were asked to solicit suggestions from the residents of their districts.

Aldermen Deny Request Asking Fuel Oil Depot

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday turned down unanimously a petition by the Auburndale Lumber Co. for permission for underground storage of 240,000 gallons of fuel oil and 10,000 gallons of gasoline at 11 Bennett st., Auburndale.

The request of Victor A. Nicolazzo, owner of the Bigelow Oil Co., for a license to store the fuel at the site of the lumber company had received a 7-0 negative vote by the Franchise and Licenses Committee of the Board.

Nicolazzo was seeking to move his fuel depot business from its present location at Concord st., Newton Lower Falls.

The Aldermen opposed the new site because access to it would have been over a road that runs through a business zone.

In addition, Alderman Robert Tennant pointed out, the lumber company's location in a manufacturing zone is "glaringly in the middle of a residential zone."

Alderman Ernest Dietz said that the traffic that would be generated by the fuel oil depot would downgrade the area.

Meadowbrook PTA "Gamma-Sigma" Night On Monday

The date set for the meeting of the parents of the "Gamma-Sigma" students of the Meadowbrook Jr. High is next Monday (Oct. 28) at 7:30 p.m. During this PTA "Back to School" program, parents will follow the classroom schedule and activities of the students and have the opportunity to become acquainted with the teachers, curriculum and school facilities.

Mr. Maurice Blum, principal of the school, will welcome and greet the visiting parents. Stanley Berkowitz is president of the Meadowbrook PTA.

Newton Prof. Assists With Health Research

Melvin W. First, S.D. of Newton, Associate Professor of Environmental Health Engineering at the Harvard School of Public Health, is assisting with research studies in the new Department of Environmental Health Sciences there under Prof. Dade William Moeller, Ph.D.

Funds for the research studies in the expanded department at the University are provided by the U.S. Public Health Service, the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Emergency Equipment, which should be carried in the trunk, includes a shovel, sand or other effective traction aids, booster cables, a tow chain, and flares or reflectors.

"The benefits of these pre-winter checks now for all private vehicles are obvious," Chief Quinn concluded. "They are a necessary first step toward winter driving."

Basbas closed by saying, "The City is doing its part to keep Newton's streets safe for motorists, pedestrians, and most of all our children; I implore all drivers to do their part. Except on the State and Federal through highways, most drivers on our streets are local residents. I strongly urge them to observe all traffic regulations and drive at a safe and reasonable speed at all times."

MAYOR MONTE G. BASBAS PROCLAIMS Thursday of next week, Halloween, as UNICEF DAY in Newton. Michael Blau, left, a pupil at Weeks Junior High School, and Richard Levine, a pupil at Meadowbrook School, Watch as the Mayor signs his proclamation.

VISTA Volunteer James Ritvo To Serve In Calif.

James M. Ritvo, a VISTA volunteer, will spend a year working with the San Francisco Bay Bond Project in San Francisco, Calif., as his contribution to the Volunteer in Service to America program.

Ritvo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Ritvo of 63 Bennington St., Newton, was one of 44 trainees who were graduated recently from the VISTA training program at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

He received his B.A. degree from Tufts University in Medford, and graduated from the Noble and Greenough School in Dedham. He has worked with the Action for Boston Community Development, an anti-poverty program.

Basbas Sets Next Thursday As UNICEF Day In Newton

Mayor Monte Basbas has proclaimed next Thursday (Oct. 31) as UNICEF DAY in Newton with Junior High representatives from the local Unicef Committee carrying the message to the High Schools and Junior Highs in the city of Newton.

Unicef Mothers, appointed by each P.T.A., will assist in the School Halloween Collection for Unicef from the earnings, savings and families of elementary school children.

School donations are under the supervision of the Co-ordinating Unicef Committee of the Newton Community Peace Center, Mrs. Jack Bloom, Chairman, with Mrs. William Kantar, Mrs. Frederic King, Mrs. John Webber, Mrs. Herman Ullman, Mrs. Stella Penzer and Mrs. Melvin Cohen, school coordinators.

Projects for Newton School students are being developed in the secondary schools through Unicef representatives, who met with Mrs. Nancy Bernholtz, Chairman of Unicef Education of the Newton Community Peace Center last week.

These representatives include Michael Blau, Richard Levine, Tom Kovar, Laurel Cutler, Jocelyn Greene, Debbie Cutler, Mark Howley, Stephen Frawley, Gail Collins, Michael Forman, Lyn Greene, and Eric W. Black, with Mrs. Cynthia Atlas and Mrs. Linda Wolf, counselors.

All school Unicef Donations will be deposited at the Newton Savings Bank, Newton Centre Branch. Adult contributions may be sent to the Newton Community Peace Center, 474 Centre St., Newton, 02158.

Plans All Readied For Big Newton Halloween

The Newton Halloween Committee has announced the names of two new Building Chairmen for the annual observance. Mrs. Geoffrey Stoughton is serving as Building Chairman for the Davis School and William Chisholm is serving in a similar capacity for the Underwood School evening party.

Reports continue to come in the Mrs. Robert G. Toher, the Program Chairman, detailing the events scheduled for the various schools on Halloween.

A Spook House, longer and scarier than ever, will highlight the celebration at the Spaulding School according to George O. Buffington, the Building Chairman. There also will be a coaster ride, rope tricks, cartoons for the young at heart and something of the supernatural for stout-hearted spirits. Music, games and refreshments will complete the program.

A total of 400 children are expected to attend the parties. Kindergarten through Grade 3 will celebrate Halloween from three to five in the afternoon. From 6:45 to 8:30 p.m. the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Graders will take over.

The morning Kindergarten will parade and party during school time. The afternoon Kindergarten, First and Second Grades will have a grand outdoor parade, room games, refreshments and be entertained by Magician Herbert Downs.

The Third through Sixth Grades will also parade outdoors, have room games and refreshments. In addition there will be a trip to the Hall of Horrors, musical entertainment and a Carnival to test their skills.

In his report Thomas P. Fitzgibbon, Building Chairman for the Beethoven School, says that there will be two Halloween celebrations. The first, from 2:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon will be for children in Grades One and Two, and Kindergarten. In the evening from 7 to 8:30 the youngsters in Grades Four, Five and Six will observe Halloween.

The afternoon party program will include games, a costume contest, prizes, favors and refreshments. In addition the evening program will include a Fun House and entertainment.

Committee members are Mrs. Anita Lanner, refreshments; Mrs. Neal McCallion, First Aid; Mrs. Norman Chaban, Room Mothers and Mrs. Myrna Frucht, Decorations.

An estimated 330 children are expected to attend the Carr School Halloween celebration according to the Building Chairman, Lawrence Westwater. The party will run from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Grades One and Two will have games, prizes, cartoon films and refreshments. The program for the children in Grades three through Six will feature a "horror comedy," "Son of Vampire," refreshments, followed by organized games in the gym and dancing.

The afternoon program for the First through Third Grade at the Oak Hill School will run from 2 to 3 o'clock. It will feature a costume parade, a folk singer, movies, refreshments and prizes.

In the evening from 7 to 8 o'clock Grades Four, Five and Six will enjoy a Fun House and community and folk singing. There will also be refreshments and prizes.

Building Chairman Robert Maltz expects 370 children to attend. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Robert Sagan and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Wintman.

An estimated 200 to 300 youngsters will parade to the Williams School to open their Halloween celebration according to Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Galton, Building Chairmen. The party for Grade One to Six, will run from 7 to 10 p.m.

Once at the school the youngsters will parade around the gym and draw for prizes. From 7:30 to 8 o'clock Grades Four, Five and Six will have In-Room parties while Grades one, Two and Three will see a film in the auditorium. From 8 to 8:30 there will be In-Room parties for Grades one, Two and Three and a band in the gym for Grades Four to Six.

Serving on the Committee with Mr. and Mrs. Galton are Mrs. Rita Freudenberg, Mrs. John Livingston, Irving Schwartz and Ed Porter.

Visit Jackson Homestead As Season Starts

Nearly 300 persons visited the Jackson Homestead Sunday afternoon and Monday night when the city-owned museum held its first Open House of the 1968-69 season.

The featured exhibit depicting "Harvest Time - the Jackson Family at Home in the Early Eighteen Hundreds" received enthusiastic approval. Viewed with special interest were the utensils and furnishings of the period on loan from the extensive collection of Early Americana owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Wile of Waban.

Drawing special attention was the table setting of "flowing blue" Staffordshire China from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanderson, also of Waban. Costumes of the period selected from the museum's collection by Mrs. William R. Greve, Chairman of the Costume Committee, were displayed in conjunction with the exhibits.

The Homestead located at 527 Washington St. is open daily to the public without charge, Monday through Friday, 2 to 4 p.m. Special tours may be arranged by calling the Director-Curator of the museum, Mrs. William H. Cannard.

Newton High Students Collect Funds, Petition For Biafrans

Students at Newton South High School have collected $430 this month to be sent to Biafran Relief Agencies. Some of the students wore black arm bands for a week and when questioned by fellow students replied that they were in mourning for the 10,000 Biafrans who die of starvation each day. At the end of the week they asked for contributions.

Students also sponsored a discussion of the Biafran-Nigerian situation at Newton South High in conjunction with the Newton Committee for Biafran Relief. John Bewick, returned Peace Corps volunteer who spent two years in Nigeria, and Cornelius Ebekwe, a Biafran who is now a graduate student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were speakers.

Members of the Newton Committee for Biafran Relief include Mrs. Sarah Brooks, Mrs. Lynn Endicott, Mrs. Tricia Foley, Mrs. Marcia Howard, Mrs. Priscilla Lorand and Mrs. Nancy Rupp.

Earlier in the month, 35 students and 15 adults solicited signatures for a Biafran relief petition in front of five Newton shopping centers. They obtained over 2,000 signatures on Saturday (Oct. 5). The petition was presented to Senator Edward Brooke in Washington on Oct. 8.

The petition read in part: "We, the undersigned, are gravely concerned about starvation in Biafra and Eastern Nigeria. . . We are dismayed by the lethargic response of the U.S. Government. . . We, therefore, urgently appeal to the U.S. Government to:

1. Give logistic aid to Caritas, Church World Aid and to UNICEF.
2. Use its influence to press for U.N. action."

More than 100 people also sent telegrams to Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Senator Edward W. Brooke and Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations. The majority of the messages went to Sen. Kennedy, commending his speech before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The telegrams, petitions and cash contributions from the core of recent activities in Newton for Biafran relief.

Pot Luck Lunch For W-N Club

The West Newton Woman's Club celebrated the opening of the new season on Wednesday (Oct. 16) with a pot luck luncheon. The next meeting of the Club is set for Wednesday (Nov. 20) with Mrs. Ralph Angier, a skilled artist who works with oils on tin, presenting "Early American Decorations." Mrs. Angier's ability to talk and graphically display her art is eagerly anticipated.

Seated at the head table for the luncheon were: Mrs. George E. Smith, president; Miss Avis C. Walsh, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Maurice St. Hilaire, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold G. Carter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Donald C. Moody, treasurer; Mrs. Sidney Williamson, program chairman; and two guests, Mrs. Herbert Hayter of Veterans Service, who presented the needs of the organization, and Marion Rudkin who, for many years has started the season with "A Review of Books for Today and Tomorrow."

Halloween Plans At Countryside Are Completed

Plans have been finalized by the Countryside PTA for their annual School Halloween Parties.

Ghosts, witches, black cats, skeletons, goblins, and many other masquerade suits will create color and atmosphere for the costume parades in Kindergarten, grades 1, 2 and 3. Halloween games, relays, contests, pretty prizes, and fancy favors, will amuse the youngsters.

The highlight of the afternoon party on Oct. 31 from 3 to 4:30, a rollicking "Song Fest" will be conducted by High School students Stan Schertzer, Marlene Altshuler, Rhonda Blair and Ricky Stich. Richie Sobol will perform "stunts of magic."

The successful "Rotating Carnival" of last year will be augmented this year to provide 32 varied carnival activities for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades during the evening from 7 to 9.

Refreshments will conclude both the afternoon and evening festivities.

Co-chairmen of the events are Mrs. Myron Lipson and Mrs. Raymond Anderson assisted by a capable group of room mothers who have been busily involved in preparations for these parties.

Nahabedian Takes Insurance Course

Auburdale resident Benjamin Nahabedian, local representative of the R. William Bower Agency for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, was awarded a Certificate of Proficiency for successful completion of an intensive course in life insurance underwriting.

Mr. Nahabedian, who attended the special school held recently at the Commodore Hotel in Omaha, now writes a complete line of personal protection.

Spokesmen For Presidential Candidates To Debate Here

A "Presidential Alternatives Evening," featuring spokesmen for the four feasible alternatives in this Presidential election is being planned for presentation in West Newton Square on Sunday evening, Nov. 3, at the Parish Hall of the First Unitarian Society.

"Hopes for a television debate between Presidential candidates have not materialized this year," stated a spokesman of the Committee planning the event at the Society, and this may be the only opportunity for voters to see issues clarified and positions stated by at least duly appointed spokesmen of the candidates - at one place and time."

Each spokesman has been asked to defend his choice and to discuss their candidate's particular stand on the important topics of the campaign such as: the resolution of the Vietnam War; the easing of the racial, urban and poverty crises; and others.

St. Sebastian's Priest To Mark Silver Jubilee

The Rev. Cornelius J. Harrington, a member of the faculty at St. Sebastian's Country Day School in Newton, will mark his silver jubilee in the priesthood, Oct. 28.

Fr. Harrington, who was ordained Oct. 28, 1943, by the then Archbishop Cushing, will offer his Mass of Thanksgiving, Nov. 3 at noon at Immaculate Conception Church, Salem, with a reception following at the Hotel Hawthorne there.

Before joining St. Sebastian's faculty, Fr. Harrington was an assistant at the Church of the Infant Saviour, Chestnut Hill. He is also with the chemistry department of the Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

On Monday, Oct. 28, there will be a Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Sebastian's at 9 a.m. for students, with a reception that evening in the school hall for parents, from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Fr. Harrington is a brother of State Sen. Kevin B. Harrington, of Salem.

Temple Reyim Speaker Is To Be Max Lerner

Noted author, journalist and political analyst Max Lerner, professor at Brandeis University, will be the speaker at the traditional political breakfast of the Temple Reyim Brotherhood on Sunday morning (Nov. 3). "America on the Eve" is the title of his address.

Families are invited to the event in Ord's Hall with breakfast being served at 9:15. Donations of $2.50 each are requested with reservations through Sid Block at 332-0839 or Phil Bern at 244-4620.

Committee members are Marv Milton, Phil Marsh, chairman; Mac Shuman, Harry Saffman, breakfast arrangements; Sid Block, Phil Bern, reservations; Ken Karger, publicity.

Dr. Brezin to Chair Newton Symphony Board

Election of officers was held by the Newton Symphony Orchestra Committee at a recent meeting. The committee is composed of six orchestra members who are elected by the orchestra to serve a two-year term.

Elected were Dr. Norman Brezin, 20 Oakvale rd., Waban, the new chairman who is a clarinetist with the orchestra. Mrs. Roswell Barnes of 96 Arlington st., Newton Corner, was elected Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Barnes has served as music librarian since the orchestra was founded in 1966.

The Committee also includes Mr. William Clancy of 41 Everett st., Newton Center, Mr. Max Hobart, 159 Thornton rd., Needham, Mrs. Seymour Rothschild, 19 Hill Top rd., Brookline and Dr. Jacob Swartz, 18 Varick rd., Waban.

This group serves as the official voice of the orchestra members and acts as a liaison between the orchestra and the Board of Directors. Public relations and fund raising, two areas that in the past have been left to the Board, can be enhanced, it is believed, by involving the entire membership.

A newsletter will be published three times a year in order to familiarize both the orchestra members and the public with the management of the Newton Symphony. Sylvia Rothschild, writer and cellist with the Newton Symphony, will be the editor.

The entire organization is presently preparing for its series of three concerts. Outstanding soloists will appear with the orchestra, under the direction of Michel Sasson, at each of its Sunday evening concerts. At Meadowbrook, Nov. 24, Fredy Ostrovsky, violinist with the Boston Symphony, will play Bruch's Concerto in G minor. Roger Voisin and his son Peter will play Vivaldi's Concerto in C major for two trumpets and Burton Fine will be soloist for Berlioz's Harold in Italy on March 9. The last concert on May 18 will feature Malcolm Frager playing the original version of Tchaikovsky's B flat Major Concerto. Call Mrs. Stolbach at 244-8506 for ticket information.

Of special interest to the Boston social scene is the Fifth Annual Tres Bien Ball on Friday, October 25 at the Statler Hilton Hotel when Meyer Davis makes one of his rare appearances in this part of the country.

Elegant black and white invitations have been mailed for this black tie dinner dance which is for the benefit of the Associated Alumnae of the Sacred Heart of the Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Manhattanville College.

Because the Tres Bien Card from which this Ball gets its name is the passport for all alumnae of the Sacred Heart to introduce and identify the holder to all Sacred Heart Convents and Schools all over the world the Ball is being done with an international theme.

Assisting Mrs. Allen R. Ceil of Newton, who is the General Chairman of the Ball, is Mrs. Frank J. Giovino Jr. of Westwood and Mrs. Barry W. Murphy of Wellesley Hills as Co-Chairmen, each representing the three Alumnae Associations to benefit from the Ball.

The Chairmen of the many committees as well as being sponsors are: Mrs. Robert Mark Donahue, Mrs. William J. Cleary Jr., Miss Nancy Bowdring, Mrs. Laurence J. Hoek, Miss Ursula Kent, Miss Pamela Tosi, Mrs. Richard M. O'Keefe, Mrs. Henry Stoltman, Mrs. James W.

Mayor Has Designated Today As United Nations Day In Newton

Mayor Monte G. Basbas has issued a proclamation designating today as United Nations Day in Newton, and called upon all citizens of Newton to observe that day in a spirit of common purpose with the aims of the United Nations. He also called upon all voluntary organizations and educational institutions in Newton to hold appropriate United Nations Day celebrations.

The City of Newton will hold its annual United Nations Day ceremony at 8:30 a.m. this morning in front of the War Memorial Building at 1000 Commonwealth Avenue in Newton.

Marking the 23rd anniversary of the United Nations Charter, which came into being on October 24, 1945, the theme of the observances will be Human Rights. The year 1968 has been designated International Human Rights Year because it marks the twentieth anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Mayor Basbas also announced that Superior Court Associate Justice David A. Rose, of Nathan road in Newton Centre, would be the recipient of the first annual Mayor's Award for distinguished service in the field of Human Rights. Judge Rose will receive a certificate in recognition of this award at the City's United Nations Day ceremonies, and his name will be enrolled on a bronze plaque to be maintained City Hall.

In announcing the award, Mayor Basbas paid tribute to Judge Rose for his longstanding efforts in behalf of Human Rights. Judge Rose was an important leader in the movement to bring mental health facilities to Newton and currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Newton Mental Health Center. He was appointed in 1966 by Mayor Basbas to the Newton Community Relations Commission and continues to serve as a member.

Judge Rose is also active in many other forms of endeavor relating to human rights. He serves as Honorary President of the Jewish Big Brother Association of Boston and as a trustee of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies. He is a member of the Law Society of Massachusetts and has been its President. He is currently the Vice Chairman of the National Commission Anti-Defamation League B'nai B'rith and a fellow of Brandeis University.

In the past, Judge Rose has served as a Member of the Attorney General's Advisory Committee on Civil Liberties and Civil Liberties and as Vice Chairman of the Massachusetts Special Recess Commission on Youth Offenders. He is a former Chairman of the Governor's Citizens Participation Commission on Youth and a former member of the White House Mid-Century Conference on Youth.

In recognition of his outstanding record of service, Judge Rose received the 1959 National Conference of Christians and Jews Award. He has also received the Phi Alpha National Distinguished Alumni Award.

JOSEPH COPPLEMAN

Jos. Coppleman To Get National Service Award

Joseph Coppleman, of Newton, founder of the Bargain Center in Quincy, has been named a recipient of the National Community Service Award to be awarded by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America at its 4th annual Award Dinner on Sunday, Nov. 17, at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston.

The award is being given to Coppleman in recognition of his devotion to Judaism, the advancement of society and his personal contribution to the widening influence of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Long active in service to Temple Mishkan Tefila in Chestnut Hill where he serves on the Board of Directors, he was honored there by the Congregation which named the Social Hall in honor of himself and Mrs. Coppleman. A member of the Elks and

Two Newtonites To Attend Honor Club Meetings

Two Newton residents have been invited to attend the Berkshire Life Insurance Company's honor club meetings at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, Canada this weekend.

Allan M. Shubin of Newton is a 1944 graduate of Harvard, attended MIT, Harvard and Northeastern graduate schools. He served four years with the U.S. Air Force. Prior to joining Berkshire Life, he was a sales manager for Polaroid Corp. He qualified for the President's Club, the highest sales honor in the Berkshire organization.

William A. Black, also of Newton, was selected to attend the meetings on the basis of his outstanding sales and service records during the preceding year, and was named to the Vice President's Club.

Library Exhibits Szepe's Cartoons

Original cartoons by Szepe of the Boston Globe will be on display at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre street, Newton Corner, through Nov. 6.

The 27-year-old native of Canada, believed the youngest editorial cartoonists in the national field, is a graduate of the University of Toronto's College of Art.

Masons for many years, Mr. Coppleman's wide support of charitable projects both in the Jewish and the general community is known to only a few of his intimates.

He has two married daughters, Mrs. Joel Clarke and Mrs. Allan Yoffa, and has eight grandchildren.

of gaily colored simulated globes encircled in ribbons and small colored flags, with a larger center flag from a particular foreign country, made possible by the generous donations of the Consular Offices of Argentina, Brazil, Columbia, Italy, Mexico and Peru, a few of the many countries where Sacred Heart schools are located.

In tribute to the Sacred Heart Schools and Colleges in approximately 32 countries of the world, an international decorative theme will prevail at the ball.

Dominating the center of the ballroom floor will be a 15-foot high hand wrought-iron Antique Faral, made in Spain, fitted with three hanging lanterns, and two step-level holders for flowers at the base. To create the atmosphere of a Continental Garden, the lamp-post will be gaily decorated with Chrysanthemums in the Continental colors of yellows, golds, and reds. Hanging greens will further enhance the beauty of the lamp-post which is a replica of those placed in squares and parks throughout foreign countries.

Centerpieces for the tables will be hand-made decorations

John Anthony Dumont Sabelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Joseph Sabelli of 22 Homer St., Newton Centre, has been enrolled this fall in Cambridge Academy, a four year co-educational college preparatory institution for grades 9 through 12.

Miss Pamela Tosi, Chestnut Hill, is Chairman of Decorations for the Ball and will be assisted by Mrs. John C. Dowd, Jr., of Melrose, and Mrs. Maurice J. Tobin, Jr., of Newton.

45,000 Persons To Vote In Newton Tuesday

More than 45,000 Newton voters are expected to go to their polling places next Tuesday to participate in choosing the next President of the United States, to help settle a hot fight for a place in Congress and to decide contests for seats in the Governor's Council, the State Senate and the House of Representatives.

At least 90 percent of Newton's more than 50,000 eligible voters will go to the polls Tuesday, it is predicted by Executive Secretary Alan W. Licarie of the city election department.

Licarie already has mailed out approximately 1700 absentee ballots to Newton residents who will be away from their home city on election day.

He has sent 360 military ballots to Newton servicemen in Vietnam, at U. S. outposts throughout the world and at bases in this country.

Licarie has been receiving requests for absentee ballots at a rate of 100 per day.

Former Vice President

Richard M. Nixon is expected to top the field of Presidential candidates in Newton, with Vice President Hubert Humphrey running second and George C. Wallace a poor third. The other minority party candidates will draw only a handful of votes.

Polling places will be open from 7 o'clock next Tuesday morning until 8 o'clock at night.

Heaviest voting will be from 5 to 8 at night after residents return home from work.

The punchcard system of voting will again be used.

Apart from the Presidential election itself, greatest interest in Newton will be centered on the hot fight for a seat in Congress between Congressman Philip J. Philbin of Clinton, former Congressman Laurence Curtis of Newton and Representative Chandler

Gala Halloween Events For Youngsters Tonight

Tonight's the night for Newton's 28th annual, city-wide Halloween celebration. Thousands of school children, from kindergarten on up, will attend hundreds of parties in schools throughout the city.

Sponsored by the Recreation Department, these parties are made possible through the civic cooperation of hundreds of adults who plan and run the celebrations.

The Countryside School has finalized plans for both an afternoon and evening party. Ghosts, witches, black cats, skeletons, goblins and many others will parade in kindergarten and grades 1, 2, and 3. The program will include Halloween games, relays and other contests. There will be prizes and fancy favors for the youngsters attending.

The afternoon party from 3 to 3:30 will feature High School students Stan Schertzer, Marlene Altschuler, Rhonda Blair and Ricky Stich who will entertain the first three grades in a "song fest." The kindergarten classes will be entertained by the magic feats of Richie Sobol.

In the evening from 7 to 9 p.m. there will be a "Rotating Carnival" with 32 varied carnival activities. In addition the 4th, 5th and 6th graders will compete for prizes and conclude with refreshments.

The Building Chairmen are Mrs. Myron Lipson and Mrs. Raymond Anderson, assisted

Youths Enter Service; Get Gala Sendoff

Seven Newton youths, two of them volunteers, were given a gala sendoff recently when the left the city's draft board in Newtonville by automobile for the Boston Army Base and their formal entrance into the military service.

The two volunteers were Paul H. Dunne, Jr., of 141 Spire rd., Newton Centre; and Ellis William B. Sutcliffe of 23 Buswell pk., Newton.

The other five young men entering the service of their country were Andrew T. Brilliant of 25 Devon rd., Newton Centre; Stephen R. Cicariello of 66 Bernard st., Newton Highlands; Lewis M. Freedman of 15 Ashmont rd., Waban; Arthur J. LaRossee of 20 Duane ave., West Newton; and Craig W. Sweet of 15 Shaw st., West Newton.

Nonantum Post No. 440 of the American Legion was the host organization for the sendoff of the seven young men who were served coffee and doughnuts, were presented ditty bags and other gifts and were driven to the Army Base.

On hand for the 7 a.m. sendoff were Frank Howley, chairman of the Sendoff Committee; Commander John Pescosolido of the Nonantum Post, the host for the day; Gerard Marrocco, Nicholas Gentile and Robert Burke, all members of the post who had assignments for the occasion.

Also in attendance was Mrs. Jeannette Tice, clerk of the Newton selective service board.

Nixon Seen Next President Humphrey May Carry State

Richard M. Nixon probably will be elected the next President of the United States when the returns are tabulated next Tuesday night, according to all the signs and evidence in the history-making Presidential battle now nearing an end.

Hubert H. Humphrey is making an 11th hour spurt, but it appears to be too little and too late to carry Humphrey into the Presidency.

Nixon's lead over Humphrey seems to be narrowing as George C. Wallace is losing support outside the South in the closing stage of the campaign.

But Nixon's advantage as shown by the polls

Cardinal Cushing

Two qualities, above all others, have marked Cardinal Cushing's service as a priest and as Archbishop of Boston.

Those qualities are kindness and compassion.

He has demonstrated them again and again not only in his work as head of the Catholic Church in this area but in his endeavors to achieve a better understanding among men of all races and creeds.

This probably is one of the reasons a leading Protestant clergyman and a highly respected Jewish Rabbi spoke out so loudly and clearly this week for Cardinal Cushing.

Cardinal Cushing has made mistakes. He would be the first to agree to that. Who among us hasn't?

It is unfortunate that this churchman of love and of greatness received so much disheartening "hate mail" in the wake of a statement he made that he decided to submit his resignation at the end of this year.

That was perhaps the greatest mistake he ever made.

Cardinal Cushing some time ago announced his intention of retiring in 1970. He should hold to that plan.

This is a time when the people might return some of the consideration and compassion Cardinal Cushing has expended so generously on others.

Help to soften the impact of that "hate mail" which obviously came as a blow to him.

Drop him a note today and tell him you want him to serve out his years as Cardinal. Or clip out this editorial and send it to him with a note that you agree.

His address is: Richard Cardinal Cushing, Chancery Office, Archdiocese of Boston, 2121 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass., 02135. He could stand a little kindness about now.

Every Vote Counts

A few days from now, Americans of voting age will be given a chance to participate in an election that could shape the course of history. The votes of the people will place in office a man who will guide the destiny of the nation for the next four years.

Although all eligible voters will have the chance to cast their ballots, not all will do so. The reasons for not exercising their franchise are many and varied but no matter what the reason, none is good enough.

Each vote is important. Elections have been won and lost by a single vote. By less than one vote per precinct in two states, Ohio and California, President Truman defeated Thomas Dewey in 1948. In 1916, GOP presidential candidate Charles Evans Hughes went to bed thinking himself a winner. But Woodrow Wilson defeated him by carrying one state, California, by less than one vote per precinct. Wilson took California by 3806 votes out of nearly one million cast.

The 1928 New York gubernatorial election saw Franklin D. Roosevelt defeat his republican opponent by 25,000 votes out of four million cast — a margin of about two votes per precinct. FDR's victory launched a new era in history.

In 1962, less than half of the eligible voters in the United States went to the polls. Close governorship races in that year no doubt reflected poor voter turnout. The governor of Minnesota was elected by only 91 votes. The governor of Rhode Island won by 398 votes. The governor of Maine was elected by 483 votes. The governor of Vermont was elected by 1348 votes and the governor of North Dakota was elected by 1007 votes.

Perhaps the best illustration of the importance of your vote was in the 1960 election when John F. Kennedy became president. About one half of one per cent of the votes in two states, Illinois and New Jersey, swung 43 electoral votes to Mr. Kennedy, the difference between victory and defeat.

Thus, if you and others stay away from the polls next Tuesday, your absence could change the results in hundreds of important elections. Your absence could perhaps change history.

Vote No on Question 2

Question No. 2 on the ballot next Tuesday will ask the voters whether they favor an amendment to the State Constitution which would allow the enactment of a graduated State income tax.

A similar proposal was overwhelmingly rejected six years ago after all phases of the matter had been discussed and debated.

Relatively little attention has been given to the issue this year, and there is a possibility the amendment will be approved simply because the people are disposed to vote "Yes."

However, there are sound reasons for opposing a graduated State income tax and voting "NO" on this question.

Approval of this amendment would be an invitation to increase the amount of taxes you pay to the State on your income.

There is some basis for the claim that adoption of this amendment would also be equivalent to handing the Legislature a blank check.

It would tell them to pattern the State income tax after the federal income tax, and no guide lines or limitations are laid down concerning a new State income tax. There is no way of foretelling or even guessing what the legislators would do.

You can be sure, however, that persons in the middle income brackets will be hit and hit hard if the voters next Tuesday authorize the enactment of a graduated State income tax.

A "No" vote on Question 2 may help to protect your own pocketbook.

Political Highlights

and surveys is still sufficiently large so that it is highly improbable Humphrey can win the election.

Even allowing for the fact that Humphrey is gaining, that Wallace is fading and that undecided voters are making up their minds and getting off the fence, it is difficult to figure out how Humphrey can possibly pile up enough electoral votes to win the Presidency.

But there is a distinct possibility that the electoral votes may be divided in such a manner among Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace that the election will be thrown into the national House of Representatives.

This would place the nation in a crisis and would set the stage for possible trading by both the Presidential electors and members of Congress.

The polls indicate that Wallace is losing support in the North. That is not surprising since more and more people are coming to realize that a vote for Wallace would be a wasted vote and that their civic duty next Tuesday will be to elect a President, not make a protest.

What is extremely significant, however, is that a majority of the voters getting off the Wallace bandwagon are shifting to Humphrey.

Strategists in the Nixon camp are not so much worried about Wallace voters switching to Humphrey as they are that Wallace's strength in the North may be greater than the polls indicate it to be.

They are fearful that many people who intend to vote for Wallace are not saying so and are misleading the pollsters.

While the Nixon leaders don't come right out and say so, it is evident that their greatest concern is that the election will be thrown into the House.

Richard Nixon, with the Presidency almost within his grasp, has played it cool in this campaign.

He has not committed the great blunder his Democratic adversaries have been counting on him to make, as he did in 1960 when he agreed to debate John F. Kennedy.

Nixon's big error, in the judgment of most political observers, was the selection of Governor Spiro Agnew as his Vice Presidential running mate.

Newsman who have covered Agnew in the present campaign shudder to think of him succeeding to the Presidency if anything happened to Nixon.

They even have had pins made which read: "Pray for Nixon's health."

It certainly seems that Nixon could have picked a Vice Presidential nominee who would be more a help and less a handicap than Agnew.

If Nixon fails next Tuesday to get a majority of the electoral votes, he could well trace his failure back to the August night in Miami when he decided upon Spiro Agnew as the man he wanted on the Republican national ticket with him.

But it does not seem likely that Nixon will falter this time. He has come a long way since he declared in 1962 after a losing fight for the California Governorship that he would never stand for public office again.

Hubert Humphrey has made a generally inept campaign although it has improved some since its early stages.

Humphrey is an extremely likeable person—more so than Nixon. But he's also bland and garrulous.

The image he projects is more nearly that of a drug store clerk than a President.

His recent gains in the Presidential race probably resulted more from circumstances beyond his control than from any truly effective vote-getting efforts on his part.

Up-to-the-moment tests of sentiment across Massachusetts indicate that Humphrey will carry this Commonwealth despite the fact that Nixon has the solid support of Bay State Republican leaders.

There is little real enthusiasm for Humphrey in Massachusetts. And seemingly there is even less for Nixon. As a result the vote in the State next Tuesday may be considerably smaller than ordinarily would be cast in a Presidential election.

Incinerator Is Back In Operation

One of two furnaces at the incinerator in West Newton was back in operation on a 24-hour-a-day basis this week after being shut down five days for repairs.

The furnace was shut down after a wall collapsed. Bricks for the collapsed wall were delivered Tuesday and work began Wednesday. At 7 p.m. Friday night the furnace was back in operation at reduced heat.

For the first four hours the burner was run at 600 degrees. The temperatures were then increased slowly over the next 19 hours until the temperature reached 2000 degrees.

The other furnace has not been in operation for a month. The interior brick wall in that facility collapsed, too.

Mayor Monte G. Basbas said last week he had no idea when the other furnace will be repaired. "I've been in communication with local experts, engineers, to determine what caused this—design or just wear and tear," the Mayor said.

Breakdowns have plagued the $2 million incinerator since its construction two years ago. Some have said the facility was designed poorly and the Mayor is looking into the possibility the city may have a claim against the designers.

Cullen At Boston State

Robert P. Cullen of 157 Damon road, recently started classes in the evening division of Boston State College's freshman class.

One development could shift Massachusetts from the Humphrey to the Nixon column.

The surveys which show Humphrey carrying this State give Wallace about 10 per cent of the vote cast.

If many of the people who intend to cast their votes for Wallace are keeping their intentions secret—if Wallace's vote in Massachusetts proves substantially larger than anticipated, that will help Nixon and hurt Humphrey, for Wallace's vote in this State will come largely from Humphrey.

Wallace should not even get 10 per cent of the vote in Massachusetts. He has no chance of winning election. He is a demagogue and a racist. He is not competent to serve as President of the United States.

Unfortunately, some people consider him a symbol and believe they can register a protest and make a point by voting for him. They can. But in doing so they will be throwing away their own right of participating in the choice of a President.

If Hubert Humphrey carries Massachusetts but loses the election, he will be the first Presidential candidate to do so since Alfred E. Smith 40 years ago.

Massachusetts is not regarded as a barometric State. But in the last nine Presidential elections over a span of 36 years it has gone to the winning candidate.

If the polls are right, that pattern will be broken next Tuesday.

The experts believe there is a great Republican tide rolling across the country which will sweep Nixon into office, will result in the defeat of some Democratic office-holders and will increase Republican strength in Congress.

It is a tide born of public dissatisfaction and discontent, of public concern and confusion, resulting from such things as the war in Vietnam, the issue of law and order, rioting in the streets, and the assassination of Robert Kennedy.

Next Tuesday's election will come as a climax in a political year in which the unexpected has happened, a campaign year marked by stunning tragedy with the murder of Bobby Kennedy.

Most people today seem to be confused and uncertain. They don't know exactly what they want from the next President, but they want a change. They want things to be different from what they are now.

That is why Richard Nixon probably will be elected President on Tuesday next.

To most people Hubert Humphrey represents the Johnson administration. That is the real reason he has practically no chance of election.

It is almost as simple as that. A great trend of public sentiment for a change is pushing like a giant ice slide behind Nixon and against Humphrey.

When the year began, most political observers assumed and expressed the opinion that President Johnson would be a candidate for another term and would be reelected next Tuesday.

For Mr. Johnson and the Democratic party the trouble began in New Hampshire last March.

The returns in the nation's first Presidential Primary made it evident that the President was unpopular with a substantial portion of the voters in his own political party.

The most important outcome of the Granite State voting was that it brought Robert Kennedy into the contest for the Democratic nomination for President.

Many persons have asked why Bobby Kennedy did not support Senator Eugene McCarthy instead of involving himself in a contest he seemingly could not win.

The answer is that the persons who know Eugene McCarthy best — the men who serve with him in the U.S. Senate — say that he does not have the capacity to be President of the United States.

So Bobby Kennedy made a decision which was to cost him his life in a senseless shooting in a Los Angeles hotel.

And next Tuesday is the target date at which everybody was aiming back there in New Hampshire in March, in California in June and at Miami and Chicago in August.

And next Tuesday night is likely to be the evening for which Richard Nixon has been waiting for eight long years.

HOPES AGAIN RENEWED FOR VIETNAM PEACE

THE ELUSIVE goal of peace in Vietnam today appeared tantalizingly close, following a new wave of speculation set off Wednesday, when President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam announced in Saigon that "the end of the war is near." Underscoring the most recent swell of optimism, Xuan Thuy, chief North Vietnamese negotiator at the Paris talks, said Wednesday that President Johnson "still has a chance" to obtain a peaceful solution to the Vietnam War before the U.S. elections next Tuesday. Thuy spoke a few hours after he and American diplomats met for the last regular session before the elections and reported no progress toward expanding the Paris talks into a full-fledged peace conference.

South Vietnam's President Thieu had also announced in Saigon that his government and the United States were in basic agreement on terms for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam. On one sour note, members of the North Vietnam's negotiating team at Paris Wednesday made a point of attacking President Johnson, charging that his "peace" statements were an attempt to influence the election next Tuesday. W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, firmly denied this.

ALLIED RAID HITS VIET CONG UNITS HARD

DESPITE renewed hopes for progress toward a peaceful settlement of the war in Vietnam, military operations are continuing. The U.S. command in Saigon reported Wednesday that an armada of allied ships and planes swept a 32-mile strait in southernmost Vietnam for the first time in the war and destroyed hundreds of Viet Cong supply boats and shoreline hideouts. Informed military sources also disclosed that plans had already been made for strikes today on targets in North Vietnam. Although the raids could be cancelled on short notice, the planning report indicated that no final decision on any bombing halt had been made.

SOVIET COSMONAUT LANDS IN SNOWDRIFT

A HERO'S welcome and plaudits continued to unroll today in the Soviet Union for cosmonaut Col. Georgy Beregov, who Wednesday made a soft landing in a snowdrift, ending a 47-day solo flight in space. "I feel excellent," the shivering 44-year-old war hero and test pilot told villagers wading toward the spacecraft through the snow, "but I'd like something to eat." Beregov came down from his 64-orbit flight in the Soyuz 3 spaceship in the frigid Kazakhstan countryside. Helicopters with pickup crews were beaten to the scene by children running from a nearby village. Beregov, the oldest man to make a spaceflight, spent approximately 96 hours in orbit aboard the Soyuz craft, the ship which the Soviet Union hopes eventually to send on a manned flight to the Moon.

HUMPHREY LAND PURCHASE ISSUE RAGES

QUESTIONS of personal misconduct were again today major issues in the soon-to-be decided 1968 presidential race, as responses continued Wednesday to an article in The Chicago Tribune of the day previous which said Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey had been given the property on which his Waverly home was built in 1954 by Ray Ewald, managing director of the Ewald Brothers Sanitary Dairy, on Sept. 27, 1956, when Humphrey was a U.S. Senator and the Ewald firm was involved in a civil anti-trust action in a price-fixing proceeding. Humphrey said the story was "bunk," and Ewald's wife said in Minneapolis that Humphrey had purchased the land. Mrs. Ewald, whose husband was reported ill and unable to comment, said she "wouldn't know" how much Humphrey paid for the land.

The Tribune dispatch said although the deed indicates that Humphrey paid "one dollar and other good and valuable considerations," the deed bears no federal revenue stamps, indicating that no cash changed hands. Mrs. Ewald said, "we just thought it was nobody's business. That is why it appears on the record that way." Later, in New York, Humphrey said he paid $200 for the land, included in a parcel of six lots. GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said in Washington the issue could not be swept aside as "bunk." He added, "The fact that the title to the land is said to have been transferred by one of the owners of a Minnesota dairy which had been indicted by a federal grand jury was then involved in a civil suit with the U.S. government over alleged price fixing makes the transaction a subject for close scrutiny."

U.S. ROLE IN MIDDLE EAST EMPHASIZED

U.S. INVOLVEMENT in the Middle East was underscored when Deputy Premier Yigal Allon of Israel said Wednesday the Jewish state and its friends would not permit the area to be turned into "another Czechoslovakia." He accused the Soviets of increasing heavy military activity in the area. "This country will not be alone if the Soviet Union makes a military plunge into this area," Allon told a meeting of the Knesset Parliament in Jerusalem. Allon said the Russians were maintaining a permanent fleet of Tupolev aircraft in Egypt, flown by Soviet pilots and taking orders from the Soviet Navy in the Mediterranean.

"This fleet is constantly collecting military intelligence data while 3,000 Soviet experts operate in Egypt, 1,000 in Syria and another 1,000 in neighboring Arab countries," Allon said the United States has kept its moral obligations to maintain a balance of forces in the Middle East. "I am confident Washington will stand by this country in so far as the Phantoms are concerned," Allon said in a reference to American jet fighter-bombers of the type flown by U.S. pilots in Vietnam.

GARAGE SCANDAL FIGURE AIRS DEATH THREAT

A DISBARRED attorney testified Wednesday in Boston he had been threatened with death if he ever told of his part in a pipeline for a payoff in the Boston Common Garage scandal. Richard C. Simmers of North Andover said in U.S. Tax Court he received the threats by telephone "from different persons" before a grand jury began investigating the building of the underground garage several years ago. Because of the threats, he said, he told an agent for the U.S. Internal Revenue Service "a false story about the funds." Simmers said that in 1961 he and Richard K. Gordon, a former judge from Andover who testified Tuesday, were given $170,000 by the Foundation Co. of New York and told to give the money to Francis W. Kierman, an engineer who lived on Beacon Hill. Gordon gave similar testimony. Kierman testified Tuesday he gave the $170,000 to George Brady, then chairman of the Massachusetts Parking Authority, the agency in charge of the project. Brady, who is under indictment for larceny, has been missing for five years.

B&M LOSS DOWN FROM 1967 FIGURE

THE BOSTON & MAINE Corp., parent firm of the Boston & Maine Railroad, Wednesday reported a loss of $521,658 for the quarter ending Sept. 30, an improvement over the $1.80 million loss for the period of 1967. The B&M attributed the improved results to an increase in operating revenues from $14.4 million to $16.7 million and a special credit of $1.04 million from settlements with other railroads of disputed freight car rental charges. However, operating expenses rose $713,730 during the three months. For the first nine months of 1968, the B&M reported a loss of $2.63 million on operating revenues of $50 million, compared to a $2.9 million deficit on revenues of $46.3 million in the first three quarters of 1967.

N.Y. TEACHERS REJECT BACK-TO-WORK PLAN

STRIKING New York City school teachers Wednesday rejected a back-to-work plan calling for the state to take direct control of a controversial Brooklyn school district which precipitated the 24-day citywide walkout. The decision by the striking United Federation of Teachers (UFT) was learned following public approval of the plan by both the city Board of Education and the Ocean Hill-Brownsville District, whose fate was in question. The strike, which has cost almost 1.2 million children in the nation's largest school system 21 days of classes, was called by the teachers in a dispute over attempt by the Ocean Hill-Brownsville board to transfer a group of white teachers out of the large Negro and Puerto Rican district.

MRS. GEORGE I. LISTER

Brookline Temple Scene of Lister--Schertzer Bridal

At a recent 7:30 o'clock evening service in Temple Ohabei Shalom in Brookline, Miss Gail Sue Schertzer became the bride of George I. Lister of Riverdale, N.Y.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Schertzer of 26 Haynes Road, Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Lister of Philadelphia, Pa., are the groom's parents.

After a honeymoon trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the couple will live in Riverdale, N.Y.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and is now a senior at the Mills College of Education, New York City.

The groom was graduated from Central High School, Philadelphia, Pa., and Temple University where he was treasurer of the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity. He is affiliated with the N.T. Fouiezo's and Associates in New York City. (photo by Nourses)

Her matching mantilla was marked with precious lace. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and Eucharis lilies.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Abramson of Freshmeadows, N.Y. The bridesmaids included Miss Carol Andelman, Miss Gail Rosen, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Marjorie Schertzer and Miss Nancy Schwartz, all of Newton, as well as Miss Avis Goldstein of Brookline.

Paul Lister of Philadelphia, Pa. served as best man for his brother. Ushering were Martin Redstone and George Lister Jr., cousin of the groom, both of Miami, Fla., Sydney Lister Jr., of Newton.

"Franz Rosenzweig, Jewish Existentialist" will be the topic on Nov. 7th. On Nov. 21st, Dr. Wilensky will contrast Rosenzweig's thinking with that of Rabbi Kuk, a Jewish mystic.

Dr. Wilensky, a noted writer and philosopher, received her education at Hebrew University and Radcliffe College. She has taught at New York University, done research at Brandeis University and has written extensively in Hebrew and English. She is the recipient of the Lucius N. Littauer Award, the Warburg Award, the Philip N. Low Fellowship and is a member of many learned societies.

Women who are interested are welcome to join the remaining eight lectures. Following the lectures on Jewish thought there will be exploration of today's searing social issues and of tradition as a source of stability and depth in the Jewish home.

Pretty Home Bridal For Miss Trowbridge-Mr. Poppick

Now making their home in Manchester, N.H., are Mr. and Mrs. Eric Burl Poppick (Deborah Trowbridge), whose marriage took place recently, at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell S. Trowbridge of 49 Columbus Street, Newton Highlands, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Poppick of Keypoint, N.J., are the couple's parents.

Mr. William K. Mackery, administrative assistant of the mayor of Newton, officiated at the two o'clock double ring service. A reception followed in the garden at the Trowbridge home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dotted Weiss dress made with a bateau neckline and long sleeves designed of point d'esprit and lace.

A matching mantilla was fashioned of the same material and she carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses with baby's breath.

Miss Sara Trowbridge of Newton Highlands was her sisters sole attendant.

Steven Poppick of Keypoint, N.J., served as best man for his brother.

The couple left of a trip to Nova Scotia.

The bride was graduated from the Boston University School of Fine and Applied Arts, where she majored in Theatre Arts. Her father is a professor at the Boston University College of Business Administration, while her mother is a teacher at the same University.

Mr. Poppick is a graduate of the Boston University. He is a member of the Manchester Players for the coming season.

At a recent candlelight service in the Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, Miss Susan Dee Powers and Richard D. Geagan exchanged marriage vows.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Powers of 58 Judkins Street, Newtonville, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Geagan of Playa DelRay, Calif., are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Thomas Lehman officiated at the 8:00 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed in the Parish Hall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of silk organza. The lace bodice had a sheer jewel neckline and the A-line skirt was marked with similar lace appliques.

A becoming headpiece was fastened with her illusion veil and she carried her prayer book with gardenias and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Pamela Marotto was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an A-line aqua gown designed with a Roman striped empire waistband and matching crown. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of purple asters, pink daisies and bells of Ireland.

Identically attired, the bridesmaids included Miss Florence MacDonald, Miss Bonnie Joan Lambert, cousin of the bride, and Miss Valerie Gay Powers, sister of the bride.

Miniatures of the other attendants, the two flower girls were Margaret Geagan and Ann Marie Geagan, both nieces of the groom.

The best man was Phil Kett, Thomas Geagan, brother of the groom, George B. Powers, brother of the bride, and Anthony Marotto, brother-in-law of the bride, were the ushers.

Now in California, the couple left by automobile for Cape Cod.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from Newton High School and Newton Junior College.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Opposes Leash Law

Editor Newton Graphic:

What panic has emerged within the last few years to change the thinking of the Newton Board of Aldermen from being against a leash law to now being in favor of one?

Surely not the fact that dog bites have decreased in Newton.

Surely not the fact that our dog officer is doing a good job and answering all complaints. Surely not the fact that Newton has a better ratio of fewer incidents than some surrounding cities with leash laws.

Surely not the fact that our ordinances would be a more logical intermediate step.

Surely not the fact that our police department is against a leash law.

Surely not the fact that our burglaries have increased and unleashed dogs have provided warnings in deterring crime.

Obviously it was the hearing at the Newton High School by a few who had had experiences with an unleashed dog. And, of course, being brought by, and organized by proponents of a leash law, the majority of people present were for a leash law.

However, such a biased group should not one-sidedly influence a board who should act on the full merits for the benefit of all its dogs and citizens and the good of the community.

Under such a proposal: Will our children no longer be able to romp with their pet?

Will the legend of Lassie Rin Tin Tin, Tom Sawyer, now become a farce, an impossible dream?

Will man's best friend be relegated to a toy on a chain?

Will the restrained and jailed pet now become the vicious animal?

Will the flesh, blood, feelings, and temperament of a living thing become remorse and stagnant, with no means of explanation?

Will the thought of being "born free" be set back in an age of civil liberties and individual rights?

Will the rights of the innocent majority of dogs and owners be disregarded because of the acts of a few?

And as a practical matter where the law cannot be explained to the unaccustomed leashed dog, what price must we pay for dog catchers, trucks, pounds, food, notification, etc. when the fines cannot exceed the small amounts already set by state law. These added city expenses come at a time when we are already taxed to the hilt and when police services are inadequate and needed for more important law and order protection functions of preventing human crimes and abuses in such fields as driving, narcotics, traffic, riots, holdups, burglaries, etc. rather than chasing dogs who step off their property line. What appeal would the dog and its owner have for false imprisonment, false arrest, or any other mistake or misjudgment which is bound to happen? And without costly appeal are we not violating the taking of property without due process of law? Look at the laws already on the books in this area, both civil and criminal, are they not adequate if used?

It is urged that the Board of Aldermen, the Board of the School Committee have already endorsed this petition drive. The League of Women Voters of Newton, the Democratic City Committee, the Republican City Committee, the Newton Chamber of Aldermen in its wisdom on such a question that has stirred the population of Newton more than any other single issue act without haste and with due diligence to consider strongly that perhaps it is control not restraint that is needed so that the guilty will be punished and the innocent will be free.

Leonard Fisher, Counsel for Innocent Dogs 40 Voss Terrace, Newton.

Charter Review

Editor Newton Graphic:

We urge the voters of Newton to take a positive step towards the best in government by signing a petition calling for the election of a Charter Commission in 1969. Members of Citizens for Charter Review will be collecting signatures outside all the polling places on election day. Stop for a moment after you vote and add your name to the growing list of those supporting a comprehensive review of our venerable Charter.

We are working for Charter review because we recognize that the structure of a city's government is an important factor in determining how good that government will be. Newton has been fortunate in having had good government in the past and we want to make sure that everything is as right as it can be for good government in the future. The character of the city, its size, and the complexity of its problems have changed considerably since 1897 (the last time there was a thorough review of Newton's Charter), and what was good for Newton then is not necessarily good for Newton today.

Newton is a "big business" now and serving as an elected official is a very time consuming proposition. The Charter, however, still treats the office of Mayor as a part-time job. In these trying times it is more important than ever that our framework of government be set up in such a way that the best men will seek public office and they will be able to do their work in a way that will be in the best interests of the community.

Although substantive changes in the Charter could possibly be made in other ways, the election of a Charter Commission is the only way to ensure a Comprehensive study. The Charter Commission will have the time and expert help that will enable its nine members to look at our entire structure of government in a unified way. If any changes are necessary, these will be made only after careful consideration of all related areas.

In addition to the parts of the Charter requiring major consideration (terms of office, method of filling vacancies, etc.) there are other sections which badly need clarification. Removing the ambiguities and unnecessary details which clutter up the Charter is important but not exciting work. It is unlikely that anyone would make the effort unless this was done as part of a comprehensive Charter review. If the Charter Commission does nothing else, it could at least make the Charter a more easily understood and more effective local constitution.

The Mayor, the Board of Aldermen, and the School Committee have already endorsed this petition drive. The League of Women Voters of Newton, the Democratic City Committee, the Republican City Committee, the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and the Newton Council of PTA's now ask your support in the campaign to collect the signatures of 10,000 registered voters of Newton. Look for us outside the polls. We'll have a copy of the Charter on one hand and a petition in the other. Charter review is up to you!

Mrs. Lawrence G. Rubin President, LWV of Newton

Active Season Ahead For Beth Etereth Youth

Programs with plenty of appeal for both pre-teen and teen-agers of Congregation Beth El Atereth Israel, 561 Ward Street, Newton Centre, are now in full swing.

The Chavrim, the pre-teen group for boys and girls ages 8-12, have already begun the season with a Succoth Party, and a field trip to the Boston Police Headquarters.

Future programs include a gym program consisting of football, baseball and volleyball games with caesthenics preceding each activity. In addition, trips to see the Patriots, Celtics and Bruins in action are also planned.

Inside activities include arts and crafts, cooking, sewing, games and ping-pong. Trips to the Science Museum, Circus and Ice Follies are on the agenda.

Our special feature for girls is our well received Charm Course for instruction in skin care, health, posture and overall general appearance.

The Chavrim meet every Sunday 1:45-4 p.m. and all boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 12 are invited to join.

The Teen-age group for boys and girls 13-17 years meet once a week for many varied events. The teen-agers plan their own programs which include athletics, bowling, ice skating, roller-skating and has already had a successful Hoshana Rabba breakfast. The teen-agers are constantly on the lookout for new members and encouraging boys and girls to participate.

Advisors for the groups are: Mrs. Jerome Adler, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Chetitz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kadis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liberman, Mrs. Harris Safran, Mrs. Aaron Silver, Mrs. Leonard Small, Chairmen for the two groups are Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Mael and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Salvaggio. Spiritual Leader is Rabbi Abraham Koolyk.

UF Served Newton Residents 25,555 Times

Newton residents were served 25,555 times last year by 81 agencies and services of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund, according to Burton Scott Price, Community Chairman for Newton in the 1968-69 United Fund campaign.

The types of services most often used by Newton residents were family services, hospitals and youth agencies, Mr. Price said.

The Newton YMCA provided the most units of service, 4993. Price noted. Other typical organizations and the number of persons they served included Newton-Wellesley Hospital, 3869; Norumbega Council Inc., Boy Scouts of America, 2961; and United Service Organizations Inc. (USO), 1830.

A total of 340 health, welfare and youth related agencies sharing in the Massachusetts Bay United Fund serve more than 800,000 persons annually in 64 cities and towns.

BREAKING GROUND for "The Way West — Using a traditional golden shovel, Newton Mayor Monte Basbas, right, and Ed Ehrenberger, president of West Ford of Newtonville, break ground for the automobile dealer's new 100,000 square foot facility to be located on Washington street, near Newtonville Square.

West Ford Breaks Ground For New Auto Facility

With Newton's Mayor Monte Basbas and West Ford President Ed Ehrenberger teaming up on the business end of a golden shovel, ground breaking took place this week for the new 100,000 square foot West Ford sales and service facility on Washington street near Newtonville Square.

Equal to two football fields in covered area, the new building will include an air-conditioned showroom accommodating nine automobiles, and in addition will house the largest, most modern, completely equipped service department in New England.

The West Ford Service Department will contain 50 working service stalls, electronic automotive diagnostic equipment, and an expanded body and paint shop. A large used car lot will be located immediately alongside the new West Ford building.

Long experienced in their supervisory areas, West Ford executives are a hand picked group, with Lloyd Cooper new car sales manager and Jerry Leary directing used car sales. Bill "Whip" Houlahan is sales manager for fleet sales and leasing; John Lexth is general parts and service manager.

Ehrenberger is a resident of Newton, a director of the Newton Chamber of

EFFECTIVE PHILBIN SERVICE

Congressman Philip J. Philbin after 13 terms as the U.S. Representative in Congress from the Third Massachusetts District is a practical doer who gets things done for the communities and people of his district.

He has been in the forefront of the fight for progressive legislation during his entire Congressional service. His sensitivity and receptivity to the needs of the times are second to none.

His integrity, ability and seniority in the Congress mean that your voice can be heard clearly and convincingly in Washington. By voting for Congressman Philbin, you are voting for yourself, the state, the district and the country.

CONGRESSMAN PHILIP J. PHILBIN

RE-ELECT CONGRESSMAN PHILIP J. PHILBIN

EDWARD J. PHILBIN, 68 Wilson Street, Clinton, Massachusetts

1968 is a very good year to come to the aid of both parties... by voting for Stevens.

Do-nothing Congresses happen because the parties nominate do-nothing men — and you vote for them.

President John F. Kennedy said: "Sometimes party loyalty asks too much." That's exactly what's happening in the third district this year.

If you live between Newton and Winchendon, your Congressman is 70 years old and he's been in Washington for 26 years. Do you know his name? .....

Well, what about the other party's candidate who is 75 and spent 10 years in Congress. Do you remember his name? .....

Well, how about something either one of them has ever done? .....
Tough, isn't it? But you still have a choice — Representative Chandler Harrison Stevens.

He's a responsible Independent — the only Independent in the Massachusetts Legislature. He has an impressive record of achievement in government reform, and Dr. Stevens is one Independent who wins — he's never lost an election. At 33, Harry Stevens is a man of the future.

As an Independent he will be the most visible man in the Congress.

Jed Levine and Bride Are Living In Newton

Now making their home in Newton are Mr. and Mrs. Jed Levine (Linda Rochelle Gorelick), whose marriage took place recently at the Bell House in Sharon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gorlick of 16 Annapolis road, West Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Levine of New Rochelle, N.Y., are the groom's parents.

Cantor Morris Gordon officiated at the 8 o'clock evening double ring service. A reception followed the ceremony.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a full length organza sheath and cage gown designed with a mini yoke and high scalloped collar to match the cuffs on her long sleeves as well as the hemline and detachable chapel length train.

A lace bow held in place her triple tiered shoulder length illusion veil. She carried phalaenopsis orchids, stephenotis and ivy.

Miss Leslie Berger of Newton Highlands was maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Miss Barbara Weiner of Waban, Miss Faye Cohen of Chestnut Hill, Miss Laura Trachtenberg and Miss Harriet Polner, both of Newtonville.

The flower girl was young Lisa Joy Kalish of West Newton and Master Jeffrey Kennen of Waltham served as ring bearer.

The best man was William Riss of New Rochelle, N.Y. Ushering were Kenneth Gorelick of West Newton, brother of the bride, Lawrence Nannis of Lowell, Glenn Beacham of Milton, Henry Shafan of Newtonville, Anthony Mosca Jr., of Watertown and Mark Chait of Spring Valley, N.Y.

Canada was the honeymoon destination of the couple.

The bride, a graduate of Lasell Junior College, is a medical secretary.

Presidential Alternatives Night Sunday At Unitarian Parish Hall

Three West Newton religious organizations will be sponsoring a "Presidential Alternatives Evening" this Sunday night (Nov. 3) at 8 p.m. in West Newton Square.

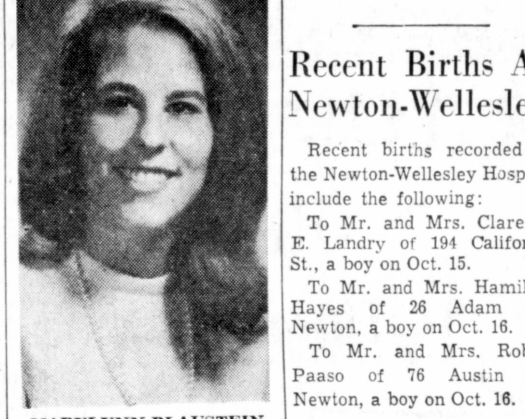

Co-sponsoring event are the Second Congregational Church, Temple Shalom and First Unitarian Society and the program will be held at the Unitarian Parish Hall. The event is open to the public.

Voters attending will be presented the full range of possible choices and consequences in the upcoming election. Four spokesmen will defend positions and answer questions relating to his candidate's position on and plans for the major crises of the day; Vietnam, the racial conflict, the decay of the cities, poverty and others.

Former Alderman William Carmen of Newton will speak for Vice-President Humphrey. Long prominent in national and local affairs, he is currently serving as National Vice-Chairman of "Veterans for Humphrey." State Representative John A.S. McGlennan of Concord will represent Richard Nixon. He currently serves as chairman of the Speakers' Bureau for the Massachusetts "Nixon for President" team.

George Wallace's positions will be outlined by Charles McGlue, Chairman of the Massachusetts "Wallace for President Campaign" committee. Mr. McGlue has practiced law in this state for many years and is an acknowledged expert on election laws, and procedures.

The guest panel, with Mrs. John M. Burgess, will tell of the beginning of the Roxbury Community School and the purpose that it serves in the small neighborhood community on the Roxbury-Dorchester line.

What Does It Take To Get Into College?

The successful college applicant presents to the college of his choice a school record of consistently good grades, or grades that get consistently better, and evidence of a well rounded personality.

A well rounded personality is usually the result of broad interests and the assurance that comes with success.

Students who consistently perform well and are able to present good academic records have in common these key characteristics:

1. The ability to read well.
2. Knowledge of how to study.
3. Ability to express oneself in writing.
4. Motivation to succeed.

The Scholastic Achievement Center, of Melrose and Newton Centre, through scholastic evaluations and test, which are offered free, will determine:

- A Students strengths and weakness in school.
- B Pinpoint the student's problem.
- C Prescribe a program that will work to his assured success in school.

THESE PROGRAMS DO WORK!

It is never too young to start! For the elementary students, grades two through six, the Scholastic Achievement Center offers a READING PLUS program. Not only is a linguistics approach presented, through the interaction of reading, speaking and writing, but the student is introduced to good work habits and their application to his everyday schooling.

CALL TODAY 665-0227 for an appointment for either a complete Scholastic Evaluation or a Reading Test. Both ARE FREE.

RETURN Laurence CURTIS

to CONGRESS

Republican - 3rd District To the People of NEWTON

We need a change in Washington — a change from the tired, worn-out policies of the Johnson Administration. Laurence Curtis back in Washington as your Congressman again would represent such a change.

Laurence Curtis has the judgment based on his broad background in municipal, state and federal government, and the progressive outlook, capacity and vigor to work for a needed change.

You people of Newton do not have to be sold on Curtis as an outstanding Congressman.

He represented you in Washington for 10 years before your District was shifted around. You know how well he served you!

You re-elected him four times with increasing pluralities.

Now you can do yourself a favor and send him back to Congress.

His vigor was recently attested to by Dr. Paul Dudley White, internationally famed heart specialist, who said:

"Laurence Curtis is a notable example of a man who has maintained his excellent physical fitness through proper exercise despite his loss of a leg in war. I find him in better physical condition than most men many years his junior. He would pass physically for a man at least 10 years younger."

Curtis is not campaigning on idle or extravagant promises. He points to the record of what he has done as evidence of what he can do and will do.

- Congressman 1953-1962
- State Treasurer 2 years
- Member, Massachusetts Senate and House 10 years
- Past State Department Commander, Disabled American Veterans, Past National Senior Vice Commander
- Veteran, U.S. Naval Aviation
- Member, Amputee Veterans Association
- Former Secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes
- Harvard College and Law School, Varsity Football, Hockey
- Phi Beta Kappa

The choice for Congress next Tuesday is between Laurence Curtis, who stands for change, and the Democratic incumbent, who supports policies of the present administration.

The third candidate listed on the ballot — the so-called Independent is important only in that he may split the vote and in so doing help the present incumbent.

An Independent would have little standing in the Congress which is geared to the two party system. The two major parties are in complete control, make the committee assignments and have a large voice on who shall speak on the important issues.

IF YOU EXAMINE THE RECORDS, YOU WILL VOTE CURTIS. DON'T TAKE A CHANCE. TAKE A CHANGE WITH CURTIS.

Bring Larry Curtis Back to Congress

Underwood PTA Sponsors Student Increase Survey

Volunteers willing to assist in the door-to-door survey of the Underwood School District (with the aim of predicting future school population) are asked to contact Mrs. Reuben Res, 306 Franklin St., Newton (332-7735). The survey is under the auspices of the Underwood School PTA Facilities Committee, of which Mrs. Res is chairman.

The school has been forced to build five classrooms in the basement and the PTA feels the school population will continue to increase. The survey will help to provide an accurate forecast of how large an increase can be expected. Results will be forwarded to the School Committee, the Aldermen and to Mayor Basbas in order that realistic plans may be formulated to alleviate the overcrowding.

Water Colors Of Lester Peterson To Be on Display

The water colors of Lester M. Peterson of Newtonville and Martha's Vineyard are on display through November at the Newton Highlands Branch of the Newton Free Library. Mr. Peterson's paintings reflect his love for the sea and his close association with the Vineyard.

He is a retired art director of an international printing and manufacturing company, and attended the Worcester Museum School, the Scott Carbee School of Boston, and the Copley School of Sculpture.

He is a member of the Boston Watercolor Society, the Martha's Vineyard Art Association, the Newton Art Association and until his recent retirement, a member of the Boston Art Directors Club.

A companion book display from the Library's fine art book collection will accompany the watercolor exhibit.

Three Youths Surprised In College Dorm

Three boys between 11 and 13 entered a dormitory at Newton College of the Sacred Heart Saturday afternoon but escaped with only change taken from a room.

The youngsters were surprised in a corridor at Duchesne Hall by a student who grabbed a watch from one of them that had been stolen from her room.

A Wheaton College student reported to police the same afternoon that Friday at 11:30 p.m. at Riverside MBTA station her shoulder bag containing $15 was stolen.

That night, a Lasell Junior College student said she was assaulted by a man about 6:30 p.m. while she was walking east on Washington st. from the Woodland MBTA station. A jewelry box, two sets of silverware and a set of flatware were missing following a break at the home of Mrs. Greta Gregg, 51 Fairlee rd., Waban, Sunday afternoon.

Two offices at Weeks Junior High School, 7 Hereward rd., Newton Centre, were ransacked and a vending machine coin box broken, Saturday. Entrance to the building was made by slipping a lock on the door.

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

Anyone who has ever raised a radish will be glad to tell you how to grow vegetables. But telling you why to grow vegetables—that's another matter. Unless you have tasted young peas served within half an hour of the time they were picked, how can you understand why? Or, perhaps you have had a mixed green salad, made up of several lettuces, each of a different color, texture, and taste, a few new beet leaves to add mystery, some chopped dill, several sprigs of basil or tarragon — all tossed in a bowl rubbed with a cut clove of garlic, seasoned with olive oil and vinegar. Gardening is hard work — but, oh — what delicious results!

A party is no longer hard work when you use THE HIGHLANDS wonderful new "Gourmet Catering Service". We will serve all occasions in your office, night or home. Call us at 332-4400, THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton.

Newtonites Are Brandeis Donors

A Chestnut Hill couple are among the principal donors for the Brandeis University's new Usdan Student Union. Contributing to the $4.1 million complex are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudnick of Chestnut Hill.

The New Union will house student services and activities and is expected to be complete by June, 1970. It will occupy the site of the old reservoir between U.S. Castle and Goldfarb Library at the heart of the campus. The two-level 130,000 square foot main building will house administrative quarters for the union complex and the staff of the Dean of Students office. Contractor for the building is the John A. Volpe Construction Company of Malden.

Newton South Football Team Defeated By Lexington 24-6

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

Once, it could be said that Newton South fall sport enthusiasts would always have someone to cheer for in case of disasters in cross-country and soccer. However, this year, with soccer still a disaster, faithful football fans are a trifle shaken because of their heroes' lackluster performance on the gridiron.

The latest failure by the Lions came last Saturday afternoon in the supposedly friendly confines of Dickinson Stadium, when the previously winless Lexington Minutemen demolished the Newton South defense, 24-8.

The first period passed rather peacefully, with both teams' inability to mount a sustained attack, keeping them locked between the 40-yard lines. However, Lexington pushed across a six-pointer and an extra-point attempt in the waning minutes of the half for a tenuous 8-0 lead, when the two teams adjourned to the lockerroom.

South brought the crowd to its feet midway through the third quarter when quarterback Tommy Rezzuti hit his halfback, Nick Parnell, with a 33-yard scoring bomb, and then, seconds later, found Parnell free in the end zone for the two extra points and an 8-8 tie.

Lexington returned the kick off to midfield. And then came the backbreaking play. Fullback Peter Johnson, outstanding all day, took the handoff from his quarterback and weeded his way through the middle for 49 yards and a TD. Johnson burst over from the side, a moment later, to raise the margin to 16-8. Johnson threaded his way through the Newton South defenses for 172 yards in all during the course of the afternoon.

The South offense stalled and Lexington gained possession on its own 35. From there the Minutemen ground out yard after yard through gaping holes in the South front line, for a 65-yard sustained drive and another touchdown.

Things were not too bright on the Lion side of the ledger. Tom Rezzuti was forced to put his head down and run much too often, as he was perpetually chased out of the pocket. The South offensive line provided very little protection for its ball carriers, while the opposition backs had a field day with the Newton defensive line.

Nick Parnell was terrific in defeat, lugging the ball over 100 yards as well as scoring all the team's points.

South, now 0-4-1, will be hard pressed to come up with a victory this fall, since Lexington was the weakest school on the schedule. Still remaining: Melrose, Leominster, and Rindge Tech.

Newton High Cross Country Team Ninth In Class-A State Tourney

A tenth-place finish by only bright spot for Newton High School's cross country team as it finished ninth in the Class A State meet at Franklin Park last Saturday.

The race was won by John Quirk who led his Boston College High squad to the team victory. Second was Brockton with a fine team effort as they placed three men in the top 10 places. Braintree took third with their Captain, Dave Elliott finishing 20 yards behind Quirk for second.

The race, as usual, was a wild one with almost 200 runners at the start. "Our positioning was poor at the beginning of the race and we were running to catch up from the start," said Coach Bailey. "Doug's Tomb tenth place finish was the highest in Newton history but I feel he will run even better next week (All-State Meet) if he can get near the front earlier."

After Tomb for Newton was Dave Blake in 50th and Jay Sidman in 52nd. Nick Brown in 60th and John Bowles in 61st finished the Tiger's scoring.

In other recent action Newton defeated Revere 15-0 in their last dual meet of the season. The Newton runners moved to the front at the gun and never relinquished the lead.

7 Incidents Of Damage In One Area

Seven incidents of malicious damage to property in the Chester-Bowdoin sts. area of Newton Highlands have been reported to Newton police during the past few days.

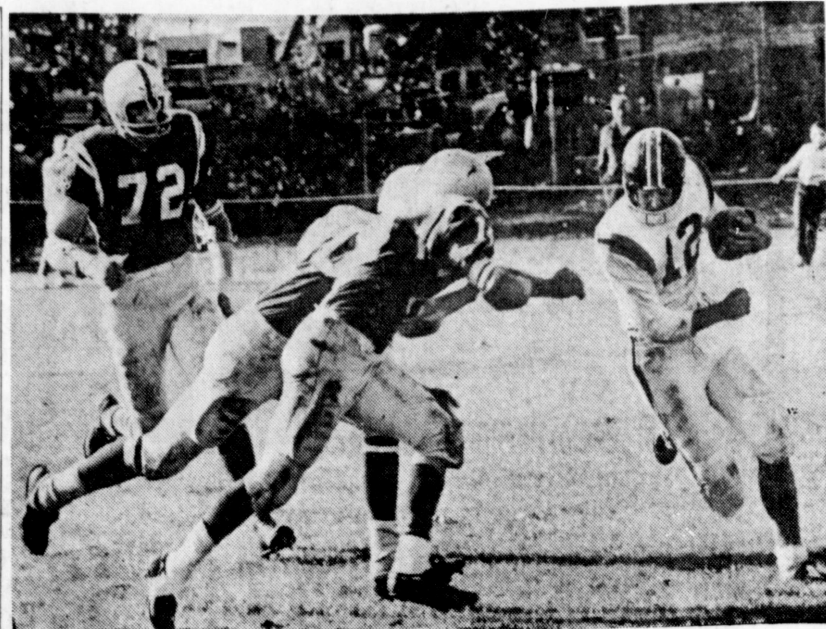

Police said bicycle ties have been slashed, garden hoses cut, three lawn chairs cut and an auto convertible top slashed.

Also, vandals damaged 15 cars at Silver Lake Dodge, 444 Watertown st., Newton, after cutting through a fence to get into a rear parking lot.

Herbert A. Abramson, president of the company, said the vandals started two cars and bumped them into each other. Two batteries were stolen and several air filters taken out and thrown around.

Further information may be obtained by calling the College at 969-9570.

Astigmatism, reduced field of vision, farsightedness, nearsightedness and color blindness all affect visual acuity, and many hunters have these vision defects without knowing it, warns the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Newton South Soccer Team Defeated 5-0

Lincoln-Sudbury bombed the Newton South soccer team, last week, 5-0, in a Suburban League contest.

"Merrill's Marauders" did very little marauding, though, as they were mostly on the defensive. Little back-line protection was afforded goalies Steve Finer and Fred Klashman, while the opposition's defense was impenetrable. Again, South failed to mount a consistent attack, and found the enemy too difficult to remove from their own territory.

The Lions are sinking into the depths of the Suburban League basement as they have now dropped four straight encounters and are 1-8-1 overall.

$20,000 Bail Holds Pair In Kidnap

Bail was set at $20,000 this week for Thomas A. Magee Jr., 20, of 97 Spring st., West Roxbury, and Charles W. Dannenberg, Jr., 25, of 42 Adams st., Everett, after Judge Julian L. Yesley in Newton district court found probable cause in kidnapping and robbery charges brought by police.

The pair was bound over for the grand jury in connection with the charges stemming from an incident Oct. 12 when a Newton couple was abducted and robbed of $300 cash on Walnut st., Newtonville.

Police arrested them after Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rubenstein, 1274 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill, telephoned from a friend's house on Walnut st. and said they were forced to drive a short distance, robbed of a watch and the cash at 2 a.m.

Magee and Danneberg pleaded innocent at arraignment in court Oct. 14. A third man, sought since the incident, has not been found.

Newtonite Chairs Movie Party For Dysautonomia

Mrs. Leonard Ansin of 64 High Rock Ter., Chestnut Hill, chairman of the Greater Boston Chapter, Dysautonomia Association, has announced a movie party for the film "Star" with Julie Andrews in the title role of Gertrude Lawrence.

Hailed as one of the biggest movie hits of the year, "Star" will be shown at the Gary Theater in Boston at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday (Dec. 8) and the proceeds will be applied directly to research to find a control and cure for familial dysautonomia, a hereditary affliction which primarily afflicts Jewish children.

Reservations for the reserved seat orchestra tickets may be obtained by writing or calling Mrs. Ansin at 244-3278. All reservations and payment must be made by Nov. 24. Contributions are tax deductible.

Univ. Book Fund Honors Delamater

A book fund in honor of Edgar H. Delamater of 20 Randolph St., Newton Highlands, has been established at the Olin Memorial Library of Wesleyan University, with a gift of $1,500 to Wesleyan by Boit, Dalton and Church, Inc., of Boston. Mr. Delamater, retired from Boit, Dalton and Church, Inc., is an alumnus of Wesleyan, Class of 1919.

Income from this fund will be used to purchase library books in the field of economics and a special bookplate will be designed and affixed to each volume purchased from the fund.

Clapton TD Gave Newton 6-0 Win Over Arlington

Quarterback Colin Clapton scored his sixth touchdown of the year midway through the first quarter to provide Newton High with a 6-0 victory over Arlington High Saturday at Arlington.

The triumph increased Newton's Suburban League and Class A hopes. The Tigers now share second place with Weymouth with a 3-1 record behind undefeated Brookline.

Newton's secondary played an important part in the Tiger win. Drive snapping interceptions were registered by Ron Arcese and juniors Ray Ball and Jerry Coleman. Arcese's was his sixth of the season.

Two weeks ago, Newton romped 20-0 over Watertown High in the rain. Clapton tallied once and threw a 30-yard scoring strike to Jay Civetti.

Against Arlington, Clapton went over guard for six yards following a fumble recovery. The 6-0 senior also starts in the defensive backfield and has recorded 36 points in five outings.

Newton's 4-1 mark is its best start since 1957 when it

Nurse Week Visit Invitation From N.W. Hospital

Newton-Wellesley Hospital has invited Needham townfolk to an exhibit on changes on nursing care next Tuesday and Wednesday (Nov. 5-6).

The display in the hospital's Usen Auditorium will focus on "Nursing Around the Clock." Hours are from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday. Nursing personnel will staff the exhibition.

Displays and demonstrations will cover the care of an imaginary patient from admission through discharge. Visitors will be shown what happens and why in such areas as the taking of blood pressure and temperature, dietary procedures before surgery, operating room process the functioning of the recovery room, and post-operative care that precedes a patient's return to normal living.

The exhibit coincides with the observance of Professional Nurse Week, proclaimed by Governor John Volpe and beginning this Sunday (Nov. 3). The demonstration will also include equipment from the hospital's coronary and special care units, nursery, emergency department and intensive in-service education program for nurses.

Nursing personnel of the hospital who are organizing the display include Mrs. Beverly McGrath, R.N. of West Newton, chairman; Miss Leslie E. Burns, R.N. of Wellesley Hills; Miss Joan of Arc Dougherty, R.N. of Auburndale; Miss Carol A. Flynn, R.N. of Lexington; Mrs. Marjorie E. Forbes, R.N. of West Newton; Miss Lois B. Goerner, R.N. of Newton and Miss Charlotte Mahon, R.N. of Chestnut Hill.

Richard De Vito To Head New Co.

Richard A. DeVito, formerly of Newton, has been appointed president and chairman of the board of DeVito Laboratories, Inc.

DeVito, 27, has been public relations manager for a division of Cabot Corporation in Boston, and was previously in marketing positions with General Electric. He is a graduate of Boston University's School of Public Communication with a B.S. degree in public relations. He is a member of the Public Relations Society of America, the Association of Industrial Advertisers and the Publicity Club of Boston. He participated in the National Alliance of Businessmen's Program.

Newton's soccer thrust has continued recently as its shutout skein has increased to seven in nine games. The Tigers are 6-3-1 overall and hold third place in the Suburban League.

A scoreless tie with undefeated league leading Lincoln-Sudbury has been the defense's supreme showing. Goalie Chester Proshan made 12 saves and was forced to maintain concentration for the full 70 minutes as the ball remained constantly in the Newton half of the field.

Center halfback Barry Harship "shadowed" Lincoln high-scorer Kim Hansen so effectively that the talented exchange student could only get two shots at Proshan. Prior to the game, Hansen had scored 12 times in eight games.

Although being credited with four shots at Lincoln's goal, only one was of any quality; a hard head by Enrico DiMambro that the goalie caught. Inner Kevin Sheehan, with hustling ball control, allowed Newton to stay even with the Warriors in the 10-minute overtime period, but the fourth quarter saw the ball leave the Tigers' end only twice. Sterling defensive performances were given by Harship, Dave Russell and Steve Scrimshaw. Also impressive after a questionable first period was Jon Marcus with hustle and booming kicks.

Scrimshaw, only a junior, received substantial playing time from Coach Gordon Elliott for the first time and put it to good use, playing as well, if not better, than his more experience counterparts. Scrimshaw is the only junior on the 22-man varsity.

In the past week, Newton edged Brockton and Newton South by margins of 2-0 and 2-1.

Sophomore Abe Oros leads the team in scoring with six goals and three assists. Center Skip Stearns is second with five goals.

Marcus on defense and Sheehan in the front line were the standouts against Brockton, Proshan having an easy time in the goal.

Versus Newton South, Oros recorded his fourth game winning goal of the season. Others had come against Brookline, Lexington and Brookline.

The Mexican-born left wing trapped a beautiful centering pass from Sheehan and lined the ball into the center of the net from the right post at 8:33 of a 10 minute overtime.

Earlier, Stearns had received a pass from Emilio Mazzola in front of the South net, grounding it on three bounces into the corner of the net. Stearns is in his second year as varsity center, one of five returning lettermen.

Proshan gave up a first quarter goal to Allen Starr (the ball going in off a Newton defenseman), but was invincible thereafter with six stops. South's Steve Finer had 11 saves.

Newton finishes its soccer season today at home against second place Medford.

For the first time in many years, it appears that Newton High will finish with three fall sports teams which will win twice as many as they lose. Much credit goes to Coaches Abner Bailey (cross country), Jim Ronayne (football) and Gordon Elliot (soccer).

Senator Leslie B. Cutler

October 25, 1968

TO THE VOTERS OF THE NORFOLK-MIDDLESEX DISTRICT

(Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Weston, Newton Wards 2-3-4-5-8)

It is extremely important that David H. Locke be elected on November 5th to the Massachusetts Senate. He is the only Republican candidate. While it is true that Dave and I did not always agree on matters pending before the Legislature, it is also true that he had as much right to his opinion as I had to mine. Dave and I have worked together on many Bills for the good of all the people in the District.

I have congratulated him on his nomination and pledged him my full support for election. I did not relinquish my seat in the Senate to see it won by a Democrat — who if elected, would become part of the ruthless, self-seeking Democratic leadership in the Senate. Nobody knows better than I do what this means, when they killed my Mental Health Bill during the closing days of the 1968 Session.

Vote for Republican candidates from Nixon-Agnew for President and Vice-President, straight down the Republican Ticket — A great team, including David H. Locke for the Massachusetts Senate, and all the way through the Republican Norfolk County Commissioners and Sheriff Charles Hedges.

Yours for a Real-Rousing Republican Victory,

Still — Proudly Your Senator —

Newton Author In Speech To Pen Wom. League

Newton author and poet Maxine Kumin was the speaker at a recent luncheon meeting of the Massachusetts branches of the National League of American Pen Women. Forty women from Boston, Worcester, and Wellesley groups were present at the Pillar House in Newton Lower Falls.

Mrs. Kumin, whose second novel, "Passions of Uxport," was recently published by Harper and Row, gave a "Personal View" of being a writer and a homemaker, describing her dual roles as she wrote light verse, children's stories, poetry, and adult fiction while keeping house for her husband and three children.

She is the author of many books for children, one of them a selection of the Junior Literary Guild. For two years she edited the Poets' Corner in the Writer Magazine.

She is now working through the Office of Education on a federal project as a consultant on children's literature for the Central Atlantic Regional Educational Laboratory.

In this capacity she spends one day a week in Washington, D.C.

Among those present from Newton was Mrs. Loy Long of Auburndale, a member of the Wellesley Branch.

F. Blake Cloonen Re-elected Head Of Credit Ass'n

Assistant Treasurer F. Blake Cloonen of the Newton Savings Bank, has been re-elected president of the Consumer Credit Association of Greater Boston, Inc. for a second consecutive term. Mr. Cloonen is the first savings banker ever elected to this position as well as the first Association president elected to a second consecutive term.

The Consumer Credit Association of Greater Boston is an association of all commercial banks, savings banks, cooperative banks, and savings and loan associations making installment loans in the Metropolitan Boston area. It serves as a clearing house for information, and works to improve the quality of installment lending services to the consumer.

Mr. Cloonen has been with the Newton Savings Bank since 1962.

MAYOR MONTE G. BASBAS GETS $25,000 from State for Newton Youth Center. Seated with Mayor as he receives formal notification of the grant is Judge Julian Yesley of the Newton district court. Standing are Recreation Commissioner John Penney, left, and Executive Director Anthony J. Bilbo of the Newton Community Service Centers.

State Grant of $25,000 for Newton Youth Center OK'd

Mayor Monte G. Basbas has been notified by the State's Youth Service Board of a grant of $25,000 to Newton for a Youth Center Program.

The program long-sought by the Mayor, will enable the city to provide a program designed for the youth of the city.

Although provisions of the grant call for matching funds from Newton, the actual dollar outlay of cash will be minimal since the city will be given credit for in-kind services already provided by existing agencies such as administration, building usage and the like.

The location of the centers and the programs to be organized will be worked out at the Mayor's direction through a Youth Center Advisory Committee. This committee will include an even balance of numbers between adults and the youth who will be the project's beneficiaries.

Complete membership of the committee is expected to be decided soon. Responsibility for administration of the program will lie with Newton Community Service Center's, Inc., in compliance with policies set by the Advisory Committee.

Basic advantages of the grant, Mayor Basbas points out, will enable the appointment of a professional staff necessary to make the Centers operative. Members at-large on the advisory committee will be Judge Julian Yesley, chairman, Anthony J. Bibbo, Charles Feeley, Peter Harrington and John Penney. Chairman of the student membership will be Martin Smith.

The Mayor expressed his gratitude to Dr. John Coughlin, head of the State's Youth Service Board, and others who assisted in winning the grant for Newton. They included Judge Yesley, Messrs Bibbo and Penney, and Senators Beryl Cohen and Leslie B. Cutler, and Representatives Joseph G. Bradley, Irving Fisher, Theodore Mann and Paul Malley.

Additional information, particularly details for those interested in helping the program, may be obtained from Mrs. M. Karen Wright, Robert Jackson or Robert Mattson of the Newton Youth Center staff, which has offices at the Newton Community Center, 429 Cherry street, West Newton.

Democrats Open Information Voter Center

A Voter Information Center, sponsored by the Newton City Democratic Committee, has been set up at 301 Centre st., Newton Corner and is ready now to assist interested voters.

Robert K. Kraft, City Committee Chairman, urges voters to visit or phone the Center for information regarding the coming election. Judy Brown, and her staff are waiting to assist all citizens. Phone 969-3940 for information.

Candidates who have expressed interest in the Center include: Senator Beryl W. Cohen; Helen Patterson; Rep. Paul R. Malloy; Alderman H. James Shea, Jr.; Rep. Irving Fishman; David Mofenson; and Herbert Connolly.

The Center is the result of the efforts of not only Chairman Kraft and Sub Committee Chairman Dr. Harry H. Crosby, who assisted in site location, but of the entire City Committee. The feeling of the entire Committee was expressed by State Committee-woman, Betty Taymore, who felt that in this most important year of a Presidential Election all should not forget that the voter must be informed of the merits of all candidates, especially those at the grassroots level from there the leaders of tomorrow come.

Auburndale Club Showcase Day This Saturday

Retired Persons Will Meet Wed. At Dedham Motel

Mrs. Mildred C. Jennings, of Newton Centre, publicity chairman for the American Association of Retired Persons, announces a meeting of organization chapters for a one-day workshop at the motel 128 in Dedham next Wednesday (Nov. 6). The Newton chapter will participate in this event.

The non-profit, non-partisan American Association of Retired Persons, was founded to assist retired people in pursuing lives of dignity, purpose and direction. Among its major services are a drug service by mail, often at substantial savings; group health insurance that works hand-in-hand with Medicare; noncancellable automobile insurance designed especially for older drivers; award-winning publications; and a travel service geared to the special requirements of older persons.

The public service radio broadcasts from the Association's Institute of Lifetime Learning is beamed at retired persons in all parts of the nation under the title "Let's Listen to Lifetime Learning."

Inducted Into Cub Pack 316

Induction of 14 new cub scouts (Bobcats) into Pack 316 of the Norumbega Council was the highlight of the first meeting of the pack at the Claffin School in Newtonville last Thursday. Pack 316 is sponsored by the Claffin School P.T.A.

The next pack meeting will be held on Thursday (Nov. 21) at 7 p.m. in the School.

The induction ceremonies were conducted by the Watanka Indian Dance Team of the Musketahquid Lodge of the Boy Scouts.

The Bobcat pins were received by David Bronstein, Christopher Chinian, Eric Fallon, Leo Fitzgerald, Stavros Iatrides, Richard Jaffe, Peter Jensen, Timothy Lituri, Samuel Moffie, Dallas Morgan, E. Morgan, Bardo Petersen, Timothy Pruce, Marc Rose and Tim Rubenstein.

Serving on this year's Pack Committee are Donald Dobbin, Chairman; Otto Marx, Treasurer; David Smilg, Institutional Representative; Juergens Schmandt and Frank Wesserman.

The Cubmaster is Charles Lorant and Assistant Cubmaster is Marvin Rich. The Den Leader Coach is Nancy Bickford. Den Mothers are Norma Cutrone and Lois Doyle (Den 2), Nancy Bickford (Den 8), Marion Wasserman and Phyllis Fallon (Den 7), Louise Chinian and Doris Rubenstein (Den 5) and Rosemary Rose (Den 4). Assisting them as Den Chiefs are Boy Scouts Kevin Doyle, Alex Schmandt, Mark Fallon, Jack Chinian and Scott Pohlman.

Police Trainees

There's a Police Training School at the Kilmer Job Corps Center here. It is the only school of its kind in the nation, the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) reports.

Fifty-eight police trainees, selected from Job Corps Centers in 30 states, are enrolled in this experimental program designed to turn high school dropouts and hard-core unemployed into qualified trained policemen. To enter, corpsmen had to read on an eight grade level, and do at least seventh grade math.

Thurs. Meeting For Mornings Of Diversion Group

Mornings of Diversion, celebrating their 10th consecutive year of interesting and entertaining programs, will meet next Thursday (Nov. 7) at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House for an hour of music with Phyllis Moss at the piano and William Grass on the flute.

Mrs. Harold Keller and Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings, co-chairmen, will be assisted for this event by Mrs. William Brine and Mrs. John Fox at the subscriber's desk.

Other committee members on duty as hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Adams, Mrs. Julia Anthony, Mrs. Elmer C. Bartels, Mrs. William P. Beetham, Mrs. Albert E. Lee Loumos Says:

It seems to me that most of our national problems could be alleviated, if not solved, in rather simple ways if our government leaders would give the same efficiency and performance as we expect from our business executives. For example, in the welfare area, if it were my responsibility, I would suggest that many community child care centers be established where mothers on welfare could leave their pre-school children during daytime working hours. These centers could be manned by older people, male and female, who are on welfare themselves, but capable of the limited effort that type of duty might involve. Thus mothers could pursue job opportunities, children would get a broader view and a head start, and older citizens would be able to make a meaningful and self-satisfying contribution. Space here prohibits more details, but here is a seed for thought very worthy of consideration. I would be pleased to hear any comments or suggestions and pass them on to the proper authorities.

Norumbega Council Boy Scouts To Hold Camporee This Weekend

Members of the Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts will hold a Fall Camporee at the Cold Springs Playground in Newton Highlands this Saturday and Sunday (Nov. 2 and 3).

According to Camporee Chairman Howard J. Schuft of Newton Centre, this is the first time in recent years that an event of this type has been held within the City of Newton, and will provide the public an opportunity to see Boy Scouts in Action. There is no admission charge and all are welcome.

Approximately 350 Newton Boy Scouts are expected to take part in this Show And Do Camporee.

Explorer Post 300, sponsored by the Newton Police Department, with associate advisors Officers Robert Braceland and George Maxey in charge, will provide services and security for the Camporee. Other leaders responsible for the event include Thomas C. Reilly of West Newton, Stanley Schroter of Newton Upper Falls, Larry Huntley of West Newton, Joseph Winer of Newton Centre, Joseph Melick, Jr., of Newton Centre, and Ralph Sisson of Newton Highlands.

Working with these men will be members of the Norumbega Council's Order of the Arrow: these boys include Robert Gurney, Larry Bearfield, Patrick Maher Mark Dinkel, Michael Barry all of Newton.

The Camporee will last throughout Saturday with Scouts tenting overnight and leaving after breakfast on Sunday. During their stay they will cook and do all of the other skills of the Scouting Program. The main feature of the Show And Do Camporee will be the exhibition of displays which will take place on Saturday afternoon.

Cold Springs Playground may be reached from the end of Dunklee Street, which runs from Walnut Street between Beacon and Lincoln Streets.

Fancy Airport? Danish Airline Laughs At Idea

GODTHAAB, Greenland (UPI) — In this era of congested airways and overcrowded airports, there is at least one airline that is not complaining — Greenlandair, which serves this huge, Danish-owned island.

"On most of our runs," explained Valdemar Lauritsen, president of Greenlandair, "we just don't need airports."

Greenlandair operates a regular service over a route of some 1,000 miles during summer months, and 1,500 miles in winter. It does so with three 24-passenger Sikorsky S61 helicopters and two DC4 aircraft.

For most flights, largely over jagged peaks, ice caps and glaciers, helicopters are used. Last year they flew 13,900 passengers.

"We are the adhesive that binds this country together," Lauritsen said. "Without air travel Greenland would consist largely of isolated communities most of the year, when ships cannot navigate."

The line was founded in 1960 and is owned in equal shares by SAS, the local Greenland government, the Royal Greenland Trade Department and the Danish Cryolite Mining Company.

REHEARSING for their roles in "Ten Little Indians," to be presented by the Country Players at Meadowbrook Junior High School in Newton Centre on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 and 9, are, left to right, Morton Nesson, Martin I. Cohen, standing, Pat Pellows and Thomas Pate.

Mrs. Allen Lewis To Arrange Beth Israel Meeting

Mrs. Allen S. Lewis of Newton, has been appointed chairman of the Committee for Arrangements for the 40th annual meeting of the Beth Israel Hospital to be held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel at 9:30 a.m. Sunday (Nov. 10).

Mrs. Lewis, who has arranged the brunch for 500 members of the "Hospital Family," is a former president of the Hospital's Women's Auxiliary. Working with a broadly representative Planning Committee, Mrs. Lewis has developed a program which promises to be exciting and informative.

"In the 40 years of our existence at the Brookline avenue site," said Mrs. Lewis, "medicine and the Beth Israel Hospital have advanced together from the Model 'T' era to the jet age. The program will review our growth and development into an internationally recognized university teaching hospital, and give recognition to the men and women who made it possible."

Dr. Mitchell T. Rabkin, general director, will lead a panel of Beth Israel Hospital physicians in a presentation illustrating the far-reaching changes which have taken place in the hospital's capabilities for treatment of complex medical and surgical problems.

Irving Rabb will give the president's report and Mrs. Leo Freedman, president of the Women's Auxiliary, will report on the activities of the 8000-member organization during the past year.

Rummage Sale On Nov. 20 For Medical Research

The annual Fall Rummage Sale by the Brookline-Newton Cystic Fibrosis Chapter will be held Wednesday (Nov. 20) at the Newton Centre Women's Club, 1280 Centre st., Newton, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Irving Bloomfield of Brookline or Mrs. Summer Tye of Newton will arrange for pickups of clothing, bric-a-brac, or any saleable merchandise. Volunteers are needed to assist in this sale.

All proceeds will be given to the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation in an effort to find a cure or control for this children's disease.

Newton Youths In Children's Theatre Cast

Two Newton area youngsters are members of the Boston Children's Theatre production of "Aladdin" which continues at New England Life Hall on Saturdays (Nov. 9 and 16) at 2 p.m. with an additional performance on Nov. 16 at 10:30 a.m.

Bruce Coen of Chestnut Hill will be seen in the title role and lending support is Philip Grossman of Newton, a member of the cast.

For reservations, write or call the Boston Children's Theatre, 263 Commonwealth ave., Boston 02116, or telephone 536-3324.

Country Players Present Show At Meadowbrook On Nov. 8 And 9

With a solid core of seasoned performers leading the way, The Country Players of Newton embarked this week on an accelerated rehearsal schedule in preparation of their first presentation of the season, Agatha Christie's most successful Broadway mystery, "Ten Little Indians," to be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 and 9, at Meadowbrook Jr. High School, Newton Centre, at 8:30 p.m.

Directing the thriller for the Players, now entering its thirteenth year of community activity, is Marie Williams and veteran thespians featured in the cast include Martin I. Cohen, Pat Pellows, Morton Nesson and Thomas Pate.

Martin Cohen received his baptismal fire with the Players as a Corvello gangster in "Bells Are Ringing" last Spring. As an undergrad at Brandeis University, he appeared in "Within the Gates," "The Tempest," "Taming of the Shrew," "Billy Budd," "Hi Charlie," "Pirates of Penzance," "How He Lied to Her Husband" and "Tom Sawyer."

After doing cameo roles for the Players in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "Catch Me If You Can" and "Bells Are Ringing," Pat essays a major role in "Ten Little Indians." She directed and was featured in the one-act "The Fumed Oak" for the Players and appeared in the one-act "Dinner for One." Previous credits include the roles of Edith in "Never Too Late" for the Circle Players, Kate in "Taming of the Shrew" and the title role in "Elizabeth the Queen" for the Revere Thespians, mother in "The Inspector Calls" and Winifred in "The Vinegar Tree" for Tufts Arena Theatre.

She wrote and directed the musical shows "Rumania Mania" and "Rumania Stew" and her film credits include "Thomas Crown Affair" and the role of Mrs. Nemur in "Charly." One-woman shows and radio commercials for local programming are also among her accomplishments.

Morton Nesson has appeared as Father Kelleher in "Catch Me If You Can" and the jester in "Can Can" for the Players. Previous credits include Pappy Yokum in "L'il Abner" and the lead in an original one-act play "Just Around the Corner."

Last Spring Tom Pate was introduced to Player audiences as Inspector Barnes in "Bells Are Ringing." As a student at Leland Powers School, he performed in many radio, TV and theatre productions, most notable being his role as sheriff in "The Rainmaker" and his work in Shakespeare's "As You Like It." He played scenes also from the works of Noel Coward and took part in an original radio production of "The Man Who Stole Christmas."

Seats for "Ten Little Indians" are unreserved and tickets may be purchased at the door. Blocks of tickets are available at reduced rates to sponsors and theatre parties. Discount tickets are also available to students. For further information write P.O. Box 9, Newton Centre, 02159 or phone 326-1155.

Little Students Give Publisher The Butterflies

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Nine second-grade children have written a textbook publisher about a bittersweet subject — butterflies.

The youngsters, members of a reading class at Union Elementary School, here found an error in one of their texts which described the Viceroy butterfly as a bitter-tasting insect and the Monarch butterfly as sweet-tasting.

The children checked three encyclopedias and learned the Viceroy butterfly is the sweet one, whose only saving feature is his resemblance to his bitter-tasting cousin, the Monarch butterfly.

A polite letter to the publisher was then printed by one of the pupils pointing out the error. The children asked: "Now we don't know which is right. Does the Viceroy taste bad or does the Monarch taste bad? How do you know?"

Police Seek Trio After Store Break

Three burglars fled with their loot Wednesday after a break at Stevens Boys Wear, 1160 Beacon St., Chestnut Hill.

Found outside the rear door were 20 jackets, 30 pair of trousers, socks, ties, sweaters and coats. Inside the store clothing had been scattered around and $30 taken from a cash drawer.

Police sought three men in a blue panel truck who fled the scene after they spotted an early morning worker watching them back a truck near the store. He called police.

Promoted With Shoe Corporation

Four Newton area residents have been appointed to new executive positions in the Consolidated National Shoe Corporation of Norwood.

Robert Wodin, of Newton, sales manager for many years, has been designated Vice President of the Ware Shoe Company, one of Consolidated's principal manufacturing units.

Howard Menitove of Newton has been made Vice President of American Juniors Shoe Corporation, a Consolidated subsidiary with a factory located in Sanford, Me. He has been sales director of American Juniors Shoe Co.

Bert Romm, of Waban, has been made Vice President of Sunapee Shoe Corp. in Newport, N. H., specializing in the manufacture of ladies boots.

Memorial PTA Halloween Party Set For Children

Tommy Sebok, five-year-old son of Memorial School PTA President Louis Sebok, bought the 1st pumpkin at the recent pumpkin sale held for the benefit of the PTA. His pennies helped reach the goal set by Chairman Eugene Black, assisted by Al Appelbaum, Ann Cherenson, Mel Cerier, Mal Harris, Al Heinstein, Mildred Rubin and Sue Skoler.

Under the leadership of Al Appelbaum, the Memorial School Halloween Party has been planned. Movies, games and refreshments will provide a safe, fun-filled evening. Beatrice Hersh and Edith Cohen, chairmen of room mothers, promise supervision.

Sunday Services At 1st Church Of Christ Scientist

A wellloved verse from Psalm 130 — "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption" — is part of a Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Everlasting Punishment" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 391 Walnut Street, Newtonville, will begin at 10:45 a.m.

Selections to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "Divine Love corrects and governs man. Men may pardon, but this divine Principle alone reforms the sinner. God is not separate from the wisdom He bestows. The talents He gives

Back-to-School Night Planned At High School

The Parent-Teacher Association of Newton High School is sponsoring a Back-to-School Open House next Thursday night (Nov. 7).

Parents will meet in home rooms at 7:30 p.m. There will be an opportunity to visit classrooms and hear teachers describe the purpose and objectives of courses. Appointments for individual conferences may be set up at this time. Parents are urged to attend the Open House to obtain information regarding grading practices, special projects and erasing assignments.

we must improve. Calling on Him to forgive our work badly done or left undone, implies the vain supposition that we have nothing to do but to ask pardon, and that afterwards we shall be free to repeat the offense."

Sisterhood To Hear Dr. Sachs Next Wednesday

"Vietnam and the Election" will be the topic of an address by Dr. Milton Sachs to the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood next Wednesday (Nov. 16) at the Community Hall, 385 Ward St., Newton Centre.

A Petite Luncheon honoring new Sisterhood members will be held at 12 noon, with the meeting commencing at 1:15 p.m.

Dr. Sachs, Associate Professor of Politics of Brandeis University, is author of many publications on the Far East.

Mrs. Daniel Bloom, President, will preside. Others included in the afternoon program will be Mrs. Joel Seskin, Invocation, Mrs. Joseph Zalcman, Anthem, Mrs. Ralph DePhoure, Accompanist, Mrs. Murray Schocket and Mrs. Robert Gordon, Hostesses, Mrs. Jack Kessler and Mrs. Hyman Entin, Hospitality. Baby Sitter service available. Friends are invited.

The most popular profession for Presidents seems to be that of a lawyer. World Book Encyclopedia counts 23 lawyers among our 36 Presidents.

Lechmere Top Winner In Advertising Contest

Norman D. Cohen, Executive Vice-President of Lechmere Sales, has been named one of the top winners in a country-wide retail advertising contest sponsored by the Norge Division of Fedders Corporation.

The contest, known as the "Norge Retail Ad Race," provided for cash awards to retail establishments producing the most effective advertisements for Norge Appliances. Rules of the contest stipulated that the advertisements had to be employed between April 15 and June 15 of this year.

A distinguished panel of judges selected from leading publications of the advertising and appliances industries rated all entries on a basis of originality; adequacy; and effectiveness in presenting the firm's personality, promoting the Norge brand and achieving their stated objectives.

The winning entry was a full page advertisement which appeared in color in the Transcript Press Publications, and a one-minute radio commercial on tape with an unusual and original promotion of Norge automatic washing machines and dryers.

According to Norge officials, the contest was designed not only to encourage retail advertising ingenuity, but also to demonstrate the compatibility of aggressive local merchandising and effective brand promotion.

To Propose New Service To Bar Ass'n

A new lawyers' referral service will be proposed to the attorneys of the Waltham, Watertown, Weston, Newton Bar Association at its next meeting on Nov. 14 at the Cottage Crest Restaurant in Waltham. It was announced this week.

The announcement was made by G. Ronald Kesinger, vice president of the Association and chairman of its Legal Services Committee. Atty. Kesinger said the new program would have a dual function. It would provide the newly established Boston College Legal Assistance Bureau with a list of attorneys to which the Bureau may refer clients with fee-generating cases. Secondly, any citizen would be able to call the Referral Service for help or information concerning the process of engaging an attorney.

The members of the four-community Bar Association would pay a fee of $10 a year to support the program.

Other members of the Legal Services Committee are Judges Paul K. Connolly and Julien L. Vesley, and Attorneys Dennis M. Cronin, Jr., Laurence S. Flaherty and Roy C. Papalia, and ex officio, Robert R. LeBlanc, president.

League of Women Voters To Hold Meetings On County Government

The League of Women Voters of Newton will hold its series of Unit Discussion Meetings on "County Government" on Nov. 6, 7, 8.

This is the second year of a League study of "County Government in Massachusetts," including a study of its inter-relationship with state and local government. The study last year included a survey of counties: their origins, functions, and the personnel (both elected and appointed) who administer them.

The unit discussion groups this year will attempt to evaluate the present county set-up; to discuss the difference between the county and state fiscal years and how the resultant difficulties might best be rectified; the present method of appropriation of county funds and possible alternatives; and to consider personnel policies now in effect and possible alternatives. There will be an attempt to reach consensus in some of these areas.

Military Wives Club Is Planned By N. Red Cross

A social club for the wives of men in the armed services, here and abroad, is being planned by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, according to an announcement by Mrs. Robert Hutton, chairman of the office of Serving to Military Families.

The wives of servicemen are invited to a Coffee Hour at the Chapter House, 21 Foster St., Newtonville from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. next Thursday (Nov. 7) to discuss this new club and help in its formation.

Mutual interests and problems form a good base for such an organization. Further information on this Military Wives Club can be obtained by calling the Newton Red Cross at 527-6000.

Unique Experiment For Newton Youths

By SHIRLEY GOLDWYN

The unique experimental program in education taking place at the Murray Road Annex to Newton High School has had more effect on the thinking of teachers at the larger high school than any other single outside force, Newton High Principal Richard Mechem told the School Committee on Monday night.

Mechem was presenting the high school administration's point of view in an overall report on what is happening at the small high school annex tucked away on a West Newton side street. Students and faculty members also discussed the program in an attempt to give a totally rounded picture.

At Murray Road are 110 Newton High students who volunteered, with parental consent, to participate in the experimental project. The student body this year is made up largely of seniors who began with the inception of the program last year as juniors.

Twenty new students, all juniors, were admitted to the program this year out of 120 applicants. Only 10 per cent of those who began last year elected to drop out at the end of the year and return to Newton High.

The Murray Road program began last year when the building was offered to the high school to relieve overcrowding.

"The uniqueness of the Murray Road Annex is its concentration on the personal dimension of a student's education. This does not mean abandonment of academic standards, but it does imply concentration on the student in terms of self-realization, freedom to make mistakes, personal development, problem solving, decision making and inter-personal relations," declared Mechem in his report.

"It teaches students to be self-directing and helps them learn how to make use of a wide range of resources (including themselves) in furthering their educational development. For certain students at the High School these areas are more important than other areas, just as for the work-study student the actual job experience may be more important than other aspects of the High School," Mechem emphasized.

Some of the features of the Murray Road program which distinguish it from most other secondary schools include:

1. A high degree of student freedom. When he has no class scheduled, a student may use any part of the building which is not in use, without faculty supervision. With parental consent, a student may arrange to spend parts of his school time entirely away from the school; for example, he may go to the public library or to another school. There are no school regulations restricting student dress.

2. Student involvement seems to be a key phrase in any description of Murray Road. A weekly general meeting is held to discuss issues facing the whole school and students are encouraged to take a great deal of initiative in trying to solve problems facing the school.

3. Students are also involved in classroom decision-making and evaluation. In many classes, students were involved in the planning of the content and organization of the course. Topics for study were chosen, goals were set, and a means of proceeding was hammered out. An important part of the evaluation procedure in each course is the student's written self-evaluation of his work in the course, which together with the teacher's written evaluation of the student's work become part of the student's record.

4. Deemphasis of ability grouping and curriculum designations.

5. Active participating in the research aspect of the program by both faculty and students. The group is periodically polled for written reactions to the program.

6. Student involvement in the community outside the school. The chief example of this is the tutoring program in which a large number of the students spend several hours a week tutoring elementary school children.

7. Parents are involved. Meetings are held often that bring together parents, students and teachers to discuss the program, purposes and progress of the school.

8. No designated principal. The faculty functions as a committee that makes administrative decision within the broad framework set by the Newton High School principal.

9. No guidance counselors is assigned to a teacher who at the school. Each student serves as his adviser. If a student desires, however, he may use the guidance services at the high school.

How the colleges will react in accepting students from Murray Road is still not really known since the first class will graduate in June.

On their own students wrote to the institutions of higher learning to get reactions. Many were favorable, a few were negative because of the lack of conventional grades, and several indicated great interest in the new educational concepts.

However, Mechem pointed out, success of the program will not be measured directly in terms of academic gain but in the gain of personal development.

"If the student's attitude toward school and life is substantially improved, this is success," the principal observed. Whether a student's college board scores go up or down is not of significance when judged against these criteria. This does not mean that the Murray Road Annex is not concerned with college entrance. It simply underscores our basic position that the best preparation for college is the proper program without regard for external appearance or status."

Committeeman Harold Berman expressed the opinion that the Murray Road program can only be justified on an optional basis. "I think it's very important that students and parents be given as much information as possible before entering it," he said.

Berman commented that the impression given Monday night was that the program might have philosophical weaknesses, in his opinion. He referred, in part, to an emphasis on fluidity or constant changes in the program.

"I sense almost a determination not to learn from past experience," he remarked. He indicated that the emphasis on fluidity in the program might have the weakness of exaggeration.

Ron Brandt, a math teacher at Murray Road replied, "We don't pretend to know all the answers to the problems in education. We don't have a determination not to learn from the past, but we do subject the past and even our own present ideas to close scrutiny. We don't feel a compulsion to stick with an idea that has failed."

One parent said the school was highly successful in getting a previously unmotivated student to become involved.

Newton High Principal Mechem reported that many programs at the high school will be affected by achievements at Murray Road. Even more important, he said, is the change in attitude of the teacher toward the student. This is a great help in fighting the impersonalization of a large school, he noted.

One of the changes at the high school is a study hall-commons room program at Adams House which emphasized the group operation, decision making, and self-directing qualities emphasized at the Murray Road Annex.

In addition, Barry House is trying to establish a program for next year which will operate much on the Murray Road style.

Allan M. Shubin Named Chartered Life Underwriter

Allan M. Shubin of Newton Highlands, a training supervisor with Berkshire Life Insurance Co., has been named a Chartered Life Underwriter at the National Conference Exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Boston recently.

A graduate of Harvard, Mr. Shubin has attended M.I.T. graduate school, Boston University and Northeastern University. He served as an Air Force meteorologist in World War II and has served as treasurer of his 20th reunion at Harvard. Formerly affiliated with Keystone Camera Co. and Polaroid Corp., Shubin has passed a series of professional exams over 5 years and has met stringent experience and ethical requirements to win the coveted designation of CLU. Originally from Pittsburgh, he has lived with his wife and two daughters in Newton Highlands for the past 20 years.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Chief William F. Quinn announced that four scholarships to the National Institute of Police Community Relations at Asbury Park, N.J., have been awarded by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Northeast Region. A team headed by Sgt. William F. Olds, rear, flanked by Officers Frank O'Halloran, left, and Philip Moreau, right, will attend the Institute along with Robert Julien, executive director of the Newton Red Cross, right front. Safety Officer Charles E. Feeley, left, is a member of the Institute staff.

Four From Newton to Attend Police National Institute

Robert Julien, executive director of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, is joining a Newton police team including Sgt. William F. Olds and Patrolmen Frank O'Halloran and Philip Moreau which will represent the city at the National Institute of Police Community Relations at Asbury Park, New Jersey.

Four scholarships to the Institute were awarded the city by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Northeast Region. The Institute held annually in New Jersey brings together experts in the Community Relations field for the study of ethnic, religious and community problems and the part the police officer at street level, along with community leaders, may assist in lessening tensions or problems leading to tensions. In announcing the scholarship awards, Police Chief William F. Quinn said that upon completion of the course, the uniformed men will be added to the Newton Police Academy staff for recruits and in-service training.

Quinn went on to say that modern police methods accent community relations training and this team will augment group of officers who participated at the New England Institute held at the Newton College of the Sacred Heart and will also work closely with Lt. Paul Donahue and Lt. Walter Drew who have recently completed a month-long intensified course for community service officers held at Boston State College.

The Chief added he was most grateful to the Conference for providing this educational opportunity for these men and hopes that specialized training may be provided for every man in the department so that through the academy and the department training programs every officer can keep abreast of the rapid changes in our society and the best method to efficiently serve the community.

Also attending the meeting in New Jersey will be Safety Officer Charles Feeley, who is a member of both the New England and the National Institute staffs.

Generation Gap Was Topic For Institute Day

"Bridge Between the Generations" was the topic of an address by Dr. Max Arzi, Vice Chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, at the New England Branch National Women's League Torah Fund-Residence Hall Institute Day at Temple Reyim yesterday.

Hospital Exhibit On Big Change In Nursing Care

Newton-Wellesley Hospital invites townspeople to the hospital next week on Tuesday and Wednesday, to view an exhibit detailing the big change in nursing care.

From 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and again from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday (Nov. 5), a display in the hospital's Usen Auditorium will focus upon "Nursing Around The Clock."

The exhibit also will be open on Wednesday, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nursing personnel will staff the exhibition.

Displays and demonstrations will deal with the care of a hypothetical patient, from admission to the hospital through discharge. Viewers will discover what happens and why, in areas such as the taking of temperature and blood pressure, the dietary procedures before surgery, the functioning of the recovery room, and the post-operative care that precedes a patient's return to normal, active living.

Also slated for exhibition is equipment from the hospital's coronary and special care units, nursery, emergency department and intensive in-service education program for nurses.

The exhibit coincides with the observance of Professional Nurse Week, proclaimed by Governor John A. Volpe and beginning on Sunday (Nov. 3).

Nursing personnel of the hospital who are organizing the display include Mrs. Beverly McGrath, R.N., of West Newton, chairman; Miss Leslie E. Burns, R.N., of Wellesley Hills; Miss Joan of Arc Dougherty, R.N., of Auburndale; Miss Carol A. Flynn, R.N., of Lexington; Mrs. Marjorie E. Forbes, R.N., of West Newton; Miss Lois B. Goerner, R.N., of Newton and Miss Charlotte Mahon, R.N., of Chestnut Hill.

Garden Club Winner Mrs. Carl Hershfield of Temple Shalom Garden Club of West Newton was awarded honorable mention in the hospitality of Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts competition recently. The competition was held at the Harvest Show on the Boston Common.
